From Washington. [Special to the Richmond Dispatch.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15. The President stated to day that he did not intend his dispatch to Gen. Augur as materially an instruction to recognize Packard, or as changing the orders already given to that officer. He intimated strongly that the Nicholls government wa going too far, and that he had felt it necessary to call a halt. He seems anxious to keep up a show of life for the Packard Government.

The two committees on the Electoral Vote met to-day, but came to no final agreement. A majority of both committees are understood to favor the scheme of reference to an advisory tribunal. L. Q. W.

[Special to the Richmond Whig.] WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.

The House committee are said to be willing that the commission should consist of five Senators, five Representatives and five Justices-none to be dropped; or that it consist of five Senators, five Representatives and six Justices-one of the sixteen to be dropped by lot.

By the first of the House propositions the Justices would be Clifford and Field, Democrats, Davis, Liberal Republican, and Swayne and Miller, Republicans.

By the last proposition, which appears more likely to be adopted, if any is, Justice Strong, a Republican, will be added to these, and from the sixteen one will be dropped. The Democrats with unanimity voted for a resolution offered by a Reany attempt to excite the public publican member, which deprecated mind in regard to the Presidential controversy, but the Republicrns voted solidly against a resolution of-fered by Mr. Caulfield to limit the military and naval force that may lawfully be ssationed within the District of Columbia in times of peace.

bution of the force. Under the present system a large portion of the city is entirely unprotected. Unmailable Letters. 269 The following unmailable letters remain in the postoffice in this city: Chas. Parthridge, New York; True & Co., Augusta, Me.; Gen. Meg & Co., St. Louis, Mo.; J. Worth & Co., St. Louis, Mo.; J. & J. Evans, St. Paul's, N. C.; W. G. Wilson & Co., Philadelphia; Augustus Baker, Pee Dee; Agnes A. Evans, Philadelphia; W. B. W., Richmond, Va.

A seaman by the name of Matinus Olsen, belonging on the Norwegian barque Viking, now in this port, was arrested yesterday, under orders from Vice Consul Heide, and confined in the Guard House for safe keeping. The charge against him s mutiny.

Burgiaries and Robberies.

We heard yesterday of not less than six or eight distinct burglaries and robberies that occurred in this city during Monday night, and the chances are that there were several that did not come to our knowledge.

One or more of the thieves entered the front piazza of Mr. Alfred Martin's residence on Market, between Fourth and Fifth streets, and succeeded in forcing open one of the large windows leading into the library. The desk had been opened, but the papers it contained were not disturbed, and in fact nothing was missed from the room. Mr. E. S. Martin, who occupied a room in the third story, awoke during the night and became impressed with the idea that there were thieves in the house. He struck a light, and it is supposed that the reflection of the same was seen by the thief, who became frightened and departed before he had completed his operations. He used a lever of some sort under the lower sash of the window, forcing it upwards so as to loosen the fastenings which confined the sash in position.

The residence of Mr. Marsden Bellamy, on Market, between Sixth and Seventh streets, was visited. The sash from one of the windows had been removed, and the thief entered Mr. Bellamy's room, rifling his pockets of their contents, which fortunately did not amount to much, while the drawers of a bureau in an adjoining room were also found to be ransacked. Mr. Bellamy, who was aroused by the noise, found the gas in his room extinguished, that the window sash was removed and standing against a tree in the yard, and both the front and back doors open.

A raid was made upon the residence of Dr. M. J. DeRosset, corner of Market and Third streets, entrance to the building being effected by forcing open the back door. The room occupied by his children was visited, but nothing was missed therefrom. The Doctor heard the noise and supposed it was caused by some of the children, but upon starting to investigate the matter encountered the thief, who proved to be a colored individual, and who beat a hasty retreat by the way he had entered. About 3 o'clock yesterday morning an attempt was made to enter the residence of Mr. J. D. Woody, on Fifth, between Princess and Chesnut streets, but the operations of the thief were discovered and he was frightened off, two shots being fired after him by Mr. W. as he hurriedly left the There is no doubt that there is a regularly organized band of burglars and thieves now in this city, and the indications are that some of them are experts at the business, being provided, no doubt, with the tools and instruments necessary for prosecuting their nefarious work. Some decided steps will have to be taken at once to break up this systematic stealing, and probably the surest way, under the circumstances, will be to organize an old-fashioned citizens' guard, which used to be very effective and can be so again. At present there is scarcely any protection to property from the depredations of these night prowlers.

The following cases were disposed of yesterday morning, Mayor Canaday presiding.

threatening to kill his wife, was ordered to give a justifled bond in the sum of $500 for his appearance at the next term of the Superior Court, and to keep the peace toward his wife and all other good citizens.

B advances $800 on the tobacco. but found, on examination, that the tobacco was damaged, and was not worth exceeding $500. He notifies A of the fact, and receives no reply; he held the tobacco six months for A, and not knowing the credit and standing of A, sells the tobacco for $600. A sues B for $1,000, and a verdict was rendered in his favor, for the amount in the Superior Court of Dallas, Judge Schenck presiding. Several prominent lawyers of the Charlotte bar agree that the verdict was just and correct."

Another Fugitive.

A circular from a Detective Agency was received at the office of the City Marshal, yesterday, containing the portrait of one Chas. S. Carrigan, Agent of the New York Transfer Company, in Brooklyn, who absconded on the 1st day of January, taking with him $600 in currency and a number of railroad tickets. He is described as about 33 to 35 years of age, 5 feet 7 to 8 inches in height, rather good build, full face, complexion inclined to be florid. walks erect, has a boastful way of talking, &c. His photograph can be seen at the Marshal's office, where it is posted.

A Queer Robbery. One of the toughest cases of robbery that we remember to have heard of took place in this city Monday night. The thieves actually took a chisel, or some other instrument of the kind, removed the brick enclosing the corner stone of Mount Zion Colored M. E.
