Consecration of the Archbishop of Boston. Boston, May 2.

The consecration ceremonies and investiture of Archbishop Williams to-day in the new Catholic cathedral in this city attracted thousands, and there were fully ten thousand persons in and around the church. Among the distinguished gentlemen present were Gov. Gaston and members of the Executive Council and both branches of the Legislature, Colonel Campbell, Judge Advocate General P. A. Collins, Mayor Cobb; also the members of the Common Council and heads of departments, members of the faculties of Harvard, Yale and other colleges, and the French, British and other consuls at this and oth-

At 10:35 the ecclesiastical procession entered the church from a door on the north transcept and proceeded to the sanctuary. The procession was as follows: Thurifer bearing censer with burning incense; crossbearer, with the processional cross between two acolytes with lighted candles; assistant master of ceremomies; chief master of ceremonies: acolytes in red and purple cassocks; clergymen in black cassocks and white surplice; bishops with their chaplains; the celebrant of the mass and deacons; Archbishop Williams elad in pontifical robes and bearing his crozier; Cardinal McCloskey, clad in his scarlet robes; the papal embassy, consisting of Mgr. Roncetti, special ablegate, Pache Ubaldi, wearing a purple cassock, and Count Marefoschi. Then came a large number of clergyman from New York, Baltimore, Washington and Canada.

During the entry of the procession the Germania orchestra rendered with fine effect an allegro maesteso by Mozart. Cardinal McCloskey having seated himself on his throne, which was on the epistle side of the altar, pontifical high mass was begun, the celebrant being the Right Rev. Bishvicar-general deacon, Rev. Father Regan; sub-deacon, Rev. Father Ryan; chief master of ceremonies, Rev. Father Metcalf, chancellor of the dio-

At the conclusion of the first Gospel Right Rev. Bishop Goosbriand ascended the pulpit and delivered an eloquent sermon, taking for his text the 2d verse of the 83d Psalm. The canon of the mass followed the sermon, and at the close of the communion service the pallium was laid upon the altar. At the conclusion of the mass Rev. A. Scherwood Healy read in Latin and English the credentials of the ablegate and briefs from Rome authorizing the creation of the new see.

Mgr. Roncetti read the brief in Latin to the archbishop elect, who replied in the sale language, accepting the great responsibility, and affirming his intention to discharge his duties to the best of his ability. The cardinal then proceeded to the altar and seating himself in a chair read the formula of consecration, the archhishop kneeling at his feet. The customary oath was next administered to him by the cardinal, after which he placed the pallium on the archbishop's shoulders.

The archbishop next assumed his psalms prescribed for the occasion, which were taken up by the choir and sung in alternate voices. The ceremontes ended with a benediction by the archbishop and a Te Denm by the choir.

U. S. District Court. This tribunal convened in the United States Court room yesterday morning pursuant to adjournment. The following grand jury were drawn: Dugald McMillan, foreman; John E. Crow, Peter Rourk, William Watters, John C. Wright, W. W. Mc-Racken, Jas. H. Carraway, Geo. W. Betts, Louis C. King, James C. Grimes, F. A. Newberry, Amos J. Johnson, Lebrones Cooper, Warren Johnson, B. Wetherington. Jas. F. Shure, Elvin Artis, John B Rodman, B. G. Worth.

The charge of His Honor to the grand jury was complete and exhaustive. References are made to it elsewhere in this issue. The balance of the session of the court was occupied with the hearing of one bankrupt and one libel case. The former was argued and the latter continued with leave.

This we find in the Charlotte Eagle: The extension westward of the road is engaging the attention of the managers. One route is to proceed direct from Shelby by Rutherfordton, and Asheville to Wolf Creek, and connect with the road towards Cincinnati. Another route is northward from Shelby or beyond to W. N. C. R. R., at Hickory, Newton, or that vicinity, and thence by Old Fort, Asheville, &c. But the more recently favored route is more direct from Shelby across W. N. C. R. R., to Cranberry Iron mines, and thence to East Tennessee Railroad, and towards Cincionati by Cumberland Gap. This now seems the probable route of our road.

Child Hurt. Yesterday evening as a small child of James K. Davis, a colored man, was running in a field near the cotton factory, where a short time since, a quantity of trees op McAnerney, of Albany, N. Y.; had been cut down leaving the stumps chief priest, Very Rev. P. F. Lyndon; above ground, the child fell down, its ankle above ground, the child fell down, its ankle coming in contact with one of the stumps, which tore a large peice of the flesh from the leg, the severity of the wound endangering the life of the child. Medical attendance was procured.

We May Have It Yet.

By a letter received since his declination of the invitation to lecture on Tennyson before the Library Association, it is learned that Mr. T. B. Kingsbury will probably, when his engagements are not so pressing, comply with the desires of his friends and the friends of culture in the city. He will doubtless meet with warm appreciation here whenever he comes, his reputation as a graceful writer and judicious, fair-minded critic having preceded him

For the Workhouse.

The following persons, sentenced at the terday, was his direction to the Grand Jury mitre and introduced a portion of the recent term of the Superior Court, will be concerning the accountability of all Govsent to the Workhouse to-day: Ned Glavin ulius Edward Stanley, colored, larceny, three months; Nathan Scott, colored, lar ceny, six months; Charles Hansley, colored, larceny, two months; Joe Bowie alias Sandy Lewis, colored, larceny, three months.

To City Subscribers.

Beginning April 1, Mr. Samuel Davis takes charge of the entire city circulation of THE MORNING STAR; and from that date all subscriptions will be payable to him. He will serve the paper early and regularly, and hopes all his subscribers will pay promptly, as he has to meet his engagements with the proprietor whether the subcribers pay him punctually or not. tf

CIVIL RIGHTS.

United States Court-Judge Brooks Beclares the Civil Rights Bill Unconstitutional and Void.

His Honor Judge Brooks delivered an able and elaborate charge to the grand jury in the United States Court room yesterday. After giving the usual instructions upon the various subjects coming under their cognizance, he gave his views on the Civil Rights bill. No court, said His Honor, would presume to declare unconstitutional and void an act of the Legislature if a doubt remained upon the mind of the Judge as to the correctness of this conclusions, but if, after careful consideration, there was no doubt left then his duty is clear and he must not hesitate. And so iHis Honor has been brought to view the act of Congress in question and felt bound to in struct the grand jury that the criminal provisions of the Civil Rights bill were unconstitutional and void. After very clearly and forcibly stating his own views on the subject he read at large from the able opinion of Mr. Justice Miller, of the U.S. Supreme Court, in the celebrated Slaughterhouse case, and cited also the opinion of Justice Bradley in the late case of the United States against Cruikshanks, in which he was fully sustained as to the power of Congress to legislate upon the privileges and immunities of the citizen. So, under the instruction of His Honor, the grand jury will not be troubled with an investigation of alleged violations of this act.

For the Penitratiary. Eight prisoners, who were sentenced at the recent term of the Superior Court leave this morning for the State Penitentiary at Raleigh. They go in charge of Deputy Sheriff A. H. Morriss and two guards who have been provided for the occasion. These prisoners are said to be the most desperate that have left this county in a long time and therefore Deputy Sheriff Morriss, as a necessary precaution to ensure their safe delivery, has procured a chain to which he will lock the prisoners in couples after they have been handcuffed, making literally a chain gang. The following is a list of the prisoners and the terms for which they are sentenced to serve:

Henry Wilson, 30 years; John Giles, 5 years; Wm. Stewart, 5 years; Wm. B. Bentley alias W. B. Hamilton, 6 years; John Motte, 5 years; George Bailey and John Scott, each 5 years; James Spearman, with two aliases, 10 years.

The prisoners are all colored and they were all convicted of larceny.

Giblem Industrial Fair Association. This is an organization recently formed here for the purpose of aiding in .the advancement of industry among the colored people. One of its main features is the holding of fairs, at which will be exhibited specimens of the products of their industry in all branches, and its object is to produce emulation, thereby causing progress by awarding prizes, diplomas and certificates to the most meritorious of the exhibitors. We were yesterday shown several of the diplomas awarded at a fair held a short time since. They appear to have been very handsomely gotten up, neatly printed on parchment and appropriately sealed. The association proposes holding a large fair in November next, at which Columbus, Bladen. Wayne and other counties will be represented. It is the intention of the association to extend their benefits as far as possible, and have the colored people from all sections of the State represented at the Important Features of the Coming Press Convention.

James Barron Hope, Esq., the accomplished editor of the Norfolk Landmark, will deliver an address. The lecture of ex-Gov. Vance on "The Scattered Nation" will probably be rendered one evening during the week, he having written to the committee of the "True Brothers" Society to that effect. To these purely intellectual treats we must add the excursions, the Press Ball, the flirting, and last and leastthe business of North Carolina newspaper dom. Had as Old to vitce little Going back to Vance, as to good mutton, we will quote from the Statesville Land mark, cordially endorsing the suggestion at the bottom : "He will leave Charlotte on the 10th, in company with the Western delegation for the Press Convention, and has yielded to strong importunities to place his leisure at the disposal of the Association. It has not been more than two decades since he filled the editorial chair of the Asheville Spectator with distinguished honor to himself and to the profession, and we now propose to enroll his name as an honorary member of the North Carolina Press Association.

Judge Brooks' Charge.

A feature of Judge Brooks' charge, yesearnestness with which this subject is pressed by the United States Judges, of late, that our Government had by some means got into its employment officers who required close watching.

Commissioners were elected: Mayor-Dr. W. G. Curtis, and gratian Commissioners-Geo. L. Webster, H. E.

Almost an Escape.

Yesterday, during the preliminary investigation of a cause at a Magistrate's Court in this city, several prisoners happening to be witnesses were sent for to testify. They came in charge of a Constable who, after leaving them in the room, departed on some other business. The case was continued, and all the witnesses except the prisoners were directed to come forward and be bound over in a recognizance for their appearance at the future hearing of the case. A colored prisoner named Nathan Scott, who had been sentenced to a term of three months in the county Workhouse, stepped forward with the other witnesses who were to be bound over-the magistrate not recognizing him as a pris. oner-and was duly recognized for his appearance. Scott, after completing this portion of his tactics-which he did with all the gravity imaginable-walked deliberately out of the room and strolled leisurely to the door of the Court House, when he immediately commenced in dead earnest to get out of reach. He ran with all the energy he could summon for the woods. His escape was discovered, however, and a hot pursuit ensued. He was captured at Hil-

City Court. The following cases were disposed of yesterday morning:

James Anderson, a colored boy was ar, raigned for disorderly conduct and ordered to work on the streets for thirty days.

Commissioners-T. M. McLauchlin, I. B. Davis, J. A. Gainey, J. W. Mallett, R. T. Scanlin, W. T. Frizzell, C. B. McMillan. Numbers of them, to their honor and credit be it said, voted the Conservative ticket.

and are in the procession rejoicing now. The average majority for our ticket is about 100. The Radicals went into the fight confident of success, and fears were really entertained that their expectations would be realized, but instead of success an inglorious defeat has attended them. The Rads are doubtless feeling badly and look much worse than they feel. Collector Lineberry will have an X prefixed to his name in a
