THE ELECTION IN ORANGE.

The election on Thursday of Maj. W. N. Patterson, the Conservative candidate for the vacant seat in the Convention from Orange, was a most gratifying result. In August ex Gov. Graham was elected by 379 majority. Maj. Patterson's majority will probably be above 600. There was a gain at Durham of 113 votes over the last election. The Conservatives now have a majority of two in the Convention. Maj. Patterson is said to be a clear-headed, practical man, and will doubtless be of much service.

Mr. Clingman objected, upon the ground that the fact of leaving the question to legislation hereafter would | Southern mails for all points seemingly delude the people into the belief that something had been done. when such was not the case. Mr. Tourgee's amendment was lost by a vote of 23 ayes to 76 nays, several of the members being paired off. Mr. Bowman moved an amendment to make the per diem of both the presiding officers and members $3. Lost by a vote of 15 to 93. The substitute of Mr. Allman was taken up, and adopted by a vote of

The main question was then put and adopted by a vote of 82 ayes, 27

Mr. Wilcox, from the committee on the per diem of the members of the Convention, reported a bill pro viding that the presiding officer shall receive $8, the principal and assistant clerks 6, and the other officers and members $5.

On motion the whole matter was recommitted to the committee.

THE SUPREME COURT. Ordinance to make the Supreme Court consist of Chief Justice and two Associates.

Mr. Tourgee, Rep., opposed the measure. The amount of work now before the Supreme Court required the services of more than three Su-reme Court Judges. Mr. Manning, dem., of Chatham, supported the report of the Commit-Greensboro, N. C., is on our table. It tee. The empire States of Georgia contains eight pages, four columns to and Mississippi, and some 17 states of the Union had only three Judges upon their Supreme Court benches, and he could not see the necessity of North Carolina having 5 Judges. Carolina was composed of only three Judges their decisions were quoted as extensively and respected as highly as has been the case since it was increased to five. Mr. Bennett, Dem., said the new feature of five members of the Supreme Court only passed the Convention of 1868 (with all its higher law actions) by one majority. He argued at some length, bringing authority to support him, that a large number of Judges would always prove of disadvantage, and served only to retard business rather than advance it.

Mr. Chamberlain, Rep., opposed the measure. He did not believe there was any demant from the people for this reduction. He thought there was something behind it! He could see the final abolition of the homestead in the distance ! 1

Mr. Barringer was not prepared to discuss this question, not knowing that it would come up. He held the old system of County Courts as a nuisance; did not think under the present system, however, it paid either the lawyer or client to go to law. Until the question of intermediate Court or some other relief was given by this Convention, he was to restrict the Supreme Court to three members.

Mr. Turner hoped that it would add much to the purity of the Su-preme Court to diminish its number. Mr. Barringer replied briefly.

Mr. Young said the friends of this measure must bring forward some better reason for its adoption before he could vote for it.

Mr. Manning, of Chatham, thought the war was over; "let us have peace!" He would say there was nothing behind the committee in its report upon this question.

Mr. Tourgee hoped that the class to which he belonged (the carpet baggers) would not be referred to on this floor in an opprobrious manner. He thought the consideration of this question was premature. Mr. Cooper, did not approve of the course the discussion ead taken. He came here to legislate on the good of the people, and not to hear a discussion of personal matters and personal grievances, or a rehearsal of the part that may have been played by different parties in the scenes of

On motion of Mr. Badger, the further consideration of the question was postponed until to-morrow 111 o'clock.

Here, in a building prepared for the occasion, dancing was commenced and kept up until the hour for dinner arrived, when a splendid repast was served and most happily enjoyed. The comforts of the inner man having received proper attention, the dance was resumed and kept up until the boat reached the shore, whence she had left in the morning. BOTHD OF ALDERMEN.

Synopsis of the Proceedings. The regular meeting of the Board of Al dermen was held last evening; present His Honnr the Mayor and Aldermen Gardner, Cassidey, Neff, Bates, Rice, Holmes, Hankins and Banks.

The Mayor stated that as sometime had elapsed since a meeting of the Board had been held, he would give a statement of the operations of the city government. The Clerk and Treasurer had been engaged in collecting the taxes due the city, as fast as possible; but that his efforts had not been responded to by the tax-payers as promptly as was desired, in consequence of the great scarcity of money. He also submitted the following recommendation to the Board:

Owing to the great depression in business and the manner in which the tax-pay ers were pressed for money to pay their necessary expenses, the Board of Aldermen, in January last, while levying the taxes for the current year, reduced the taxes on the merchants of our city $20,000. The Board of Assessors reduced the assessment on real estate in the city $40,000, making a reduction in taxes of $8,000, and the tax on merchants' sales, known as the license tax, has fallen off over $5,000, making a total reduction from the amount received last year, and less than the amount collected in either of the past four years, of $33,000. The fact of such a large reduction in the revenue of the city is to be very much deplored. Owing to the hard times it became the duty of the city government to foster business and relieve the hard-worked merchants as much as it was in their power to do. This, I am glad to say, the Board cheerfully did. Now it becomes our further duty to reduce the expenditures of the city correspondingly, or as near as possible; and I know that the Board of Aldermen, being, as you are, well aware of the urgent necessity of making all proper reductions in the cay a xpenses, will cheerfully support such measures as will result, it is to be hoped, satisfactory. Therefore I respectfully recommend that the salaries of the officials and employes of the city be re-

The office of clerk to the Board of Assessors has been discontinued, making a further reduction of $500. There should also be but two Sergeants of the pol ce force, making a further reduction of $480. I shall also, if the Board will sustain me, retrench in other departments of the city government at least $1,500-that is to say, in the ordinary current expenses-making an entire reduction of $29,278 75.

The above recommendations, if adopted by the Board, will place our city in an excellent condition, and we shall be able to meet all present demands upon it.

Aldermen Gardner moved that the recommendations of the Mayar in regard to retrenchment be adopted. The motion was seconded by Aldermen Bates and was unanimously adopted.

Petitions from W. L. Smith & Co., Owen Burney, various citizens for an alley, dealers in reference to the sale of fresh pork, J. H. Borneman, John McLaurin, S. L. Watson, citizens concerning cistern, for removal of market carts, Howard Relief Fire Engine Company No. and Mrs- Elizabe:h Gooding, were referred to appropriate committees, as were also a number of petitions for employment. The Board then adjourned to meet next Monday afternoon, at 4 o'clock. The Cow Question. One of our suffering fellow citizensvictim to a certain extent of the cow ordinance now in force is loud in his protestations that the innocent should not be made to suffer with the guilty in this matter. In other words, he says that those who respect the law by keeping their cows confined to their enclosures, thereby having to pay for the provender which other cattle illegally get by grazing on the streets, should not be compelled to sacrifice their rest at night by being disturbed by cows turned loose in the streets, which often, by bellowing, excite the animals confined in private lots, inducing them to break out of their enclosures. He informs us of one gentleman who was almost entirely deprived of his rest Thursday night in this manner, having to leave his bed twice to secure his cow, which, excited in the way above described, had broken out of the lot assigned her and succeeding in demolishing things generally with the view of reaching the flower garden, from which easy access could be had to the street, where she could join those which were making the most of their liberty. Our friend suggests that the law of the city in this matter, as long as it remains a law, should be rigidly enforced, so that all our | ing from one of the merchants of that place. citizens can stand on the same footing. He also suggests that the cow catchers take a turn round at night or early in the morning, n which case the violated law will be more faithfully and impartially enforced.

A Boat Load of Matrimony. Under this caption the Norfolk Virginian of the 13th inst. says: "The steamer George Leary, Captain Whittle, had a full cargo of matrimony on board last evening. There were two couples from Wilmington, the ladies being the fairest of the fair of that city; one couple from Raleigh, one from Suffolk, and a couple from this city. Certainly Capt.

Whittle never carried a more precious car-go. We wish the newly married a delightgo. We wish the newly married a delightful honeymoon. May it last through all their lives, and may their lease of life be a long one."
