JOURNALISTIC. Mr. Cicero W. Harris announces through the advertising columns of the Stan this morning, that he will begin the publication of a new daily paper in this city on or about October 10. Mr. Harris possesses the qualifications necessary to make a goo l paper, and we wish him every success. Apart from his capacity, he is a most deserving gentleman, and we trust he may more than realiz: his most sanguine hopes.

Spirits Turpentine.

Diphtheria is making fearful rayages in Clotham county. Some families have lost all their children.

- Mr. Hugh McCubbins, an old citizen of Raleigh, died on Thursday last. He was 74 years of age.

- Dr. Gordon, of Toisnot, was seriously injured a few days since by being thrown from his horse.

- Tar River Beacon: On Saturday last our streets were overrun with new and our merchants and cotton spec ulators were busily employed.

— Mr. James Smith, who lives a few miles from Raleigh, was nearly killed on Thursday in a runaway by a mule. He was dragged a long distance.

- Favetteville Wide Awake: The ng, so beautifully unfurled to the breeze at Blockersville not long since, was cut down by some scallawag a few nights ago. -The Washington Echo has changed hands and Major S. T. Wright has assumed the duties of sole proprietor and editor. It will henceforth be issued on Sat-

- Washington What Next: The many friends of Rev. P. H. Dalton and Jamily, in this town, were grieved a day or two since at the announcement of the death of their eldest son Archie, who died at Hampden Sidney College, Virginia, one day last week. Archie was studying for the ministry, was a bright, promising, ex-emplary young man, whose life bid fair to be one of much usefulness. He was the pride of his parents, and just ripening into a nuble manhood.

Good News from Stanley. [Raleigh News.]

We are credibly informed that the Tilden and Vance Glubs of Stanly county number one thousand members. There is perhaps no county in the State in which our Democratic organization is so thorough as Stanly, and Deputy Sheriff Smitherman, of Montgomery, who was in the city yesterday, said he would not be at all surprised if Stanly gave Vance 1,000 majority. His own county and Moore he represents as all right. Both will give Vance an increase

Through the courtesy of Mr. Henry Nutt, of this city, we examined yesterday The Work at New Inlet.

Proposals for continuing work for the contraction of the New Inlet, at the mouth of the Cape Fear River, and for furnishing an'l delivering stone on government lighters, either at the inlet or at the quarries on the river, accessible to tug-boats, will be received at the office of Maj ir W. P. Craighill, at Baltimore, until noon of October 18th, 1876, immediately after which they will be opened. Fuller particulars may be obtained from Mr. Henry Nutt, of this city, who will take pleasure in giving any information desired.

Rev. J. B. Taylor, of the First Baptist Church, who has been absent in Virginia for several weeks past, recuperating from the effects of his late severe illness, was expected to arrive home last evening. He will be cordially and heartily welcomed by his charge and the community generally.
