Says the Baltimore Gazette : "For the sake of the dignity of humanity we rejoice that there is one man who stands erect in Washington amid the wreck of the administration. That seemed to have done his duty as a capable and conscientious officer, and as an honest man. It is a sad thing for a man to be isolated by simple honesty, but it is the fact. Bristow stands like a sort of Robinson Crusee in his loneliness, or like Marins, sitting among the ruins of everything respectable in his party."

England procured the recall of Minister Schenck. It was not poker that did the business for the lively Ohioan, but such " pure cussedness " as using his official influence to advance the interests of a mining swindle which had bought him up. A very small, but very pretty, lively and promising new paper, was issued in Wilson yesterday-the Daily Topic. Messrs. A. Barnes and W. L. Moseley are editors and proprietors. It will be devoted principally to the local interests of Wilson, one of the most progressive and important towns in Eastern Carolina.

The Late Robbery on the Wilmington & Weldon Road.

In our issue of March 1st, we stated that Deputy Sheriff Rivenbark had arrived her the day before with one William Divine ulias Big Bill, charged with stealing a trunk. containing clothing, a valise, an overcoat, two repeaters and a watch, from the shanty car connected with the gravel train of the W. & W. R. R., at this place. It appears that Divine had been employed on the gravel train, and on the day that the theft was committed he suddenly disappeared. having remained on the car when the rest of the hands went to work. A short time afterwards one Stephen McNeill, who was employed on the gravel train when the robbery was committed, happened at Burgaw. where he met Divine with some of the stolen articles in his possession. He (Mc-Neill) immediately went before Justice J. D. Sellars and made affidavit as to the facts of the case, when Divine was arrested and sent on here for examination before Justice VanAmringe. All of the articles stolen have since been recovered, with the exception of the watch, which was sold to a colored man in Duplin county. This was said by McNeill to be the property of Gilbert Manley, while the remainder of the articles were identified by him as the property of Melvin Hamilton. both employees on the gravel train. Sheriff Harrell brought with him yesterday the two repeaters and valise, which he deposited in Sheriff Manning's office. The remainder of the articles are on deposit at the W. & W. R. R. depot.

Sudden Death. Lucy Clark, wife of Wm. Clark, colored, residing on 7th, between Walnut and Red Cross streets, died very suddenly yesterday morning. She attended services at St. Mark's Church, being leader of the choir. During the singing of the second anthem after the reading of the second lesson, she was noticed leaning her head on the railing in front of her, shortly after which she left the church. She proceeded home and died soon after reaching there, a victim, it is understood, of heart disease, to which she was subject. Her husband is employed in the office of Capt. A. Pope, General Freight and Ticket Agent of the W. & W. Railroad.

Colored Musical Jubilee. We learn that the Sunday school scholars of St. Stephen's A. M. E. Contributions are now being taken to provide suitable decorations for the church on the occasion, which, with the other arrangements, are intended to be on a grand scale. Some of the finest music extant will be contributed by musical celebrities, the collection to include several of the most popular pieces sung by Moody and Sankey, the great revivalists, such as "Hold the Fort." &c. Four hundred children will take part in the entertainments.

Robbery Nipped. A Bladenboro correspondent tells us how an enterprising young man up there tried to rob a citizen and got taken in. One Gar rett alias Bill Rhodes (colored) has been getting out shingles for some time past for Mr. B. L. Jones of that town. That gentleman had occasion to leave his store for a few moments on Friday last, and on his return found Garrett in the store with all his shaving implements in his pockets, and two quart bottles of liquor, a bolt of calico and three pairs of shoes wrapped up in his blanket. The propeletor proceeded to re-possess himself of his property, and, having administered to the scamp a sound drubbing, admonished him to depart in peace-which he did, in the direction of

THE SYNES CASE.

Investigation Before Justice Van-Amringe-Testimony of the Prose cuting Witness and Others-The Case Dismissed.

It is well-known by most of our city readers (the facts being withheld from our columns by request until the investigation should take place) that Mr. T. P. Sykes, of this place, was arrested on Monday night last and lodged in jail until the following morning, when he was bailed out, charged on the affidavit of a colored man, named Randall Mayo, with having tried to induce him to burn a certain house, the property of Mr. Sykes, located on Sixth street, near the W. & W. R. R. The circumstances attending the arrest were the cause of very general indignation in the community at the time and has been the subject of much comment since. The visit to his house at the hour of midnight, and his incarceration in the county jail, without allowing him the time and opportunity of giving the bail provided for in the warrant issued by Justice VanAmringe, although he declared his anxiety and ability to do so, were well calculated to cause a feeling of grave concern among our people.

The case came up for a hearing before Justice VanAmringe, in the Court House yesterday morning, ex-Judge Russell and M. London, Esq., appearing for the defence, and J. H. Smythe, colored, for the prosecu-

Randall Mays, the prosecuting witness, was sworn and put upon the stand. His testimony was to the effect that on the 4th of December last he was approached by Mr. Sykes, in the market house, about dark; that Mr. S. took him to one side, there being a crowd of people in the market house at the time, and told him that he wanted him to move into his house; that he could have it rent free, and that he wanted him to burn it, saying that he would pay him $50 if he would do so. In answer to a question by counsel, witness said that he did not promise to burn the house, but stated that he moved in it on the 6th of December, two days after the proposition was made. He mentioned another interview that took place at Mr. S.'s shop, about three weeks ago, when witness says Mr. S. proposed to him to move to Hilton. where he was to have a house rent free, and the two together should come back and stick fire to the house; said Mr. S. showed him his insurance papers. In answer to a question by counsel, witness stated that Mr. Sykes met him on the street on a Thursday, a week or so ago, and told him he wanted his house, and that he must move; said Mr. S. did not say anything about rent due; denied that Mr. S. told him if he didn't get out by a certain day lost half of his shucks.

Witness told a pretty straightforward tale, but told it like a school boy would recite a lesson. Interruptions bothered him, and when Mr. London called his attention to contradictions in his state ments, he remarked, "Well, you skips about so !"

he would have him put out.

Witness admitted that he was taken to task when he was in the employ of Mr. J F. Garrell, two or three years ago, about some tallow that had been taken from a box in which it was kept and placad in a bag; but said Mr. G. did not accuse him of steal ing it. In reply to a question by counsel he said that he was discharged three days afterwards. This was the substance of Randall Mayo's testimony.

Mr. Garrell was next called and sworn Said that after hearing Mr. Sykes' statement in regard to his arrest, &c., in which he mentioned that Mayo was indebted to him for rent, and that he had told him he must get out of the house, and also the fact that on the night of his (8.'s) arrest his rice fields had been flooded and other property damaged, he went to see Mayo and cautioned him to be careful how he pushed the prosecution against Mr. S., unless he had good grounds for his action : intimating that he (Mayo) should take no such step to be avenged on Mr. S. for anything he had done. Said Mayo showed no disposition to back out from his statement. Witness said that Mr. S. did not say that Mayo damaged his property, but seemed to think it looked suspicious. Referred to the matter about the tallow, in response to question. Said that he traced the matter up, and was quite positive that Mayo had taken it from the box and placed it in the bag, and hence discharged him; but employed him afterwards to do carpentering. Testified as to the good character maintained by Mr. Sykes Special Deputy C. H. Strode was called and sworn, but his evidence was immaterial to the case, only tending to exonerate the magistrate who took the affidavit, and upon leaving the stand, Judge Russell, of defendant's counsel, invited a statement from the magistrate himself, which was in substance as follows: "He received the first message about ten o'clock, calling him to go over the railroad and see about the matter; that he refused to go, saying that the next day would be time enough to attend to it. About 11 o'clock, after he was in bed and asleep, he was aroused by a knock at his door, and, upon going down, he received a second message, which was to the effect that Mr. C. Hussell. who owned property in the neighborhood of Mr. Sykes' house, was anxious that he should come to his store and see him, as he and others in the neighborhood were afraid to go to sleep. Under these circumstances he thought it incumbent upon him as a Magistrate to go; that he went to Mr. Hussell's store, where he was informed of what Mayo had said about Mr. Sykes' proposi.

tion to him; that he then went to Mayo's | Mayor's Court, house, when the latter repeated the statement, whereupon, after warning him as to the consequence of swearing to a false statement in such a matter, he prepared the affidavit and it was sworn to by Mayo. The warrant was then issued and placed in the hands of Special Deputy Strode, for the arrest of Mr. Sykes, a justified bond in the sum of $1,000 being required of him for his future appearance. Said that he would not have gone when summoned the second time but for the apparent importance of the case and the necessity for his so doing. The case was argued by Judge Russell, who was followed by T. H. Smyth for the prosecution, when Mr. London rejoined. Justice VanAmringe then dismissed the case, stating that the evidence was insufficient in his opinion to warrant the binding over of the defendant to Court.

The Late Burglary in Cape Fea

Township, &c. Mr. Moses D. Motte, of Cape Fear Town ship, in this county, whose smoke house was broken open on the night of Tuesday, the 29th ult., an account of which appeared in our paper on the succeeding Friday, was in town yesterday, and gave us the following facts in regard to the matter. He says the whole amount stolen was twenty hams and twelve shoulders, and his mule (but not the cart) was taken by the thick for the purpose of bringing the meat to the city. Two of the hams were found at his son's store, the remainder having been sold to other parties previous to the visit of the thieves to the store of Mr. Motte, Jr. Five of the hams were found in the store of another party in Brooklyn, who said he would know the man of whom he pur chased them, and that his name was Fennell. Mr. Motte had Wm. Fennell (colored) arrested and examined, but he proved not to be the man. The proprietor of the store in which the five hams were found was arrested Monday, at the instance the ground that he could not give satisfac tory evidence as to where he got the meat, or from whom he purchased it. As yet Mr. M. has no postive clue as to the perpe trator of the theft.

In February Mr. Motte had all his turpentine boxes, some ten thousand in number, together with all his rails, burned by an incendiary, and has had Catharine Durden bound over for the offence for her appearance at the next term of the Superior Court.

The night his meat was stolen, Mr. Mott says his dogs were away from home. Just before the fire alluded to above, Mr. M. found a little pig at his gate, wrapped up, and which, upon investigation, was found to be poisoned, being evidently intended to kill his dogs. The same week he Fires in Bladen.

The residence of Mr. W. M. Pridgen, four miles from Clarkton, Bladen county, formerly the Dr. Shipman place, was destreyed by fire Tuesday morning, having caught from a cooking stove. The burned building is described as a large and elegant farm house. We think its location was just within the Columbus county line. The proprietor succeeded in saving most of his furniture.

Mr. A. J. P. Giddings' house at Bladenboro, on the Carolina Central Railway, was also destroyed by fire, on Monday night last, about 10 o'clock, supposed by some to have been the work of an incendiary. The burned building, together with a store adjacent, both occupied by Mr. Giddings, were the property of Messrs. J. & C. Ivey, of Bladenboro.

Our informant was unable to state whether the buildings were insured or not.
