BAKERSVILLE, N. C., Aug 3.

The discussion to-day was before the largest crowd ever known in Mitchell county. It is a finely matched couple, Vance and Settle; two of the handsomest men in the State, and each with a master mind to grapple. Vance shows to advantage over Settle from his long experience on the stump; in fact, he was born for that business. And another advantage he has, he only appeals to the good judgment of the people, while Settle opens up the old war sores and tries to make capital out of their prejudices in holding up Vance's war record. Vance figures up the great stealings and corruptions of the administration party, and calls on Settle to stand to them or deny them; and Settle answers by not answering at all, but dodges behind Vance's war record. The people see this too Many Republicans expressed themselves much dissatisfied at Judge Settle's course in regard to

These questions Settle dealt with playfully, saying they had no sense in them, and reminded him of the question if corn was fifty cents a bushel, and three pecks to the bushel, how much would it take to shingle a house? His speech was a column and a half of brevier close, and contained only two poetical extracts. The following is the concluding sentence of the Governor's peroration: "The oppressive reign of tyranny is banished from our country, and the towering eagle, perched on the summit of the tree of liberty, with the talisman's glittering glory encircled in his talons, proclaims to all the world freedom and protection to all American citizens.'

Rev. W. C. Normon welcomed the visiting members on behalf of the resident Good Templars, Rev. W. C. Bowman, of Mitchell county, responded on the part of the delegates from abroad. Both speeches were fine. The Grand Lodge was opened in the subordinate degree, after which the Grand Lodge degree was conferred upon such delegates as had not taken it.

A Tramp Arrested on the Charge of Larceny-A Skeleton Key Found in his Possession.

Sheriff Herrell, of Pender county, arrived in the city Tuesday evening with a white prisoner, who gives his name as James Sprawls, and who is committed to L. B. Huggins, fail to await a hearing at the next term of the Superior Court of Pender, on the charge of larceny. He is a tramp, and say she belongs in St. John's, New Brunswick. It appears that a colored mas, by the name of Jesse Herring, who lives near Leesburg, had occasion to leave his house for a short time, on Sunday last, when, in going from his premises, he discovered three white men lying down under a shed near his place, apparently asleep. Upon The report of the Grand Worthy returning he found his house open, and discovered that a pistol and perhaps other things had been stolen during his absence. His mind at once recurred to the three men he had seen asleep under the shed, and he went to the place to see if they were still there, but they were gone. Later in the day, however, Sheriff Horrell came upon the three men or the county road about three miles from Burgaw, making their way in the direction of Wilmington. He arrested them and found the pistol in the possession of the man Sprawls. He kept them in his custody until Monday, when they were carried before Justice J. D. Sellars, who, upon hearing the evidence, released the two other men, who gave their names as Thomas Ferrell and Ed. Minekie, and ordered Spraw's to give bond in the sum of $100 for his appearance at the next term of the Superior Court, in default of which he was brought down and lodged in our county fail, as before stated.

The other two men, who are also strange tramps, are now no doubt in Wilmington, as Sheriff Horrell passed them on the road here Tuesday evening.

A skeleton key was found in one of Sprawls' pockets, which, upon being tested by the Sheriff, was found capable of unlocking nearly every door upon which it

An invitation is extended by the above club, and its Executive Committee, to every Conservative and Democratic voter of the ward, and those from the country who may be in the city, to meet at the Ward headquarters on Third street, opposite the City Hall, over Munds' drug store, this (Thursday) evening, at half-past seven o'clock, SHARP, to join in the procession and participate in the Grand Ratification of the lovers of reform, honest officials and good government.

Second Ward Attention! The Democrats of the Second Ward will assemble for participation in the Grand Ratification this evening in front of the Court House, at a quarter to 8 o'clock sharp. Lamp torches have been secured and will be furnished for the use of the Ward in procession. Let every Democrat in the Ward join in and contribute by his presence towards making the occasion a grand success, and reflecting honor upon his Ward.

Another Ticket.

The latest ticket out, composed of Democrats and Republicans, is the following. given in the order in which we find it: County Commissioners, Silas N. Martin, John Norwood, James H. Chadbourn, Delaware Nixon, H. Vollers; Treasurer, E. E. Burruss; Sheriff, A. R. Black; Senate, A. T. London; House of Representatives, Owen Burney, Allen Evans.

Magistrate's Court.

Elisha Merrick, Samuel Merrick and Henry McRae, all colored, were arraigned before Justice Gardner, yesterday afternoon, charged with purchasing cattle. knowing them to have been stolen. It appears that four cattle, two fine milch cows, one steer and one heifer, were stolen from Messrs. J. H. and Solomon Webb, of Brunswick county, a few days since, and brought to this city and sold to the men referred to, who are butchers. They purchased the animals of a colored man, who, in giving his receipt for the money, signed not know the man and could not say whether that was his real name; or a fictitious one. The defence took the ground. however, that the cattle were offered in market; that the Iman assured them that they were his property, and although they got them at a very low figure compared with the market price, and two of the animals (the milch cows) were not such cattle as are usually sold in the market for beef, they were justified in buying them because they had no evidence that they were not really the property of the man who had them for sale and that he had not come by them honestly. The case was dismissed, the evidence not being deemed sufficient to convict.

The next case called was that of Adam McRae, charged with assault and battery on the person of hts wife, Alice McRae, It appears that a warrant had been issued for Adam on the 17th of March last, on the affidavit of his wife, charged with beating her; that soon after the assault was made upon her he took the train and left for parts unknown, so that the officer who was entrusted with the warrant was unable to find him and serve it upon him. Think ing, perhaps, that the matter had blown over he came back on Tuesday, and, soon after making his appearance on the streets, found himself in the clutches of the officer with the warrant. He was found guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $50 and costs. He was also tried for wilful abandonment and fined $25 and costs, and then arraigned on a peace warrant, under which he was required to give a justified bond in the sum of $200 for his appearance at Court, in default of which, including the fines and costs in the cases first mentioned, he was committed to jail, where he will remain until the next term of the Superior Court. Yesterday, between 1 and 2 o'clock, P. M., a young colored man by the name of Essick Griswold, aged between 20 and 25 years, an employe on the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad, got his left leg accidentally broken or crushed. It seems that he, with several other dirt hands, were on a gravel train, in charge of Capt. B. W. Williams, on its way from the local depot to the Union shed, when, in passing along, the men commenced jumping off for the purpose of getting their dinner. When near the corner of Seventh street, close by which his house was located, Griswold also jumped off, although warned that he had better wait until the train reached Seventh street, when it would stop. In springing from the train his leg came in violent contact with the corner of a cross-tie, with the result already mentioned. The wounded man was taken to the hospital, where Dr. W. W. Lane, the Surgeon in charge, examined his leg and found it so badly mashed and crushed that amoutation was necessary, which was performed by Dr. Lane, assisted by Dr. J. C. Walker, the leg being taken off just below the knee. At last accounts Griswold was doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

city, residents in the neighborhood of Seventh and Dawson streets, in the southern portion of the city, were startled by cries of distress proceeding from the street, and which appeared to come from a female. Some of those nearest the spot where the cries were heard hastened to investigate the matter, when they found a colored woman prostrate in the street, with the rain pouring down upon her, and by her side a new-born infant that had evidently just come into the world. Fortunately a colored midwife, by the name of Hager Henry, lived near by, and a messenger was sent for her, who, upon her arrival, took charge of the child and had the woman removed to her house, where both received every attention which the nature of their cases required. The woman upon being questioned said she lived in the neighborhood of the Poor House, and that she came to town with the expectation of returning home at an early hour vesterday morning. but, being suddenly overcome by physical prostration, she had fallen upon the street and could get no further; and there, in the dark hours that precede the dawn, amid thunder, lightning and storm, on a bed of sand and deluged with rain, she experienced the extremity of mortal agony, rendered more terrible and unendurable by the fear-

The Tanyard Nalsance. Sergeant McGarrigle, who now has six men under him, is, we learn, making very commendable progress in the work of remedying the old tanyard nuisance, though it takes some time to remove the rubbish, such as trash, weeds, &c., which had been put in the cavity, and which has to be taken out to enable him to reach the sewer. The sewer was constructed under the superintendence of Sergeant McGarrigle years ago, while Mr. Dawson was mayor, and he knows exactly what is needed to do away with all cause for apprehension or complaint in that quarter.
