

MORNING EDITION.

RATIFICATION.

Let Wilmington ratify Tilden and Hendricks on next Wednesday night in the enthusiastic manner in which Richmond ratified them evening before last. We hope our party friends will bestir themselves, and make the occasion one long to be remembered. There should be a sufficiency of strong and eloquent speeches, a splendor of material lights, and thousands present to see and hear what is done.

THE HERALD.

While the Germans and Independents, and many of the Old Guard of the Republican party, are going over to Tilden and Hendricks, the crazy old New York Herald insists that Reform will not do as an issue in this campaign. The Herald is playing into the hands of Hayes and Wheeler just now, but a little later, when the tide sets in still stronger for the Democratic candidates, we expect to see the great Blatherskite cry itself hoarse over Reform.

The Bogus Hamburg Negro Militia.

The Augusta Chronicle of Tuesday says: "We were informed yesterday that the Hamburg corps was not a militia company organized under the laws of the State of South Carolina, but was an independent affair altogether. The militia company which did exist in the burg was disbanded several years ago, the arms placed in a store in the village. Last May a number of negroes got together, organized a company on their own responsibility, and took possession of the arms without leave or license. The officers were not commissioned by the Governor. If this is actually the case, it puts another phase on the matter."

The Same Paper Says.

"We learn from the best authority that at the instance of Dr. Merriweather, warrants have been issued for the arrest of thirty-five negroes, all members of the company, charging them with murder, riot, insurrection and conspiracy. The parties named in the warrant will probably be arrested at once."

The Germans and Mr. Schurz.

And now the Republican politicians imagine that because Mr. Schurz has contributed so much to alienate the Germans from the Republican party, his own return to that party will suffice to insure the return of the Germans en masse. Far from it. The very fact of the Germans having taken the teachings of Mr. Schurz so deeply to heart renders their return with him an impossibility. They will benefit by his teachings, although he himself should have become so much of an American politician as to dread, in the decisive moment, the consequences of his political agitation and to yield to a policy of expediency. It would not be the first time that the Germans repudiated his leadership. It is true that Mr. Schurz has never before gone back so signally on his own record, and hence the Germans never had so urgent an occasion to disavow him in mass. Even the Germans who, for some reason involving a principle, for instance as protectionists, stand by Hayes, or at least incline to him, do not suppress their surprise at the position of Mr. Schurz. It is not necessary to charge him with sordid motives; it is enough to say that the strength of his character did not come up to the test, and that his present course is absolutely irreconcilable to that which he has taught and commended a few weeks ago.

The Campaign Opened.

The campaign for Tilden, Hendricks and Reform has received a brilliant send-off in this city. We have rarely seen a larger, more intelligent or more enthusiastic assemblage than met on the Old City Hall Square last night to ratify the candidates nominated at St. Louis, and approve the principles there adopted. The number present might be counted by thousands, and we were more than gratified to see that a large portion of the audience was composed of ladies, who are even more deeply interested in the result of the coming contest than the men. The meeting was in every respect a splendid affair. The speeches of Judge Meredith, Hon. Mr. Sparks, of Illinois, ex-Governor Walker, Col. William Gilman, ex-Mayor Kelley, and Mr. James P. Cowardin were all forcible and to the point.

VANCE IN EDGEcombe.

Great Day in Tarboro—Three Thousand People Unanimously Voted and Leach—A Tilden Wave of Enthusiasm.

[Special Correspondence of the News.]

TARBORO, July 17, 1876.

Tarboro is alive to-day. There are 3,000 people here from Edgecombe and the adjoining counties. The Tilden and Vance Club at Tarboro met Gov. Vance at Rocky Mount, and accompanied him to Tarboro. They carried along their cannon, making music all the way down. When we reached the Grove we found the stand decorated with a large and elegant national flag, our emblem of patriotism. Beautiful bouquets also adorned the stand, evergreens and wreaths encircled the whole platform, and from the exquisite taste displayed, I know the fair daughters of Tarboro had been at work in their quiet way, to do honor to North Carolina's great standard-bearer. Two hundred of the ladies of Tarboro graced the occasion with their presence. The Hook and Ladder Company at Tarboro turned out in full uniform, and they, together with the Tarboro and Rocky Mount Tilden and Vance Clubs, escorted the Governor to the Grove amid the roar of cannon, the cheers of the vast crowd, and music by the band. The Governor was introduced by Mr. S. S. Nash, President of the Tilden and Vance Club, in a short but very appropriate speech; after which the Governor, in his strong but happy style portrayed the workings of the laws, and the execution of the same during his administration as Governor. He gave the orders, and had the law executed through his subordinates.

Local News.

—Mayor Canaday and family have gone to the mountains.

—Nothing doing in magisterial circles.

—McHenry, the "corn doctor," was at last accounts doing up the streets at Danville, Va.

—Eggs have been selling in this city, for the last few days, at 10 cents per dozen by wholesale and 12 1/2 cents by retail.

—The eleventh competition for the gold badge, by the Shooting Club, will take place at the Athletic Club Grounds this afternoon, at 4 o'clock.

—A colored boy, by the name of Cornelius Moore, was arrested Wednesday night on the charge of disorderly conduct. He gave bond in the sum of $50 for his appearance before the Mayor when called for.

—The "local thunder storms," predicted for this section yesterday, did not visit Wilmington, though there were indications of rain about 1 P. M., south of us.

—We learn that the peanut crop in the neighborhood of Rocky Point and Long Creek, Pender county, is turning out remarkably well. Other crops are also doing finely.

—Very warm and partly cloudy weather, continued southerly to westerly winds, stationary or slowly falling barometer, and possibly local rains in the northern portion of the South Atlantic States, are the predictions for to-day.

—We learn that there is at least one cellar on Market street in which water is now standing, and has been for no one knows how many months, to the depth of about ten inches. There may be others in a similar condition. If the health of the city is to be preserved there must be co-operation on the part of property owners with the city authorities. In this instance, we hear, there has been the proper notification made.

Sanitary Matters Again.

We hope our City Marshal will give his particular attention just now to the sanitary condition of the city, and see that every possible is done to eradicate the causes which are liable to breed and engender disease and pestilence in our midst. Stagnant water, such as that which has been allowed to stand so long on Second, between Orange and Ann streets, in the locality known as the Old Tanyard, is especially dangerous to the health of the community, particularly during the prevalence of such hot weather as we have been having for the last month or six weeks. The City Marshal is looked upon as the principal guardian of the city in such matters, and he is expected to give the subject his careful attention and personal supervision. A fearful responsibility is involved in the matter of preserving the health of the city.

The Hostile Party.

We learn that the Rosette Party, given by the ladies of the Fifth Street M. E. Church, at Temperance Hall, last night, was quite a success. The number in attendance was not so large as might have been expected, but in every other respect the ladies had cause to be very well satisfied with the result.

Thermometer Record.

The following will show the state of the thermometer, at the stations mentioned, at 4.35 yesterday evening, Washington mean time, as ascertained from the daily bulletin issued from the Signal Office in this city:

Newbern will have a paper edited by youths next week.

We now receive the Raleigh papers on the day of publication.

The congregations of Wake county are praying for rain.

A Raleigh cow turns the key in a corn-crib lock, walks in and helps herself.

Greenville Beacon: We regret to announce the continued sickness of Mrs. T. J. Jarvis, which has delayed Hon. T. J. Jarvis from entering the campaign.

The Radical Convention of the Second Congress District will meet in Goldsboro next Wednesday. The Messenger says Hyman and Brogden will enter the race with nearly equal strength.

Mr. John K. Morris, of Goldsboro, on Monday night, while walking about the store where he was employed, fell down a hatchway and broke his collar bone.

Postage on Third-Class Matter.

Postmaster Brink, of this city, has received circulars from Postmaster General James N. Tyler, containing for his information the amended postal laws relative to third-class mail matter and letters or circulars concerning lotteries and gift concerts. As the law is a matter of interest to the public, we publish in full the amended sections. Under the old law the postage on third-class matter was one cent per ounce, or fractional part of an ounce; and the new law fixes the rate at one cent for two ounces or fractional part thereof. The following is the law:

Sec. 15. That transient newspapers and magazines, regular publications designed primarily for advertising purposes, or for free circulation at nominal rates, and all printed matter of the third-class, except unsealed circulars, shall be admitted to, and be transmitted in the mails at the rate of one cent for every two ounces or fractional part thereof; and the sender of any article of the third class of mail matter may write his or her name or address therein, or on the outside thereof, with the word "from" above or preceding the same, or may write briefly or print on any package the number and names of the articles enclosed. Publishers of newspapers and periodicals may print on the wrappers of newspapers or magazines sent from the office of obtaining money under false pretenses, and a penalty of not more than $50, nor less than $100, with cost of prosecution, is hereby imposed upon conviction in any Federal Court, of the violation of this section.

DEMOCRATIC GAINS.

Formation of a Tilden and Vance Club at Kingston—Large Accessions of Prominent Men in Lenoir County from the Republican Party.

[Star Special Correspondence.]

KINGSTON, N. C., July 20.

Kingston has formed a Tilden and Vance Club with eighty members as a beginning: B. F. Nunn, President; Messrs. E. G. Miller, John Taylor, S. B. West and H. C. Parrott, Vice Presidents.

The following named persons that voted the Republican ticket in the last election have come out for Vance, Civil Liberty and Reform: E. C. County Treasurer; James Cannaday, County Commissioner; General W. F. Loftin, Grant elector in '73; A. J. Loftin, D. J. Long, J. J. Coleman, W. F. Stanly, W. Turnage, and there probably will be others.

These are all good men tired of trying to reform the Republican party and will add strength to our ticket. Let our western friends do as well in each county, and Vance will squeeze the fingers of the Republicans twenty thousand majority of more.

Sunday School Excursion.

Yesterday morning the steamer J. S. Underhill, Capt. Potter, took down an excursion party of about three hundred, composed of the children connected with the branch Baptist Sunday school, Mr. J. W. Taylor, superintendent, which holds its sessions in Brooklyn Hall, together with a number of the parents of the children and others. The party passed a good portion of the day at Smithville, but took a short trip outside, giving the youngsters some faint idea of what is meant by "a life on the ocean wave, a home on the rolling tide," etc. Those who participated express themselves as delighted with the trip.

A Dinner for Five.

A gentleman of this city, who has a heart full of sympathy for poor people, and would like to know that they were always enjoying a good dinner these hot Centennial days, suggests the following as a recipe for a very respectable dinner for a party of five persons at the very moderate cost of 55 cents: Two pounds of beef, stewed, 30 cents; one bunch of vegetables, 5 cents; one quart of rice, 15 cents; Irish potatoes, 5 cents, and butter 10 cents. Total 55 cents.

For the Star.

Rev. D. J. Sanders, the efficient pastor of the colored Presbyterian Church of this city, who has been absent for the past nine months, on business in connection with the colored Methodist Church of the South, returned yesterday evening and will immediately resume his labors in the church here. He has visited Edinburgh, Glasgow, Paris, London, and several other populous cities, and has met with great success in accomplishing his mission. In addition to the great number of personal favors from the hands of his friends across the water, we learn that in Glasgow he received a present, from a gentleman, whose name we did not learn, a handsome library of about 150 volumes, valued at $100 to $200. Mr. Sanders is quite a learned man, having graduated with honors from one of the highest Theological Seminaries in his country. In addition to his pastorate in this city, he is the editor of an excellent newspaper published at Charlotte, in this State, and known as the "Southern Evangelist." We have heard his paper very highly spoken of, and believe it is destined to wield a very salutary influence among the more intelligent portion of the colored people of the South. We believe Mr. Sanders is the right man in the right place, and we join his friends in wishing him success in his efforts to elevate his people to the religious standard that all true Christians should desire to see them attain.
