A New Rebellion Broken Out. [Special to Richmond Whig.] WASHINGTON, March 8-1 A. M.

Yesterday was an eventful day. The Republicans' rebellion to the new Administration has signalized itself and is now in full blast, with Blaine at the head and Cameron and Conkling as lieutenants. The debate on Kellogg's case began with a legal and dignified argument from Mr. Bayard against the swearing in of Kellogg. Blaine seized the occasion to put himself at the head of the ultra element, embracing the carpethaggers and scalawags, who are asserting themselves against President Hayes.

llis advocacy of Kellogg, for whom personally he cares nothing, was merely a means to an end. As a senatorial display his performances were more brilliant than usetul. His voice resounded through the hall as he was interjecting a harangue into Mr. Bayard's speech, and when that gentleman was done speaking, he once more threw down the gage of battle to Mr. John Sherman by denouncing the proposed abandonment of the Southern Republicans. He referred, with indignation, to the letter of Messrs. Evarts and Stanley Matthews, requesting Gov. Chamberlain to get out the way. Mr. Blaine's loud and senatorial style was exactly suited to win applause from the galleries, which were crowded with Radicals. He succeeded in securing this cheap and unsubstantial tribute, but in the Senate he made visibly a bad impression. The style was swagger-ing and unsenatorial. Morton and Conkling looked displeased at having the leadership snatched from their hands by this new-comer. Mr. Sherman, though visibly annoyed, show-ed much tact by letting Blaine beat the air with his noisy rhetoric, and made no reply. But the speech was a new declaration of war against the Administration in an attempt to gaff it by its own professed friends, before even a Cabinet had been an- ings. nounced. As an endeavor to renew the fires of sectional hatred and passion, the speech was cold-blooded and revolting to patriotic men of both parties. The vote was a defeat for Kellogg by 35 to 29. He was sent to the committee on Privileges and Elections, and is hopeful of an early report and being installed.

Mr. Conkling is evidently organizing for a fight on Evarts and Schurz. Cameron will probably aim to scalp the whole set. This is his avowed purpose. They say that John Sherman is responsible for the other appointments, and that they are "going for him" on general principles, I am told that a majority of the Republican Senators were talking yes-terday against these Cabinet nominations, but I much doubt if a majority will go so far as to vote against them.

We thus have a furnous and viudictive attempt by the ultras to whip the Administration back into the same wretched groove of sustaining the carpet-bag government and thieves upon which Grant's Administration was wrecked. The Democratic Senators hold the balance of power and can give the victory to either party. Both wings of the Republicans are making advances to them and are soliciting their support. Some of the Northern Democrats want to reject the nominations, basing their position on the illegality of Hayes' title to the Presidency, but the Southern Senaopinion. Washington, March 7-4 P. M. Mr. Bayard's speech on the admission of Kellogg was a very powerful effort. "In the first place, the city of Wilming-ton is one of the healthiest places in North Carolina; and when I say this I speak advisedly, knowing that the mortuary statis-tics will fully bear me out in what I say. The site offered is a most eligible one, being on high and dry land, and as the commit-tee say admirably adapted for building sites, and convenient to wood and water. As for the building, that is yet to be erected, and can of course be arranged precisely as the proper authorities may direct. In ad-dition to this, perhaps, no place in the State is of more easy access to the popula-tion from which the inmates of the asylum will come, than is Wilmington. The only question, then, it seems to me, Messrs. Editors, is whether the Legislature intends to make any provision at all for the colored insane of the State. If it does Wilmington
