Washington News. From Special to Richmond Dispatch WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 16.

The eulogies pronounced by members of both parties upon the late Speaker, Michael Kerr, were eloquent and generous, though, as Mr. Cox remarked, such obsequies have almost become a mockery of woe.

Half of the seats upon the Republican side were vacant, while the gal leries were better filled than usual. The customary resolutions were passed, and the House adjourned until Monday.

Mosby said he did call upon the President and show him the telegram from General Hampton, although he does not think Hampton has the law on his side. Mosby says he did not see General Johnston; and when I remarked that Hampton's friends condemn him for applying to him for aid, Mosby replied that he had no doubt Virginia politicians had rather see South Carolina damned than that my good should come to her through

Hayes and the south [Special to the New York Herald.]

CHICAGO, Dec. 15, 1876. It is positively stated here to-day. by a gentleman of unquestionably trustworthy character, that a liepublican leader of great prominence in the Western States, and who is known to maintain strictly confidential relations with Governor Hayes, is now on his way to Washington, with the sanction of the Republican Presidential candidate, to propose, and if found practicable, conclude an arrangement in the nature of a compromise, between the most influential members of the Republican party and such prominent conservative Southern Democrats as Congressman Lamar, of Mississippi, and Ben Hill, of Georgia, on the basis of the assent of the latter to the unchallenged deciaration of Haves' election and the inauguration of Hayes as President, with the assurance of a satisfactory division of Cabinet officers and other positions of honor and profit under the Federal administration.

BADICAL BRUTILITY IN LOUI-

Black Men Intimidated, Banlahed and Killed for Voting the Democratle Ticket.

- | Special to Baltimore Gazette. | NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 15.

The revelations before the committee to-day troubled the Republicans extremely. The testimony covered many points brought out by colored men who had left the Republican politicians and joined the Democrats on account of the deceit and treachery practiced by the Republican politicians toward the colored men, their robbery of the school-fund deposits in the freedmen's bank, and their general bad conduct by which the people had been brought to general ruin. One old man, named Carroll, was very eloquent, and spoke with deep feeling. He said here was no hope for the State or the colored people except in the Dem cratic party, and that if the colcred people were let alone there would net be a thousand Republican votes in tha State. Carroll, and Ward, a well-known colored Republican, teatified to the intimidation practiced on colored men who wanted to join the Democrats by their own race, principally through the ministers who threatened to turn them out of the church, and advised their wives to leave them. A witness named Morgan related the way the customhouse affidavits were made up after the election, showing how the clerks pretended to write down answers, without reading it over to the witDesnes. He also told of an interview it up. It will be carried at the head of the while. without reading it over to the wit-

From Washington. [Special to the Richmond Dispatch]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15. Some members of Congress think that as Hampton's attempt to exercise gubernatorial functions will necessarily bring him in contact with the Chamberlain government, the President will interpose by dispersing any body of men claiming to exercise legislative functions under Hamp-

The story is revived that in case the Southern men show a disposition to accept the situation and make no active antagonism to the inauguration of Governor Hayes, that L. Q. C. Lamar, of Mississippi, is to be accorded a cabinet position. This is as near the truth, perhaps, as the report telegraphed away last night that President Grant is to be Hayes' Secretary of War.

Hon. William S. Groesbeck, of Ohio, has been attending the debate at the Capitol for several days.

Detarmined to Carry Out the Plot. The New York World's special Washington correspondence says:

"The Administration party, by which I mean principally the clique of officeholders who have managed the Presidential campaign, intend to carry out their fraudulent scheme to the bitter end, and utterly without regard to consequences. They have undoubtedly acquired entire control of President Grant, who is prepared to go any lengths to aid them."

end of the line:

MAYOR'S OFFICE, CHARLOTTE, Dec. 15, 1876. To Capt. Matthew P. Taylor, commanding

the Wilmington Light Infantry: Dear Sir:-Learning that the Wilmington Light Infantry will arrive here on the evening of the 29th inst., to constitute a part of the escort to Gov, Vance to Raleigh on the 30th of December, I am authorized, and do most heartily extend to you and your command the hospitality of the city of Charlotte during your sojourn with us.

The Hornet's Nest Riflemen will be plersed to greet you on arrival, and to conduct you to the Central Hotel, where quarters are provided for the company. Very respectfully yours,

WM. JOHNSTON, Mayor. The Charlotte Observer says the Hornet's Nest Riflemen have received information that the most ample arrangements have been made for the entertainment of the military at Raleigh on the occasion of the inauguration. They will be entertained while in the city at the expense of the citizens.

The programme, so far as made out, adds the Observer, is about as follows: On Friday night, the 29th, the company will appear at the Lincoln depot for the purpose of meeting the Wilmington Light Insantry, who are expected to arrive at 8:30. The visiting company will then be escorted to the Central Hotel, where they will be entertained at the city's expense. At 7:30 on Saturday morning, the 30th, both companies will board an extra train, which will be run for the special accommodation of the Governor and themselves. They will reach Raleigh about 3:30 p. m., and the remainder of the evening will be spent in parading the streets, the weather permitting. It is probable that the military will not leave until Tuesday at noon.

The Raleigh Observer of the 16th says: 'Arrangements were concluded yesterday evening, with 'mine host,' of the National to furnish the Wilmington Light Infantry with their 'rations' when they come to the inauguration. One of the halls has been secured for their use as barracks. Bring your blankets along, boys, it is colder here than in the 'City by the Sea,' and let evervbody that can leave home come to the inauguration, for it will be a time long to be remembered in North Carolina."

The Gipsies in Trouble.

A colored deputy from Wake county arrived here on horseback Sunday morning, and proceeded to the camp of the gipsy band at Hilton, where one of the masculine members of the party was arrested. the charge against him being that he traded horses or mules with a party in Wake and the animal received by the latter was subsequently found to have been stolen. The accused, accompanied by the officer, called on Sheriff Manning, to whom he stated that if the animal had been stolen he had no hand in the matter, at the same time venturing the remark that this was a "great country," when a man could not carry on a legitimate business without being subjected to such annoyances. The Sheriff told him he could do nothing for him and that he had better go to Raleigh quietly with the officer and clear up the matter. This he concluded to do, and soon after left the camp, accompanied by another of the band, both of whom were searched before starting and found to have no weapons about them. They are to go the entire distance on horseback, the accused being mounted on the animal in dispute and the officer armed and otherwise prepared for any emergency that may develope itself on the route.

Death of a Former Wilmingtonian. A letter from Brunswick, Ga., to a gentleman in this city, conveys information of the death is that place, on the 7th inst., of James Lee, formerly of this city, where he was well known, having served on the police force previous to the change in the political status of affairs here. Previous to his death he made a will, leaving his effects to the poor, and making over his cash in hand, some $250 or $300, to an orphan girl by the name of Barns, whose stepfather is an Englishman named Bartlett. 'Oa bis death bed he made frequent allusions to his many friends here, and expressed a great desire to live long enough to know definitely that Mr. Tilden had been elected President. He seems to have had many strong frie de in Brunswick. He was a native of Yarmouth, England.

A Suspicious Character.

There was a suspicious character dodging about in the neighborhood of Front and Market streets Sunday night, and from his actions there is no doubt that he was up to mischief. The police had their eyes on him and kept on his track for some time, but he finally gave them the slip, disappearing so suddenly that no one could tell where he went to. The officers did not get close enough to him to distinguish his color.
