THE ELECTION.

But little additional information concerning the election reached us vesterday, and that was only confirmatory of previous reports.

Our estimate of yesterday is unchanged, viz: Conservatives, 59; Radicals, 58; Independents, 3. It appears, therefore, that three delegates, and not a majority as generally supposed, will control the Convention.

In our calculation we make no allowance for the death of Gov. Graham, as we hope his place will be filled before the Convention assem-

The remains of ex-Gov. Graham arrived in Raleigh yesterday, where they lay in state several hours. They will be interred to-day in Hillsboro by loving hands, and many hearts will render to the illustrious dead the sincere tribute of honor and affection.

HO TORS TO GRAHAM.

Meetings of the Citizens and of the

We abridge from the News the proceedings of two meetings held in Raleigh Thursday to make preparations to receive the remains of Gov. Graham on Friday:

At the citizens' meeting, held at Metropolitan Hall, Mayor Separk presided. On his motion Hon, W. H. Battle was called to the chair and J. J. Litchford requested to act as sec-

On motion of K. P. Battle, Esq., a committee of five was appointed to prepare resolutions expressive of the sense of the meeting, Messrs. K. P. Battle, J. H. Separk, Major Seaton Gales, R. S. Tucker and J. G. Williams being appointed as said committee. The following is one of the resolutions adopted: Resolved, That in the various positions of honor and trust, which William Alexander Graham so worthily filled, he displayed the highest qualities of mind and heart, which should adorn the statesman and the citizen. As Chief Executive of North Carolina, as member of Conventions for revisal of the fundamental law, in the General Assemblies of the State, as Senator in the National Legislature, in the Cabinet and in the forum, in great offices and in small, and in the walks of private life, he displayed conspicuous talents, extensive learning, perfect integrity, conscientions and painstaking devotion to duty, accompanied by courtesy and respect for the feelings of others.

Mr. Battle accompanied the resolations with remarks suitable and appropriate.

Senator Merrimon paid a handsome tribute to the virtues of the deceased. Gov. Brogden, Hon, B. F. Moore and Col. I. J. Young followed. Judge Battle added something concerning Gov. Graham's devotion to Resolutions unanimously adopted. On motion of Gen. Cox, a committee of ten citizens was appointed to meet the remains at Weldon and accompany them to this city.

Committee to meet the remains at Weldon: Gen. W. R. Cox, Dr. T. D. Hogg, N. B. Broughton, Capt. A. B. Andrews, C. B. Root, Maj. R. S. Tucker, Capt. S. A. Ashe, C. M. Busbee, N. S. Harp, M. V. B. - Plenty of water in the rivers.

Steamboatmen rejoice. - There was a heavy rain at M sonboro Sound on Thursday night.

ere THE MORNING STAR appeared, the sky was clear and beautiful. - The windows of the Mozart Sa loon, on South Front street, are very prettily draped with balsam and Madeira vines - A shooting scrape took place in front of the City Hall yesterday afternoon which, after fifteen or twenty shots, resulted in the death of one poor pigeon. - "Music hath charms to soothe the savage breast" sometimes, but when "tootled" upon a single horn, by a new beginner, it oft times bath a contrary appeal. - The postal law of the last session of Congress increases the fee for the registration of letters from 8 to 10 cents, and the latter law has now gone into effect. - Deep-toned thunder and vivid lightning awoke the drowsey sleepers yesterday morning, between 2 and 3 o'clock, but the cloud passed in another direction and very little if any rain fell here.

- Some people are afraid of the scaffolding on the steeple of St. James' Church, thinking that possibly some chance flaw of wind, taking the proper direction, may hurl it upon the sidewalk below, thus endangering the lives of persons who may that the Bessie, being the smallest yacht in be passing. It has been there for some weeks past, but is no doubt properly

About Obstruction. We did not desire, in our article on obstruction of the sidewalk, yesterday, to convey the impression that the Southern Express Company habitually leave boxes on the walk over night. Those in charge at the office are, in fact, very particular to see that the walk is kept clear, but other parties not connected with the Company sometimes leave boxes there at night, and we understand that such was the case on the occasion referred to. We therefore make our remark general, and say to every one interested, take care to store your boxes where they cannot by any mischance become an obstruction to travel.

We learn that when the day police west on duty a morning or two since they found a white man in the middle of Market square without cost, hat or shoes. Upon being questioned, the bewildered individual seemed to imagine that the square in front of the market house was the room in which he had slept and that some one had entered it during the night and carried off the articles mentioned. He continued his search for them for some time, sided by the police, but they could not be found, and the presumption is that he had "lodged at Sprawl's" and thus became divested of a portion of his toilette.

After the Boys Again.

A number of boys being in the habit of the police made a raid on them yesterday and took five of the little fellows to the Guard House. They were, however, subsequently released, but we are informed that the consequences may be more serious if the youngsters continue to behave badly in that quarter. Look-out, boys!

City Property Not Taxable. The following, we learn, is the property in the city of Wilmington upon which there is no tax, with the valuation of the same:

Fear region particularly, and generally throughout the State, to consider himself hereby constituted a committee of one to drop us a postal card or letter whenever any little event of public interest occurs or is anticipated in his immediate neighborhood, and to do it as early as may be convenient. Don't wait for any one else to furnish us the particulars because you have not time to write a regular letter in shape for publication, but just sit down for a moment and give us the facts in the rough, with names and dates, or let the boys do it, and we will arrange them on arrival. You will then Saturdays 6:00 A. M soon be surprised to see how complete a record we can keep of matters of interest in your vicinity, for your neighbors will soon learn to follow your example, and you will then mutually have made our journal much more valuable to yourselves and to the general public. Send us the news; but it is news only that we want.

Improvements. Among the finest business houses lately erected in this city is that of Messrs. Walker & Maunder, on the west side of Front, between Princess and Chesnut Sts., which is now approaching completion. It is not large, being 24 by 50 feet, with 14 feet pitch from the first floor and 12 feet from the second, but the general appearance is neat and the style of architecture somewhat unique. The front is neatly ornamented, with arched windows above and open front below, with the exception of arched columns to which neat iron gates are to be attached. The lower floor is to be used by the firm above mentioned as a marble yard, with office attached, and is admirably adapted to the purpose. The upper floor will be occupied as a dental establishment by Dr. S S. Everett and is fitted up very conveniently for that purpose, there being - Though the evening was cloudy, five rooms, including parlor, operating room, etc. The brick work was done by Mr. James Walker and the wood work by Mr.

> A Lesson in Philosophy. It was (for short) Maha Mongkut, King of Siam, or Bijorz Uozrqfc-Cprtmolazqdsp we be required to supply the full name from memory,) who wrote: "It was the single aim of Buddha to deliver man from all carnal and selfish passions. These are the only obstacles in the search for truth. The most solid wisdom is to know this, and to apply one's self to the conquest of one's self." And having let fall this pearl, this am able heathen went and whipped a wife--for was she not part and parcel of himself? Philosophic citizen, read and ponder. The lessons of history, as we have been informed by a man who probably knew, are profitable for doctrine for discipline and for example.

The Late Race. We learn that our informant was in error in stating that the Bessie Les went over 'almost at the first puff" of the squall in the race of Wednesday last. The fact is the fleet, rigged in her largest suit of sails, leading off at the commencement, continued to gallantly breast the waves and weather the storm until she had rounded the Inlet buoy and was in the act of jibing around the buoy opposite the Ctub house, passing half way through the race, withstanding all the heavy wind, when she filled and settled down gradually beneath the waves. Other boats in the fleet also suffered mishaps and withdrew from the race. This correction is given at the request of a spectator. Several of the goodly number of young gentlemen who occasionally gladden the heart reportorial by bringing us in a little item of news, having suggested that if the route and destination of the procession of one which on Thursday evening rendezvoused at this office had been generally known in advance there would have been a more numerous turnout, it behooves us to say that the procession had not been determined upon at an hour sufficiently early for public announcement, hence this thusness. On the occasion of the arrival of our expected convoy of "goobers" from "Excel- majority. The white people of that county sior," all our friends are affectionately in would'at take any negro equality "in pected convoy of "goobers" from "Excelvited to attend and witness the ceremonies, without further notice.

Yachs Racing at Beaufort-The Carolina Yacht Club. It has been intimated, we understand, that an invitation or challenge may be extended to the Carolina Yacht Club to participate in the regatta to take place at Beaufort on the 18th inst. Should this prove to where they are charged with not only being very boisterous and noisy, but with throwing watermelon rinds at each other, which as often "plumps" a passer by in the back, the police made a raid on the case four boats of the "Carolina" so much taken up with the election, in which he has been actively engaged, that he did not open Nash Court until Tuesday. We are not surprised that he should strive to preserve a constitution that creates such that pleasant sea port. If no such invitation or challenge should be forthcoming to preserve a constitution that creates such that pleasant sea port. however, we learn that a yacht is in preparation at Masonboro, in which a number of gentlemen intend embarking with the view of sailing to Beaufort so as to be present on the occasion of the race as spectators.

Odd Fellows Jubilee, dist Send Us the News.
We invite each of our friends in the Cape Thursday was a gala day for the Odd Fellows of Whiteville. During the day there was a festival in the Odd Fellows' Hall, at the depot, for the benefit of the new Whiteville Lodge. In the evening Columbus Lodge No. 27 met for instruction in the work of the Order by Past Grand J. M. McGowan, of Wilmington, and at night a grand ball at the Court House topped off the enjoyment of the occasion. We understand that the festival was very liberally patronized, and the sum of $87 50 was taken in. The Timmonsville Brass and String Band, under the leadership of Mr. Kuker, furnished the music for the occasion. About three hundred ladies and gentlemen were present at the ball and we judge that to have been the most enjoyable feature of the day, for the visiting Fellows who went up from this city dilate upon the excellence of the music, the jollity of the company and the beauty and wit of the ladies present until very words fail them. And so it was even unto the small hours.

The bospitality of the citizens is described is something that to be appreciated must have been experienced.

A PLEA FOR THE BOYS. MR. EDITOR: Seeing a notice in your paper this morning of the issue of warrants for the arrest of fifteen boys for swimming Xmnarwzigwrazp Spalmaxazetabzarezpex at what is known as Green's Mill. I was Ezawarm-Afigazaglari Maha Mongkut, (if led to reflect on the extreme hardship to boys that they should be hunted down for going bathing. They have been driven from bathing in the river near town and now, it would seem, are to be driven from place near a mile from town, and as private as any suitable place that can be found within that distance. Where then are boys to go bathing? If the authorities are determined to drive the boys from every swimming place they find, let them point out some suitable place where they can learn the useful art of swimming, which is so conducive to health, and especially to the enjoyment of boys, who I know do not wish to violate any law. The truth is, there are some people hereabout entirely too fastidious and assume what savors too much of mock modesty. AN OLD BOY.
