Breaking into a Store.

On Sunday night last some person or persons attempted to enter the store of Mr. J. I. Metts, which is located on Water street near Market, by trying to remove a board from under the door in the alley-way in the rear. It seems that the party must have failed in that, and attempted to take the bricks from around a window for the purpose of effecting an entrance. This, too, must have been a failure, for it appears that a window upon the roof was forced open and the store entered in that way. A bag of nuts were missed and ten cents in currency. A box of papers, it appears, was broken open as if to search for money, and the papers contained in it were scattered about the alley. Nothing else was lost.

Good for Ducks.

During the examination of one of the witnesses for the defence in the mill-pond case yesterday, and while the witness was informing the jury that he had frequently been up the pond gunning, Judge Kerr, like a true and youthful Nimrod, as he is, asked the witness if it was a good pond for ducks. Witness replied that it was; and from that moment the case was decided in the mind of this writer. No mill-pond that is "good for ducks" would ever be found guilty of endemic-miasmatic-malarial-vegetable-debris in the first degree if we were on the jury that tried the case. Unmailable Letters.
