WASHINGTON, June 22. Nearly all the members of the Virginia delegation are here, and will the diversified scenery, the beauty and leave for St. Louis to-morrow by a special car on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. Judge Meredith, Colonel O'Brien, Colonel Flournoy, Mr. Coghill, General Walker, Judge Sinclair, Mr. Southall and Colonel Watts, and Messrs. Lane, Wallace, Moncure, Chandler and Neale arrived to-night. Nearly all here declare themselves entirely uncommitted, and ready to hear all evidence and render judgment at St. Louis. They are proba-bly divided between Tilden and Hancock, but will vote as a unit as the majority decides.

to the London Times: "Will you kindly allow me to give your readers a short description of an interesting docks recently, being the capture of a large 'boa-constrictor,' on board the ship Surprise, which had just arrived from Port Natal laden with wool and hides. It appears that while at the port she went within the bar to load, being a small vessel, and consequently was close to the bush.

One evening, after her cargo had been shipped, while the crew were having a little jollification among themselves, one of the sailors, who happened to possess a concertina, was playing various tunes for the amuse-

"It is supposed that the music attracted the 'boa' on board, and being disturbed it must have found its way into the hold, as the hatches were off at the time, and concealed itself among the cargo, as it was not discovered till the ship was well on her voyage home. When she arrived in dock the question arose as to how it was to be captured, but, with the assistance of Mr. Jamrach, it was successfully accomplished. I have seen the reptile, and should think it is about eight or nine feet in length and as thick as the calf of a man's leg. It has existed during the voyage on rats and other vermin, with which,

I am informed, the vessel swarmed while at Port Natal, and now there is not a rat to be seen in any part of the vessel, so that in future it may be thought desirable to ship a 'boa-constrictor' instead of other animals received a circular through Robt. Purvis, one of the Commissioners of the Freed-of the Investigating committee, in which propositions are made to sell to the govern-city and Jacksonville, Florida, the property of the said company, aggregating in value

$365,000, which would enable the Commissioners in a very short time to declare and pay to the unfortunate depositors of the company another dividend of twenty per cent., which would be of great assistance to them at this time. The circular declares that this property is much needed by the government; that it is offered at very reasonable rates, and that it would actually result in a saving to the government to purchase it. It is urged that a petition be circulated here, asking the favorable con sideration of the government in this matter.

The party of excursionists that left here

Railroad, situated in the mountainous region of North Carolina, returned here yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock. The excursionists, very few if any of whom had ever visited that section of the State before, were well pleased with their trip; only regretting the shortness of the time allowed them in which to gaze upon and admire grandeur of which has justly entitled that particular portion of our State to the ap-the reality far transcended what the imagi-

Several weeks ago, through the columns of this paper, we mentioned the fact of a colored man having been attacked and badly bitten, upon one of the streets of this city, by a vicious dog, though in this particular case we learn that the owner usually keeps the animal under proper restraint.

Since then we have heard of several in stances of the kind, some of which, embracing the most aggravated cases, have been alkided to by us, all of which go to show the necessity of some legislation by which the owners of such dangerous animals shall be compelled to keep them firmown premises, or be held responsible for the damages they inflict; for, unless some such action is taken, it will become absolutely necessary for those whom business or pleasure calls upon the streets at night, particularly, to go prepared with another party hastened to his rescue and man returning home a few nights since, passed an open gate, when a dog rushed furiously out upon him, but, being endowed with the necessary presence of mind, the gentleman stood his ground and struck at him with his stick, upon which the animal retreated into the vard. The brute persisted in his efforts to reach him, however, and our friend had to keep on the defensive and back out of the scrape the best he could. But the most se rious case yet, and which at the same time is tinctured with the ridiculous, is that which we have from one of the party who was a witness to the affair. It appears that two young gentlemen were on their way home last Wednesday night, between 10 and 11 o'clock, when their ears were suddenly saluted with the loud and furious barking of dogs. Anticipating some trouble they young men approached the dogs ran off, when the object of their attack explained that he had been pursued by the brutes while passing along the street, and having fence, as the only refuge that presented it-
