LETTER FROM WILSON.

Raising Tilden and Vance Banner-Henry G. Williams, Esq.-Improvement in Crops, etc. |Star Special Correspondence.]

WILSON, N. C., July 27. A Tilden, Vance and Reform flag was hoisted at this place, in front of the Court House square, yesterday morning, and is now waving about one hundred and fifty feet in the air. Wave on, proud banner, wave on nothing less than victory shall be the result in November next.

The cit rens of this town and vicinity are becoming thoroughly aroused in behalt of the coming election. Wilson is wide awake, and in November next it will cast a larger vote for the Democratic party than it ever has before. The cry is, "Still the good work goes bravely on."

Henry G. Williams, Esq., the ta- terness, while Clarke's effort was an lented editor of the Wilson Advance. is highly spoken of by his many friends in this section as the proper representative for us in this Senatoral District. He is a gentleman well qualified to fill the position, and his great popularity would add strength to our ticket. He is fitted for a much higher sphere of usefulness.

Capt. Dorsey Battle, the politeeditor of that humorous and spicy sheet, the Tarboro Southerner, will address the Tilden and Vance Club of this place at an early date, instead of Capt. Williams, as your correspondent "Moody," in his letter of 26th, informed you.

The crops are looking much improved since the recent rains, and the prospect of a good yield is decidedly flattering.

The weather is very cool for the Tilden, Hendricks and Reform are

The Removal of Weeds, &c. Many of our citizens complain that the city authorities do not render that hearty co-operation, in placing the city in good sanitary condition, that they were led to expect from the Marshal's advertisement in regard to the removal of obnoxious weeds, &c. In a number of instances, we are informed, parties notified have placed the weeds in the streets with a positive promise that they would be promptly removed, and they have had much trouble afterward in inducing the city to remove them. In one instance, we learn, weeds were thus allowed to remain in the street one week after their promised removal, notwithstanding, in the meantime, the attention of the Marshal and Health Officer and a policeman was called to them. If, as is alleged, there is any deficiency in the force necessary to attend to all the work required in this direction with the requisite promptitude, there should be some means adopted to increase the force at once to the proper

A Wise Stroke of Policy.

Some two or three weeks ago, a colored shoemaker's shop, in this city, was robbed of three pairs of boots. Having his suspicions aroused that Lewis Selby, colored, who was committed on Tuesday last by Justice Gardner, to await his trial at the next term of the Superior Court for larceny, might know something about the missing boots, the shoemaker made it is his business, yesterday, to visit the jail and get permission of Jailor Howard to interview the prisoner. The result proved that it was a ise step on his part. He found Selby standing in one pair of the boots, which he had no difficulty in recognizing, and by promising him that he would not prosecute him for the theft if he would tell where the other two pair were to be found, which he could very safely and properly do, seeing that Selby already had as much "law" as he could conveniently stand under, he obtained the desired information, and finally succeeded in getting them into his posses-

The Late C. R. Roundell. The cable dispatch alluded to as having been sent to England, in relation to the sad circumstance of the untimely death of Mr. C. R. Roundell, in the article in our last issue, was, we learn, forwarded by Colone W. L. DeRosset to a friend from whom Mr. Roundell had a letter of introduction to Col. DeRosset. Pending an answer to this dispatch the body and effects of deccased, as is the usual custom in such cases, were in charge of Mr. James Sprunt, Acting British Vice Consul at this port. Yesterday Col. DeRosset received an answer from his friend in England, who stated that he had conferred with the family of the deceased as to the matter referred to, and that they had expressed the wish that the effects of deceased, including the Orton plantation, should be placed in charge of Col. DeRosset until further notice, The body and effects were, therefore, turned over by Vice Consul Sprunt to Col. DeRosset. The following are the effects of Mr. Roundell, which were found by the Coroner and his jury, and by them turned over to their proper custodian:

A sum of money amounting to $25 88, one engraved seal, two post office keys, two gold and pearl shirt studs,. and one bunch of keys, found in his pockets; one box cartridges, foond on his bed; a pistol by the side of his body, with two chambers empty; one pair of linked sleeve buttons; a note for $1,000, dated December 10th, 1875, due seven months after date; $315 02 in currency; £1.0s.21d in English coin, one gold locket, 12 cents in Canada stamps, 95 cents in U. S. stamps, one muzzle-loader shot gun, one gold watch and chain, a diamond ring, and one trunk and valise containing wearing apparel, fishing tackle, &c.

The weapon which was the instrument of sending the unfortunate young man to his last account was what is known as the Adams pistol, of English manufacture, with a 6 inch barrel and 1 inch bore, the stock and barrel altogether being about a foot in

The remains of the lamented young Englishman, who met such a violent and untimely death, whether by his own volition or accidental perhaps will ever remain a mystery to all but the Great Omnipotent, were interred in Oakdale Cemetery, yesterday afternoon, from St. James' Church, in a lot tendered for the purpose by the Young Men's Christian Association; and, though among comparative strangers, with no kindred or intimate friends to follow his body to its probable temporary resting place, there were not lacking those who felt a warm interest in the young man, sincere sorrow for his sad and terrible fate, and heartfelt sympathy for his bereaved kindred and friends across the water. -Sale of a Steamship Line.

The Baltimore Sun records the sale in that city, on Tuesday, for the benefit of creditors, of the property of the Baltimore and Southern Steam Transportation Company, operating between Baltimore and Wilmington, N. C., including four steamships, hoisting engine and boiler, iron safe. platform scales, wheelbarrows, trucks, &c., together with the charter, rights and franchises of the line, ail for $20,000. The steamships are the Raleigh, 593 tons, built in 1873; D. J. Foley, 541 tons, built in 1872; Rebecca Clyde, 443 tons, overhauled in 1871, and the Lucille, 487 tons, overhauled in 1872. There was a good attendance of business men at the sale, but the bidding was very flat. The first bid was $10,000 and for a long while it seemed there would not be another, but one of the trustees said there were liens against the ships for twice hat sum, and the trustees could not sell clear of incumbrance at that price. Then $15,000 was offered, and after hammering away for some time and getting no higher bid the auctioneer stopped, and many persons left. There was a consultation between several parties, and at its conclusion Mr. Bennett announced that the sale would go on peremptorily. A bid of $20,000 was made by Mr. Henry James, and the property was knocked down at that figure. It was stated that Messrs. Henry James, Wm. H. Baldwin, Jr., and John W. D. Pentz were the purchasers as a syndicate of the creditors. Several weeks since the same property was offered at public sale, when $40,000 was the first bid, but the trustees withdrew it. Subsequently a meeting of creditors was held, and in view of the fact that holders of liens were pressing them for payment, and that the ships would in a few days fall into the bands of the United States marshal to be sold, it was decided to sell the property peremptorily. The Raleigh and D. J. Foley are fine steamships, built by John S. Beacham & Bro., Baltimore, and the entire property cost perhaps seven or eight times more than it sold for. When the sale is ratified it is understood the cor poration will make a fresh start. The line has not ceased operations at any time.

We have heretofore called the attention of our city authorities to the condition of the ocality on Second, between Mulberry and Walnut streets, where there is a deep and wide gully washed in the street, rendering it not only difficult but dangerous for the passage of vehicles or pedestrians, especially at night. It has been in that condition ever since the great storm of the 30th of June. Some slight attempt was made to fill it up, but we learn from some of the residents in that vicinity that the loads dumped into the cavity were of such a character that it should have been carried for some distance beyond the city limits, where the disagreeable odor arising from it could not reach the olfactories of our citizens. It is hoped the City Marshal will see that the matter is attended to at as early a moment as practicable.

A Republican Club.

The Republicans of this city had a meeting on Fifth, between Mulberry and Walnut streets, last night, and formed a club to be known as the Settle and Smith Campaign Club, of the city of Wilmington. The following were elected as officers of the club: President, W. H. Moore: Vice Presidents, James Heaton, Solomon H. Nixon, John Burnett, Elias Council, David Cooper; Treasurer, W. H. Howe, Sr.; Secretary, Alexander Jones; Assistant Secretary, Alexander Sampson.

Of course there was a large crowd of the supporters of Settle and Smith present. Both parties in Wilmington have now organized clubs, and we may consider that the campaign has really opened.

Commissioner's Court.

Capt. J. H. Bird, of the Schr. Addie M. Chadwick, was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner S. Van Amringe, yesterday afternoon, on the affidavit of Daniel Richardson, a colored man, charged with committing assault and battery upon him on the high seas, on the 28th of May last, when about three days out from Boston, bound for the Navassa Islands. Without coming to a decision in the case, the Court adjourned until this morning at 10 o'clock. Capt. Bird conducted his own defence, and displayed no little ability, especially in his argument before the Commissioner, which would have done credit to a great many of the legal profession.

J. H. Smyth, colored, appeared for the prosecution, and was very pointed and emphatic in his remarks in regard to the rights of seamen.

Competitive Examinations.

We learn that Messrs, DuBrutz Cutlar, A. R. Black and R. K. Bryan have been appointed a committee to conduct the competitive examination for Col. A. M. The Red Men's Excursion.

Though the crowd was not very large, we learn that the excursion down the river yesterday, on the steamer Waccaman. under the auspices of Wyoming Tribe No. 4, Improved Order of Red Men. was a very pleasant and enjoyable one. A portron of the crowd went to the Blackfish grounds and the rest remained at Smithville and passed the interval in dancing at the academy. The fishing party were not very successful in consequence of the wind being rather heavy and unfavorable, accompanied by the usual amount of sea-

The excursionists returned late last evening, well pleased with their trip.

The Double Excursion. The double excursion train, under the management of Mr. J. S. Tomlinson, which left here for Henry's Station Tuesday morning, arrived here on the return trip, yesterday morning, with quite a number of excursionists on board. This morning, about 8 o'clock, the party will take a trip down the river on the steamer J. S. Underhill, a very fine boat for the purpose.

It is the opinion of Mr. Tomlinson that he will have a much larger crowd going up to-morrow than he had on Tuesday. Thermometer Record.
