REPUBLATION IN NORTH CARO-LINA.

The committee appointed by a meeting in New York on the 27th of December, by the boudholders of the State of North Carolina, to visit that State and endeavor to bring about a settlement of the bonds, now nine years in default, reported Thursday. They found the officers of the government and the people, even the merchants, apathetic as to the payment of the debt. The people are too poor, they said, and cannot live under an increase of taxation. Gov. see is inclined to be non-committal, but on the whole, he is willing to aid in any reasonable plan for a settlement. The poor whites and a majority of the negroes are repudiators; and the Republican candidate for Lieutenant Governor in the last canvass openly declared for repudiation, but was muzzled by his friends after one or two public speeches. The newspapers generally are neutral on the subject, but where an opinion is expressed it is almost always for repudiation. One newspaper openly avers that the State is legally and morally absolved from indebtedness to men who bore arms against her or aided in the war that ruined her. The committee hope that the Legislature may appoint a commission to confer with bondholders, and recommend an honest payment of the State debt.

We copy this for what is is worth. We clipped it from the Baltimore Sun. That paper and the New York Sun, in which it first appeared, will send it to at least five millions of readers. Other papers of large circulation will take it up, and in a few days the character of North Carolina is so damaged that the credit of its business men will be impaired, and its industrial interests must be retarded. The STAR at least has not been neutral; nor has it been in favor of repudiation. It has insisted from the first that honor and justice required that as much of the legal indebtedness of the State should be paid as the impoverished condition of the people would permit.

When we read such a paragraph as the above, which so reflects upon the people of North Carolina, we can but feel glad that we at least have not given in any word or act the least ground for the charges and insinuations made. We do not believe that "the poor whites" are in favor of repudiation of the honest debts of the State. Nearly all of our whites come under that description, for they are indeed "poor," but it is a slander to charge them as being repudiationists. We grant there may be a considerable minority who may favor such a disastrous policy, but, if submitted to a vote of the people, we believe there would be found an overwhelming majority who were for maintaining the ancient name of North Carolina for honesty and fair dealing, and for meeting all just obligations as far as possible under the extraordinary circumstances.

SOUTHERN MANUFACTURING EN-

A new cotton manufacturing company has been organized at Augusta, Ga., with a capital of $150,000. The mill begins with 10,000 spindles, which will be increased to 50,000 as the times require. The stock was promptly subscribed, machinery secured and measures taken to have the mill completed within four months. Most of the capital was subscribed by Massachu-setts manufacturers, one of whom is President of the new company. - Exchange.

Here is another argument for the erection of cotton factories. Massachusetts manufacturers, who know where to place their money, and who have learned from experience that cotton spinning pays in the North, are willing to invest their capital in a new Southern enterprise. And why should they hesitate. If they can make it profitable to manufacture cotton raised in the South in Massachusetts, from eight hundred to fifteen hundred miles from the place of production, why can not they make it more profitable to manufacture the great staple where it is raised? We trust to have the privilege of copying the announcement of scores of such enterprises, and trust to learn that similar investments are being made in North Caro-

MR. EVARTS.

The Secretary of State is a busy man. He is credited with having received $50,000 for contesting the Vanderbilt will. He was in New York last week attending to that nice little remunerative job. Mr. Evarts holds the front rank at the American bar, and his practice annually must be worth at least $100,000. He will hardly be willing to abandon that income for four years, unless he thinks he can wear Hayes' mantle after 1880. It would not surprise us to hear, after a few months, that Mr. Evarts had retired from his Cabinet position. We are prepared to hear better things of him than from most of the Republican associates, and if he proves a success as the Premier of the new Administration, we would prefer seeing him retained rather than exchanged for an officer of less ability and patriotism.

THE NEW OHIO SENATOR. Judge Stanley Matthews has just been elected U. S. Senator from Ohio in place of Secretary John Sherman. He is a very able man-a very superior lawyer. He is credited with a policy—a Southern policy. He is for recognizing the governments in the South which really govern. That is honest and equitable and fair, and it is the true course for the President to pursue if he only knew it. Matthews stood up for a square fight before the Ohio Legislature. His opponents, and there were several, endeavored to beat him by using against him his letters to Packard and Chamberlain. But the Judge did not dodge or trim. He squarely met the charges, and in no way endeavored to break the force of the meaning of those letters. Indeed, he gave a full and frank statement of his views to the press, so that every one could understand them fully, and no one could misapprehend his real position. The following extract will give a fair impression of the boldness of his attitude. Referring to Louisiana he said: "The National Government may recognize the one which may be called the mol party, if said mob party are actually strong enough to maintain itself and establish a State government. The fact that Packard's government was the legitimate government under the forms of law makes no difference if the Administration chooses to recognize the Nicholls government, which originated in mob force, and is still being sustained by mob force, the main thing requisite being strength sufficient to maintain a govern-

The new Senator will idoubtless fight it out on this line," and his chief antagonist will be the bull-fighter from Maine. Jim Blaine, the Matadore of the Senate ring, has thrown down his gauntlet in these words, which occur in one of his latest ring

"I am here to do battle with any one, in my humble way, who espouses that policy. lay that gage down for any Senator who stands sponsor to the suggestion of Mr. Stanley Matthews and Mr. Evarts on this

Mr. Blaine will have to withdraw that challenge or there will be a tilt worth seeing one of these days, in which we hope Matadore will be rolled in the saw-dust.

Gov. Hampton understands the situation, and when he tells President that he does not ask for recognition, he shows he comprehends the genius of our government, and the constitutional rights, privileges and powers of the Chief Executive of the United States. The fol lowing just view is from that able Republican paper, the New York

"When people ask him (Mr. Hayes) not o be so base as 'to abandon the Southern Republicans,' let him inquire in a sober, American way what that means. He is not a Czar or a Kaiser. He cannot send troops hither or thither to 'succor struggling nationalities' or set downtrodden parties on their legs. He can succor nobody except through law. He is not a special Providence; he is the President of the United States, or in other words, the creature of law. What, therefore, can he do for a Southern Republican under the United States statutes as interpreted by the courts! This is the question which should be put to all Southern delegations and all Northern orators who maintain that the United States government owes some undefined protection to one of the two political parties at the South, and possesses some vague right of prescribing the exact amount and kind of power which a Southern Governor shall use in overcoming resistance to his

The Pope has recently nominated twelve new cardinals. There are now sixty-eight, seventy being the full number. The college is composed of cardinal bishops, cardinal priests, and cardinal deacons. The office of cardinal is thus applied to the order of bishops and priests, and the order of deacons. Bishops and priests are of the same order, we beheve, in the Roman Catholic Church. The present Pope has created during his long pontificate 111 cardinals. Of these 50 have already died. Sixtyone of his appointees still survive. Seven of the present college were appointed by his immediate predecessor, Gregory the sixteenth. There are now four English-speaking cardinals, viz: Manning, Cullen, McCloskey and Howard, the latter an Englishman, nominated a few days ago. The President is making haste very slowly in regard to the removal of the troops from South Carolina and Louisiana. At a time when he should be swift to do right-swift as the deer, he creeps with the slow pace of the snail. Why should he all the courts of the State, throughout all the circuits, are co-operating with the people in maintaining and enforcing the fixed fact of the Hampton Government? The executive organization is now complete throughout the entire State, and is in good working condition. What is Chamber-lain doing? Who recognizes him? Why then hesitate about a matter that is so plain?

Washington News. Special to Richmond Whig] LAST HOURS OF THE SENATE.

WASHINGTON, March 17. The Senate spent much of the last hours of its special session in the discussion and passage of Mitchell's resolution providing for a sub-committee of elections to go to Oregon and investigate Governor Grover's conduct. This political job will cost at least $10,000. Most of the Democrats were compelled to vote for the resolution, or to refrain from voting at all, lest it should be charged that they wished to prevent the exposure of Grover's alleged bad conduct. While the Senate was in executive session a crowd of office-seekers and many negroes, waiting to learn the fate of Fred Douglass, thronged the corridors in the Senate wing. There was a long discussion about Douglass' confirmation the principal speakers being Whyte against and Conkling for him. Finally he was confirmed by a small majority of votes. Morgan, of Alabama, Jones, of Florida, and Ben. Hill voted for his confirmation. Some of the Republicans dodged

DEFEATED NOMINATIONS.

The nomination of Marye for postmaster at Lynchburg was not sent to the Senate, and that of Potts for the Petersburg post-office was defeated by Blaine, who objected to its consideration to-day, and under the rules it went over until to-morrow. The Senate having adjourned sine die, the President may appoint Potts and Marye to hold office until the next session of Congress.

A COLORED POSTMASTER FOR COLUM

Among the confirmations to-day was that of C. M. Wilder (colored) postmaster at Columbia, S. C. His competitor was a white Republican, and it was supposed General Key, being a Democrat, would appoint him without hesitation. But General Key plainly informed him that he did not propose to make distinctions on account of color, and that he would reappoint Wilder because he appeared to be a competent man and good officer. Fortunately for George S. This good, fat place slipped through Congress in an appropriation bill, and was lost sight of by everybody until the appointment and confirmation of the late Senator was announced.

The nomination of W. M. Stone for United States Attorney for South Carolina was not confirmed. He is a brother-in-law of Corbin, who claims a seat in the Senate by election by the Chamberlain Legislature.

Fatal Affair in Henderson-Two Men Killed. |Asheville Citizen. |

We learn of a fatal affray occurring n Henderson county on Friday last, resulting in the death of two brothers named Corn. It appears that Deputy Sheriff Byers, armed with an order to dispossess from the Court, and accompanied by a posse of three men, visited the residence of a son of Jesse B. Corn, living about five miles from Hendersonville. They entered the house, a log building, the Corns being absent from it at the moment. But in a few minutes old man Corn, having been apprised of the situation, accompanied by his sons, came up to the house, and the old man fired one shot with a shot gun into the house, without, however, doing any damage. The officers inside then closed the doors and fired through the cracks at the party outside, two of the shots fired by young John Arledge (as it appears), one of the Sheriff's posse, taking effect on the persons of two of the young Corns and killing both

FIGHTING FOR LIFE. A Woman's Quarrel and It's Terrible

Consequences. NEW YORK, March 16. About 10 o'clock last night Mary Ann Rust, aged 23, of No. 6 Roosevelt street, and Nellie Brown, of the same house, went on board the schooner George White, lying at the foot of Pier 40, East river. A jealous quarrel ensued between the girls. Blows were struck, and finally Nellie Brown, who was the stronger, seized the other around the waist and, dragging her to the side of the vessel furthest from the dock, threw her overboard. A sailor named Eagan went to the woman's assistance, but the woman Brown held him back. Finally he freed himself from her grasp and leaped into the water. When Ann Rush came to the surface the sailor swam toward her, and grasping her by the hair with one hand he caught hold of the vessel with the other. As he was lifting his burden from the river Nellie Brown tore away Eagan's hands from the side. Both persons fell back into the river and sank below the surface; but Eagan, by great effort, succeeded in reaching the vessel with Ann Rush, and finally deposited her upon the deck. He finally succeeded in restoring the woman to consciousness, and carried her below, where she lay down in one of the berths. She refused to remove her clothing, and this morning she was in home. She was also locked up. Outrageous Conduct.

Breech - Loading Guns.

We have for many years, with great success, made a specialty of building Fine Breech-Loading Guns to the special instructions of individual sportsmen Making for a large and select trade enables us to give greater care and attention to the fitting, shooting and general finish of our Guns than can be given to those Guns bought by the retail trade from manufacturers who produce for a general market. We solicit the patronage of those sportsmen who are judges of Fine Guns and who know the importance of having their Guns made to fit them.

We are prepared to accept orders to build Gunsof any weight, gange, proportion or style.

Pure Bred Setter Pups'

SIRED BY THE RECENTLY IMPORTED LA-VERACK Dog "DON," who is ewn brother to the world-renowned Field-Trial winners, "Countess" "Nelly," and "Prince." So far as figures have been made public, this is the highest priced dog, with the single exception of Mr. Burges's "Rob Roy," ever imported. These celebrated dogs were bred from Laverack's "Moll III." by his "Dash II.," from which pair more prize winners were bred than from any pair which over existed. They have a pedigree running back for eighty years without a stain. "Queen," the dam of these pups is a pure Gordon out of "Bess," she out of "Polly" by Duke of Gordon, sired by Stoddard's Duke, he by "Ranger," out of Lord Edgercomb's "Belle," Ranger by Idstone's "Old Kent," the great prize winner.

The Pups were born August 2d, 1876. Price $35 each, boxed and delivered at Express Office in Philadelphia. delphia. Address
