Orders on the County Trensurer. From causes which it is not necessary to discuss, the county is in debt beyond the means in the hands of the Treasurer to pay. As a natural consequence, orders on the County Treasurer are "hawked" upon the streets at a discount of from 10 to 25 per cent. according to the necessities of the owners of said orders. Many of which are held by laboring men who cannot afford to be thus "shaved" out of the earnings. The county should either keep out of debt or be willing to provide means for its payment was handed in. when once incurred. Grant that the causes which have led to the present state of embarrassment, were beyond their control; they certainly have it in their power to relieve the matter above referred to, very greatly and this can be done by passing an order on the Treasurer for all taxes due the county. The tax books for the current year will soon be in the hands of the Collector, Merchants will be settling their taxes, and orders on the County Treasurer will be as good to them as currency, and would pass as freely, if the Collector were instructed to

The Verdict. The Coroner's jury in the case of Thos Crawford, the colored convict from the Penitentiary at Raleigh, who was shot and killed at the Work House on Monday last, while attempting to effect his escape, an account of which appeared in yesterday's paper, proceeded yesterday to view the body. They subsequently returned to the Court House, where their deliberations were continued, the jury finally returned the following verdict: "That the said deceased came to his death from gun shot wounds received at the hands of the guard, Alex. Richardson, while on duty, while attempting to escape from the Work House, and in our opinion the guard was justified."

With the hope that if may assist in leadng to the detection of the thief we would state that two of the bills contained in the sum of money stolen from Capt. R. S. Radcliffe on Saturday morning last, were of the denomination of $20 in National currency. The parties who received the money, not knowing it to have been stolen. are of course in no wise responsible. The detection of the thief is the object in view. All honest people should aid in trying to break up the indiscriminate stealing now going on in the community.

Wilmington Building Association. At a meeting of the Directors of the Wilmington Building Association held yesterday afternoon, the following, being the old officers, were unanimously re-elected, viz: Isaac B. Club-Grounds Donated, &c. We learn that block 272, bounded by Woods, Fanning, Bay and Green streets, and half of block 273, east of 272, and run ning to Smith's Creek, being an elevated point of ground near Oakdale Cemetery, has been donated to the St. George and St. Andrews' Athletic Club by Walter G. Mac-Rae, Esq. It is to be enclosed and turfed and otherwise improved for cricket and other games. There is a fine spring on the grounds, and the location is also excellent for picnics, parties, etc. Another advantage is the fact that the street cars run within two blocks of the grounds, affording an opportunity to all who desire to visit them without the trouble and inconvenience of walking.

A rifle range is to be established and all other conveniences provided which will be required by the Club. Shade trees will also be set out on the grounds, which will ere long add greatly to their appearance as well as comfort. The part near the creek is to be terraced.

of at least two hundred, it not being confined to any nationality.

The grounds, when all the arrangements in comtemplation have been effected, will no doubt prove a favorite resort for families and children.

Overboard. The exciting event of yesterday was the involuntary submerging of one Joshua Jenkins in the river at the foot of Messrs. O. G. Parsley & Co.'s wharf. Joshua is a bright youth of about thirteen or fourteen sumthers, and as he had never had the good or bad fortune to fall overboard before his first thought upon reaching terra firma was that of having the startling event duly chronicled in the STAR, knowing how eager the reporter is to get hold of such exciting items. Joshua, therefore, in eager haste presented himself at the reporter's desk and Dixey, about 10 o'clock, was turning round to take in coal, when Joshua, who was

Happily the end of a pole was placed within his reach, to which he bravely clung until he was landed on the wharf. Joshua evidently feels the importance of this critical event in his youthful existence

According to announcement Superintendent Wills of the Orphan Asylum at Oxford appeared at Masonic Hall last night with eleven children of various ages under fourteen years. After some prefatory remarks, the programme of songs and exercises in calisthenics was very creditably rendered. The little children as representatives of their class excited much sympathy. During an intermission Mr. Mills talked on various topics in some way connected with his mission very pleasantly and in his usual piquaot and sensible manner. There were perhaps two hundred people in the hall, or about al! who could be seated comfortably. By some mistake of the committee of arrangements, no collection was taken or statement made in consequence: but a small amount of money comparatively

The alarm of fire sounded last night at about 10 o'clock. On investigation it was found to have been caused by the burning of a small store, the property of Mr. John L. Dudley, located on the west side of Seventh, just south of its intersection with Walnut street. The fire was supposed to have been caused by the explosion of lamp which a party who had vacated the store a short time before had left burning. The building and stock, the latter the property of Mr. Robert C. Dudley, who was the occupier of the store, were entirely destroyed. The fire department were promptly on hand and rendered effective service. The confingration was confined to the store. The building was worth probably $300 and the stock amounted to something less. Both were partly insured in the insurance agency of Messrs, Taylor & Giles

The North Carolina Creedmoor, situated just across the river from where a Dellymount (s) to a Wilmington baby, was yesaway at several targets that the silent woods were made to reverberate with the sounds of the rifle. There were several amateurs among the teams who had not yet got into harness well. They however succeeded in hitting the side of a house with such precision as to make the chimny smoke at a hundred yards which was the usual shooting distance. There was, however, some very fair shooting done Messrs. W. F. Hargrave and E. Lilly were the most successful, the former making a score of 89 and the latter a score of 83 out of a possible sixty.

COPY OF TESTIMONIAL, -HANNIBAL, Mo., May 30 1874.-Messrs. J. & W. Tolley, 29 Maiden Lane, New York-Gent .: The 12 Gun which you built for me, No. 2093, has arrived sufely to hand. Allow me to thank you for the fidelity with which you carried out my instructions. The general outline, beauty of proportion and excellent finish, are all that could be desired, and more than meets my expectations. I am more than ever impressed with the idea that it is as necessary for a man to have a gun built to measurement as to have a boot so built to ensure a good fit. The pattern 175 and penetration 40 are very superior. The pattern is as close as I desire, and the penetration I think is seldom attained, being far ahead of any public record which I have seen.

Respectfully Yours, G. W. Dorman.

ANNA L. PRICE; DEAR FRIEND.-In reply to yours of the 28d. You must please excuse me for not giving you the whole story, it being painful for me to do so, on account of the church. As for me being expelled from the Ebenezer Church, I was never a regular member of that church, I was simply under their watchful care; while my membership remained in Alabama, in my original church. I have recently sent for my church letter, and have it now in my possession. I am well aware that it is rumored, that I went to Mr. Banks to see him concerning the election, but that is not so, it was my friend Mrs. Hill, and I only went to accompany her there. Mr. Banks at a certain Baptism, called the audience, all those that were not of the Baptist faith, notorious liars, which made me feel very badly, thinking that it would ingure our cause as Baptists. I went to his residence and asked him if he did not think it wrong to speak so; and that made him very angry. He treated me so very unchristian like, that I told the deacons, that I could not follow him any longer. That caused him to feel worse, and at a certain meeting he thinking me to be a regular member, he told the church that I had to be expelled, or himself one. At this same meeting, Mr. Banks did maliciously make and tell five following falsehoods on me in my presence: in my possession. I am well aware that it is

2nd. That I had insulted the deacons, Mr. Jones and Davis, who acknowledged right there in his presence, that I had not insulted him.

2rd. That I had set in church and made fun of him while preaching.

4th. That I had slandered him, and

5th. That he came to me for satisfaction, and I refused to give it. Now I am responsible for all that I say. As for the delicate matter that you spoke of, if I understand you, it was not I who made the accusation sgainst Mr. Banks, but it was one Amelia Jewett that his wife partly raised.
