OUTLINES.

Walter H. French, of Boston, appointed journal clerk of the House. Kilbourn gave bail and was discharged. Bristol got mad with Congressmen Bright yesterday in committee room.

Spirits Turpentine

We greet our contemporary of the Rocky Mount Mail on its fourth anniversary.

A reduction of rates of freight has been declared, and the people along the W. & R. R., who were dissatisfied, are now contented.

The Greensboro Patriot says a copper bell, with "1760" and the name "Horlick" indented in it, has been found near that place.

Mail: Mrs. Denson, a very aged lady of Nash County has been afflicted with palsy thirty years, but recently the power of speech was restored and she has entirely recovered and is now enjoying perfect health.

Calvin J. Rogers, once Sheriff of Wake and afterwards postmaster at Raleigh, was found on his face dead, in a creek near Durham, where he had been fishing. Supposed that he had a fit and fell in, says a News correspondent.

The Washington Echo learns that a shooting scrape occurred at Middleton, Hyde county, a few days ago, between a Mr. Credle and Mr. Wm. Mann, in which the latter was wounded by a pistol in the hands of the former.

The Raleigh Constitution learns from a reliable source that there is an old lady, Mrs. Sallie Rogers by name, living nine miles from that city, on the Smithfield road, who is 97 years old, and who has undergone a wonderful change within the last month or two.

Of Edwin Fuller the Rocky Mount Mail says: "The writer knew him well and intimately, and he never saw a character so pure, so gentle, so pure from earthly stain as that of the good and spotless Edwin. His life was blameless and beautiful, and his death a victory. O'er his grave may the 'Lamps of Heaven' shine brightly down, may the dew fall softly, and may the rest be sweet, in the heart-prayer of this poor tribute—this 'long farewell unto Eternity'."

Wilson Advance: If current reports are to be relied on, this Congressional District, composed of sixteen thousand negro voters, and a handful of whites, will be controlled by a few party-working white crooked-croakers in the coming election. The man, who has served his party faithfully, will have to "step down and out," and the sixteen thousand colored voters will bow their necks in humble submission to their white masters. If Hyman is ruled out for Brogden in this district, where the negroes have a large majority, and the only district in the State where they can expect to elect one of their color, John G. Harris and the rest may as well hang their heads on the willow tree.

The strange trial—both sides ready for trial. The senior editor of the Charlotte Observer writes as follows from Asheville, under date of Wednesday, the 26th, concerning the Strange case: "A special venire of a hundred jurors was ordered yesterday, and they have been summoned. Judge Wattle, who tries this case by exchanging circuits with Judge J. L. Henry, told me this morning that he thought both sides were ready for trial, and only one witness—for the State—had not put in an appearance, and that he had issued a capias for him last night. This convinces me that the trial will certainly take place at this term, unless something now unforeseen should turn up. The defence is very anxious for a trial, and I can see no good reason why the State should not now be ready. The case will be called to-morrow (Thursday)."

Rivers and Machine Items. The Parrot called from Helvoet, April 28th, for this port.

The Steamship D. J. Foley, Price, left Baltimore, April 24th, for this port.

The Brig Zephyr, Jensen, arrived at London, April 18th, from this port.

The German Barque Zreude, Braum, arrived at Shields, April 18th, from this port.

The Nor. Barque Nydalen, Halvorsen, arrived at Liverpool, April 25th, from this port.

Wedding Cards and Visiting Cards. The citizens of Laurinburg gave an entertainment on Thursday night last for the benefit of the fund for building a Methodist church at that place. There was a very liberal turnout on the occasion, which, with the handsome receipts, made the affair quite a success. The young folks enjoyed the fun and merriment hugely, while the older people seemed charmed with the mingled vocal and instrumental music, which formed an important feature of the entertainment, and all went home apparently lighter-hearted for having been there.

An Early Start and an Exciting Run. Mr. Melton, living on Seventh, between Bladen and Harrett streets, was getting ready to start to the market with some articles for sale yesterday morning, between 5 and 6 o'clock, having his horse and cart in front of his door, and being in the act of placing a box in the latter, when his horse suddenly took fright and darted off at full speed down Bladen to Fourth street, down Fourth to Red Cross street, down Red Cross to Front, and down the latter street all the way to the front of the Market House, where he was halted by Sergeant McGarrigue, of the police force, the animal quivering and shaking with excitement and fright to such an extent at the time that he could scarcely keep his feet. The axle and wheels of the vehicle came off before leaving "Brooklyn," and the horse had only the empty body of the cart dangling at his heels for the remainder of the distance. No damage, except to the cart, which was badly wrecked.

stealing Clothing. A colored woman, by the name of Laura Hall, was arrested yesterday on the charge of stealing a quantity of clothing from a poor, unfortunate white woman from Goldsboro, who gives her name as Charity Dunn, whose husband she says is insane, and who had received the articles of clothing alluded to from various charitable disposed persons about town. The colored woman, when arrested, of course denied all knowledge of the whereabouts of the clothing, but Constable S. W. Nash, armed with a search warrant, issued by Justice Cassidy, went to the house occupied by her, on Fifth, between Hanover and Brunswick streets, where he finally discovered the articles hidden under the house, being stowed away very snugly in a cavity beneath the fire-place.

The woman, Laura Hall, was subsequently arraigned before Justice Cassidy on the charge of larceny, who, after hearing the evidence, required her to give bond in the sum of $200 for her appearance at the present term of the Superior Court, in default of which she was committed to jail.

The Magnolia Case. Peter Croom, the colored man who was charged with removing a Magnolia tree from the lot of Mr. J. H. McGarrity, in Oakdale Cemetery, several weeks ago, was convicted of the offence in the Superior Court yesterday, and His Honor, Judge McKoy, sentenced the individual to pay a fine of $100 and costs, and give bond for his good behaviour until next term of Court; and in case the fine and costs be not paid at the close of the term, then the defendant is to be confined at hard labor in the county work house for two years. As the penalty in this case was provided for in a special act the sentence could not be made heavier. As it is, it is to be hoped that it will prove sufficient to deter others from committing such acts of vandalism as robbing a graveyard. The penalty applies to all who remove trees, plants or shrubs, break the limbs or otherwise deface the same.

A Narrow Escape. Yesterday afternoon, about half past 1 o'clock, a cloud of smoke was discovered issuing from behind one of the counters in the store of Messrs. Sol Bear & Bros., on Market, between Front and Water streets. Upon investigation it was found that a lot of underclothing under one of the shelves was on fire, which was fast communicating itself to the wood work by which they were surrounded. Policeman Edward Davis was on the spot, who, not deeming it necessary to start an alarm, quickly summoned assistance and in a few moments succeeded in extinguishing the flames. The proprietors of the store were absent at the time. The origin of the fire is a mystery.

OPERA HOUSE.

St. John's Concert. The ladies and gentlemen who took part in the "Grand Sacred and Secular Concert," at Thialian Hall last evening, were greeted by a very large and appreciative audience. The entertainment opened and closed with the rendition by the Cornet Concert Band of pleasing compositions, one of which was arranged for the occasion by Prof. Neave, of Salisbury, the Dods-worth of North Carolina. Excepting these, only two instrumental pieces were introduced into the programme, the greater part of the evening being given up to a number of vocal gems, selected principally from the German masters, though, now and then, not only the liquid harmonies, but even the rich melodious language of Italy—the Land of Song—would thrill the eager listeners, with its sweetness and power. We do not wish to discriminate particularly, where all was so well done, but one Duo, L'Addio, by Donizetti, was so exquisitely rendered that we forgot we were listening to the tenor and soprano voices of amateurs, they were so pure, so clear and so full of pathos and expression.

The Duo by two little girls was played in excellent time, and a shower of bouquets fell upon the stage as they retired—some what hastily from it.

Another very useful, as well as ornamental, feature of this concert was the admirable way in which the managers looked out for the financial affairs of the Church. Some time before the curtain rose little girls with baskets of flowers, and boys with neatly printed programmes, were actively engaged in selling them to the audience. We judge, therefore, that as rounds of applause succeeded nearly every piece of music, and as the house was a full one, the pecuniary results of the concert were as successful as the musical parts of it.

The stage was arranged with great taste, and the perfume of numbers of rare flowers mingled with the "concord of sweet sounds."

Superior Court. The following cases were disposed of yesterday:

State vs. Alexander McIver, larceny. Guilty. Sentenced to three years in the Penitentiary.

State vs. George Williams, assault and battery. Guilty. Sentenced to the Penitentiary for three years.

State vs. Andrew Laspierre et al, larceny, two cases. Not guilty.

State vs. Peter Croom, removing a tree from the Cemetery. Guilty. Sentenced to pay a fine of $100 and costs. If fine and costs are not paid at the end of the term, the prisoner will be confined in the Work House for two years; also required to give bond for good behavior until next term of Court.

State vs. Henry Shriver, larceny. Guilty. Sentenced to five years in the Penitentiary.

State vs. George Gripp, larceny. Guilty. Sentenced to ten years in the Penitentiary.

State vs. David Davis, larceny. Guilty. Sentence not yet passed.

Thermometer Record. The following will show the state of the thermometer, at the stations mentioned, at 4:30 P. M., yesterday, as ascertained from the daily bulletin issued from the Signal Office in this city:

Augusta, 60; Atlantic City, 64; Cairo, 67; Cape May, 66; Charleston, 75; Cape Henry, 78; Cincinnati, 66; Galveston, 83; Indianapolis, 81; Jacksonville, 78; Key West, 82; Knoxville, 62; Lynchburg, 66; Memphis, 70; Mobile, 81; Montgomery, 76; Nashville, 73; New Orleans, 80; New York, 59; Norfolk, 77; Pittsburgh, 65; Punta Rasa, 81; St. Mark, 77; Savannah, 79; Shreveport, 80; St. Louis, 64; Vicksburg, 75; Washington, 61; Wilmington, 71.

An Insane Colored Woman. A young colored woman, by the name of Delia Gardner, was arrested yesterday morning, by Officer Walcott, charged with acting disorderly on the streets. Delia is evidently not responsible for her actions. Her conversation is very wild and scattering, leaving no doubt that she is laboring under an attack of insanity, which, though not of a very serious type, is calculated to render it unsafe for her to be allowed to go at large. She was furnished quarters at the station house to await the arrival of the Mayor.

Funeral Sermon. Rev. J. N. Andrews, formerly of this city, but now a resident of Wayne county, is here on a brief visit, and will preach the funeral sermon of the late James Fleet, at the Fifth Street M. E. Church, to-morrow (Sunday) morning, at 11 o'clock.
