LET THEM ALL GO.

Every Democratic Conservative member of the Convention ought to be present in Raleigh on the 6th prox. to take part in the organization. There is not a vote to spare. We may need one more than we shall get. Omitting one seat from Orange county there are certainly 59 Conservatives, 58 Radicals and 2 Independents elected.

SUMMONS NOT ORDER. The Raleigh News says:

It does not appear that Judge Settle has issued any order in the [Robeson county] matter and we therefore cheerfully correct our statement recently made to that effect, which was, however, based on what we candidly believed sufficient and reliable evidence, it having been made in a tele-graphic dispatch to the Wilmington STAR from Robeson county, and information re-ceived by us from Robeson apparently confirmed the statement.

Well, it was a summons in a regular suit; that's the difference. It is presumed that he cannot grant the mandamus.

Cowell, Conservative, 565; Baxter, Radical, 356. Cowell's majority 209. No increase in Radical vote; heavy falling off in Conservative vote.

Uses of the Dead.

A few years ago a brief article went the round of the newspapers, having the significant title, "Who Ate Roger Williams ?" It seems that in searching for the remains of one of the fathers of religious liberty in America almost nothing was found. The pick and spade removed the hard earth till a dark line was reached having the shape of a coffin. Below there were a few locks of silvery hair and some teeth, the things Byron tells us that decay soonest in life and remain longest after death. The dead form had disappeared and a living form had taken its place. The body of the old hero had become, not food for worms, but sustenance for an apple tree. A root had forced its way the hard earth till it reached the coffin, whose lid it lifted, and whose contents it devotred. It had stretched itself over the skeleton and thrown out divisious over the extremities. These in turn had divided and showed the form and position of the fingers. A living form showed where a decaying one had rested. An apple tree had eaten up a man. From the food it had devoured it had produced blossoms the children of the gravedigger had plucked, and fruit that he himself had eater. Mr. Rodney Welch, in the Teachers' Monthly, is our authority for the story, which he gives in detail. Not always, however, does a decaying body thus immediately minister to the wants of the living body. A traveler in Central America tells us that the priests in Leon, Nicaragua, rent out burial lots for ten or twenty years, at the end of which time they sell the bones and surrounding earth to the manufacturers of salipetre. This mode of disposing of the dead is quite as economical as was the disposition of the body of Western Crops. The Cincinnati Price Current publishes crop reports from nearly 350 counties in the West, showing a full average acreage of wheat in Ohio and Indiona, large losses by rain and the quality very inferior; in Illinois the crop is below the average, condition largely bad and quality inferior; in Iowa acreage as usual, yield large, quality inferior; Missouri, crop conaged; Kentucky, yield average but badly damaged; Michigan fair, and Wisconsin good. Oats largely destroyed and damaged in Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana and Illinois and parts of Missouri. The corn crop promises to be unusually large. Cattle and hogs are generally in better condition than last year, and in many places are feeding on the damaged grain.

The court-room at Cynthiana, Ky., was the scene of the utmost excitement when the jury in the case of young Ridgely, charged with the murder of Dr. C. L. Donally, reudered their verdict. The room was densely crowded, and the coolest person there is said to have been the prisoner. When the foreman rose and answered the preliminary question, every breath appeared suppressthe detendant not - and before he could finish, there arose such cheers that all business ceased, The Court and all the officers laughed, then cried, and then nearly smothered the boy in the eagerness of their congratulations. And when Ridgely was be required further south. We hear a re-used up, the spectators went for the port that the road will be extended a block jurors in a like manner.

- Light coast rains to-day.

- A number of gentlemen went on blackfish excursion yesterday on the steamer Alpha.

- There was no session of the Mayor's Court yesterday morning, the names of no offenders appearing on the docket.

- Our late confrere of the Journal, Mr. Josh. T. James, left for New York Tuesday evening on a short business trip. - In our notice of the call extended by the First Baptist Church to Rev. J. B. Taylor, the word "society" was used in the place of "church."

- From what we learn at the office of the City Treasurer, we fear that some ames may appear in the newspapers after September 1st as delinquents in the payment of their city taxes.

Fresh Water Bathlug.

We are reminded by an advertisement in the Nut Shell that the Newbernians are better provided for than we in the matter of bathing facilities. For a fee of ten cents any person may take a pleasant trip across the river and return and have admission to the bath-houses of the Neuse River Ferry Company on the further side. The benefits of a little sail after a day of diligent application to business are appreciated by many weary heads in this city from daily experience, but the Newbernians have put that pleasure within the reach of everybody's purse and added the privilege of a glorious bath to top off with. The san:tary value of good facilities for bathing can scarcely be overstated, and it is undeniably a great lack in this city. We hope that next season, at least, some one will take up the matter, if only as an act of good will toward our boys, who have been driven from almost every available spot ni and near the city, and see what can be done toward giving them an opportunity to enjoy their favorite sport in some spot which can be rendered safe and screened from pullic view. We judge that such a bathing place could be arranged almost anywhere on the west side of the river, and at no very great outlay for buildings. If a little extra outlay were made upon the buildings, many gentlemen would be tempted over in the summer evenings, and the ferry would doubtless become a paying institution. Who will be first to move in the matter? The best friends of the boys, we think.

The Browned Man-Further Partieulare. of wary's deplered the name ! The name of the unfortunate colored man who was drowned off Mr. J. H. Nefl's wharf Tuesday night was Albert Williams, aged about 24 years. It appears that his wife was off on a trip up the river and was expected back on the night in question in the steamer D. Murchison. This accounted for the presence of the man on the wharf, it being his intention to await the arrival of the boat. This much was ascertained by Officer Lewis Gordon, who, about 9:30 o'clock, found deceased lying on the wharf log asleep and awoke him. About an hour after the officer left him he was heard to fall into the river, and efforts were made to save him, but without effect.

The body of the young man, who at the time of his death was in the employment of Mr. J. C. Heyer, had not been recovered late last evening. As a coincidence connected with the drowning, we would state that Williams was one of the inmates of the boat which was swamped near the same point some months since, when the colored woman Mary McKenzie lost her life, and her companions so narrowly escaped.

Hace Postponed.

The race which was to have taken place at Wrightsville Sound, Tuesday afternoon, between the Carolina and Ripple, of the Carolina Yacht Club, was postponed until the regular regatta of the Club in September. This postponement was due to the fact that there was not a breath of wind prevailing at the time the race was to commence. We hope for better things when the regular race comes off.

The Athlette Club. In passing the store of Messrs, Giles & Murchison, yesterday, we noticed a set of boxing-gloves, foils and masks, which we were informed were for the Athletic Club. By the way, we learn that the grounds recently donated to the Club, near Oakdale Cemetery, have been nearly levelled, and that the work of building a suitable fence around the same will be commenced next Week. Woman's Rights. Two colored damsels named Lizzie Hines and Harriet Henry, claiming to be sisters, were arrested yesterday morning on the charge of fighting. It is said of them, however, to their credit, that they are not old offenders, having heretofore kept their skirts clear of the Police Court. The case will probably come up before the Mayor this morning.

Ground Broken, La Jan 2 27 Work was commenced yesterday morn ing on the extension of the street railroad from Market street down Fourth. Ground was broken at the corner of Fourth and Orange, and considerable grading done during the day. Very little grading will or two beyond Castle street, laus Arrested. Intelligence of the sad affair referred to in the following, which appeared in the Charlotte Observer of the 24th, under the above head, was received in this city on Monday afternoon, but the particulars were of such a meagre nature that we refrained from speaking of the matter. Our knowledge of the two young men alluded to now forces us to the conclusion that the provocation which led to the shooting must have been of a much more serious character than would appear from the article in the Observer, which had not been fully informed of the particulars. We presume full and reliable details will be received here in a day or two, and we feel satisfied they will be much more favorable to our young friends than are the rumors now in circula-

"Passengers who arrived in the city yesterday afternoon on the Statesville train, tell us the story of a distressing homicide which was committed on Friday or Saturday last, in Haywood county. The homicide was committed by Mr. Strange, a son of Col. Robert Strange, of Wilmington; and the victim was a back driver. News concerning the affair is very meagre, but what we have learned is about as follows: A party who had gone from Wilmington to the mountains to spend a portion of the summer, on the day in question engaged a hack or some other vehicle, for the purpose of going on a fishing excursion, and the man who had promised to furnish it did not arrive with it at the time agreed upon. When he did finally arrive, a quarrel took place between him and young Strange, but the crowd got in and went ahead until at some point on the road one of the wheels broke down, when the difficulty was renewed, the hack owner being the driver. Hot words passed and these culminated in Mr. Bridgers, a son of Hon. R. R. Bridgers, handing his pistol to Strange, who fired upon the driver, killing him instantly.

"Both Strange and Bridgers were arrested and confined in fail at Waynesboro, the county seat of Haywood. The former, we understand, had a telegram sent to his father, and it reached him here, yesterday afternoon, while he was passing through from the West, on the Carolina Central train going the Wilmington. He stopped and remained over last night, and leaves this morning via the Atlantic, Tennessee & Ohio Railroad, for Waynesboro.

"Both of these young men are of fine families, and even if not for their ownselves, on account of their connections the unfortunate occurrence is to be deeply deplored.

Bruuswick Superior Court.

The Fall term of the Superior Court for Brunswick County convened in Smithville Monday, on which day, however, only a few trifling cases were disposed of. Tuesday the case of the State es. James Heaton, charged with staying the election at the First Ward polls in this city on the 6th of August, 1874, was called, and occupied the entire day, the jury retiring about 8 o'clock. When our informant left Smithville yesterday morning, the jury were still out, with no prospect of their agreeing. Solicitor Norment and Junius Davis. Esq., appeared for the prosecution, and Ex-Judges Russell and Cantwell and D. J.

Devane, Esq., for the defence. Another case, in which the same defend ant is changed with meeting a riot on the election day referred to, has been by agree ment, we understand, continued until the next term of the Court. The Statcher case has also, we learn, been continued until the next ferm. LATER.-We have advices from Smith ville up to 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

when the jury in the Heaton case were still out, no agreement having been reached. Hop at Wrightsville.

We understand that, notwithstanding the postponement of the races, the hop on the Banks came off on Tuesday night, and was entirely successful both as to numbers present and general enjoyment. The music was from this city and the fun was kept up, just how late we cannot tell.

By the way, why don't some of our young friends constitute themselves a committee to see that we get a rough running sketch of all these pleasant little affairs on the coast. Thereby we would be saved the possibility of making mistakes or omissions, and also help the participants to keep alive many enjoyable recollections.

Old black Tena-the "prophetess" of Bladen-now teaches her flock that the best interests of the colored people will be served by their acting politically with their white employers. Where sha got this "inspiration" from she does not tell, but it sounds rather sensibly for all that. At one of her recent meetings she says she had to drive one of the colored candidates at the recent election off the grounds with her "holy curse." He had differed with her political views too freely and noisily

Improving. Charles Miller, the colored painter who fell from the scaffold, corner Market and Tenth streets, day before yesterday, was, we learn, not so badly injured as was at first supposed. His back was sprained and his body bruised in several places. He was able, however, to walk about the house vesterday and hopes to be at work in a week or so.

Range of Thermometer. The following was the range of the thermometer at the Signal Bureau, in this city, 7 A. M., 70; 13 M., 76; 2 P. M., 78; 4:30 P. M., 75; 9 P. M., 69.

Our night reporter has several times spoken of a matter which he thought of noment to the health of our city, and, being now reminded of it, he takes pleasure in again calling attention to the subjectmatter! of a paragraph written and published by him on the 18th inst., but which for the present occasion he will extract from the Journal of Monday, as follows: "We see that Jamestown weed has attained a rank growth in some yards and vacant lots, and is in full bloom. Now is he time to destroy it, before the seeds mature. And as for the Ailanthus shrubs, any time is a good time."

We desire to call the attention of parents and lot-owners to the fact that every part of the Jamestown weed (Datura Stramonium) when taken internally acts as a narcotico-irritant poison, and the odor will infect the atmosphere where the weed grows profusely to such an extent as to have an appreciable effect upon the general health of the neighborhood. The same remark will apply in a lessened degree to the Ailanthus poison. We are of the impression that there is a general city ordinance providing for their destruction, but lot-owners ought not to wait for its enforcement before clearing them out. We particularly recollect a lot on Red Cross near Front street as overgrown.

With these additional remarks we commend our waif to the enterprise of the "Portsmouth paper," and hope that ere it returns to us it will have done much good to the health of the cities through which it

In this connection we might also mention our article on the inspection of cellars, but we will just remind the curious in that connection, sub rosa, sub datura, or sub-cellar, as many seem most appropriate, that sometimes

"There gleams in the thyrsus that bacchanals bear. Mid the blooms of a garland, the point of a spear."

So we forbear.

Work on the cotton press and sheds is progressing rapidly. The compartment walls are now well up and the contractor expects to have the masonry completed and ready for the iron roof in about a week. It is thought that the sheds will be ready for the reception of cotton by the 10th or 15th of September. The cylinder and some of the gear of the press, with the massive framework, are now in position, work on the wharf is being pushed rapidly, the great platform, 275 feet long, adjoining the warehouse, and along which the railroad sidings are to extend will soon be commenced, and the whole work will be pushed rapidly to completion in time to be ready for the opening of the shipping season. The whole premises are one vast activity.

Yesterday afternoon about 5:30 o'clock, horse, with rockaway attached, the property of Mr. H. VonGlahn, became frightened by some means and dashed wildly down Front street. At the northeast corner of Front and Princess streets the animal made a sudden turn, when the vehicle came in contact with the lamp-post at that point and was seriously damaged. Fortunately. there was no one in the rockaway at the time.

The question which I proposed for the consideration of the Journal reporter was purely one of journalistic morals—proposed

The general public has no interest in this matter, and as l cannot claim the bonor of any extended acquaintance with Mr. Andrews personally, I do not particularly care what may be having used in conversation with me any expression which might be considered denunciatory, I am sure his recollection differs from mine and that of all the other gentlemen who were present. His language on that occasion was considered mild and not particularly terrible, and he certainly has had no "private" interview with me, whatever. If, on consideration, he deems it the mark of a gentleman, when he has fallen into wrong and knows it, to make an honest confession and apology, I shall be pleased to think better of the young man than I now can; otherwise he 'must take the consequences"-the condemnation of his own conscience.

THE TOLLEY GUN.—COPY OF TESTIMORIAL.—HUDSON CITY, N. J., Sept. 30th, 1874.—MESSRS. J. & W. Tolley -29 Maiden Lane, New York; -The 10-guage Gun No. 3078 I ordered from you gives me entire satisfaction. I was very exacting when erdering the Gun, but must say that you have more than fulfilled what I required of you. I several breech-leaders by first-class makers, and your gun beats them all for beauty and workmanship. As for shooting qualities, your gun shoots stronger and more even than any gun I ever shot. I have shown it to several good judges (including first-class gunmakers) and all agree that the action is very strong and durable, and that the gun is one of the best they ever saw. I have made some very long shots with it, using only 3% drs. of powder, which is all your gun requires. I have shot it at a target seconding to the rules of the Turf, Field and Farm trials, and the average of 6 shots at 40 yards is: Left-pattern, 169; penetration, 38 right-pattern, 175; penetration 89; using 814 ire powder. Now I am sure such a gun is seldom met with, and am very proud to be the owner of it. But the real test of your gun make his own. Payment may be made in a currency as cheap as "thanks," and I cannot see that literary piracies are, more than others, to be justified by the plea that they are of ancient origin.
