altar is covered with imperial purple velvetand on each side of it stand the seven typl. cal lights supported by two bronze columns, in front of which are two marble basins filled with flowers upheld by marble caryalides. Vases of flowers are stationed in graceful profusion, and crowns of roses and evergreens hang from the chandeliers around the room. The Ark is of white marble and grey stone, excepting the two black tables of stone which are of black marble, bearing on their surface the ten mmandments traced in Hebrew with glittering gilt letters. The "sanctum sanctorum," which was exposed to view in one part of the interesting and impressive ceremonial, seems to be draped with the same rich Tyrian dye as the altar, combined with folds of lace. In the Holy of Holies were deposited the "Scrolls of the Law," enclosed two Hebrew characters, abbreviations for "The Crown of the Law." The service opened by the appearance at the door of the rabbi, Rev. S. Mendelsohn, the Directors of the congregation, and the Building Committee. The minister and some of the honorary members bore the scrolls of the law. The minister said in Hebrew and English: " Open unto me the gates of righteousness that I may enter reer so auspiciously. therein and praise the Lord." The main door of the Temple was then opened, and s follows. the people standing and the choir singing. the procession moved forward up the ceatre aisle to the pulpit. Here the procession halted, while the ark was opened and the rabbi delivered the following short and ap propriate prayer: "How lovely are Thy tabernacles, O Lord of hosts! Through Thy abundant goodness and mercy have we en tered Thy house, and therefore we reverently worship Thee in Thy holy sanctuary. O Lord ! we love Thy abiding place even the spot where Thy glory dwell eth. Here, then, will we worship, bend the knee and lowly bow be fore the Lord, our Maker." This was followed by some very fine music-a duet. Then, Abraham Weill, Esq., making an in troductory address, spoke of the obstacles regular services of the new temple. overcome in crecting the building, of the gratitude he and the congregation felt to Christians as well as Jews for the assistance rendered and sympathy expressed, and of the pleasure it afforded him as Chairman of the Building Committee to deliver the key of the temple to the congregation. All this was said very happily. In response Solomon Bear, Esq., the President, accepted in behalf of the congregation the trust imposed, and in a well conceived speech expressed his feelings on the occasion of the dedication of the first Israelitish place of worship. The Dedication proper was then proceed ed with. During the superb rendering by the choir of the 100th Psalm the seven branched lights in front of the Ark were lighted by the President and Vice President. A prayer was succeeded by the 29th Paslm, in Hebrew, during which the rabbi and officials bore the scrolls of the law around the building in solemn procesmorning, with a harpoon. sion and replaced them in the Ark. In a sonorous and commanding voice, enunciating distinctly, and with every emphasis in its proper place, Mr. Mendelsohn read a beau-

which he likened the present prosperous. era of Jewish history. A sketch of the ondition of his race in North Carolina followed, with appropriate reference to the devotion of the Jews to the laws of the and. He animadverted upon the fact that, though freedom to worship God as conscience dictated was guaranteed to the Israelites under the Constitution made nearly a hundred years ago, it was not until 1861 that the - Constitution of the State was so amended as allow Jews to hold office. He said it was not his intention by recalling this much of history to upbraid anybody, but simply to show how great was the freedom people now enjoyed, and how truly free the institutions of the land were becoming. The conclusion was a very eloquent exhortation addressed mainly to his own people

He spoke feelingly of the Christians who had assisted his people in building their temple. The temple was not the walls, not the pomp of ceremonial, but it was the spirit of the worshippers. Write the Divine laws in the heart and let the life of every day show that they are so written. The worship must make the people better. This was a place to pray not only for the welfare of the Jews, but for that of Christian friends, a place to teach the broadest humanitarianism, the truest charity. The choir sang a hymn, after which the beautiful evening service of the Reform Jews was gone through with, and the exercises came to a close. Throughout the services were of the most orderly and impressive character. The shers were exceedingly attentive. The congregation were supplied very promptly with a pamphlet containing the programme, which was admirably gotten up and greatly contributed to the enjoyment of all.

Resignation of Rey. Dr. Moran Motives that Prompted His With-drawal-History of the Diffeuitics-What Mr. Baker Says -The Stewards in Coupeil Last Night, &c.

Baltimore Gazette, 1 An understanding that no publicity would be given to the difference existing Bethany Independent Methodist Church. prevented the Gazette from publishing the particulars of a difficulty that has bee pending for some time. In view, however of the incomplete and garbled accounts that have appeared in some of the city papers care has been taken to ascertain the correct particulars of the existing differences, which have assumed the shape of a decided sensation in West Baltimore. Briefly it may be stated, as fully explained below, that what appears to be an irreconcilable difference has arisen between the pastor Rev. R. Moran, D. D., and Mr. Charles J. Baker and other gentlemen, constituting the Board of Stewards.

The matter was first publicly agitated Sunday morning last, when Dr. Moran asonished his congregation by stating, at the close of his sermon, that he would tender his resignation last evening, to take effect at the close of the first year of his pastorate in September next. The reasons assigned for so doing he set forth in a statement which he made, and which was also read at the evening service. He said that the cause, and the only cause, of the action which he proposed to take, was that he persistently refused to nominate James B. Hodgson as steward of Bethany church, or to waive his right to make the nomination. on the ground that he could not conscientionsly do so, believing him to be unfit for that office. The statement continues to the board of stewards, the entire trouble has arisen out of an inaccuracy in the account of Mr. Hodgson, which Dr. Moran led him (Mr. Baker) to think he believed to be in-tentional. Mr. Hodgson, feeling aggrieved, laid the matter before the board of stewards, who heard the stories of both parties ards, who heard the stories of both parties, which were entirely at variance, and then advised them to let the matter drop. This, they state, it was agreed to do. The morn-ing after the meeting Mr. Hodgson, it is alleged, said that Dr. Moran had "hed out of it." This coming to the pastor's ears led to inquiry, and Dr. Moran, believing that Mr. Hodgson had made use of the remark, declined to nominate him for re-election to the heard of demandant to the heard of the the board of stewards at a meeting held

Mr. Baker asked Dr. Moran's reasons declining to make the nomination, which he refused to give to the meeting, but said he refused to give to the meeting, but said he would communicate them to any mem-ber privately. He said, however, he did not consider Mr Hodgson a competent or suitable person for the office of secretary of the board. Subsequently Dr. Moran said the board was actuated by a bad spirit, to which Mr. Baker took umbrage, and after some words, stated that neither he nor his family could sit under the ministry of Dr. Moran. Mr. C. E. Baker also intimated that Dr. Moran's resemption would be acthat Dr. Moran's resignation would be ac-cepted. Following this came the statement by Dr. Moran on Sunday last and the meet-ing last night. What the final result may be it is impossible to predict.

Gazette Editorial Comment,

Here in our midst we have recently had senes of strife and contention, in the hurches, arising in some cases out, of differences of opinion as to the manner in which they should be run. The latest one is the Bethany church war. In this case it arose out of the appointing power. Mr. Charles J. Baker, who, as he declared in his great Canton speech, "runs" Bethany church, has insisted upon the appointment of a Mr. Hodgson to the Board of Stewards, whom the minister. Mr. Moran, con sidered an unfit person. The question of unr fitness arose on an entry in one of the books of the church, which raised a point of veracity between Mr. Hodgson and the pastor. Mr. Hodgson said that the The minister therefore firmly refused to ap point him to the board of stewarts, and Ma Baker insisted that he should be appointed Whatever may be the original rights or wrongs of the question, it seems clear that Mr. Moran has the nominating power, and that he had the right-nay, it was his duty -not to appoint a man hostile to himself, and whose presence in the board of neces-sity impaired his ministerial efficiency. Mr. Baker resolutely insisted on his own appointng power, and threatened to dismiss Mr. Moran and meanwhile leave the church with his family. Mr. Moran has therefore resigned Mr. Charles J. Baker does not claim to be a lay pope, or to be personally infallibleleast not in express terms. In "run ning" Bethany church he has run off the Rev. Mr. Williams and the Rev. Mr. Poulson. Now he has run off Mr. Moran; and these we think ought to make him doubt the "success" of his "running" bounce of worship. We do not suppose, however, that he can ever be brought to doubt his own wisdom, and it is probable that he will make yet another effort to supply Bethany church with a clergyman who will come up to his ideal. mithville Politics. A Queer Fish.

Capt. Lemmerman, at the office of Lemmerman & Coney, on South Water street, had a peculiar fish on exhibition yesterday. It was a huge specimen of the finny tribe, being six feet and a half in length and known as the Herring Hawk, so called from the fact that it makes a practice of running into schools of herrings and feeding upon them. It is a species of porpoise the main difference being in the head, that of the porpoise being round, while that of the Herring Hawk is pointed, somewhat after the style of an alligator. Its intestines resemble those of a hog. The meat is said to be very palatable, fand was borne off in large chuncks by colored people, to whom t was presented by Capt. Lemmerman. This curious specimen, the weight of which was one hundred and fifty pounds was caught just outside the bar, yesterday

Opera House, The panorainic display at the Opera House last evening attracted a larger audience than the previous one. To our comments of yesterday we have little to add. The transformation scene Was specially pleasing. Each representation was explained by recitations from the Pil effect that Mr. Charles J. Baker, meeting where Dr. Moran refused to nominate Mr. Hodgson, he (Mr. Baker) arose, and, with violence of manner, stated that in view of the position which Dr. Moran had taken, his (Dr. Moran's) term of service as pastor of Bethany church must end by the 1st of September next, and that neither he nor his family could hereafter hear Dr. Moran preach or sit under his ministry.

The statement then goes on as follows: The members of the quarterly conference will, I think, bear me witness that I listened to this assault with great calmness, though I frankly own it was the calmness tempt. My only reply was that no threat that either he or his son, Charles E. Baker, could make, and no inducement that Bethany church could offer, would have the slightest influence in causing me to do what I felt to be a wrong act. In the issue thus formed I stood firmly, as I still stand, on my conscience, as on a rock of adamant. am ready to leave Bethany or Baltimore, or, if need be, by the grace of God, to leave theworld, like my Divine Master, rather than lishonor my conscience and disobey God n yielding for one moment to such arroant, unreasonable and arbitrary dictation. The statement concludes as follows:] have asked no man's sympathy. I have solicited no man's vote to sustain me in the sue I have made with Mr. Baker and his niniona. I claim no credit for maintaini the ground I have taken. To do other-wise under the circumstances, ordinary Christian manhood, common honesty, would be impossible.

would be impossible. A meeting of the board of stewards was held last night in the legture-room of the church for the purpose of receiving the resignation of the pastor. Dr. Moran pre-sided, nearly all the members of the board being present. Before discussing the ques-tion of Dr. Moran's resignation the subject of the election of Mr. J. B. Hodgson to the board of stewards was brought up. Dr. Moran who as nearly on the church made Moran, who as pastor of the church made the nominations for the board, declined to nominate Mr. Hodgson at the last meeting, upon the ground that he declined to make ny other nomination, and announced the flice of secretary, which Mr. Hodgson had held, vacant. This decision was said to be contrary to one which he rendered some time before, to the effect that officers held over until their re-election or the election of their successors. After a great deal of disussion upon the subject, and concessions being made by the board and the pastor, Mr. Hodgson was elected. The existing difficulties were then discussed. Dr. Moran was charged by a member of the board with having made the matter public by the atement which he read from the pulpit anday, and he, in reply, averred that this ction had been forced upon him. Mr. C. J. Baker inquired what Dr. Mo ran meant by saying the board was actua-ted by a bad spirit, and that he, (Mr. Ba-ker) was actuated by arrogant, unreasona-ble and unjust motives. He desired to know of the board whether he or Dr. Moran was to be sustained. Dr. Moran said he thought the congre-gation ought to know the facts of the case
