How a woman Buys Meat. When a woman enters a butcher shop to select a piece of meat for dinner, she has her mind made up to take mutton roast. She continned to grow weaker and weaker, and a few days since died, or expired to all appearances. The grief of the family was very great, but at the death-bed there were also a number of neighbors. In the hour of distiess they proceeded to prepare the corpse for burial. The body was placed in a convenient position, and was noticed to be still warm, but not more so than they are usually after dying of fevers. The neighbors, about a half an hour after Mrs. Lippert's death, commenced to wash the body. As soon, however, as water was placed on the face the corpse seemed to become inspired with life, and after the ablutions had continued for nearly fifteen minutes she opened her eyes, much to the astonishment of the attendants, who were not a little frightened, for they thought they were dealing with a corpse instead of one still on this side of the celestial world. The women continued their attentions, however, until Mrs. Lippert was able to speak. She said that just before she 'died' everything about her became dark, and she went to sleep. When she woke it was bright, and as she tells it she, was in a strange place, feeling an ecstacy of pleasure, and was devoid of all the racking pains with which she was afflicted during her illness. She gives no definite idea of the land into which she had in spirit wandered, or the people she met, but is certain she was in heaven, and in her simple way described the place as being an elysium of bliss. While enjoying all this it became dark suddenly, and she woke as from a pleasant dream to find that she had been a corpse for nearly an hour, and that the neighbors were washing her face. Since then Mrs. Lippert has entirely recovered, and is now able to be about attending to her household duties, and in her leisure moments relates to the open-mouthed

It invigorates and strengthens the whole system, acts upon the secretive organs, allays inflammation, cures ulceration, and regulates the bowels.

For Catarrh, Dyspepsia, Habitual Costiveness, Palpitation of the Heart, Headache, Piles, Nervousness and General Prostration of the Nervous System, no medicine has ever given such perfect satisfaction as the VEGETINE. Boston, Dec. 17, 1872.

II. R. Stevens, Esq:

Dear Sil.—May I ask the favor of you to make my case public?

In 1861, while on picket daty in the army, I was taken with a fil. which lasted all night. Was taken into camp and dosed with whiskey and quinine. After this had fils every day, and was taken to Newbern Hospi.al, and there treated by the attending physicians. I gnew worse and was sent home, itemained in poor health for four years, treating with many physicians and trying many remedies. Finally Scro ula made its appearance on different parts of my body, and my head was so diseased as to be frightful to look at, and painful beyond endur nee. After trying the most eminent physicians without improvemen; a charge of climate was advised.

Have been to the Hot springs in Arkansss twice, each time giving their treatment a thorough trial Finally came back to Boston, discouraged with no hope of help. Life was a burden to one in my situation. My disease, and the effect of so much powerful medicine, had so damaged my system that the action of my stomach was apparently destroyed, and my head was covered with ulcers which had in places eaten into the skuil bone.

The best physicians said my blood was so full of poison they could do no more for me, About this time a friend who had been an invalid tood me VEGETINE has restored him to perfect health, and through his persuasion I commenced taking V EGETINE in my digestive organs. My lood sat better, and my stomach grew stronger. I began to feel encouraged, for I could see my health slowly and gradually improving. With renewed hope I continued taking the VEGETINE, until it had completely driven disease out of my body. It cured the fits, gave me good, pure blood, and restored me to perfect health, which I had not enjoyed before for ten years. Hundreds of people in the City of Boston can vouch for the above facts.

VEGETINE has saved my life, and you are at liberty to make such use of this statement as pleases you be st., and I beg you to make it known, that other sufferers m H. R. STEVENS, Esq :
