THE CURRENCY QUESTION.

Hon. A. H. Stephens on Circulation and Inflation-He is in Accord with Pendleton and Allen.

From the Rome Courier. 1 We publish to-day the views of the Hon. George H. Pendleton, the militia company is being formed. distinguished statesman of Ohio, upon | Bloody results may be expected. the currency question, which is now absorbing a great deal of attention, especially in the discussions of the pending Ohio campaigh. These views are those of Governor Allen, the candidate for re-election in that State. They are also the views of Hon. A. H. Stephens-all three gentlemen being tra baggage. profound political economists, who have spent a great deal of time and study upon the subject. These gentlemen do not favor inflation, nor are they in favor of contraction. Their idea is to place the currency in a healthy condition to be equal to the demands of trade-no more and no less; to be contracted gradually, and specie payments resumed through the process of legislation looking to that end as the condition of the country will permit, and as business revives and our industrial interests become more prosperous.

The country is in no condition to return to specie.payments; neither is it in a condition for a contraction of the currency. An effort at either would collapse the people into bankruptcy and ruin, and property would become almost worthless. Thousands who are in apparently favorable circumstances would become beggars. This state of things can only be remedied by a decrease of the funded debt of the country, bearing heavy interest, and converting it into greenbacks, which bear no interest. This would increase the volume of currency equal to the demands of trade, and give prosperity to the whole country, and place our industrial and commercial interests in a healthy state, when gradual contraction, by judicions legislation, could be made without detriment to the common interests of all. In this way we may arrive at a gradual resumption of specie-payments, coming down to it as we would descend a mountain, by taking advantage of its grades. A sudden or rapid contraction of the currency would have the effect of involving the debtor class in ruin. This can be illustrated by a simple example. Suppose A owes B one hundred dollars, the debt stipulated upon a greenback basis, and was forced to pay the debt in gold. To procure the gold it would require one hundred and thirteen dollars and seventy five cents. If the debt should be one thousand dollars, one bundred and thirty seven dollars and fifty cents over and above the debt in greenbacks would be required to secure the gold as a legal-tender of the debtor's obligation. Contract the currency, and the man who has bought a piece of property would find that he could not sell it for enough to pay the debt. Such a contraction, suddenly or rapidly made, would so unsettle values as to irretrievable ruin. The first object of the Democratic party when in power should be to see that the volume of currency is sufficient to meet the demands of trade and to place it on a sound basis, looking to a gradual resumption of specie payments as the industrial interests of the country revive. Looking to the contest of next year, the policy of the party should be shaped in that direction, In no other way do we see that the financial affairs of the country may be reduced to a hard-money basis.

Kidney Complaint,

Probably there is no complaint that afflicts the numan system which is so little understood at the present time, as some of the varied forms of Kidpresent time, as some of the varied forms of Kidney Complaint.

There is no disease which causes such acute pain or more alarming in its results than when the kidneys fail to secrete from the blood and uric acid, and other poisonous substances, which the blood accumulates in its circulation through the system.

If from any cause the kidneys fail to perform the functions devolving upon them, the camulations are taken up by the absorbents and the whole system thrown into a state of disease, causing great pain and suffering, and very often immediate death. Hence the importance of keeping the kidneys and blood in a healthy condition, through which all the impurities of the body must bass. mortally hurt. I was induced by friends to use your VEGETINE, and I think it the best medicine for weaknes of the Kidneys I ever used. I have tried many remedies for this complaint, and never found so much relief as from the VEGETINE. It strengthens and invigorates the whole system. Many of my acquaintances have taken it, and I believe it to be good for all the complaints for which it is recommended. plaints for which it is recomn

Boston, May 30, 1871. Boston, May 30, 1871.

H. R. Stevens, Esq.: Dear Sir—I have been badly afflicted with Kidney Complaint for ten years, have suffered great pain in my back, hips and side, with great difficulty in pass ag urine, which was often and in very small quantities, frequently accompanied with blood and excrutiating pain.

I have faithfully tried most of the popular remedies recommended for my complaint; I have been under the treatment of some of the most skillful physicians in Boston, all of whom pronounced my case incurable. This was my condition when I was advised by a friend to try the Vegetine, and I could see the good effects from the first dose I took, and from that moment I kept on improving ut til I was en'irely cured, taking in all, I should think, about six bottles. about six bottles.

It is indeed a valuable medicine, and if I should be afflicted again in the same way, I would give a dollar for a dose, if I could not get it without.

Respectfully.

Nearly Blind.

H. R. STEYENS: Dear Sir—In expressing my thanks to you for benefits derived from the use of VEGETINE, and to benefit others I will state: When eight or nine years old I was afflicted with When eight or nine years old I was afflicted with Scrofula, which made its appearance in my eyes, face and head, and I was very near blind for two years. All kinds of operations were performed on my eyes, and all to no good result. Finally the disease principally settled in my body, limbs and feet, and at times in an aggravated way.

Last summer I was, from some cause, weak in my spine and kidneys, and it was at times very hard to retain the urine. Seeing your advertisement in the Commercial I bought a bottle of Vegetine, and commenced using according to directions. In two or three days I obtained great relief. After using four or five bottles I noticed it had a wonderful effect on the rough, scaly blotches on my body and legs. I still used Vegetine, and the humorous sores one after another disappeared until they were legs. I still used VEGETINE, and the humorous sores one after another disappeared until they were all gone, and I attribute the care of the two diseases to VEGETINE, and nothing else.

If I am ever affected with anything of the kind again, I shall try VEGETINE as the only reliable remedy. Once more accept my thanks, and believe me to be.

Very respectfully,

AUSTIN PARROTT.

Diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, etc., are always unpleasant, and at times they become the most distressing and dangerous diseases that can affect the human system. Most diseases of the Kidneys arise from impurities in the blood, causing humors which settle on these parts. VEGETINE excels any known remedy in the whole world for cleaning and purifying the blood, thereby causing a healthy action to all the organs of the body.

The STAR is andoubtedly an enterprising sheet, beautifully printed and conducted with marked ability. Mr. Bernard deserves great credit for his efforts in journalism.—Raleigh Sent' vel.

No paper ever started in North Carolina has grown so rapidly as has the Star. Though only five years old, it is now a fixed institution, enjoying an influ-ence and a prosperity second to none in the State.— Salisbury Watchman.

The Wilmington STAR is in the front rank of our Southern dailies, well edited, full of news and select reading matter, telegraphic reports, and in every respect a first rate journal. If we had many such papers our State would be the gainer by it.—Greens. Patriot. APPLETON'S

American Cyclopædia New Revised Edition. intirely rewritten by the sulest writers on every sub-ject. Printed from new type, and illustrated with Several thousand Engravings and Maps.

Entirely rewritten by the anlest writers on every subject. Printed from new type, and illustrated with Several thousand Engravings and Mapa.

The work originally published under the title of Tar Naw Arrendan Cyclopedia was completed in 1863, since which time the wide circulation which it has attained in all parts of the United States, and the signal developments which have taken place in every branch of science, literature, and art, have in duced the editors and publishers to submit to an exact and thorough revision, and to issue a new edition entitled Tars Arrendan Cyclopedia.

Within the last ten years the progress of discovery in every department of knowledge has made a new work of reference an imperative want.

The movement of political affairs has kept pace with the discoverus of science, and their fruitful application to the industrial and useful arts and the convenience and refinement of social life. Great wars and consequent revolutions have occurred, involving actional changes of peculiar moment. The civil war of our own country, which was at its height when the last volums of the old work appeared, has happilly been ended, and a new course of commercial and industrial scivity has been commenced.

Large accessions to our geographical knowledge have been made by the indefairable caplorers of Africa.

The great political revolutions of the last decade, with the actural result of the lapse of time, have been fought into public view a multitude of new men, whose names are in every one's mouth, and of whose have been made to the know the partenlara,—frest statles have been longly supilmportant slegges maintained, of which the defails are as yet preserved only in the newspapers or in the transient publications of the day, but which ought now to take their permanent and anthensic history.

In preparing the present edition for the press, it has accordingly been the aim of the editors to bring down the information to the latest possible dates, and to furnish an accurate account of the most repressible that a pr try and force to the explanations in the text. They embrace all branches of science and of natural history, and depict the most fanous and remarkable features of scenery, architecture, and art, as well as the processes of mechanics and manufacturers. Although intended for instruction rather than embellishment, no paths have been spared to insure their artistic excellence; the cost of their execution is enormous, and it is believed they will find a welcome reception as an admirable feature of the Cyclopedia, and worthy of its high character.

This work is sold to Sabscribers only, payable on delivery of each volume. It will be completed in sixteen large octave volumes, each containing about 800 pages, fully illustrated with several thousand wood Engravings, and with numerous colored Lithograph Maps.
