BAYARD VS. BOUTWELL. In the Senate, yesterday, Boutwell of Massachusetts, with characteristic insolence, abused the courtesy accorded him by the gallant Senator from Delaware, Mr. Bayard, and resented Mr. Bayard's reminding him of the fact by scurrilous denunciation of the Democratic leaders. The Delaware Senator, equal to the occasion, rebuked Grant's ex-Secretary of the Treasury in language no gentleman can hear from another without resenting haughtily with a mighty arm and an outstretched hand. But we do not think Mr. Boutwell will knock "a hole in the sky" (as he did once in a speech) or in Mr. Bayard's hat,

- The Washington Echo was charmed with a sermon, recently preached in Washington by Rev. Dr. Closs.

- Messenger: Miss Cobb, daughter of Debro Cobb, Greene county, who was so seriously burned a few days ago, has since died from her agonizing injuries. - A Chatham county correspondent of the Raleigh News nominates Congressman Jo Davis for Governor, and savs he people of that section are "decidedly opposed to him."

- On Monday, as the passenger train on the Atlantic Road was passing the plantation of Mr. John Fields, below La Grange, some unknown villain threw a rock through one of the windows.

- Portsmouth Enterprise of Thursday : A white man named George Wilkins, a fugitive horse thief from Perquimans county, N. C., was arrested by officers Baker and Johnson, on County street, yesterday afternoon, and committed to jail to await a requisition from the Gov-ernor of North Carolina.

- Rivalry between the W. & W. Railroad and Atlantic & N. C. Railroad has cut down freights at a fearful rate from Goldsboro. Says the Messenger: Cotton can now be shipped to New York by either route at $1 a bale, and to Baltimore at 75 cents a bale. Indeed a lot of cotton was taken to Baltimore this week over the Atlantic Road for 50 cents a bale. It used to be $2 50 a bale.

- Morganton Blade: The champion poultry raiser is in this town. He owns a merchant mill and lives on Gospel Hill. Growing tired of the price of eggs and young chickens, he ordered his posttrader to buy him two dozen breeders that he might raise his own poultry. In due time the order was filled. The fowls were duly fed on pop-corn and fat meat, but no eggs were forthcoming. A veterinary neighbor was called in and an examination made, when it turned out that the whole two dozen were roosters. It is said the restraining influence of a minister on either explosion. It is supposed he will put in a bid for the contract to crow over the election in November next, should the Democrats be successful.

- Goldsboro Messenger says: Tuesday the attendance was quite large, and during recess of court the honest yeomonry of Johnston county assembled in the court room to hear the first campaign notes from the lips of our distinguished Chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee, Gen. W. R. Cox. His speech was a happy effort in benalf of honest government and reform, and will doubtless prove the nucleus for unity and action on the part of the honest white men of Johnston county. Those who are best competent to know, anticipate no dissension in the Conservative ranks of Johnston the approaching contest. All feel the importance of the issues at stake, and personal bickerings and side issues will be ignored, unity and harmony will be the watchword, and a rousing Democratic majority may be confidently expected from old Johnston. The gallant Rich. Waddell, the people insist, must go to the Senate and the very best men will be nominated for all the other offices.

Acres of Land in the City of Brotherly Love-The Deed for the Same in His Possession - From .$15,0000,000 to $20,000,000 Involved. Among the many wonders which this centennial year of 1876 has brought to light, and the many startling developments it has thus far disclosed, there has been nothing, perhaps, which can compare in importance, particularly to the parties immediately interested, to a three-quarter centennial document now in the hands of a citizen of Wilmington, Mr. S. VanAmringe. This is a deed for 408 acres of land located in what is now known as West Philadel. phia, executed in the year 1801, and comprising, as it is understood, a portion of the present centennial grounds, the said land being sold and conveyed by one Thomas Stroud, of the city of Philadelphia, merchant, of the one part, to Lyon VanAmringe, of the county of Philadelphia, merchant, of the other part, " for and in consideration of the sum of four hundred and eight dollars lawful money of Pennsylvania to him in hand well and truly paid by the said Lyon VanAmringe at or before the sealing and delivery of these presents, the receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged,"

The tract of land, which was but a piece of woods, was at that time known as Hope, "situated on the west side of Little Bush Hill, near the Creek in Delaware township, Northampton county," &c., and "which the commonwealth of Pennsylvania by patent under the hand of his Excellency, Thomas Miffin, Esq., Governor of the said commonwealth and under the great seal of the same, being dated the fourth day of December, one thousand seven hundred and ninety-eight, Reconded in the Rolls office for the State of Pennsylvania, Patent Book No. 34, Page 284, granted and conveyed unto William Gibbons in fee (it being the same tract which William Gibbons conveyed to Thomas Stroud by indenture bearing date the seventh day of March, one thousand seven hundred and ninety-nine. Recorded in the office of Recording of Deeds at Easton in and for the county of Northampton," &c. The deed is signed by Thos. Stroud and witnessed by Wm. Harlen and Isaac Loyd, and is accompanied by a certificate from the Mayor of the city of Philadelphia, Joseph Inkeeper, before whom the indenture was duly acknowl-

The property alluded to is now roughly estimated to be worth from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000, which will be a snug little for tune to the possessor of the deed if he can get possession of the property. At al events an effort to that end will be made, as we understand that the case is to be placed in the hands of some prominent member of the legal fraternity in Philadelphia forthwith, with the view of seeing what can be done in the matter.

It should have been stated in the proper place that the Lyon VanAmringe alluded to was the grandfather of Mr. S. VanAmringe, the possessor of the deed, who is certain that the title to the property has never legally passed from the family.

In accordance with former instructions to the police force of the city, that if they allowed any robbery to take place on their beat without detecting the same, he would discharge them, Mayor Canaday has ordered the dismissal from the force of James Jones, colored, who was, or should have been, on the beat in which the robbery of Mr. T. H. Smith's store was effected on Tuesday night, without the fact of such robbery being discovered by him at the time. This is a rule the Mayor has adopted in order to stimulate the care and watchfulness of the police, and should have s good effect.

The Smith Robbery-Jack Lee Committed for Trial, Jack Lee, who was arrested Wednesday evening on the charge of being implicated in the robbery of Mr. T. H. Smith's store Tuesday night, some of the articles stolen having been found in his possession, was arraigned before Justice VanAmringe, yestion. After hearing the evidence, the defendant was required to give a justified bond in the sum of $500 for his appearance at the next term of the Superior Court, in default of which he was committed to jail.

Superstition-Silver Tea. A young colored women went into a certain store, yesterday, with two twenty-five cent bills in her hand, which she endeavored to exchange temporarily with the proprietor for two silver quarters. Upon being asked what she wanted with them, the girl replied that she had been requested by an - Slightly warmer, southeast to old woman to get the silver for her, as she southwest winds, clear weather, and rising wanted to boil the pieces and get the tea with which to physic a person who had been "goophered." The idea of obtaining a tea from silver is an original one, though we have heard of the efficacy of a silver bullet in certain cases. Well, this is an age of wonders. What next?

The Lecture Last Night.

Prof. Tripp delivered the concluding lecture of his course at Library Hall last evening, his subject being the Causes of the Franco-Prussian War, and the defeat of Napoleon, with a sketch of the campaign to the surrender at Sedan. This lecture was by all odds the best of the course, and was so regarded by the large audience present. Prof. Tripp has rendered a real service to the community in the admirable intellectual treats which he has served up for the benefit of our people during the present week, and we commend him and his lectures to the favorable consideration of our friends wherever he may go.

and the Post goes on to remark that A Wilmingtonian Lays Claim to 408 A Narrow Escape from Browning-Two Hours in the Water.

One of our young friends on Water street, accompanied by Alex. Butler, Alex. Roan and Edgar Robinson, three young colored men, went up the Northeast branch of the Cape Fear a short distance on Wednesday, in a small yawl boat, to get some cypress posts; and on their return, when about two hundred yards above the bridge at Hilton, one of the posts rolled over the side of the boat, striking the rudder and breaking it loose, and at the same moment a strong flaw of wind struck the sail and capsized the boat before any steps could be taken to supply the place of the missing rudder. The four men clung to the boat which was midway of the river when the accident occurred, and awaited with what patience they could command for something to turn up rather more to their advantage than the boat had done. The water of course was very cold, as Wednesday was not a warm day, and as no boat was any where visible in that vicinity, nor the slight est indication appareut that the attention of any one had been attracted to their perilous condition, they reluctantly came to the conclusion, and a very discouraging one it was, that they would have to shift for themselves. One of the young colored men, in the extremity of his terror, and suffering as he was from the cold, started to swim ashore, but was persuaded by his comrades to relinquish the attempt and come back to the boat, as it was almost certain that he would not be able to reach land with his wet garments clinging to him. Finally, after the four unfortunates had been in the water about two hours, the boat drifed near enough to the shore for the party to reach it in safety, when they rejoiced "with exceeding great joy" at their escape, though a narrow one it was, from a watery grave. New Counterfelt. A new counterfeit $5 note on the Merchants' National Bank of New Bedford, Mass., has made its appearance within a day or two. The New York Journal of Commerce says it is as good, if not a better counterfeit than the celebrated "Traders' of Chicago. All the national bank-notes are now printed on fibre paper, and the use of a pin will demonstrate whether what looks like fibre is genuine or an imitation. This note is said to be printed in Texas, and to be the work of the notorious Pete McCartney, who was last heard from as a member of a gang of border rdflians.

The present counterfeit may be asily distinguished from the genuine by an examination of the right thigh of Christopher Columbus in the landing scene on the back of the note. In the genuine the thigh is symmetrical and natural, but in the counterfeit it has the appearance of being swollen or distorted by a tumor.

Mexican War Veterans-Medal Badge, Mr. Reuben Jones, of the "Grand Central," received Wednesday night the medal badge, the insignia of membership of the "National Association of Veterans of the Mexican War," adopted at the National Convention of Delegates held at Washington, Feb. 22d, 1875. The badge will be supplied by mail to such applicants as may be found entitled to the same. We give a description of it as follows: A modified American shield. The outer rim raised from the general surface, and having thereon the names of battles of the Mexican war. Left upper corner, a man-of-war: Navy. Apex of centre, a bursting bomb: Ordnance. Central group of arms; Riflevolunteer element; musket, sabre and pistol-infantry and cavalry. Right upper corner, a field piece: Artillery. Directly under group of arms the word "Mexico" in black. Thereunder a Maguey plant surrounded by cactus, emblematic of Mexico. Thereunder a castle: Engineers. Thereunder the figures "1846;" date of war. The four last are surrounded by laurel wreath. Surrounding the wreath, twentynine five-pointed stars: Number of States at date of war.

A New Plan for Saving Gas. A new and important invention, known as the "Automatic Gas Governor," was on exhibition at Mr. Heinsberger's store vesterday, and attracted much attention. It is said that the Governor will save from twenty to thirty-three per cent. on gas bills monthly, cannot get out of order, and requires no interference when once adjusted above the meter. They are supplied by the Automatic Gas Governor Company of the United States, whose principal office is in Washington, Mr. Alex. Strausz, of this city, is the General Superintendent of the Company, and will have his headquarters in Washington. Mr. H & Servosais the agent

Overbeard. A white man, said to have been a seaman from one of the vessels in port, accidentally fell overboard from a boat he was prope ling in the river opposite the Custom House, yesterday afternoon. As soon as he struck the water he commenced yelling lustily for help, which was happily accorded to him by some passing fishermen, who took him in "out of the wet" and placed him in his own boat again, very much to his relief.
