- Further particulars of the waterspout at Harker's Island, an account of which appeared in THE MORNING STAR yesterday, are given in the Newbern Journal of Commerce. The volume of water swept away fences, demolished houses, and killed outright two children. Six persons were killed and wounded, a young man, it is thought, mortally. The house in which they were at the time contained ten persons. The building was entirely destroyed. It is miraculous that the loss of life was so sma'l, when the force of the waterspout and the destruction of property is considered.

The Speakership.

[Baltimore Sun Washington Special.] The canvassing of the chances of the various candidates for the speakership has been as lively to-day as usual, but develops no new features in the contest. As yet there are but few members in the city. Every aspirant for the place thinks his chances are the best. The sentiments of each are consequently ludicrously inconsistant when compared. It is now very clear that the contest has narrowed down to Randall and Kerr. The South will command the balance of power. As that section has very generally decided to give up the speakership and claim the clerkship, their vote will decide. The present indications favor Dubose for clerk, who, it is said, will receive the entire Southern Democratic vote, about ninety-six. This same vote will determine whether Randall or Kerr shall wield the gavel in the new Con-

"Humpty Dumpty" Not lasane. A report was published in the New York Times yesterday morning concerning the physical and mental condition of Mr. George L. Fox, of "Humpty Dumpty" renown, which has occasioned considerable excitement among the friends of that gentleman. According to the report in question Mr. Fox is losing his mind, and his condition is so precarious that his career is about to come to a melancholy end. When Messrs. Jarrett and Palmer, of Booth's Theatre, were asked yesterday by a reporter of the New York Evening Post in regard to the truth of the report, they denied almost every allegation. Mr. Fox has been, they say, in poor health for several months, and at times has been under the charge of a physician, but thus far there have been no symptoms of softening of the brain or any other trouble which would incapacitate him from acting, nor is any such trouble expected. Since his engagement at Booth's Theatre he has performed nightly and at the regular matinees, and the managers say if he has exhibited any sign of mental derangement, it is unknown to them, and it has not been noticed on the stage. Mr. Fox has been advised by his friends to take a vacation and

Our Public Schools.

At the invitation of Mr. A. II. Morris, Chairman of the Township School Commit tee, Mayor Canaday, Mr. A. R. Black, one of the County Examiners, Mr. L. Meginney, late of the Wilmington Institute, and others, accompanied him on a visit to the public schools of the city, yesterday.

The visitors were, we understand, very much impressed with the astonishing good order which prevailed in the schools, and from the character of the recitations so far as heard they are convinced of the thorough competency of the various teachers for the important duties they have assumed. All the visitors were fully impressed with the vast importance of these schools, in educating and preparing for the active duties of life those of the rising generation in our midst who are unable to attend private schools, and would hail with gratification an awakening interest on the part of our citizens generally in a matter of such vital importance to those who are growing up among us, and upon whose proper cultivation and training so much in their future life must necessarily depend. Mr. Morris deserves much credit for the active interest he has displayed, as Chairman of the Committee, in bringing these in the secret work of the Order. Addresses peared to be in most excellent spirits. The to Miss Ellison, the accomplished Principal, and her aids, should also be ascribed much praise for the evident system, order and discipline which is maintained in all the departments. There are 135 pupils now attending the Union" school in the southern section of the city, and 119 attending the "Heminway" school, in the northern part of the city. Of the former, 80 are between the ages of 6 and 10 years. The Chairman, with others interested, will pay occasional visits to the schools, which, under the present management, and with native teachers, we hope, and have reason to believe, will continue to thrive and bring forth fruit which will tell to the advantage of the present generation of youth in our midst.

Annual Meeting-Addresses on the Occasion-Beport of the President,

The regular annual meeting of this So ciety was held yesterday morning in the Lecture Room of the First Presbyterian

After prayer by Rev. J. B. Taylor, of the First Baptist Church, Rev. T. M. Ambler, of St. Paul's (Episcopal) Church, addressed the meeting at some length, referring particularly to the objects of the Society and what had been accomplished for the poor and needy in our midst through its instrumentality.

Mrs. C. G. Kennedy, President of the So ciety, submitted her report for the past year, which was read by Rev. Jos. R. Wilson, D.

D., and is as follows: . LADIES: In reporting to you at this time on the concerns of our Society, I feel more at a loss than on other similar occasions. It is seldom that we have had a totally exhausted treasury; more seldom that our annual appeal for aid has met with so little response. Never before have we been appealed to for charity by so many who, in other days, were able by industry and care to provide comfortably for themselves and their families. During the year just past, however, we have had occasion to record many liberal contributions. We cannot omit to thank the generous citizens who have enabled us, by their gifts, to afford relief to the numbers who come to us in distress; nor can we fail to bless the Ruler of men, who has inclined so many hearts thus to aid us in our work and labor of love .-But, yet, to be like Him who daily sends his sun to shine upon us, and his rain to fructify our lands, it behooves us not to cease our efforts for the relief of suffering humanity; and we are constrained still to stretch forth our hands that they may be filled with such bounties as are required for the sustenance of the sick and destitute. We cannot forbear to complain of the small numbers who, as regular members, contribute to this end. The whole amount received from the last annual subscription was but $93 75. Donations from various sources, during the year, amounted to $427 00, making a total of $520 75. Besides this, we had gifts in kind: 10 loads of wood, two or three barrels of flour, one barrel molasses, a small quantity of rice, and several pounds each of coffee, tea and sugar. These supplies have been exhausted for some weeks, and now we have been contracting debts for meal, for six or eigh weeks past, while the drug bills stand unpaid for three months. Our appeal made last week through the press brought one generous response in kind, from a merchant on the wharf, and our present supplies consist of molasses, flour and a half-barrel rice. The outstanding bills amount to something like $90, while we have in the bank only $10 to meet them. What are we to do? Shall the needy cry to us for bread, and none be given? Can we turn away our ears from the voice of distress? The list of applicants we cannot enumerate. We know that the supply of work is insufficient for the hands that crave it. Many would gladly work, but cannot find employment. We try to restrict our aid to the most needy and the most deserving, but the task of discrimination is a difficult one. Often we give sparingly, lest some should presume on obtaining help; but we cannot, be unkind while our Father in Heaven is so kind to us. We can only trust Him for the means of showing kindness, but at the same time, we must exert ourselves. Let each member of the Society solicit, throughout her shpere, the names and subscriptions of all the ladies whom she may meet; this should bring four or five hundred names upon our books. This is such work as ladies ought to do; and, surely, there are few ladies who could not save from dress or ornament so much as $1 a year to feed and warm the suffering. Wood, flannel, blankets, and other necessaries, are required; we cannot purchase these till funds are placed at our disposal. The winter is upon us. Cold and hunger will drive many to our doors. Shall we not bestir ourselves? Will not every one forego some pleasure, and see to it that none are left to perish around us. May grace be given us all to do our duty. One other item must not be omitted. A private check for $50 has been sent, which is reserved at present for the purchase of some articles of pressing need. We trust that others will

PRESIDENT. The reading of the report concluded, the following ladies (the present incumbents) were re-elected officers for the ensuing year

Treasurer-Miss Julia Stevenson. There is no estimating the amount of good which has been accomplished in our community by the ladies of this Society, and their hands should be strengthened for the good work and their benevolent hearts cheered and made glad by the liberal subscriptions and donations of those in our midst who are able to assist them in their noble undertaking. We hope to see more interest displayed in this matter by our citizens generally, and that the membership of the Society may be increased. The admission fee (only one dollar) is so small that there should be no trouble on this score. The object of the organization is certainly one that should commend it to the favorable consideration of every benevolent heart, and, after the support of the churches, should rank first in the list of our local Knights of Pythias. Germania Lodge No. 4, K. of P., had quite an interesting and instructive meeting at their Castle Hall last evening. The D. D. G. They have resolved that no pains shall be spared to make the meetings enjoyable and we hope a good degree of success may attend their efforts in that re-

Wilmington and the West.

In copying an article from our paper of This subject, which it calls "Business-like Chat," the Greensboro' Patriot says: "Wilmington never had a better opportunity presented her of securing railroad connection with the West, and we believe her pecple will respond promptly when the subject is laid before them. Wilmington ought to be the shipping port for all this section, and the only reason why it is not is the want of direct railroad communication."

The Ladies' Benevolent Society-The | The Freedmen's Savings Bank.

Alluding to a recent article in the New York Nation, entitled "The Winding up of the Freedmen's Savings Bank," in which it urges upon Congress, at its next session, the duty of a thorough investigation into the manner in which the affairs of the bank were conducted while in operation and are being wound up, now that it is defunct, and in which it pertinently remarks that the subject "is not a savory one for Republican newspapers, and exposure of it is not to be expected at Republican hands," and therefore exclaims, "We earnestly commend it to the notice of the honest men of the Democratic party when next winter in Congress they begin the great work of investigating the dark places in Republican history," the Baltimore Sun aptly says: "Despairing of getting justice for the depositors of the bank at the hands of the party which established the concern as a great boon to the freedmen and their descendants, it almost supplicates the Democratic party not to pass by or treat lightly 'as a passing joke' 'the cheating of the emancipated blacks by their liberators and protectors.' The most important lesson of all, however, the Nation does not improve for the benefit of the freedmen, and that is not to mix their politics with their business or to imagine that those who seek to control their votes have therefore the most solicitude or the most scrupulous regard for their interest."

Still Growing. The Raleigh News, remarking on the fact that lee week two vessels with 2,214 bales of cotton cleared from this port direct for Europe, and i.. t five large vessels are now loading at the Compress wharf with cotton for foreign countries, thinks this is encouraging to those who believe Wilmington has a destiny to fulfil as a port in the foreign trade. We are more encouraged in that belief by the fact that not for one week o av but during the whole season we have been making these direct foreign shipments receiving direct from foreign countries plated his crime on the gallows. shiploads of merchandise, fertilizers, tropical fruts, &c., in exchange. We feel quite certain that our progress in this direction is not likely to turn backward while our merchants continue to give as good satisfaction to customers as at present and while our facilities for receiving, landing and shipping goods, floating the commerce and conduct ing the exchange continue daily to in crease. Our cotton receipts for the year than last year, and, so far as we can learn, seem likely to be fully 50 per cent. greater old customers and new seem pleased with the treatment they receive and the way their business is transacted at our port; the accessibility of the harbor, the improvements in the channel, and the facilities offered here for obtaining charters are making Wilmington more and more a favorite with shipmasters and owners; and, in view of all the facts, we believe our present business is particularly healthy and likely to another Absconder Adrift.

City Marshal Price received notification yesterday that one J. B. Johnson, clerk of the Colorado Central Railroad Company, at Golden, Colorado, had absconded on the 7th inst., taking with him $8,000 in currency, and that a reward of $500 and onehalf of the stolen money recovered would be paid for his apprehension. He is between 30 and 35 years of age, full face, quite fleshy and red, and is about 5 feet 10 inches high. Here is a chance for enterprising policemen and detectives.

A Lunatic at Large. A dispatch was received from a party at Laurinburg, yesterday, requesting the City Marshal to take up the sister of the sender of the telegram, whose name is given, as she is a lunatic, and stating that she left on Wednesday evening's train. The dispatch was placed in the hands of Officer Walcott, who was instructed to look up the fugitive, if to be found within the limits of the city.

> Mayor's Court The only case before the Mayor's Court vesterday morning was that of Spencer Stanford, charged with disorderly conduct and resisting a police officer, reference to which was made in yesterday's paper. The Colored Fair.

From Chas. E. Cleapor, Secretary of the Industrial Fair Association, we have the following in reference to the progress of preparations for the approaching fair:

At a meeting of the Board of Directors, held last night, Jos. C. Hill, Wm. Kellogg and Elijah Lane were appointed a committee to raise subscriptions for premiums to be awarded. A meeting of private boarding-house keepers and citizens who may be able to entertain some of the crowd of visitors who are expected to be present from all parts of the State will shortly be called by the Board.

The Board have secured the services of the Fayetteville Brass Band to attend during the fair. There will also be a tournament on the third day of the fair, atter the races. The carpenters are now busily at work at Giblem Lodge, preparing stalls, sheds and coops for the animals to be exhibited. Most of the entries thus far, in all the departments, came from the Western part of the State.

Many little school children are known to be at work preparing mathematical problems, compositions, etc., to compete for the gold premiums offered, and numerous letters are daily received inquiring in reference to premiums and making entries of articles for exhibition.

Lawyer Bryan, col., the particulars of whose crime and trial we have heretofore given, was hung at Beaufort on Friday last for the murder of Mr. Michael Langley, of Onslow, in May, 1874. Upon the gallows Bryan made a full confession of his guilt. He was a mere youth of 17 at the time the murder was committed, and the evidence against him was purely circumstantial. The case was removed from Onslow county to Carteret, in which latter he was convicted and sentenced to death, but from one cause or another has been three times respited. The Governor, however, refusing of cotton and naval stores, and are likewise to interfere further, Bryan on Friday ex-accepted his responsibilities, and fulfilled his duties.

Resolved, That in the departure of our brother to the "House not made with hands, eternal in the heavens," we recognize our loss of one of the most useful members of this Ledge; one who was clear and concise in debate, liberal and generous in his views, and in advecating principles and projects for the extension of Masonry and the good of all mankind, and who possessed to a large degree the power of reconciling differences of opinion, and diffusing a spirit of brotherly kindness and charity.

Resolved, That we will ever cherish with feelings of love, respect and gratitude the memory of our departed friend. If the fervent wishes and many prayers from many hearts could have availed to save a life so precious to his family, and so valuable to us of this Lodge, "our brother had not died."

Resolved. That the usual badge of mourning be worn by the members of this Lodge for thirty days, and that these resolutions be lengressed upon our minutes and surrounded with black lines, and a copy duly attested be forwarded to the family of our deceased brother.
