From Washington. Jenesis to mehmond Dispatch.] THE HAMPTON AND CHAMBERLAIN CONFERENCE WITH THE PRESIDENT. Washington, March 23.

The politicians were taken by surprise and scarcely knew what to think of the invitation to Hampton and Chamberlain to a conference with the President and his advisers. The impatient, who had jumped at the conclusion that Hampton would be immediately recognized, or at least be allowed to enforce his authority, assert that it is only an atissue, in the hope that something may occur to shift the responsibility from the President. It is regarded as another evidence of weakness of purpose, but appears to be generally approved as infinitely better than the commission plan, and a disposition to do the fair thing by both claimants. There seems to be no doubt that the outcome will be the success of Hampton, and that Chamberlain will be provided for by election to the Senate or a Government appoint-

Hampton's friends will advise him not to accept the invitation of the President, as that would be a seeming admission of the right of Chamberlain to contest, and of the President to decide, who is Governor of South Carolina. This question, they claim, can only be legally determined by the courts of the State, and they ask of the President not recognition, but that he cease to obstruct the operation of the law. The courts are ready to issue a writ of ejectment under which Chamberlain's title will be determined as soon as the military allow the process of the courts to be served.

General M. C. Butler left for Columbia to-night, bearing the President's letter to Hampton. General Gordon thinks Hampton will make a proud but respectful refusal to accede to the President's request.

The Cabinet is still searching for statesmen who will attack the Louisiana problem. It is rumored that ex-Governor Palmer has been requested to act as commissioner, but General Key said to-night that he had not heard of it, and that no acceptance has been received except from Governor Brown.

The Southern Commission. The New York Herald is disgusted with Presidene Hayes' Southern commission scheme. It declares the President may depend upon one thing—"when he sends a commission to Louisiana he pleases every demagogue who hopes to keep the Southern question open for another four years, and he disappoints every man who wants to see the country back safe under the shelter of the Constitution." The New York World expresses the hope that no Democrat will accept a part in this "political farce," which, it declares, "will be greeted with general derision and disgust."

The Daughter of One of the Slamese Twins.

[Raleigh News.] Zachariah W. Haynes, a deaf mute, was married in August, 1874, to Laura, a daughter of Chang Bunker, one of the noted twins. Chang had nine children, seven of whom are living. Three of them are deaf mutes. Mr. Hayues is a teacher in the institute for the Deaf, Dumb and the Blind, in this city, and lives in Person street. old wall around Salisbury. It is mentioned in the Gazetteer for 1818. - Civil service reform is in order. Turn out Dr. Grissom and try to fill his place with some one who is incapable.

- The Person Street Methodist revival at Raleigh has closed with 38 professions and 29 accessions to the church. - Col. Donan writes a characteristic letter to the last Tarboro Southerner. It is full of adjectives and scintillations of wit and poetry. - This time Blount tells of a squirrel in Nash county 31 inches long, 11 inches around the body, and teeth 1 inch long. Hurrah for Nash!

- Dossey Battle has been to "Washington on the Tar," and gives an en-tertaining account of his trip in his paper, the Tarboro' Southerner.

- News: We learn that through the exertions of Prof. Kerr, State Geologist, valuable additions have been made to the Museum of the University at Chapel Hill. - Raleigh Observer: The Attorney General completed his reports for the seventy-sixth volume yesterday. As to when the work will be issued we are not -- Magnolia Record: We learn that Jericho, in Wayne county, is growing quite rapidly. The Presbyterians are erecting a house of worship, which is an honor to the community. -A colored girl named Annie

Jones, aged twelve, was run over by the train at Raleigh. Both of her feet have been amputated and she is in a very critical condition. - Tarboro Southerner: On Monday night last a thief entered the postoffice in Greenville, Pitt county, with a false key and stole forty dollars. No clue to the detection of the thief. - House robbing is alarmingly frequent at Charlotte. Two attempts were made on Wednesday night. Verily this is the time of epidemics—measles, diphtheria, burning to death and robberies. - Reidsville Times: It is surgirls should go unwedded. There prising how many children are at school in rative of the virtues of that excellent and accomplished gentleman, the late Capt. Samuel T. Williams, who died so much lamented last August. -- Blount, of the Wilson Advance. is about to have his "pictur took." He says the "artists" assure him "that they can almost make us look angelical, and we sorter believe it, for 'some how or other' we have always had a kind of a cherubic feeling." - Rev. J. D. Hufham, one of the editors of the Biblical Recorder, and the master of the best style of any journalist in the State, has just returned from an extend-ed tour through Eastern North Carolina in behalf of the endowment runs Førest College. - The Reidsville Times tells of a law suit for $200 that has been going on for seven years. The costs have reached $3,700, with an upward tendency. Evans com-ments thus: "Bless the law! it does as much for the prosperity of the country as the Kansas grasshoppers." - Blount thus puts the case of holding a stiff upper lip and going it with a vim: "Let us then hold up our heads and look the present full in the face. The past belongs to eternity, but the future is ours, and we can either gild it with sunshine or clad it with gloom." By St. Dennis that's not so bad.

They got lost. When found; the woman had froze te death and the man was insensible. He is recovering. A temperance lecture.

- Rocky Mount Mail: Some severe criticisms are being made in regard to some of the appointments of Gov. Vance. No living man can please everybody, and friends, before we say hard things, let us remember, that the hardest thing to do is to please ourselves. Then, how can the chief officer of the State please us all? He just can't do it, that's all. - Tarboro Southerner: We have been presented with a complete invention in the way of a patent lamp-burner. It has an attachment in addition to the regular wick, which enables the lamp to burn all night with one light, without the usual escapement of gas and consequent un-pleasant odor. This is an invention of

Dr. J. B. Godwin, of Washington, N. C. - The Asheville Regulator thus speaks of Judge McKoy at Montgomery Court: "Judge McKoy, than whom there is not a better Judge in the State, presided. While he is kind and courteous, yet he beieves in meting out such punishment to offenders as to terrify others, and thereby put a stop to crime. No Judge has left behind him more commendations than has Judge McKoy in Montgomery. All parties seem to delight to praise him."

-The Murfreesboro correspondent of the Norfolk Virginian writes: "Maj. Jno. W. Moore will shortly publish in 'Historical Sketches,' of Hertford county now being printed, one or two chapters at a time, in the Murfreesboro Enquirer. These sketches will constitute a complete history of North Carolina, Hertford county being the hub around which the whole revolves. Major Moore called on me some days ago, and I greatly enjoyed his visit.

- Salisbury Examiner: Mr. J. M. Horh, Judge of Probate, made a final set-tlement on Tuesday of the largest estate ever disposed of in this county. It was that of the late Maxwell Chambers, and summed up $473,000 in money and stocks. His landed and negro property would have run it up to nearly or quite $600,000. Thermometer Record. The following will show the state of the thermometer, at the stations mentioned, at 4.35 yesterday evening, Washington mean time, as ascertained from the daily bulletin issued from the Signal Office in this city:

Another Man Beheaded.

From a letter received from a correspondent in South Carolina, by yesterday evening's train, we learn that the body of an unknown man was discovered on the side of the road from Bishopville, in Sumter county, to old Lynchburg, yesterday morning, about 7 o'clock, with his head entirely severed from his body. Deceased was apparently about 30 or 35 years of age, commonly dressed in jeans pants, old cassimere coat, gray colored vest, checked shirt, brown hat with the inside turned out, common boots, pretty well worn, with country knit socks (wool), and with a doublebarrelled shot gun lying at his side, bearing the inscription, on a silver plate, "I. Mc-Elvane." The supposition now is that he was walking on the railroad track, when he concluded to sit down and rest, taking off his boots and coat; that he fell asleep on the track and the 12 o'clock train came along, running over him and killing him instantly. Our informant states that the body, presented a most horrible appearance.

A Fowl Proceeding. Thieves made a raid on the hen house of Capt. Alex. May, who resides on Market street, in the neighborhood of where the toll house was formerly located, a night or two since, and succeeded in carrying off seventeen head of poultry, including a number of fine hens. The dog, which is usually turned loose at night, happened to be shut up in the house on the evening in question, and his efforts to get out aroused Capt. M., who opened the door, when the animal immediately dashed off in the direction of the chicken coop. Capt. May followed and found that a plank had been ripped off the rear of the coop and the chickens taken out, the thief having probably just left. But for the interference of the dog it is likely that all the poultry in the coop would have been carried off.

Almost a Fire.

Yesterday morning, between 9 and 10 o'clock, the roof of a house on Chesnut, be-- To-day is the last Sunday in tween Eighth and Ninth streets, occupied by Mr. Hugh McDonald, caught fire and the building narrowly escaped destruction. The fire was first discovered by a lady residing on the opposite side of the street, who notified the neighbors. Mr. Richard Fitzgerald, who lives near by, and who was the first on the premises, had a ladder brought from his yard and two men, John E. Taylor and Wm. Pessong, mounted the roof, where water was passed to them by persons below, and they soon succeeded in extinguishing the flames, but not until shingles had been torn from the roof for about the space of three feet square. The fire originated from a spark from the chimney. There was no general alarm.

Injury to Private Property. We regret to see a disposition on the part of certain persons unknown to mark, cut and otherwise damage the walls and fences surrounding the premises of many of our citizens, and in this connection we notice number of brick taken from a wall at the corner of Fourth and Chesnut streets, which the owner had just been to the expense of placing in thorough repair; also that pocket knives have already been used pretty extensively on a beautiful fence recently erected on Third street. Some measures should be taken by the authorities to protect private property from such wanton injury and defacement.

The Shooting Campaign Opening. Messrs. E. Lilly and DuBrutz Cutlar, the captains of the two teams, give notice that there will be a meeting of the Shooting Club to-morrow (Monday) afternoon, at 51 o'clock, at the office of Mr. Cutlar, and that all who are desirous of joining the club are invited to be present. A new organization is to be effected, while the proposition for a new Range on Eagle's Island, and other important matters will be considered.

An Unknown Colored Man Found Dead.

Mr. L. Vollers, of Point Caswell, reports that while on his way to this city, yesterday morning, he discovered the corpse of an unknown colored man lying near the side of the road, between Wilmington and Point Caswell and about seventeen miles from this city. He had every appearance of having been murdered, and Mr. Vollers is under the impression that he had been stabbed with a knife.

Accident on the Street Rallway. As one of the street cars was going down grade yesterday, in the neighborhood of the Cemetery, the horse became unman ageable and finally succeeded in overturn ing the car. A lady by the name of Mrs. Schulken, who was in the car at the time, was considerably cut and bruised about the face and the car was slightly damaged. HIVER AND MARINE ITEMS.
