EXPLANATION.

The following from the Atlanta Herald, received last night, would have prevented the publication of Gov. Smith's letter and the comments thereon which appear on the inside form of this paper, had we seen it or noticed that the letter was dated March of last year. The Herald says, printing the whole correspondence. for which we have not space at com-

The Chronicle & Sentinel publishes an old letter from Governor Smith to Secretary Fish, relative to the test oath required to be subscribed by the State Commissioners to the centennial celebration at Philadelphia next year. The letter is pointed enough and does credit alike to the patriotism and the sense of Governor Smith; but the correspondence was not complete. An answer and explanation of Secretary Fish should have been given, as it relieves the Department from the unpleasant censure the Governor so effectively placed on it.

[Reported Especially for the Baltimorean.] The recent International Sunday School Convention held in the audience room of the Masonic Temple in this city, attracted to Baltimore a large number of Christian people. A very large element in the mass consisted of gentlemen who were members of the clergy—gentlemen regarded the holiest among the holy, and men in whom there was no guile. However, appearances are not unfrequently deceptive, and so it happened in this case. Among the clerical gentlemen was one of a peculiarly sanctified look, with an immaculate white tie and a shiny, sleek looking suit of black. He claimed to be from Texas, and at the Convention he gave the name of W. E, Copeland. It was so recorded and so published in all the dailies of Wednesday, May 12th. But this reverend gentleman had several aliases, for his ways were dark and his tricks were base, and he desired to sail under false colors, that he might the more successfully accomplish his wicked designs.

On the 1st of May he reached Baltimore at Barnum's hotel, writing the name of W. E. Copeland, Massachusetts. While at Barnum's he placed himself under the manipulations of a killful barber, and was effectually denuded of a long, flowing, black beard. le remained under the spacious roof of this hotel but three or four days when he remarked to the clerk that he would like to leave, but that a Committee of the Young Men's Christian Association would settle his bill. Having the appearance of a gentle-man and wearing the garb of a soldier of the Cross, his word was regarded as truthful, and he was allowed to depart. We next find the reverend gentleman registering at the Carrollton Hotel, but this time accompanied by a very handsome young woman, who was very handsomely dressed, and who he claimed was the wife and sorrows. He wrote upon the register in his usual bold, symmetrical hand, "Geo. Warren and wife, Boston, Mass." The supposed married couple were at once assigned to an eligible room, and remained for a couple of days. The second day after registering at the Carrollton, the reverend Copeland alias Warren, reported that his wife would leave the hotel that afternoon, and that he would not return, but that Mrs. Warren would settle. A carriage was procured in the afternoon, and Mrs. Warren departed, but failed to pay the little bill due by her reverend husband and self. She promised, however, that she would do so upon reaching her destination, which proved to be Hollins street, near Poppleton. Upon reaching her home, the young lady darted into the dwelling, and refused to answer the ring of the door bell, despite the vigorous pulls of the Jehu who had driven her thither. The driver had no recourse but to return to the Carrollton and report the hotel's and his own loss, for that the whole affair had now assumed the proportions of a first class swindle was too apparent, to say nothing of the imposition which had enabled the alleged clerical scoundrel to palm upon the hotel an unmarried woman as his wife, and to occupy the same apartments for nearly two days.

The chief clerk of the Carrollton received the unpleasant tidings with feelings of mia-gled anger and indignation, and deter-mined, if possible, to ferret out the revered imposter. He directed the driver to proceed instantly to the dwelling on Hol-lins street, and here he succeeded in procuring an interview with the blushing Mrs. Warren, but Mrs. for a day and a night only. She said she met the reverend individual at an art gallery for the first time. He was of extremely pleasant address, and introduced himself by asking her it she was an artist. After a long conversation, during which he was extremely complimentary and insinuating, she consented to become his wife, and agreed to go with him to the hotel, preliminary to the cele-bration of the nuptials. With first one ex-cuse and then another, he deferred the marriage, but promised to act an honorable part, and having placed herself in his toils. he saw no other alternative but submission. On the second day she was informed that the nuptials would not be celebrated at the hotel, but must take place at her residence, promising to meet her there at a

Horrible to tell, he had not only basely deceived her in other respects, but had cruelly deserted her and left the board bill at the Carrollton unpaid. She never laid eyes upon him after he left her at the hotel. The young girl seemed to feel very keenly her disgrace and her loneliness, and wept bitter, scalding tears of regret. Her inveiglement was all attributed to the smooth. oily tongue of the reverend scoundrol, and she felt that it would prove to her a life-long

It has been ascertained since his departure, that the Rev. Copeland, from Texas, and subsequently Warren, of Massachusets, came very near being caught in a he soon after the opening of the Sunday School Con-vention. A postal card came to hand which he claimed, and this revealed the fact that that he was from Raleigh, N. C., or somewhere in that vicinity.

A few days previous to the sitting of the Convention, illness in the family of the Rev. D. C. Marxuis, of Westminster Church, corner Green and Fayette streets, precluded the possibility of that gentleman filling his pulpit on the morning of Sunday, the 9th of May, and the services of the Rev. Copeland, a member of the Convention from Texas, was secured. He appeared greatly at ease in the pulpit, and preached a sermon not very profound, but exceedingly oraste in diction and rhetorical in style. A vivid immagination and perfect command of language conducted his hearers among flowery fields and by the side of tinkling rills and murmuring brooks. Altogether, it seemed to give gen eral satisfaction. It has been also ascertained since his de parture that he stopped a few days at the Eutaw House. Here he registered as Mr. Reid, and succeeded in defrauding Colonel Leland of the amount due for board.

The self-assumed clerical individual i described as being a man of fine personal described as being a man of fine personal appearance, quite robust, and will probably weigh 175 or 180 pounds. His hair was dense, and grew in a style best described as bushy, while his apparel was genteel and well adapted to deceive both as to cut and quality, each indicating a parson, and one who was greatly beloved and well paid by his congregation.

In the hope that he may yet be arrested in his career of villainy, and that The Baltimorean may be instrumental in effecting so desirable an object, this narrative has been will get some of them in limbo yet.

Magistrates' Court. Before T. M. Gardner, J. P.:

C. H. Strode, J. W. Whitney and J. A Ash were arraigned on the complaint of Nathaniel Hill, for an assault and battery, alleged to have been committed upon the said Hill while being conveyed to jail in the custody of the jailor.

The testimony in the above case went to show that while Hill was under arrest the defendants approached him, it seems, on account of some previous misunderstanding they had had with the prosecutor, and committed an assault and battery upon him. The defendants were fined $5 and costs each, from which judgment they took an appeal to the Superior Court.

The case of C. H. Strode, arraigned on a peace warrant, was dismissed at the prosecutor's costs.

Before S. VanAmringe, J. P.: State vs. Nathaniel Hill, for resisting the deputy sheriff in the discharge of his duty. Fined $25 and costs. Defendant craved an appeal, which was granted.

State vs. Nathaniel Hill, in three separate cases for assault and battery, respectively upon C. H. Strode, J. W. Whitney and J. A. Ash. Defendant found guilty in each case and fined $20 and costs in the first and $10 and costs in each of the others. Appeal craved in each case and granted. Defendant was bound over to the Superior Court in the sum of $100, in default of which he was sent to jail.

More Notes of the Press Gang. The Newbern Journal of Commerce gives quite a fine notice of the doings of the Press Convention lately held here. The Pee Dee Courier, of Rockingham, insists that it is the duty of the press of the State to assist in building up Wilmington, the chief port on our coast. It also adds, with wisdom: "North Carolina must build up inself.

and not do so much for the up-building of other States The Louisburg Courier says: "The pleasant memories of the Press Convention at Wilmington will ever be cherished by us as one of the most pleasant occasions of our life. To the citizens of

and kindness to us, we offer our sincere Old Hickory Murrill of the Piedmont Press fell in love with the pretty girls" at the ball, "remained too late," "went off reluctantly," &c. He had flattering assurances from Dr. Roberts, President of the Carolina Central Railway, concerning the connection with Hickory from Lincolnton. There are two columns about the Convention, the excursions and the city in the last number of the Lincolnton Progress. Gargen Thieves. Some thief or thieves on Saturday night stole most of the Irish potatoes in the garden of Mrs. Dr. Dickson, on Front street.

Meeting of County Commissioners. An adjourned meeting of the Board of County Commissioners took place yesterday at 10 o'clock. Present: Chairman Wilsen and Commissioners Morris, VanAmringe, Wagner and Nixon,

It was ordered that in consequence of the full return of the tax list not having been made by several of the township trustees, that the matter of the revisal of the list be laid over until a general session of the Board, and that the Chairman, when the lists are ready for examination, notify the public of the same.

It was ordered that the clerk of the Board be instructed to place in the hands of the Sheriff, the tax list for Grant, Holden, Rocky Point, Lincoln and Caswell townships for the year 1875, as returned to this Board, to deliver the same to the Board of County Commissioners of Pender County.

Application of O. G. Parsley to list his taxes in Masonboro township was granted. Application for the reduction of the asessment made on the lands of John Brown in Cape Fear Township was referred to H. E. Scott, Chairman of the Board of Trustees for that township.

Chas. E, Samson, a cripple, was relieved from listing his poll tax. The Board then adjourned subject to the call of the Chairman.

City Court. The following cases were disposed of yes terday morning: John Manning, a white sailor was arraigned for larceny. It appears from the evidence that on Sunday about 1 o'clock defenda it entered the room of Mary Jane Knight, a waite woman, while she was asleep and took several articles of clothing and was in the act of leaving the room with his plunder when she awake. The defendant was bound over to the next term of the Superior Court in the sum of $100.

The same, for disorderly conduct, was fined $20 and costs or required to work 30 days on the street. He had to accept the latter alternative.

Simon J. Winslow, for disordeyly conwork on the street for 15 days.

Bitten by Dogs.

A little son of Mr. J. H. Allen, aged about six years, was badly bitten by a dog on the street in front of Mr. Allen's residence yesterday afternoon. It seems that the little boy was unconcernedly playing upon the street when two ferocious dogs belonging to a neighbor ran across the street and savagely attacked him, biting him seriously about the head and body, and would have done him further damage but for the fortunate circumstance of a per son passing by, who lifted the child and put him inside of an adjoining enclosure. The child is now under the care of a physician and will doubtless recover in a short Zouave Company.

A movement is on foot to organize Zouave Company. A few gentlemen have the matter in charge and they seem to be meeting with every encouragement. It is proposed, as soon as the list of membership is sufficiently large to justify it, to call a meeting and organize the company. It is intended to have the uniform thoroughly of the usual Zouave style. The addition of such an organization to the military companies our city already possesses will indeed be an interesting feature.

Another Bank to Close. The directors of the Wilmington Trus

Company and Savings Bank have determined to pay off its depositors and close up. This is another instance of the evil effects of the usury bill passed by our Legislature. Soon every savings bank in the State will be closed, and thousands of poor people who have heretofore had some safe place for depositing their little saving at interest, will have no inducement to be economical results to arrests against the or-

A kerosene Lamp in the entry of the residence of Mr. Joseph Silva, located on the corner of Seventh and Harnet streets, exploded on Sunday night between 10 and 11 o'clock. Considerable excitement was created, however, and some blankets which were brought into requisition in order to smother the flames were entirely consumed.

The flag was borne by a son of Judge Cantwell in the garden. A close watch of these sneaks procession at the Centenial.

The First Regatta. The first regatta of the season of the Carolina Yacht Club, as we have previously announced, will take place in the river opposite the city on the 27th inst. Thus far the owners of seven yachts have signified their intention to enter their yachts, and it is supposed that there will be even more than this number. The members of the Yacht Club seem to be taking a decided interest in arranging the preliminaries for this, the first regatta of the season, and it promises to be a highly interesting competition. It is the intention to have the several boats start at 3 o'clock from Market Dock. Other

THE TOLLEY GUN.-COPY OF TESTIMONIAL. Hudson City, N. J., Sept. 30th, 1874,-MESSES, J. & W. Tolley-29 Maiden Lane, New York:-The 10-guage Gun No. 3078 I ordered from you gives me entire satisfaction. I was very exacting when ordering the Gun, but must say that you have more than fulfilled what I required of you. I have shot several breech-loaders by first-class makers, and your gus beats them all for beauty and workmanship. As for shooting qualities, your gur shoots stronger and more even than any gun I ever shot. I have shown it to several good judges (including first-class gunmakers) and all agree that the action is very strong and durable, and that the gun is one of the best they ever saw. I have made some very long shots with it, using only 3% drs. of powder, which is all your gun requires. I have shot it at a targat according to the rules of the Turf, Field and Farm trials, and the average of 6 shots at 40 yands is: Left-pattern, 169; penetration, 38; is seldem met with, and am very proud to be the ewner of it. But the real test of your gun is in the field-there it excells all others, killing cleaner and handsomer than any gun I ever saw, as you assured me they would. Both paper and metal shells work splendidly. Gentlemen, I have to offer you my very best thanks, and will recommend your guns to all my friends.
