Ames appears to have completely broken down in his attempt to get up a sensation over Mississippi. Senafor Pease telegraphs to the Attorney General that the excitement over the Clinton affair has died out, and the Attorney General believes that there is no trouble in Mississippi. Ames has stopped telegraphing.

More new amendments were inroduced in the Constitutional Convention yesterday. Most of the amendments so far introduced will not do. The Convention should "go slow" and keep a "weather eye."

The Cotton Compress-Trial of the

The Cotton Press, which has been erected for the Wilmington Compress and Warehouse Company, by the Delamatic Iron Works, of New York, was worked yesterday and the first bale of cotton submitted to its embrace. A 500 pound bale was compressed to a density of 35 pounds to the cubic foot. This is regarded by experts as extraordinary close pressing, especially with a new machine. The Company will be ready for business in about ten days, when the builders of the press promise to load more pounds of cotton into the same space of vessel than has ever been accomplished in the United States.

The press is supplied with steam from two tubular boilers intended to work with 140 pounds to the square inch, which will give a pressure of 1,700 tons upon each bale, and to resist this enormous pressure there is 100 tons of cast and wrought-iron. The facilities now afforded by the Compress Company for handling our great staple cannot be excelled on the Atlantic

Cotton will be delivered by the Wilmington, Columbia and Augusta, Carolina Central and Weldon Roads, at the warehouses of the Company and from thence loaded for either foreign or coastwise shipment at

Call to North Carolina.

Under this head we find the following the Culpeper (Va.) Observer and General Advertiser: "We have rarely known so much sincere regret expressed, just as it was felt, by our community, as when it was made known that Rev. J. B. Taylor, of the Baptist church, in this place, had accepted a call to the city of Wilmington, in the State of North Carolina. This feeling is not confined to the church of which Mr. Taylor had charge. It is participated in by our people generally. Mr. Taylor was a young man when he took charge of this church. It embraces a majority of the members of all the churches here, and numbers among its members many of our most respected and influential citizens. For a young stranger to gain the respect of such a body required sterling qualities of head and heart. talents and professional accomplishment he is held in high esteem. But beyond this he has, by the single-hearted honesty and earnestness with which he devotes himself to his high calling, shown that he is not only a preacher of a high order, but a pastor who discharges duty and wins affection. Wilmington will not know all that she has gained or that we have lost until Mr. Taylor has been there as long as he has been here.

"A committee, consisting of four of the leading members of the church, has been appointed to call another minister, but their action has not been publicly announced, consequently we are unable to say whom they will call."

Carrie Walker, colored, charged with being drunk on the public streets, was between 2nd and 3rd. Services to-day as found guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $20 or work for thirty days on the streets. The same, charged with disorderly conduct on the streets, was found guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $50 and costs or work for thirty days on the streets.

Annie Yancey, charged with fighting, was found guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $50 and costs.

Another fine of $5 and costs was imposed on a party for fighting; and a bond of $200 for appearance at Court was required of a party convicted of retailing liquor without a license, upon whom a fine of $50 had been imposed and an appeal craved.

A Long-Lived Canary. A family residing in this city had a canary bird which was brought here from Nassau near the commencement of the war. having lately attained the age of 12 years. For some time he has been lingering on the verge of dissolution from the weight of years, often fainting away from weakness, but again reviving and trying to assume a show of its latent vitality, until Friday night, when a designing pussy cat, with no veneration or respect for age, sex or previous (or present) condition of servitude, pounced upon the poor capary in its helpless state and in a moment the long life which had been spent in caterings to the pleasure and amusement to an ignominious close.

We learn from parties from Masonboro' that a heavy gale of wind commenced there at about 124 o'clock Friday night and lasting until 4 o'clock in the morning. The wind was from the northeast and the charge in temperature was so rapid and striking a peck; cabbages 10@25 cents that quilts and blankets were brought into almost immediate requisition.

In this city quite vivid lightning in the north and northeast as early as 10 or 11 decidedly cool and threatening, with occasional light rains.

Thomas Gunnels, colored, who had been recognized to appear befor Justice Moore's Court, but failed to do so, remarking that he defied any one of them to take him there, was arrested by Officers Strode and Whitney, yesterday, when he was required to give bond in the sum of $50 for his appearance, in default of which he was committed to lail. The charge against him is that of assault. Gunnels on his part says that he is employed on W. C. & A. R. R., and could not attend at the time, and that he made no such remark as that attributed

The Stolen Time-Piece. John Taylor alias John Bull, who was turned over to the Sheriff by the City Court, ailed to give bond and was committed to jail. We were shown the watch yesterday which he is accused of stealing from Ransom Cobb, and which is now in the hands of Deputy Sheriff Morris, the seal of which has the name of the individual from whom it was stolen plainly engraved upon it. This, it appears to us, will be a bad showing to John Bull, the watch having been found in his possession. It will be remembered that we gave an account of this theft

It appears that this gentleman wrote to the editor of the Gazette for the information upon which the paragraph alluded to was grounded, and received in return a copy of the original letter from Egypt, received at the office of the Gazette, which stated that Gen. Colston was then completely paralyzed and in a dying conition, having been conveyed for some distance on a litter; that death would be a welome relief to him, &c., and that the expedition was then awaiting the arrival of Maj. It will be published every day except Sunday, 16th Sunday after Trinity, as follows: Morn- and will contain fresh news reports both general and local. Mr. James, who has had considerable experience as local reporter, will have charge of the City department. Mr. Price will be Business Manager. These gentlemen have the capacity to make the Evenius Review a remunerative and popular enterprise, and in their efforts should have the good wishes and active cooperation of the citizens of Wilmington. For other particulars concerning the new paper read the announcement of the publishers, in another column.

An Orchestra for Wilmington.

Our city will shortly have a fine amateur orchestra, under the leadership of Prof. J. F. Rueckert, to begin with. The following instruments will constitute the string band: 1st violin, 2nd violin; viola (tenor violin); violincello, contra bass, flute clarionet, two trumpets and trombone. Other orchestral instruments will be added as this musical club advances. The members con stituting this orchestra are of our best young men and a few of them are already advanced in music.

A first-class orchestra, as this will no doubt soon become, will add greatly to our facilities for amusement and recreation and our citizens will doubtless hail its formation with much gratification.
