THE MOUNTAINS AND THE SEA- liams, Esq., of Asheville, and Col. Atkin-SHORE.

A Ranquet to the Commissioners of the Western North Carolina Rallroad .. ddresses, Toasts, &c.

Yesterday a number of our business men tendered a complimentary collation or banquet to Col. W. S. Pearson, Maj. W. W. Rollins and W. P. Canaday, Esq., Commissioners of the Western North Carolina Railroad, together with other prominent citizens of the West at present sojourning in our city, which took place at the Purcell House at 121 o'clock. Among those present were the Commissioners named. Messrs. H. C. Hunt and G. W. Williams, of Asheville, Dr. C. H. Roberts, President, Mr. F. W. Clark, General Freight Agent, and Col. S. L. Fremont, General Superintendent of the Carolina Central Railway, Mr. R. E. Calder, Mr. Wm. Calder, Capt. C. D. Myers, Hon. A. M. Waddell, Col. E. D. Brink, Col. J. Wilder Atkinson, Mr. Alex. Sprunt, Mr. F. W. Kerchner, Mr. S. W. Vick, Mr. W. B. Binford, Geo. R. French, Jr., Mr. Thomas Evans, Maj. J. A. Engelhard, Capt. I. B. Grainger and others, representing the various business interests of our city. Mr. William Calder, in behalf of our citizens, after the gentlemen had been seated, delivered the follow address of welcome, sympathy and congratulation:

Major Rollins and Gentlemen from Western

North Carolina: It gives us pleasure, as business men and citizens of Wilmington, to greet you in our midst and extend a cordial welcome to you, for yourselves and as representatives of that portion of our State with which we have long desired closer and more intimate relations, both business and social. Poets have had much to say about "the mountains kassing the sea," and there are doubtless those among us more competent than myself to speak in eloquent terms of the greetings sent from 'shores of ocean to the peaks of Otter," but it remains with us, practical business men, to crystalise into facts these dreamings of poets and orators and unite in a practical way, and by the indissolluble bonds of a common interest the two sections of our State. We feel that the citizens of Eastern and Western North Carolina have never known each other, and think that it should be no longer. It has long been a cherished dream of Wilmington and her people to push her railroads across your mountains. By untiring efforts, by the expenditure of much money, and by the aid, pecuniary and otherwise, of gentlemen from other sections, who have lent their time, their money and their talents to this work, we have completed our Carolina Central Railway to its present terminus, and by connection with the Western North Carolina Railroad have reached the foot of the mountains. To you, gentlemen, Commissioners of that railroad, we say that the people of the East are as determined as those of the West that that road shall be completed but we want it completed in the interests of North Carolina and North Carolina's port. We are determined that you shall find in this metropolis market for your products as good as any the Atlantic seaboard can offer you, and we are satisfied that we can lay at your doors, as cheaply as can any others, the commodities of any market to which the boundless waters of the ocean give us access. In this spirit, and learning that there are about three miles of your railroad which you and your people are especially anxious to complete, as they will take you over and behind the Dark Hollow Pull, the worst of the wagon road from Old Fort to Asheville-I allude to that portion of the road from Old Fort to Malone's Store, which we learn is all graded and ready for the iron-and learning also that your commission are embarrassed for means to purchase the iron necessary, owing to the restrictions placed ppon you by Legislature enactment, in this spirit, I say, and with an earnest desire to convince the people of your section of our hearty goodwill and co-operation in their cherished scheme. The merchants, bankers and business men of Wilmington have come together, and by united effort have raised sufficient money to purchase iron for three miles of railway immediately, and have deputed me, through their Committee, to tender you the loan of this iron until such time as your replenished coffers enables you to pay for it, or until the meeting of the Legislature, when such legislation can be had which will put it in your power to repay us, and push your road over and beyond the Blue Ridge. We trust you will accept this offer as frankly as it is made, and we assure you that we have been spurred up to the endeavors we have made not only because of the advantages of trade we expect to derive from your section, not only because we desire to reach a portion of our country famed the world over for its beauty and grandeur, but because that country is North Carolina, and we are

Upon the conclusion of Mr. Calder's address, which was received in befitting terms, Maj. W. W. Rollins, in behalf of the Commissioners and western citizens, responded in a brief but appropriate manner, thanking our business community for their proffered aid and expressing on the part of the West a reciprocal feeling of interest, friendship and good will for North Carolina's principal seaport,

Col. W. S. Pearson also responded in few remarks and in a similar strain. Ample justice was now done to the bountiful collation spread by Col. Davis, of the Purcell, when the following volunteer toasts were drank. The "East and West" was first proposed and the sentiment was duly honored.

Then came in regular order the following Western North Carolina. Responded to by The "City by the Sea." Responded to by Hon. A. M. Waddell. Col. W. S. Pearson. The Foreign Commerce of Wilmington. Re sponded to by Mr. Alex. Sprunt. The Grocery Merchants of Wilmington. Responded to by Mr. F. W. Kerchner.

The Turnpike Road. Responded to by Capr. C. D. Myers. The Carolina Central Railway. Responded to by the President, Dr. C. H. Roberts.

The Financial Interests of North Carolina Responded to by Capt. I. B. Grainger.

The Press. Responded to by Major J. A. The Practical Railroad man of the State, Col. Fremont. Responded to by Col. S. L. Our Interests in the West. Responded to by Col. W. S. Pearson.

The Freight Interests of North Carolina Railroads. Responded to by Mr. F. W. Clark, General Freight Agent C. C. R. R. Remarks were here made by G. W. Wilson, of this city, touching the community of interest between the East and West, &c.

Our Guests. Responded to by Major W.

The intervals between the toasts were passed in social converse, time passed pleasantly, and when the moment for separation had come it was felt that another link had been welded in the chain which now unites the East and West in inseparable bonds of friendship and commercial sympathy, and another impetus had been given to the tidal wave_of presperity and commercial importance which is soon destined to lift Wilmington to her proper position as the peer of her Southern sisters of the Atlantic coast.

Synod of Atlantic. The Synod of Atlantic met at the color ed Presbyterian Church, November 11, at 7:30 o'clock, and was opened with a sermon on "Prayer from on high"-Luke 24, 4 9-by the retiring Moderator, Rev. J. H. Shedd. After calling the roll Rey. N. H. Downing was elected Moderator and W. A. Patton temporary Clerk. After reading the minutes of last meeting, Synod ading at 9 o'clock. Friday morning Synod met and spent an bour in devotional exercises. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The Synod telegraphed their greetings and sympathies to Mr. Moody and his work, and requested an interest in their journed wifh prayer, to meet Friday morn-

Upon 'earing the reports, the condition of this courch generally was found to be in a prosperous state. Rev. Dr. S. Mattoon, President of Biddle Institute, preached an impressive sermon in the evening, on Family Training.

After an interesting discussion on the position of the colored people ten years ago, and their present condition; and after hearg and adopting a report on Education and Biddle Institute, together with reports on Presbyterial Records, Synod adjourned to meet Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

Saturday morning, November 13-9 A. M.—Synod met according to adjournment, and spent an hour in devotional exercises. After reading and correcting the minutes of yesterday, on motion, Charlotte was chosen as the place of next meeting. The Committee on Church Erection reported, beseeching the General Assembly's Standing Committee on "the benevolent work of the church" to ask the Board of Church Erection to slacken the terms upon which they grant aid for building churches. The report was adopted.

Hall's Combination.

This company has met with the highest endorsement by the Southern press. Here is what the Charlotte Observer, a very independent paper, said of its rendition of the "Two Orphans," in that city on Wednes-

"We regret that the hour at which this is written is so late, and our space is so limited, as to prevent us from saying all that we would like to say concerning the "Two Orphaus" and the manner in which it was produced last night. Charlotte has never seen such a dramatic success; Charlotte never saw such a company or such a play. The drama is intensely French; it is deeply emotional and abounds in many striking situations. As to to the manner in which the different characters took their parts, there is no criticism to be made, and there is hardly one who can be singled out as superior to the others. To say that the audience was delighted, does not begin to convey the idea; it was enthusiastic beyond any that ever assembled in our Opera House, and the applause which burst spontaneously forth, time after time, was deafening in its

"RETURN OF THE RALEIGH LIGHT IN-FANTRY.—This company returned from Wilmington last night, where they bore off the honors on Thursday of being the best drilled company. They expressed them-selves highly pleased with the treatment they received at the hands of the citizens and the military of Wilmington. We have the notes in hand of the various incidents, &c., connected with their trip which we shall write up at length to-morrow.

On the arrival of the Company in this city last night they were met by a large number of friends and escorted to the Capitol, bonfires having been lighted at the intersection of every street on the route. On arriving at the Capitol Mr. Fab. H. The N. C. G's at Home.

We take from the Virginian of yesterday an account of the arrival home of the Norfolk City Guards. The Virginian says:

"On the arrival of the train at Portsmouth the Guards were handsomely surprised by the appearance of the Norfolk Light Artillery Blues, drawn up in ranks to escort them to the Armory at Norfolk. On arriving there resolutions of thanks to the citizens and military of Wilmington for their great kindness, and to Presidents Robnson and Bridgers of the Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad, and Wilmington and Weldon Railroad, respectively, were adopted. Cheers were given for Wilmington and its military, citizens and ladies, the Norfolk Blues, for Capt. White. Before closing our letter we cannot forbear to mention how lasting are the obligations of the command to Capt. Manning, proprietor of the Manning House, where th He was untiring in his efforts to please and give satisfaction, and he won by his deportment the best wishes of every member of the Guards."
