But the Presidential campaign is again approaching, and the President seeks a third term. llis atterances, briefly summarized this morning in the general telegraphic dispatches, if not very bold and straight-out, are nevertheless by no meaus Delphic. He is going to run as the know-nothing candidate by exciting religious prejudices. He would be wiser to wait and see what Hayes' fate is going to be in Ohio where the Republicans have not diluted their words on this religious issue.

This address of the President to the Army of the Tennessee is a notable exception to his rule-it is a "lengthy speech," though only a mere outline is furnished by telegraph. Perhaps he will say after a little while that he was a fool to have made it.

The ordinance reported by the Committee on the Executive Department, that the Governor shall nominate, and by and with the advice and consent of a majority of the Senators elect, appoint all officers whose offices are established by this Convention and whose appointment is not otherwise provided for by law, was taken

The ordinance passed its second reading.

The ordinance, reported by the same committee, in relation to the Executive Department was taken up. (This ordinance is reported as a substitute for resolutions 47, 50 and 119, and ordinances 54 and 88.) The substitute was adopted.

The following is the ordinance: SEC. 1. Be it ordained by the people of North Carolina, in Convention assembled, That section one (1,) ar ticle three (3) of the Constitution be so amended as to read thus: "The executive department shall consist of a Governor (in whom shall be invested the supreme executive power of the State), a Secretary of State, an Auditor, a Treasurer, a Superintendent of public instruction, and an Attorney General, who shall be elected for a term of two (2) years by the qualified electors of the State, at the same time and places, and in the same manner as members of the General Assembly are elected. Their term of office shall commence on the second Monday of January next after their cessors are elected and qualified. Sec. 2. That section (2) of said article be amended so that it shall read thus: "No person shall be eligible as Governor, unless he shall have at- at 10 A. M. tained the age of thirty (30) years, shall have been a citizen of the United States five (5) years, and shall have been a resident of this State two years next preceding the election nor shall the person elected to this office be eligible to the same more than four years in succession, unless the office shall have been cast upon election and continue until their suc-

Whenever, during the recess of the General Assembly, it shall become necessary for a President of a Senate to administer the government, the Secretary of State shall convene the Senate, that they may elect such President." Sec. 5. That article two (2) of the Constitution be so amended that section twenty-one (21) shall read as follows: "The Senate shall elect its presiding officer from among its own members, who shall in all cases be entitled to a vote."

Sec. 6. That section twenty-two (22) of said article (2) be so amended as to read as follows: "The Senate shall choose its own officers."

Sec. 7. That section seven (7) of article nine (9) of the Constitution be amended so as to read as follows: The Governor, Superintendent of Public Instruction and Attorney General shall constitute the State Board of Education."

The minority of the committee submitted a report protesting against the abolishment of the office of lieutenant governor and the change of term of office from four to two years.

On motion of Mr. Buxton the ordinance was considered by sections. Mr. Tourgee offered an amendment to re-instate the office of lieutenant governor.

Mr. Reid opposed the amendment. He thought the office was a useless one and it was a matter of justice that the Senate should be allowed to select its own presiding officer. Messrs. Badger, Bowman, Buxton and King, of Lenoir, favored the amendment. The amendment was adopted by a vote of yeas 57, nays 56. Mr. Reid moved to strike out the words "second Monday" and insert "first Monday." Carried.

Mr. Cooper moved to reconsider the vote by which Mr. Tourgee's amendment was adopted. The yeas and nave were called and the motion to reconsider was adopted-yeas 58,

Mr. Badger favored the proposition. He was really in favor of lopping off the Senate altogether. to override the veto. After some debate Mr. Vaughn took the floor. He had introduced the original ordinance to abolish the Senate. He utterly failed to see what check the Senate was on hasty legislation. He thought it ought to be abolished a matter of economy. If the ordinance to abolish the Senate utterly failed to pass, he was in favor of the one to reduce to number of Senatars.

Mr. Turner was opposed to the whole matter.

School Openings.

And the children wake up this morning to the fact that it is October, and look out at it with sad eyes. For when they have been overhauling the contents of the paper of late -as all good children should-they have stumbled upon numerous announcements of school openings for October, until they have come to regard it as the month of doom. But all the bright children, we think, ought to be glad that it is here, and anxious for school to begin; because when one is busy it makes them so much brighter, and happier-for they haven't time to get the mopes or the sulks or worry the old folks much, as they sometimes do in vacation time-and when they are happy, somehow it makes the old folks happier, too, so that they feel like loving the children busy ever so much better than they did the child-

And the teachers, we suppose, are all in a bustle of excitement, brushing up their establishments, and planning their schedules of exercises, and finishing their projected improvements, so that all the business of the term may marshal into line and move off in orderly fashion from the start. We hope they may all find their best anticipations realized at the commencement, and be set of youngsters of whose latest attainments we shall have every reason to feel proud.

Mayor's Court. The following cases were disposed of by this tribunal yesterday morning: James Daggett, charged with disorderly conduct, was required to pay a fine of $20 and costs or work for thirty days on the streets. Thomas Burnham, charged with disorderly conduct, was found guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $30 and costs or work for thirty days on the streets.

18 The same, charged with drunkennes was found not guilty. Case dismissed.

A Remarkable Boy.

Our Johnnie Lawhorn is a smart, shrewd. sharp little boy, with a slightly sallow face and a very glib tongue. A great politician in embryo is Johnnie, for he is very wirey, very smooth-tongued and very deep for one of his age. Johnnie can, on occasion, put up a very pathetic appeal one that is bound to touch the heart of a man and give his hand an involuntary impetus in the direction of his pocket. This is Johnnie's particular fort, if the truth must be toldhis distinguishing characteristic, as it were, and he never tires in presenting examples of his skill in "coming it over" the sympathetic cords in man's nature. Johnnie's re markable career has in fact been a very suc cessfully one, as many in the community will be willing to acknowledge if called upon to do so. He gets a little meal from this one, a little meat from that one, and a little something else from the other one. In fact, he will appear to be satisfied with a five cent nickel or a clay pipe if he can't do any better. Johnnie's mother has been sick for a good long time and he has been very indefatigable in his efforts in her behalf, and many little necessaries and comforts has Johnnie been able to secure for her from a sympathetic public. But a few days ago Johnnie seems suddenly to have tired of running this schedule and resolved upon another. He went to the house of a very benevolent gentleman on Market street and informed him, with tears in his eyes, that his mother was dead, and he had no money wherewith to secure for her the last sad rite of burial. Our friend, without the slightest hesitation, ran his hand into his pocket and took out a dollar which he placed in the palm of little Johnnie. A brother of the gentleman, coming in at the moment (very opportunely, by-the-by, for Johnnie), and overhearing the sad story, also gave him a dollar. Johnnie took his departure, and shortly afterwards another Ir ther of the gentleman named came in, when, in course of conversation, the fact of the $2 00 being given to Johnnie Lawhorn to assist in burying his mother was casually mentioned, upon which the latter gentleman laughingly said: "You need not have given your money for that purpose, as Mr. two or three days ago!" Afterwards the incident was talked about on the streets and finally came to the ears of a party who was interested in finding out the truth about the matter, who sent a messenger to Mrs. Lawhorn's, a short distance from town, for that purpose. The messenger returned with the report that Mrs. L. was the "liveliest looking corpse" he had ever seen, she having obligingly supplied him with a drink of water from her well. It is now very gen-

horn is peculiar."

Caught at Last. On the 1st of September a white man by the name of Moore, hailing from the country, was robbed somewhere in the vicinity of "Paddy's Hollow" of a sum of money which he carried in his vest pocket, and a colored man named Alex. McIver, a frequenter of that neighborhood, was charged with being the purloiner of the same. A warrant was issued for his arrest and an officer was sent to look for him, but the search was in vain-the "bird had flown." He has been heard from several times since, passing up and down on the C. C. Railway, but when he arrived here he generally kent "shady." Wednesday night, however, Special Deputy C. S. Strode ascertained that McIver was here, and early yesterday morning he (Strode) posted himself in a suitable locality, at a point between the old Wilmington & Weldon and Carolina Central Railway depots, and watched for his man. He had not long to wait before McIver. was seen to issue from a certain house, and in another minute or two he found himself hard and fast" in the "clutches of the

The case will come up before S. VanAmringe, J. P., this morning, at 10 o'clock.

Base Ball Matters. 2 Some of the boys complain that the Base Ball Grounds are monopolized day after day by large colored boys who go early in the morning and get possession and often remain all day and are on hand again the next day. These boys play only scrub games-no regular matches-and will not yield the grounds to those who wish to play the regular game unless bought off. We are inclined to think that Col. Smith, the owner of the grounds, desires the players of match games to have the use of the grounds rather than these whose play is without any special object and of interest only to themselves. Probably it certain days were named when the white boys, and others when the colored boys should be entitled to the exclusive use of the grounds both races would be satisfied to respect the will of the proprietor, and if not, the police could be called upon to enforce the rights of either party who might be imposed upon. able to turn over to us again at the close a Or it might be otherwise arranged by providing that where the party in possession are not playing a match game they shall immediately yield to any other party who may have two full nines and claim the ground to play a match. We make these by the overgrown players of scrub.

> Achident, Jan. A. Master Clarence Hall, a son of Mr. George Haft, of this city, met with quite a severe accident Wednesday night. He was passing near the corner of Fourth and Ann streets, when he accidentally struck his foot against and fell over a stump, the fall resulting in the dislocation of his left wrist.

Improvements. For a few days past and a few days to come there has been and will be much activity in those branches of business connected with housefurnishing, fitting, improvement and extension. The demands of prospective tenants have to be listened to and in some measure complied with by owners before they will "take." There fore it is that the sound of the saw and hammer are everywhere rife, that there is a smell of lime and fresh plaster and new paint hanging about buildings that had been long in getting their late dilapidated look, that the paper hangers and the masons, the hardware men and the gas-fitters are in such a worry and flutter and everywhere in such earnest request. The city will in a few days have gained a fresh and strong look in many places that up to this time have exhibited an appearance of general shakiness and decay, and then the artisans will receive less frequent calls, business will settle into its usual quiet levels, the "bills for damages" will be discharged by owners, and the lives of "the moved" again flow evenly on as of old. A Public Dinner. We are indebted, through S. N. Durham, Esq., Mayor of the town of Shelby, for an invitation to participate in a dinner, which, by virtue of a resolution of the Board of Aldermen of that place, has been tendered the officials of the Carolina Central Railway Company, and the Mayor and Board of Aldermen and the members of the press of the city of Wilmington, to take place on the 7th inst. The right hand of good fellowship and fraternal feeling is extended to our friends at the other end of the line, with the hope that some of the representatives of the 'press gang," as well as other celebrities alluded to, may be able to be present and experience the hospitality and attentions of the good people of Shelby, and especially of those composing its "City Fathers."
