VOL. XVII.---NO. 92.

The peaceful serenity of the Sabbath was broken into and our citizens startled from their equilibrium about 6:30 o'clock

Sunday evening by the alarm of fire, and which met their gaze, apparently in the direction of the intersection of Front and Market streets, led many in the sections of the city remote from the river to suppose that the fiend had broken loose immediately in the business centre, which impression, flames directly upon all that part of the city north of Market street, naturally created in their minds very great alarm, presaging as it did a conflagration the magnitude of which there could be no attempt to estimate.

Soon, however, the different alarms were noticed to strike the sixth fire district, located on the west side of the river, and it was finally ascertained that the fire had

Johnson. The steam fire engine Little Giant, being first to arrive at Market dock, was quickly transported to the opposite side, followed by a hand engine which the Howard Company took over in place of their steamer, which, with the Cape Fear steamer, remained on this side "cocked and primed" and ready for service if called upon. In the meantime, while awaiting the arrival of the engines,

Mr. E. S. Martin, who was among the first to reach the scene of the fire, organized a force with buckets which effectually kept the flames in check. The Little Giant and her consorts, the Fifth Ward Bucket Company, arrived, however, just in the nick of time, as the flames had got among a quantity of staves and headings and were rapidly spreading among the various combustible material ssurrounding the cooper shop and seriously imperiling the distilleries of Mr. Alfred Martin, which were about thirty feet from the burning building and located between the fire and the ferry buildings, the railroad shops, warehouses, &c. In about 35 minutes from the first sound of the alarm pell the Little Giant had a stream on the fire, instantly checking it in its dangerous approaches towards the distilleries, and soon it was noised abroad that all danger of a further spread of the flames was over.

In the meantime the tops of the buildings in the vicinity of the fire were kept wet with water from a force-pump, with hose attached, on the railroad premises, by the use of buckets, &c., and finally by the engines and bucket company. The sailors from the various vessels on that side of the river rendered most valuable assistance, both before and after the arrival of the engines, and deserve great credit for what they assisted so materially in accomplishing.

Several of the adjacent buildings caught fire, but the flames were quickly extinguished, while numerous flaming particles, such as shavings, &c., were wafted by the wind and smoke to the east side of the careful attention to prevent the fire from being communicated to property in that lo-

The Fire Sunday Night.

WILMINGTON, N. C., TUESDAY. JANUARY 11, 1876.

The Childhood of Christ.

Bishop Atkinson preached a remarkable sermon last Sabbath at St. Paul's Episcopal Caurch, on "The Childhood of the Sa viour." He took for a basis those passages upon rushing into the streets the bright glare of the sacred Evangelist wherein the life of the God-man-from infancy to the period of His entrance upon His public work-is briefly related, and in the simplest possible manner and with great familiarity with details described the system of duty en forced by the Jews in respect to their chilwith a southeast wind blowing, setting the dren. This system, in its outlines and spirit, he presented for the consideration of Christians, who, he argued, could find in it much that is admirable and much that would help to elevate the morale of church and nation. The sermon was intensely practical throughout-one fitted, in prescribing a safe moral regimen, to the urgent requirements of the time.

Light Intantry Parade. Tuesday being rather an off day with business men, with no important mails and less business of an urgent character coming in, as a general thing, than on other days of the week, it is hoped by the friends of the Wilmington Light Infantry that those merchants who have members in their employ will make a special effort to spare them for a few hours this afternoon, in order that they may participate in the dress parade of the Company, which is appointed for 3 o'clock. The boys will take care not to ask such indulgences often. It is thought the display this evening may be made more than ever heretofore worth wit nessing, and the ladies and citizens generally should not withhold their presence and encouragement.

Lot-Owners' Meeting.

The annual meeting of the lot-owners of Oakdale Cemetery was held last night at the Library room, and organized with Mr. Charles E. French in the chair and Mr. R. J. Jones Secretary.

An election for officers for the ensuing term resulted in the choice of the following

An Old Newspaper.

We saw yesterday an old relic of by-gone days, in the shape of a newspaper. This ancient sheet was entitled the Fayetteville Intelligencer, bears date of March 30, 1810, and was printed by Ray Black. It contains many articles of local and general interest, and, among the latter, the conclusion of a speech by Hon. John Stanly, then a member of Congress from this State, on the existing state of affairs in this country, river, in the vicinity of the New York and at which time the war of 1812 was brewing. Baltimore steamship wharves, requiring Among the local news is the following marriage notice: "On Tuesday evening last, by the Rev. W. L. Turner, Mr. Robert W. Brown, merchant of Wilmington, The cooper shop and a quantity of staves to Miss Ann Wingate, of this town."

Flag-Raising.

The handsome flag presented to the St. George and St. Andrew's Athletic Club by Messis. Brown & Roddick will be raised to the mast-head for the first time on the Club building on Saturday, himself, fastening grounds to morrow (Wednesday) afternoon, at 3 o'clock. The members of the Club are requested to be present. The beautiful pole which the flag will adorn was a present to the Club by Mr. R. G. Ross.

In their frantic efforts to get over the river and squelch the fire-demon, Sunday night, two or three persons plunged into the river and came near being squelched themselves. They came out wet enough, apparently, to put out any reasonable fire, but cool enough, also, to desire a closer connection with one of a milder shape than that which raged so furiously on the opposite side of the Cape Fear.

Base Ball. Mr. Henry T. Bauman has been appoint ed Captain of the base ball players of St. George and St. Andrew's Athletic Club, and will be glad to see all those interested in base ball at the club rooms, over Mr. J. C. Mund's drug store, this evening at 8 o'clock, to perfect arrangements for the campaign.

- Frank Taylor, a young man of Columbus county, met a shocking death in Greene county on Wednesday last. Mr. Taylor was on a visit to some friends in Snow Hill township, and in company with others, had been out on a fox hunt the day of his sad death. Returning in the evening he and another young man agreed to race their horses. It seems that Mr. Taylor's horse took fright at an ox-cart and made a sudden side dash between two pine trees. The jump was so sudden and unexpected that before Mr. Taylor had time to check the horse his body struck the two trees with such powerful force that it broke his skull and both shoulders. The unfortunate man died within an hour after the accident. The horse sustained no injury. So we learn by the Goldsboro Messenger.

A book agent called on a farmer the other day, and was told that the farmer was too busy to talk with him. "But," said the agent, "your farm work is all done. You have nothing to occupy your time?" CRONLY & MORRIS,

To all parties who assisted in prea O ALL PARTIES WHO ASSISTED IN PREserving my property last evening from what threatened to become a most destructive fire, I tender my very sincere thanks. To the Little Giant Steam Fire Engine Company, the Adrian Firemen, the Hook and Ladder and 5th Ward Bucket Companies, my thanks are especially due for their very prompt, energetic and efficient services, through which, mainly, not only my own but a vast amount of other value by coverty was saved from destruction. Also valuable property, was saved from destruction. Also for the valuable and disinterested services rendered by several seamen from some of the foreign vessels in the harbor. I most cheerfully acknowledge my obligations.
