CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

SIXTEENTH DAY.

[Abridged from the Sentinel.]

RALEIGH, Sept. 23.

VOLE ON AMENDMENTS.

Mr. Reid, from the Committee on Revision, submitted a report, offering a substitute for the ordinance in regard to submitting amendments adopted to the people.

On motion of Mr. Reid, the rules were suspended and the ordinance again taken up and ordered to be printed, and made special order for Saturday next, at 10 A. M.

Mr. Manning, of Chatham, from the Committee on Privileges and Elections, submitted a majority report in the Robeson county contest case.

(This report is a very voluminous one, and cannot be given in full as its importance demands. The report in substance recites that the contestants, Messrs. McNeill and Norment, must have their right to the seats established by a comparison of the poll books, &c., and that all testimony in the case must be before the Committee, and prays the Convention to take such order as it may deem necessary to meet the ends of justice, and to recommend that the resolutionousting the present incumbents, Messrs. McEachin and Sinclair, do not pass.

Mr. Chamberlain submitted a minority report, which sets forth that the contestant, Messrs. McNeill and Norment, are entitled to the seats on account of the refusal of the County Commissioners of Robeson county to count the legal vote of several townships by which they (the contestants) would have received a majority of all the votes cast, and the action of the County Commissioners in the matter was a fraud.

On motion of Mr. Manning, of Chatham, both the reports of the majority and minority were ordered to be printed.

Mr. Albertson moved to make the reports special order for Saturday at 12 M.

Mr. Manning, of Chatham, moved to amend the motion by making them special order for Tuesday at 11 A. M.

The young's amendment was adopted by a vote of yeas 55, nays 54.

Mr. Shepherd, from the Committee on Municipal Corporations, submitted a report.

Mr. French, from the Committee on the Legislative Department, reported favorably on an ordinance to create a Department of Agriculture.

Mr. Vaughn, from the same committee, submitted a report offering substitutes for various ordinances.

The following ordinances were appropriately referred: By Mr. Stallings, an ordinance to amend sec. 3, art. 5, providing a tax on dogs for the protection of sheep husbandry.

By Mr. Avery, an ordinance to levy a tax to keep up ferries, bridges and roads; counties to levy the tax. No persons but criminals to be compelled to work the roads.

by sentence of court of impeachment, was taken up as the unfinished business of yesterday.

The question recurred upon the substitute offered yesterday by Mr. Avery.

Mr. Albertson said that his action no doubt gave the committee on the Judiciary Department a right to suppose that he assented to it; but when the committee discussed the matter he had not fully and clearly made up his mind, but he had done so now and that without consulting a single soul.

Mr. Hassell regretted that so much time should have been lost in the discussion of this matter. He alluded to the remarks of Mr. Tourgee, made a few days ago, in regard to the epithet "carpet-bagger," and said that Mr. Tourgee's blasphemy in likening himself to Jesus Christ, and calling the Son of God a carpet-bagger in idea, laid that gentleman open to be called preposterously to order.

Mr. Hassell then sketched the record of Mr. Holden as far as the crimes proposed to be pardoned, and while he thought this Convention had no power to pass this ordinance, and though Holden was a double traitor to the United States and to the State of North Carolina, he was a pardon man, and would vote to amend the constitution so as to make provision for the pardon of such cases.

Mr. Barringer said that he thought that Mr. Albertson had assented to the report of the Committee on the Judiciary Department. He certainly did, and regretted that nothing in that gentleman's remarks had shaken his opinion that the Convention had no power to pass this ordinance. Personal considerations made him reluctant to oppose this measure, and if we had the power he would favor the same, but upon public grounds he could not support this ordinance. Gov. Holden had committed a fatal and irretrievable error, and he did not interpose his personal and official influence and authority against the outrage perpetrated by the Legislature of 1868-'69.

Mr. Young urged the ordinance. He appealed to delegates to pass this ordinance as a matter of generosity.

Mr. Clingman would not say what would be his action if he thought the Convention had the power to pass it. He went on to illustrate by analogies why the power to pass this ordinance did not reside in the Convention in view of the surrounding circumstances.

Mr. Stallings said he was a member of the same church as Gov. Holden and was a personal friend of his, but he was not here to be influenced by personal consideration. He had taken an oath to observe the restrictions thrown around this Convention by act of the Assembly, and did not think this ordinance could be passed consistently with that oath. He would favor amendment giving the Legislature the power to pardon cases of this kind. But he would say, that as long as Mr. Holden's friends placed the passage of this ordinance on the ground of right and impeach the justice of the sentence of the court of impeachment in condemnation of the crime of this man, he would not remove those disabilities if he had the power.

O'Hara, col., spoke in favor of the ordinance.

Mr. Tourgee occupied the floor repelling the opprobrium with which gentlemen used the word "carpet-bagger."

Mr. Buxton regretted that the debate on the question should have drifted into crimination. He had hoped that it would be confined within legitimate limits. He thought the Convention had a right to pass the ordinance, and should do it as an act of magnanimity and mercy, &c. He admitted that Governor Holden did violate the Constitution, and did not impeach the justice of the judgment of the court of impeachment; therefore he asked not for justice but mercy.

Mr. Durham moved to adjourn until to-morrow at 10 A. M.

On the call of Mr. Jarvis the yeas and nays were had and the motion to adjourn was adopted by a vote of yeas 57, nays 30. Adjourned.

ODD FELLOW.

United States Grand Lodge.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 22. At the third day's session of the Grand Lodge Independent Order of Odd Fellows of the United States Past Grand Sire Nicholson, from the committee on the next session of the supreme body, submitted an elaborate report recommending that the session be held in Philadelphia in September, 1876. Laid over.

Representative Given, of the District of Columbia, submitted a communication from the secretary of the Washington National Monument Society. Past Grand Sire Stuart offered a document embodying a resolution providing for an additional appropriation from the Grand Lodge in aid of the completion of the Washington monument. Referred to the committee on finance.

The report of the committee on mileage and per diem recommending pay of ten cents per mile and $6 per day was adopted.

It was resolved that obituaries on deceased members of the grand body be made the special order for Friday morning. After which adjournment was taken until to-morrow morning.

The street parade this afternoon was the grandest public demonstration ever witnessed in this city. Fully 10,000 Odd-Fellows in regalia were in procession. The uniformed patriots from St. Louis, Cincinnati and Louisville attracted special attention.

After passing through the principal streets, the procession halted at the State House Square, where addresses were made by Grand Sire Danham and others. A banquet was given to-night by the Grand Lodge of Indiana to the representatives of the United States and visiting past grand officers from other States.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

CRONLY & MORRIS—Furniture.

Lo-ri-ota.

The first shrimps of the season are coming to this market now.

The trees on Front street near the Gaston House are receiving a fall pruning.

Mayor Canaday was expected to leave for a short trip up the C. C. road yesterday evening.

Mr. E. Lilly, of this city, killed yesterday, with his Winchester rifle, a large hawk at fully 175 yards range.

We learn that the Odd Fellows of Whitehall held a pleasant picnic festival yesterday at Bladen Springs.

Mr. Jewett's school house, at Chesnut and Second streets, is receiving a new roof, &c., preparatory to the opening of the fall term.

Several large Government flats are being constructed here for use at the bar and river works below in conveying stone to the scene of operations.

We are sorry to hear that Mr. John Coville, of Messrs. Coville & Co., has been confined to his house by illness. We trust the indisposition is not a serious one.

The colored military visitors to be here on the 13th prox., mentioned in yesterday's paper, are to come from Charleston, not Charlotte, as the types incorrectly had it.

A flat load of watermelons were landed on the wharf foot of Market street yesterday afternoon, and everybody fond of the "shakes" eagerly pressed forward to buy.

The weather probabilities for to-day, in the South Atlantic, are partly cloudy and slightly warmer weather, and east to south winds, with light rains on the Gulf coast.

The Cornet Concert Club, on their return from South Carolina, yesterday morning, took the street car from Union Depot and enlivened the route by a number of inspiring airs.

We regret to learn that Mr. Thos. Marshall Ambler, of Fauquier county, Va., and father of the Rev. Thos. M. Ambler, of this city, died at his home in that county on the 4th inst., in the 84th year of his age.

We learn that the I. O. of G. T., at Smithville, is steadily advancing and now numbers nearly one-eighth of the entire population of the place. While a few "fall from grace," others step in and more than make good the loss.

U. S. Commissioner's Court.

A colored woman by the name of Mary Wirtless was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Cassidy, yesterday, charged with passing a counterfeit bill of the denomination of 50 cents. She was required to give bond in the sum of $300 for her appearance at the next term of the U. S. District Court in this city, in default of which she was committed to jail.

Grand Granger Pic-Near Marion. S. C.—the Wilmington Cornet Concert Club Present—The Speeches and the outfling Re-pas.

The Wilmington Cornet Concert Club, of this city, which left here on Wednesday evening for the purpose of being present at grand Grangers' pic-nic at New Baltimore, near Marion, S. C., on Thursday, returned yesterday morning.

The pic-nic, which was given by New Baltimore Grange, was a most complete and decided success, commencing at 11 o'clock in the morning and continuing until 7 o'clock in the evening. The crowd present, which was variously estimated at from 1,500 to 2,000 persons, including a large number of ladies, was addressed by Col. W. S. Mullins and others.

The report provided for the occasion was simply immense, in both quantity and quality, and did great credit to the ladies, as well as to Mr. E. J. Moody, of Marion, and other members of the Committee charged with looking after this important part of the proceedings. Messrs. Moody and Ellerbe of the Committee were especially attentive to the comfort of the invited guests. At night there was dancing at Mr. Watson's residence, near the scene of the day's festivities, which was no doubt greatly enjoyed by those who attended.

Probably six hundred or more of those present at the pic-nic had never heard music from a brass band before, and to such in particular our friends of the Club were of course the center of attraction throughout the day, the band performing about fifty pieces for their benefit and that of the people generally. In the evening they were the guests of Mr. Moody, at whose residence they were very agreeably and hospitably entertained until the time arrived for their departure for home.

The members of the band speak in the highest terms of the people among whom they have been having such a pleasant season of recreation and enjoyment, and say they could not possibly have been treated with greater hospitality or respect, to say nothing of the many flattering compliments they received as to their musical proficiency. Mr. F. W. Kerchner, who has an extensive acquaintance in and about Marion, accompanied the band and of course was a worthy adjunct in the "feast of reason and flow of soul" inspired by the occasion.

Maid on a Section House—Several Colored Men Robbed.

Some six or eight colored men, employed on the W. and W. R. R., have been in the habit of sleeping in the first section house on the road, about four miles from this city, and on Thursday, while they were off at work, the house being closed and locked against intruders, a thief, who was probably acquainted with their habits, crawled under the house, removed a lot of brick from the hearth, and succeeded in effecting an entrance. He then commenced collecting the valuables, consisting of a watch, worth about $30, a lot of clothing, boots, shoes, &c., amounting altogether in value to about $40 or $50. When the men returned they found their establishment had been literally "cleaned out," and upon inquiry learned that a colored man with a guano sack on his back had been seen coming from the direction of the section house and making his way towards Wilmington, accompanied by an old man with whom the men were acquainted. The old man was interviewed and said he accidentally fell in company with the man and would know him were he to see him again, but that he was a stranger to him. He said the man with the sack acted suspiciously, walking fast and frequently glancing behind him, and that he turned off near the Poor House toward the main road. This was the only clue they could obtain to the thief, except that a guano sack was among the missing articles stolen from the section house.

Magistrate's Court.

In Masonboro Township, in this county, Samuel Reeves was arraigned before Justice Jno. G. Wagner, charged with assault and battery on the person of Henry McNeill. Case dismissed on the payment of costs.

Sandy Brown was also charged with assault and battery on the person of Henry McNeill, in whose case judgment was suspended on the payment of costs.

Reeves and Brown were next arraigned on a peace warrant sworn out by McNeill, which was dismissed at the cost of the prosecutor, who, being unable to foot the bill, was brought to this city and lodged in jail. So much for going to law.

The Good Templars.

We are requested to state that delegates to the Grand Lodge of Good Templars, which meets at Fayetteville on Tuesday next, can go and return on either of the two lines of steamers for one fare, or that they can go on a steamer of one line and return on a steamer of the other line for the same (one fare). The steamer North State will leave her wharf in this city at 2 P. M. on Monday, as usual. The statements in a paragraph on the same subject, in our last issue, were incorrect, though obtained from a source thought to be entirely reliable.

A Runaway and the Result.

We learn from a friend at Dawson's Landing, Bladen county, that a horse runaway with a cart at Mr. Joseph Gillespie's place, near there, on Wednesday, and that in making a sudden turn he fell, killing himself instantly. Tody McDaniel, a nephew of Mr. G.'s, about 14 years old, was thrown from the vehicle and seriously but not fatally hurt.

The Marl Beds.

We are informed that Messrs. Cronly & Morris returned on Thursday with a sharpened auger to the scene of the boring operations at their marl beds in Brunswick county, intending to go through the hard stratum which had been struck at the time of our last account, if that was a possible thing. Mr. Cronly was accompanied on the occasion by Mr. Thomas Evans, of the firm of Blossom & Evans, who is the proprietor of the auger used. The tool had been put in fine condition, and was worked by four men, but spite of every effort, it could not make the slightest impression upon the rock which seems to underlie the 25 foot bed of marl. The auger, indeed, is constructed only with a view to boring wells through a deep soil, and is not calculated to penetrate beds of hard rock. An effort to drill the rock with a steel-pointed drill was alike unsuccessful, owing to the great length and weight of the drill and shafting attached. As there were no volunteers offering to go below with a view to determining by inspection how the investigation might be more satisfactorily prosecuted, a change of base was then effected.

The auger was taken to another part of the property and set to work on a new bore. After going down ten feet through soil, sand and some marl, a bed of whitish stone was struck and some specimens brought up. We have not yet had time to determine the precise character of this rock. We are inclined to think that it overlies the main bed of marl at this point, and is not the same rock as that struck in the bottom of the first bore, but this can only be settled by a careful inspection of the ground.

At another point on the property, somewhat lower than those mentioned above, a hole has been bored with a post-auger, in which, at a depth of two feet, the auger went into a bed of coarse white gravel, such as is found in some places on the sea coast.

We understand that considerable interest is being shown in the trial of the marl which Messrs. Cronly & Morris have shipped up the C. C. Railway for free test upon the crops. Owing to the great amounts of freight from the North which are now passing over this road the Company has been unable to give immediate transportation to a lot of some eighty bags intended for Rockingham, and it has therefore laid alongside the track for some days. These bags formerly contained California wheat, and in their seams a few grains had remained when they were emptied. After being filled with the marl and exposed to the action of the sun and moisture until Thursday, it was found that these grains had germinated and shot out stalks three inches long. Perhaps this fact may be some index of the value of the marl as a fertilizer. These bags were to have gone forward to Rockingham by yesterday's train.

We are informed that some of the first orders that have been received for the marl came from Catawba county, a county situated west of the centre of the State. The people of the interior seem inclined to give a trial to home fertilizers in the hope of finding a substitute for the more expensive ones imported. If their hope can be realized they will thus keep much money at home every year and circulating in their own midst. An order for one ton from Newton, Catawba county, and another from Coover, in the same county, for two tons has just been filled. The marl goes via the Carolina Central to Charlotte, and thence via the North Carolina and the Western North Carolina Railroads to its destination. Those sending the orders think a considerable market for marl will be opened in Catawba. We hope the material may prove as valuable as is anticipated.

Brunswick County—Debt, Finances, &c.

Through the courtesy of the gentlemanly Clerk of the Board of County Commissioners, a friend at Smithville has been enabled to present the following statement of the receipts and disbursements of the public monies of the county for the year ending September 1st, 1875:

The total receipts of the county, as reported for the last year, excluding the school and railroad tax, is $6,597 76. The disbursement of the above amount is given in an aggregate form for each department of the county government, as follows:

Table listing county expenses: For the services of the Board of County Commissioners, including per diem, mileage and extra committee work, $373 75; Clerk of the Board, computing and copying Tax List and extra services, 333 02; Support of the poor, 688 00; Repairing Bridges, 458 00; Jury, witness tickets, officers of Court, extra to Sheriff, 1,521 56; Arresting, guarding and feeding of prisoners, 757 51; Medical services, 140 00; Coroner's, 143 80; Attorney's, 155 00; Surveying County line, Columbus and Brunswick, 256 00; Stationary and sundries, 232 50; Principal and interest on the funded debt, 943 30; Total, $6,002 50.

Balance in the hands of the Treasurer to pay commissions to the Sheriff, and the Treasurer for collecting and disbursing, $594 26.

No report is made in respect to the school monies, consequently our correspondent can make no statement in reference to them.

From an investigation of the books, the amount of the funded debt, principal and interest, appears to be $2,500 00. To meet this the Treasurer has in hand $1,739 49, leaving a balance of $460 51 to be provided for from this year's taxes. The present Board, in order to keep good the credit and preserve the good name of old Brunswick, levied a tax which will aggregate $3,800, exclusive of Railroad tax.

The exact debt of the county our correspondent is unable to exactly determine, but he says from the appearance of the books it cannot exceed $4,000.

A First Class Hotel.

We are authorized to state that Col. J. R. Davis, long and favorably known to our citizens and the traveling public as the proprietor of the Purcell House, has purchased the National Hotel, adjoining, and will extend the corridors of the Purcell House to connect with those of the National, and the two hotels will hereafter be but one. The whole establishment will be conducted by Col. Davis under the name and style of the Purcell House. The National is being thoroughly overhauled, refitted and refurbished, preparatory to annexation, and will be fitted in every respect to maintain and increase the established reputation of the Purcell House as the first-class hotel of Wilmington. The old house has long borne this reputation, but the management has been often cramped for room for the bestowment of guests. By the present addition this drawback will be removed, and the consolidated establishment can now offer accommodations to its patrons as extensive as they have heretofore been excellent. We think the city can afford to congratulate itself on the possession of a hotel so much in keeping with its own growth and importance.

Last Night's Soiree. We are pleased to learn that the ladies of the Sunday School Social Society of Front Street M. E. Church were not allowed to get lonesome at their soiree at the Rankin Hall, last evening. Friends dropped in upon them in goodly numbers to see whether they were enjoying themselves and to test the extent and quality of the preparations which had been made for the public delectation. All these went away, finally, well satisfied upon the last named point—and upon this subject we speak knowingly, for was not our heart made glad in the mid watches by the receipt, &c.?

Death of Mrs. Huske.

Mrs. Huske, mother of Rev. J. C. Huske, of Fayetteville, died in that place on Tuesday last, the 21st inst., and her remains were interred on the following day. Mrs. Huske, who was highly esteemed for her many amiable qualities, was one of the oldest ladies of that section.

The Salem Press is printing historical articles, entitled "Original Local Sketches."

Richmond and the State of Virginia will have a large delegation at our State Fair.

Mr. Morris, one of the young men that were blown up at Durham last week, is rapidly recovering.

A difficulty occurred between Mr. Frank Harris and Mr. J. W. Pleasants, in Louisiana, in which Pleasants shot Harris dangerously.

At Greensboro after an entertainment by nine little orphans a collection was taken up for the Orphan Asylum and more than $50 was realized.

David Proctor, colored, a fugitive from justice, from Raleigh, was arrested in Baltimore, Wednesday, and is being held for the North Carolina authorities.

The Lexington Central says Thomasville, since the stockholders meeting, has been calm, childlike and mild, but now rejoiceth and exciteth muchly over the discovery of a gold mine.

A negro named Chavis, who was confined at Wake county work house for living in adultery with a white woman, tried to escape Wednesday afternoon, but was shot and killed by the guard.

Mr. Thomas B. Sharp, Master of Transportation of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, recently purchased at public sale, for $25,000 the fine estate of the late Col. C. H. Lynch, situated on the Dan river, in Rockingham county. By the recent death of Col. Lynch the wife of Mr. Sharp was left a $15,000 interest in this estate, so the purchaser, by the payment of an additional $10,000 becomes the owner of perhaps one of the finest estates in North Carolina.

While all the family of Dr. Baker, of Tarboro, was absent in Raleigh, and on last Monday night, Mr. Frank Baker awoke to find a black burglar standing over him, threatening to kill him if he spoke. A bright light was burning in the room, but the man was unknown to Mr. Baker. With a coolness and courage, seldom possessed under such trying circumstances, he grabbed his pistol and fired five shots at the almost murderer, who escaped. All the shots were traced but one, and it is conjectured that he carried that off, says the Southern.

Richmond Dispatch telegram, dated, Weldon, Sept. 23: Yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock a fight occurred here between a white burkekeeper and a negro man in his employ, resulting in the death of the negro. It seems that after some quarrelling they came to blows, when the negro caught up a large iron pot and broke it into pieces over the head of the burkekeeper, felling him to the floor. At this time several white men arrived and engaged in the fight. The negro escaped from the house and made his way to the Roanoke river, about three hundred yards distant. In attempting to cross the river he was drowned. Both parties are said to have been drunk.

COPY OF TESTIMONIAL.—HARRISON, Mo., May 25, 1874.—Messrs. J. & W. Tolley, 30 Maiden Lane, New York.—Gent.: The 13th Gen which you built for me, No. 2038, has arrived safely to hand. Allow me to thank you for the fidelity with which you carried out my instructions. The general outline, beauty of proportion and excellent finish, are all that could be desired, and more than meets my expectations. I am more than ever impressed with the idea that it is as necessary for a man to have a gun built to measurement as to have a boot so built to ensure a good fit. The pattern 175 and penetration 40 are very superior. The pattern is as close as I desire, and the penetration I think is seldom attained, being far ahead of any public record which I have seen.

Respectfully Yours, G. W. DOMAN.
