From Washington. [Special to the Richmond State.] WASHINGTON, Feb. 3, 2:30 P. M.

The whole morning was occupied in discussion between O'Connor. Evarts and Black. After recess the first argument was by Merrick, who was followed by Black. Both of these speeches were very fine and logical, making excellent impressions.

What Hayes Says.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4. A special from Cincinnati says that Colonel F. C. Campbell, a prominent lawyer of this city and a personal friend of Governor Hayes, visited Columbus yesterday, and while there had a brief interview with the Republican Presidential candidate. During the conversation Colonel Camp bell remarked, "I suppose you do not care to give any opinions on the Presidential question at this time." Governor Hayes replied, "Oh yes, I am stating it in this way. It has now become a law suit, and we have a good case, good lawyers, a good court and good prospects."

Mardi Gras in New York. NEW YORK, Feb. 4.

At a meeting of the business men of this city, last evening, at the Union Square Hotel, seventy-two leading firms were represented, and have agreed to take part in the coming Mardi Gras Carnival, which will take blace on Easter Monday. The hotels have contributed from $300 to $500 each, and there is now over $10,000 at the disposal of the financial committee. The Academy of Music and Irving Hall have been engaged for the Carnival ball.

The President Calls upon Mr. Ste-|Special to the N. Y. Herald. |

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3. The President did a graceful thing this afternoon in calling upon Alexander H. Stephens, who still lies dangerously ill at the National Hotel, in this city. The last days of Mr. Stephens-for there is very little prospect that he will recover from his present illness-are watched by Mrs. Coleman, who is the daughter of John J. Crittenden, Kentucky's famous Senator.

After the salutation and exchange of courtesies which the occasion suggested, Mr. Stephens inquired particularly for Mrs. Grant, and then the conversation which was very brief turned upon the interesting and absorbing political topic of the time. Mr. Stephens said he felt that his life was drawing to a close, and that it was a cause of great consolation to him to know that the result of the Presidential contest would be a peaceful one, and that the hour of supreme peril to the country had passed away The President, in reply, said he was extremely thankful that events have been so shaped, and that from the moment the commission was agreed upon peace was foreshadowed. President Grant then said that from now until the 4th of March the days were wearisome to him, and he was anxious to escape from the cares and tribulations of office and would gladly lay down his power. "The next four fore the Cadets. said he, "will be very long to me, and I am impatient for the end.'

A Bishop Defends the Stage. [Cable special to the N. Y. Herald.]

LONDON, Feb. 3. The Bishop of Manchester delivered an address last night, in the Theatre Royal, Manchester, to the companies of that Theatre and the Queen's. It was another noble and Queen's. It was another noble and eloquent defence. He said he was the first bishop of the Church of Eng"Abby House and Joe Medlia nuisance." land, if not the first bishop of Christ's Church, that ever addressed a congregation in a theatre. a great many men about Raleigh who want to go to the penitentiary—as officials with a salary attached. - Senator Mebane has introduced a bill "to provide for an Inferior Court in the several counties in the State to, be entitled a Court of Common Pleas."

- It appears that the resignation of Solicitor J. C. L. Harris will render further investigation concerning his impeach-ment unnecessary and save the State fully

- Forty-seven new Granges have been organized in this State the past year, making five hundred and forty-eight, with a total membership of about seventeen thousand.

-The regular annual session of the North Carolina State Grange Patrons of Husbandry will assemble in the city of Goldsboro on Tuesday next. A large attendance is expected. - Raleigh Sentinel: A correspondent writes that in a trip of three weeks in the counties of Wake, Franklin, Warren and Halifax, he did not find a single opposition to taxing the dogs. The Raleigh Sentinel says the Second North Carolina Regiment turned out four judges since the war: Judges By-num, Hilliard, Faircloth and Cox-two Supreme and two Circuit Judges. - The Raleigh News thinks the Legislature should pass a law to protect the partridges, and states that up to the 15th of January 50,000 of these birds had been shipped, chiefly from High Point, Greensboro and Company Shops. - Charlotte Democrat: We learn that Mr. Thos. H. Gaither has sold to A. R. Homesly & Co., the Stowesville Cotton Factory, located on the Catawba river,

- Piedmont Press: We learn that a row occurred at "Sronce town" near the Lincoln county line last week, in which one young man was cut in the arm, and ag artery being severed he came very near bleeding to death before medical assistance could be had.

- Raleigh Observer: Gov. Vance yesterday received a communication from a colored man, who stated that he had read his inaugural address and message to the Legislature, which so much pleased him, the colored gentleman, that he had forwarded to His Excellency a fine wild turkey gobbler. The Governor replied in a proper manner by letter.

-- Charlotte Democrat: For the year 1876 the Auditor's report shows a return of 103,307 white polls, and 52,599 colored polls, giving an aggregate of 155,906. Yet in the same year, the 7th of November election shows an aggregate of 228,982 votes cast. So it appears that 73,076 voters did not pay poll tax last year, and the State is defrauded to that extent.

- A Raleigh correspondent of the Charlotte Observer writes: "The Western Insane Asylum is an elephant on the Legislature's hands. Already $75,000 has been sunk on it, and the walls are not above ground. All this must be lost or the building finished at a cost of say $400,000. - Five "blockade" wagons and teams, all loaded with whiskey, brandy and tobacco, were captured in Yadkin county on last Sunday. The Salem Press says that one of the wagons, the contents of which were properly stamped, was re-leased. The remaining four, with teams and loading, were forwarded to Greens-boro, on Tuesday, the headquarters of the revenue officials for this district. Two of the men were bound over in the sum of $500 each for their appearance at the next term of the Federal Court.

The address very highly spoken of by those who had the good fortune to hear it, and we regret exceedingly not being able to present a more minute report of it, but the meeting had adjourned ere our reporter arrived, and

A Grand Encampment.

The Charlotte Observer learns that there s a plan on foot among the military companies of the State to make an effort to get all the companies together some time during the approaching summer and have a grand encampment. That paper says: So far as we can learn no plan has been proposed, but the idea is to have a conference between representatives from each company, and decide upon some watering place or springs, where the company may spend week or more under the tent. All will be required to sleep and eat in their tents, and be kept under strict military rule, in order that they may have some experience in

The Observer has no doubt that the plan would meet with the approval of all the military men. A week during the dull summer season could be given up to it without loss of time, as all the young men could defer their usual summer vacation till then. Besides the recreation and fun which would be afforded by such a plan, it would bring together the rising young men from all portions of the State, establish social relations and kindly feelings between the leading cities, and strengthen the ties which bind the people of the State to-

The one draw back is that the companies have not been furnished with the necessary accoutrements in the way of tents, &c. If this matter could be arranged, all other difficulties could be arranged.

Mayor's Court. The following cases were disposed yesterday morning:

Peter Batson was up for drunkenness and work for ten days on the streets.

The same, charged with being disorderly others, was ordered to pay a fine of $50 and costs, or work for thirty days on the streets.

Wm. Phinney, charged with cursing and acting disorderly, and drawing a deadly weapon (a razor) on Handy Williams. Defendant was ordered to give a justified bond in the sum of $200 for his appearance at the next term of the Superior Court, and to abide by the decision thereof.

A party charged with selling liquor by the small measure without paying license to carry on the bar-room business, submitted, and judgment was suspended on the payment of costs.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

Proceedings of the Regular Session. The Board met in regular session at 74 o'clock, yesterday evening; present, John G. Wagner, Chairman, and Commissioners B. G. Worth, Isaac B. Grainger, D. Nixon, and D. Holmes.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved, with the following correction, to-wit: Ordered further, that the bill of costs against R. F. Eyden be referred to a committee, consisting of I. G. Grainger and B. G. Worth, as to its legality, to report thereon at the next meeting. Application of Eda Larkins for assistance was referred to the Poor Committee. J. C. Munds, having put in the lowest bid to furnish prescriptions to the out-door poor, the contract was awarded to him to the first of January, 1878, at 25 cents per prescription. Several parties were granted licenses to retail spirituous liquors. The report of the Committee on Outdoor Poor for January, 1877, was received and ordered in the minutes.

The report of the Committee on Work House, relative to property belonging to the county, was received and ordered in the minutes.

Commissioners Wagner and Holmes were appointed a Committee to see that the property turned over to the Messrs. Mathes & Bros., by the Commissioners, be returned to the County Work House, and that what is not needed be sold at auction. Commissioner Wagner offered the fol-

The Board then adjourned.

Determined Effort of a Prisoner to Escape-Exciting Chase and Re capture.

While an officer was engaged in obeying an order of the Mayor, yesterday morning, to bring the prisoner Alonzo Elvi before him, and while going through the passage on the way to the Court room, the prisoner suddenly gave a leap, disengaging himself from the clutches of the officer, and started off at full speed. Getting outside of the hall, he ran in the direction of Princess street, turning the corner and going up towards Fourth street. Being barefooted and having the advantage of a very strong incentive to accelerate his movements, visions of a long confinement within the walls of the penitentiary looming up before him, he was making excellent time and would in all probability have left his pursuers behind, but for the fact that just as he had rounded the corner of Third and Princess streets he found himself nearly face to face with Emanuel Nichols, the colored janitor at the Court House, who, as Elvi was passing him full tilt, placed one foot in front of the fugitive and dexterously tripped him up, sending his heels flying high in the air, and before the prisoner could recover himself the pursuing officers were upon him and he was secured. Upon finding himself recaptured, Elvi remarked that he was not guilty of the crime ordered to pay a fine of $5 and costs, or | wherewith he was charged, upon which he was asked why, if that was the case, he had made such a determined effort to run. Every moment of delay makes your cure more hopeless, and much depends on the judicious choice of a remedy. The amount of testimony in favor of Dr. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure for Consumption, far exceeds all that can be brought to support the pretensions of any other medicine. See Dr. Schenck's Almanac, containing the certificates of many persons of the highest respectability, who have been restored to health, after being pronounced incurable by physicians of acknowledged ability. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup alone has cured many, as these evidences will show; but the cure is often promoted by the employment of two other remedies which Dr. Schenck provides for the purpose. OBITUARY.

Mr. SALTER LLOYD departed this life, at his residence in Brunswick county, on Sunday, the 4th inst., after a protracted illness, aged 69 years.

A refined and educated gentleman, devoted to principle, with a heart full of kindness and charity to all, the idol of his family, few men have enjoyed se large a share of the confidence and affection of all who knew him. Mr. Lloyd leaves a wife and six children, and a large number of relatives and friends to mourn his loss. The people of his county, and indeed of this whole section of the State, have sustained a loss in the death of so curtivated and benevolent a gentleman. Requiescat in pace.
