ERROR.

It is erroneously stated in the article on county government that Sheriffs are elected by the Commissioners. They are elected by the people. It was a slip of the pen.

By Last Night's Mail.

From Washington. [Special to the Richmond Whig.] WASHINGTON, Feb. 6, 1:20 P. M.

The session of the Commission was the scene of great forensic display, the contestants being Hons. William Evarts and Charles O'Conor. Both spoke at length, and both contributed striking views of the question. Mr. Evarts' positions, however, were only a presentation in a somewhat ingenious shape of the stereotyped Republican doctrine that the acts of the State canvassers and the Governor's certificate are final and conclusive.

Mr. O'Conor, in addition to other points heretofore presented, argued that as the House, in a given contingency, had the power to choose a President, therefore that body had the power to ascertain, by all proper evidence, whether an election of President had taken place, and that the Senate had the same power in respect to its choice of a Vice President. This power was now transferred to the Commission, and was only limited by the occasion and the period of time in which it must be ex-

One of the prominent counsel of the Republican side expresses the opinion that there has not been any development of views yet sufficient to foreshadow the decision of the Commission, but that by Wednesday morning a result will be reached on the issue which the Commission has directed to be argued.

LATER.-1:30 A. M.-Casanove developed an extraordinary amount of stupidity and ignorance. Wells was a much sharper witness, but his cunning was not as good a shield as the negro's impassive idiocy. When Mr. Field began his cross-examination, and Mr. Wells flared up and assumed a violent and bullying tone, his whole manner indicated that he was about to make a murderous assault on Mr. Field. For this or any like procedure he had come well prepared. He was really a walking arsenal, having on him one or two revolvers, a large knife, and a rifle cane. The bullying game, however, did not avail him, and Mr. Field pursued him with a long and rigid examination on his famous secret letter to West. Never in the history of courts was there such an exhibition as his replies to this question. The general opinion in the room was that his testimony yesterday, in this por-tion especially, was a tissue of impudent perjury.

The attention of the sergeant-atarms has been drawn to the fact of Wells coming into the examinationroom with concealed weapons on his person, and orders have been given to take them from him unless he gives them up on demand.

> Mayor's Court. The following cases were disposed of yesterday morning:

The case of Alonzo Elvi, alias Thomas Johnson, charged with breaking into Mr. Solomon Reeves' work shop and stealing his tools, came up for a hearing yesterday morning. During the investigation defendant implicated one Prince Richardson in the transaction, showing a paper purporting to be written by Richardson, and bearing his signature, in which he stated that he owed defendant $5.50, and had paid him in tools. At the conclusion of the preliminary examination Elvi alias Johnson was ordered to give a justified bond in the sum of $500 for his appearance at the next term of the Superior Court, in default of which he was subsequently lodged in jail.

Three sailors, A. Farsline, A. Volboy and O. Tomison, charged with disorderly conduct, cursing and fighting, were ordered to pay a fine of $10 and costs each, or work for thirty days on the streets.

The voters of the Fourth Ward are requested by the President of the Fourth Ward Club to meet at Hibernian Hall, this evening, at half-past 7 o'clock. All who wish office, as well as those who do not, ar requested to be on hand.

The other two Wards, we suppose, will have meetings at the same time and for the same purpose.

Got His Partner.

While Alonzo Elvi alias Johnson was being taken from the Mayor's Court room to the Sheriff's office, yesterday morning, to be legally turned over to that functionary, the prisoner called the attention of Officer Edgar Miller, in whose custody he was, to an individual on the street in front of the Court House, saying that was Prince Richardson, the colored man he had implicated in the stealing of Mr. Reeves' tools. As soon, therefore, as the officer could get Elvi off his hands, he pounced on Richardson and took him to the Guard House, where he will await a hearing before Mayor Canaday this morning.

Two persons were strolling through the woods in the eastern outskirts of the city, a — A bald eagle, in a cage, says the Cleveland Sunny Side, excited a good deal upon a colored individual, in a stooping posture, holding a hog upon the ground and evidently on the point of perpetrating murder upon the innocent porker. Hearing the footsteps of the party approaching, and catching a glimpse of them at the same time, the man struck the hog a blow with a stick he held in his hand, exclaiming, as the animal scampered off, "There, now! I guess you'll keep out of my way hereafter!" It was a narrow escape for the hog.

Wilmington's Great Hope.

The connection of our city with Pamlico Sound by canal is our great panacea for hard times. The very idea itself makes us all feel better. There never has been an enterprise before the public, perhaps, that all seem to take so much interest in, and it appears to be conceded by all that by a united effort on the part of the citizens of Wilmington and other interested sections of the State, the inland water connection can be constructed as a State enterprise. As success is only for the hopeful, and as our people are hopeful, let them work for the consummation and success of this great work, as it will no doubt, if carried to completion, be of incalculable benefit to Wilmington and the State.

Pestival To-Night.

Our friends of the First Baptist Church wish to be remembered to night, at the French building, next north of Harrison & Allen's hat store, when they will hold one of their pleasant festivals, the proceeds of which are to go to the paying off of a church debt. The inevitable ice cream and oysters, and almost everything to be desired for the inner man will be served at moderate prices. Not an unimportant feature will be the Gallery of Superfine Arts, which will be opened by special request.

Both hogs are now bewailing their swinish propensities in the city pound.

Prof. Hartley. Prof. J. W. Hartley, who has been stir ring up the Raleigh people recently with his "Readings and Character Personations," and who is heartily endorsed by the Governor and other distinguished citizens, will visit this city next week, when we can promise our citizens an evening of rare mirth and intellectual enjoyment. The precise evening for the entertainment has not yet been decided upon.
