

OUTLINES. French government decides it can't directly intervene in Turkish affairs. There is some hope of an arrangement of the difficulties in Mississippi before election. Berger, the celebrated billiardist, is dead. Straus, Lehman & Co., New York goods merchants, have failed. New York markets: Spirits turpentine, 42; rosin, $1 70; gold, 164; cotton, 14 1/4. Extensive Cotton Exchange reports are printed elsewhere.

STATE FAIR. SECOND DAY.

(Condensed from the Raleigh News of Thursday.) The day opened yesterday most auspiciously for the second day of the State Fair, the air being just sufficiently cool to make out-door exercise delightful. The crowd in attendance was large for the second day, there being some 4,000 persons on the grounds, and we heard only compliments on every hand to the exhibition in the different departments and to the evident good management which caused everything to work so harmoniously.

On the western side of the hall may be found a beautiful silk quilt by Mrs. Dr. G. G. Thomas, of Wilmington. To the left of this are numerous specimens of home made woolen and cotton goods, carpeting, blankets, &c. A most elaborate and beautiful quilt of transfer work, in flowers and buds from Virginia. A. E. Bynum, of Pitt county, sends a beautiful alphabet quilt, log-cabin quilt and others of great merit. From above are suspended handsome woolen counterpanes.

Messrs. A. Creech and W. H. & R. S. Tucker, dry goods merchants, exhibited an immense variety. Next comes Messrs. Edwards & Broughton, specimens of printing in gold and colors. Mr. Nat. Brown is next with fine musical instruments. The crayon portraits by Eugene L. Harris, of Sassafras Fork, N. C., attracted much attention. Among these we recognized the fine faces of Bishop Atkinson, Gov. Bragg, Col. T. M. High, Dr. G. W. Blackhall and the lamented Gov. Graham.

Miss Pattie Lawrence exhibited a group of ten superb crayon drawings. Miss Lawrence was a pupil of the Peace Institute. Two oil paintings by Miss Fanny Belle Arrington are most beautifully executed. Below these Miss Alice Kern has a little gem in a bouquet of roses of the valley, pansies and roses in crayon. There are also very charming prints, and flowers and notions in water colors, from pupils of Peace Institute.

Mr. J. W. Watson, photographic artist, exhibits among many a large frame with separate good sized pictures of the members of the Constitutional Convention of 1875. On the eastern side of the hall is a brilliant display of oil paintings and crayon drawings from the Raleigh Female Seminary. We have seen many portraits in the best galleries of the country, but have rarely seen the equal in the best artistic merits, of the pastel portrait of Judge Joyner, of Petersburg, Va., by D. H. Anderson, of Norfolk, Va.

Wax-work, worsted work, feather work, head work, skeleton leaves, Berlin wool work, in bewildering array come next, and fine specimens of hair work. Miss Bessie Batchelor sends a fine lion's head in crayon. Silk embroidery comes next. Here, among many of exquisite neatness, is some work of exquisite neatness from Miss Fannie Everett, Miss Nixon and others. Thread embroidery, braiding and fine sewing work comes next in endless variety. Come of the finest suits we have ever seen are on hand. Suits of clothes of country made cloth are also here, much to the credit of our fair countrymen.

A striking object in the hall is the contribution box for the Orphan Asylum. A beautifully dressed doll, and a beautiful open cornucopia, and a number of other articles, were under an arch, "Freed My Lambs," inscribed upon the banner above. This arch is to be sold to the bidder who leaves his name with the ladies for the largest amount of money for the Orphan Asylum. Mrs. Hardie and Mrs. Andrews both contributed liberally of rich and beautiful millinery. We ought not to omit mention of the beautiful case of work and chain worked by a little girl of Salem, of only nine years of age, a daughter of E. A. Vogler, Esq., an officer of the Fair.

stretch, and distanced him three lengths. Third race, trotting, mile heats, best two in three. Purse, $75. Three entries: Jennie Cameron, Henry Clay and Bob Lee. Race won by Bob Lee. Time, 3:03 and 3:07. It is due Henry Clay to say that on the first half mile he lost a shoe, which caused him to break. Fourth race, running, half mile dash. Purse, $50. Four entries: Joe Nannie, Wiregrass, Flora and Charlie Moore. Race won by Flora.

THE CITY.

Local Notes. No cases before the Magistrates' Courts yesterday. The Board of Aldermen meet this evening in regular semi-monthly session. The storm signal was consigned to the breeze at the Signal Station yesterday afternoon. Old citizens were yesterday prophesying frost for last night in case of clear weather. We learn that epizooty is prevailing very generally among the horses of this city just now.

President C. H. Roberts, of the C. C. Railroad, is numbered among our representatives at the State Fair. Only one day left to pay taxes. Unless settled by 9 o'clock to-night, the cost of advertising your property for sale will be paid. Two of our city sportsmen succeeded in bringing down three fine deer, two of them bucks, in Pender county, on Wednesday last.

The good times coming: Christmas, in ten weeks and a day; Cape Fear Fair, three weeks and three; Howes' circus, just a week, the 23d. The revellers of both races "thanked their stars" there were no grand balls last night, and mentally blessed "the man that invented sleep." Mr. F. H. Darby, who has been absent for the past two months in New York, Florida and other places, arrived home yesterday morning.

Not much rain fell in this city yesterday, but it was a gloomy, disagreeable day nevertheless, while the chilly atmosphere was also uncomfortable. We learn that the young gentlemen of Beta Chapter, Lee Association, at a meeting held last evening, determined to disband and appointed a committee to give public notice of the fact. The colored military of the city gave a ball Wednesday night in honor of their Charleston guests. The music and dancing showed no signs of breaking up when we passed at a late hour.

At the short session of the Board of Aldermen Wednesday evening certain matters in reference to the market stalls were referred to the Mayor with power to act. This was all the actual business transacted. The "Comets" lost their train yesterday morning. It was a sad loss, as every one must admit who has ever seen a comet without a train. We are happy to know that the bereavement (not the train) was brief, for they got another in the evening. The pictures of Thos. W. Nichols, the Montreal, Canada, bank robber, which have adorned the walls of the Marshal's office for several weeks past, mention of which was made in this paper, were taken down yesterday, the absconder having been arrested at St. Augustine, Florida.

Blessed is that man, and let him be blessed, say we, who kicks a brick or a fruit skin off the walk lest his neighbor, coming after, should bruise his corns or break his neck by reason thereof. Verily, that man shall not bruise his own corns or break his own neck on that brick or skin when he thoughtfully passeth by again. We regret to announce that between the gusts of wind and the splashes of rain on Wednesday night a voice was heard in the neighborhood of a window, saying, as softly as though in a dream, "Come on, Mag." Yesterday morning the reportorial wood pile exhibited an attenuated appearance that was distressing to behold. A noted sportsman of this city was accosted on the streets yesterday, in the midst of the rain and slush, with the remark, "Fine day for fox-hunting, isn't it?" "Yes," replied Nimrod, "but not for the race." "What race?" eagerly inquired his friend. "The human race," responded the sportsman, and he walked off, leaving his friend standing on the pavement gazing blankly at his retreating form. It was an old "sell," but a good one. Arrested. We learn from the Duplin Record that Ed. Bobbit, the negro who fired upon Mr. Thornton and a Constable's posse at Warsaw, Duplin county, on Friday last, was arrested at Goldsboro on Sunday, and sent back to Duplin.

The Great Storm in Texas. This is not a very attractive, and seemingly not a very appropriate, heading for a local item, but the following extract from a private letter written by a young lady, formerly a resident of this city, to her relatives here, so graphically describing the effects of the fearful storm and flood in Indiana, Texas, where she is now residing, will, we know, be perused with a great deal of interest by the readers of the STAR: INDIANOLA, TEXAS, Oct. 3, 1875. I suppose you have heard of the awful storm we have had, long before this, and I know you are anxious to hear from us. I could not begin to describe it to you. It was terrible, and oh! so many lives were lost, over two hundred right here at Indiana, but, thank God! all our family were saved, though my brother-in-law came very near being lost. After moving us to a safe place on Thursday morning, he went to help others save their lives, and we did not hear of or see him again until Saturday. Poor sister! how she did suffer in that time, for we had given up all hopes of seeing him again, but he got back Saturday morning all safe, though badly bruised. He floated about six miles from town on Saturday night on a raft, and several times came very near being knocked off by the drift. His house was entirely washed away, and in its place is a deep gully. Everything in the house was swept away, only a small portion of our cooking utensils were saved. I found my trunk six miles from here, across the lake. It had been opened, and only a few of my clothes saved. Sister has not found a single piece of her silver or jewelry. There was so much robbery. I think the town is the most complete wreck there ever was. There is not a house in the place that escaped without some injury, and as many as half were entirely washed away, and deep gullies washed all through the town. In one of the crossings there is a hole twenty feet deep, and the morning after the storm three negro men were drowned in it. There were whole families washed away. In one house there were ten persons and only one saved, and it is heart-rending to hear him speak of his family. In another large family there was only one young girl about my age saved. I do not see how in the world so many were saved, for the wind was blowing fearfully, and the water was so high that it was impossible to get out. Houses were floating about like boats, and it was almost impossible to keep your footing. The house that brotler took us to became unsafe to stay in, and dark, and we had to remove to the next house. There were twenty-five or thirty persons in it all night Thursday, and it shook like a leaf all the time. None of us expected to see daylight, but thank God we were all saved. But oh! what a desolate wreck we opened our eyes upon the next morning! It is amusing to hear little Practor give a description of the storm. It is all in four words, yet it is probably as good a description as any one could give: "It's all broken up."

An Old Coin. We were shown yesterday, by Mr. Bryce, who is engaged in excavating at Sunset Hill, a piece of silver coin about the size of what used to be known here in ante bellum times as a dime, which was dug up at that classic spot. It is dated 1682, is as thin as a wafer, and is pronounced by a Hollander to whom we submitted it and who examined the coat of arms on its face, to be a coin of the province of Zealand, in the Netherlands. About thirty years ago many Dutch vessels were in the habit of visiting this port, and their favorite place of landing, as we learn from an old citizen, was at the wharves at the foot of Sunset Hill, while on the hill itself stood a building which was used as a sailor boarding house. Here the Dutch seamen mostly did congregate, and this may probably account for the presence of the coin at that place, where it might have been accidentally dropped by some sturdy Dutch far who had previously preserved it as a "pocket-piece."

Indicted for Libel. Some of the Board of Commissioners of Robeson county have indicted W. P. Canaday, Esq., editor and proprietor of the Wilmington Post, and J. J. Cassidy, late associate editor of the same, in the Superior Court for that county, for libel. The indictment, we suppose, of course, is founded on the comments of that paper upon the course the majority of said Board saw proper to pursue in granting certificates to the Democratic candidates for seats in the late Constitutional Convention. The copies was received by Sheriff Manning yesterday, and served on the parties, when bonds were given in the sum of $500 each for their appearance at the next term of the Superior Court at Lumberton.

Mayor's Court. The following cases were disposed of by this tribunal yesterday morning: William Phinney, Jr., colored, charged with drunkenness and disorderly conduct on the streets, was found guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $5 and the costs. Harriet Royal, colored, charged with striking Patsy Swindle as she was leaving the court room Wednesday morning, and who was detected in the act by officer McMillan and arrested on the spot, was found guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $40 and the costs. Chamber of Commerce. The regular annual meeting of this body was held yesterday, when the following gentlemen were elected officers for the ensuing year: President—W. L. DeRoset. 1st Vice President—James Sprunt. 2d Vice President—E. Pischau. Secretary and Treasurer—John L. Cantwell. Executive Committee—R. E. Calder, I. B. Grainger, D. McKee, Jas. H. Chadbourne, Geo. Harris.

Good Samaritans. At a meeting of Mount Erey Lodge No. 2, I. O. of G. S., colored, the following officers were elected for the ensuing quarter: Rob't Jackson, P. W. C.; W. H. Banks, W. C.; G. Bell, W. S.; H. Brewington, R. S.; P. Walker, J. S.; F. Wiley, W.; Daniel Webster, W. T.; C. Scajles, Conductor; Henry Williams, I. S.; J. Forbes, O. S.
