From the Federal Capital. [Special to Richmond Whig.] WASHINGTON, March 14,

12:45 A. M. For probably the first time since the war the Senate yesterday was Democratic. Before the retirement of Senators Sherman and Cameron that body stood: Republicans, 39; Democrats 34; vacancies 3. The retirement of the two Senators named leaves but 37 Republicans, and yesterday, by the absence of Senator Sharon, and the illness and absence of Senators Edmunds and Cameron, of Wisconsin, and the absence of Senator Ferry with a sick brother, the number of Republicans was reduced to 33, one less than the Democratic strength, leaving Judge Davis in possession of the balance of power, he being enumerated as a Democrat in the above calculation.

Secretary Sherman to-day gave verbal directions that under the instructions of the President all persons whose commissions expire by limita-tion will be reappointed if their record is good, and if there be no good reasons why they should not be appointed.

Packard's agents here are trying to make a great deal of capital out of the fact that Judge Matthews addressed to Packard a letter very like the one he sent to Chamberlain. U. S. Marshal Pitkin, who has neg-lected the daties of his office for the past month for the purpose of lobby-ing Packard's interest in Washington, was last night trying to get press dispatches sent to the Northern papers misrepresenting Judge Matthews, in the hope that it will injure his candidacy for the Senatorship from Ohio. The Packard party in Washington are very much demoralized. They feel that their time is very limited, and that they cannot succeed, but they hope in going down to carry some better people with them.

It was the purpose of Morton, of the Senate committee on Privileges and Elections, to report the action of that committee in the Kellogg case to the Senate to-day, but the intention was reconsidered, and so report

The report of the committee is not voluminous, and will occupy but little time in the reading. But there is a strongly concentrated opposition to Kellogg's admission known to exist, and the question, when it does come up, will be contested with a good deal of bitterness. There are not wanting sufficient moderate Republicans' votes, it is believed, to unite with the Democrats in forming an opposition difficult to overcome. In view of this fact, it is not at all improbable that the contest will, he so close as to render it hazardous to come to a vote during the present execucases may go over to be settled next winter.

WILMINGTON, N. C., THURSDAY, MARCH 15, 1877.

Ex-Secretary Fish Calls on Hon. A. H. Stephens.

Hon. Hamilton Fish called to pay his respects to Mr. Stephens to-day at his sick room in the National Hotel. Mr. Fish was cordially received by the sick man, who extended his attenuated hand from under the bed cover, saying, "I am glad to see you, After a few further preliminary inquiries, the conversation turned upon President Hayes' Southern policy.

Mr. Stephens : I am glad to see that Mr. Hayes is shaping his policy something after that of Gen. Wash ington, by calling around him good and true men without regard to their political or partisan antecedents, but calling to his aid in this great crisis of our country men irrespective of party, and assigning them duties because of their peculiar fitness for them under the circumstances that now surround him, looking at the good of the country and not merely to the formation of party. If he shall follow out this policy to its legitimate conclusions his administration will prove a success, and confidence will be restored to the country.

Mr. Fish: It seems to be Mr. Hayes' policy to give the home offices to home men. Mr. Stephens: Yes; and if he will give these to men of character and standing at home, men who have the confidence and respect of the people without reference to their party affiliation, but who accept office as a high trust rather than for its emoluments, Mr. Haves will soon find his administration growing in the hearts and confidence of the people everywhere. Democrats may accept of these offices from Mr. Hayes without any compromise of principles. As to a policy for Louisiana and South Carolina, as well as other Southern States. If he will do this the corrupt carpet-bag governments will disappear and constitutional, peaceful governments take their place. This will bring peace and contentment to the South and prosperity to the country. I know my people. They are law-abiding if left to make and execute their own laws as in other sections of our country; secure to them this boon, and they will be, irrespective of race or color, prosperous, contented, and

> The President Does Not Favor a New Blection.

The President is quoted as saying with regard to a new election in Louisiana and South Carolina, that it is one of several propositions that have been presented, and the onthat strikes him least favorably. The Louisiana Republicans seem generally to favor the new proposition, but the Conservatives deprecate it as i would be injurious to the agricultural of the State, and is entirely unneces-

[Special to Richmond Dispatch.] Hayes Weakening. WASHINGTON, March 13.

The new President has not begut very well in the matter of his Southern appointments, if his first essay in the case of the District Attorneyship for South Carolina is a fair sample He has evidently gotten into the hands of Senator Patterson, Corbin, the contesting United States Senator, and their party, for Corbin's brother in-law, William Stone, a well-known carpet-bagger, was nominated to fill the place just vacated by Corbin. Three new commissioners for the southern Claims Court, as follows: Asa O. Aldis of Vermont, James B. Howell of Iowa, and Orange Ferris of New York, were also sent in. All the postmasterships in the small batch were Indiana men. Possibly THE HOB NOBBING OF HAYES in Senator Morton's carriage yesterday had something to do with this. It is very evident that Hayes is conciliating in every way he can consistently with his determination to carry out his "Southern policy" the leaders in the Senate who are likely to give his administration trouble. He gets his ministers to dine with Blaine and Bob Ingersoll, and he treats them with marked distinction whenever they call, as was the case this morning when Blaine called to be consulted about the appointment of Secrechairmanship of the committee on Foreign Relations vice Cameron, re-signed. This leaves vacant the chair-manship of the committee on Rico-ar from a Mampton Justice.

TORNADO IN JONES COUNTY. Dwelling Houses, Barnes and Outhouses Totally Demolished-Large Hickories Twisted off Like Pipe

|From the Newbern Nut Shell.] We gather the following particulars of a terrific tornado which passed through Jones county on Thursday from a letter written on the 13th by Mr. James B. Stanly, of Trenton:

The whirlwind first struck the earth about one mile west of Trenton, covering an area of one-fourth of a mile, and continued its course to Trent river, totally destroying all houses, fences and trees in its path. Large dwelling houses, barns and outhouses were demolished in the twinkling of an eye, while hickory, pine and cypress trees of enormous sizes were twisted off like pipe stems. Among the losers by this great catastrophe are:

Mrs. Nancy McDaniel, whose houses were all blown down and some of them torn to pieces: Mr. I S. Franks, who had all his houses at the Bryan plantation blown down. except the dwelling hoase, and the chimneys attached to that building were destroyed; Mr. Job L. Kinsey lost all the timber on his land and one log house, which was blown down; Mr. Calvin Perry lost every house on his plantation, including dwelling houses and stables.

Eye-witnesses state that the wind was accompanied by a heavy cloud, and burst upon the earth without moment's warning, except a dismal, roaring sound like the rushing of a large train of cars across a bridge. As yet no accident to life or hmb has been heard of. Intense excitement prevailed throughout the county while the storm was raging. Such a disastrous tornado was never known to visit the county before. We also learn that a gentleman from Pamlico county, who was in the city yesterday, stated that the effects of the storm were very disastrous in some portions of that county, so far as he was able to learn, a new dwelling house and a cotton gin house in his neighborhood being totally destroyed, and trees, fences, and, perhaps, ether houses swept away. We have not yet learned of any marine disasters on the coast, and trust that we may not.

Trouble at Plerence. Passengers arriving by the Southern train yesterday afternoon bring intelligence of a somewhat serious disturbance that occurred at Florence, S. C., Tuesday night. It appears that a colored individual, charged with the murder of a white man at Timmonsville, had been arrested at Florence and lodged in the county jail, upon which the colored people organized to the number of about two hundred, demolished the jail and released the prisoner. The whites armed themselves, and two colored men were shot, though not seriously wounded, but no organized conflict took place between them and the rioters.

The many happy hearts that attended the concert of the Front Street M. E. Sabbath school are anxious for the whole people of the city, who love the little children and love to encourage them, to hear their performance repeated. As little as can be said of it, it was nice, it was sweet, it was pretty. Even the stiffened features of the old faces were radiant with smiles of approbation, and the mothers and fathers, brothers and sisters of the lovely little ones were really restless to approach and applaud them. Let it be repeated, and let it be repeated in the City Hall or Theatre, where applause is admissible, and where a greater public appreciation can be mani-fested. Many are of opinion that the mair interest in the performance is in the bright-ness and beauty of the little ones, and that much of this interest is dulled by too much interspersions of "grown-up children rather." Let the little ones come out again. They are smart, they are interesting, entertain-
