Chamberiain Visits Hayes-Preparations for Gov. Hampton-Another Ten:Millions Bonds Called for-Gen. Gordon Thinks Hempton will be in ... 3 WASHINGTON, March 27.

Chamberlain, of South Carolina, and Gov. Drew, of Florida, are at the Ebbitt House. Rooms have been prepared for Gov. Hampton at Willard's.

The Treasury has called for another ten millions of bonds of May and November, 1865, Interest on which ceases on the 27th Gen. Gordon has no doubt that Gov. Hampton will, within a few days, be in unopposed possession of the government. He opposed possession of the government. He expresses no opinion regarding Louisians.

There are two letters, one signed by Foster, the other signed by both Foster and Matthews, about a page each, which Levy and Ellis will not publish without direct authority from the signers.

Chamberlain was at the White House Chamberlain was at the White House this morning.

The Cabinet met at 12 o'clock. The Cabinet has discussed a rearrangement of the Military Departments, but the change will not be made until Louisiana is pacified, when Gen. Hancock's command will include that State.

2 QUILLINEW ORLEANS.

Proclamation of Gov. Nicholls-Packard Issues a Counter-Proclama-NEW ORLEANS, March 27.

Gov. Nicholls has issued a proclamation to the people of Louisiana, commencing as "The State government being now com-plete in all its branches, and in full per-formance of all its functions, it becomes the duty of the people of Louisiana to promptly discharge their pecuniary obligations to it, in order that all just claims against it may be punctually met. To ordinary motives, inducing the payment of taxes, is now added that of evincing by such payment confidence in the strength and stability of that government, and a just appreciation of the fact that it is the one chosen by the people. The evidence already received on this point is entirely satisfactory, and I confidently expect a continuance of the same patriotic action throughout the State.

The people of Louisiana may rest confidently assured that the government, of which they have chosen me the executive head, will not be imperilled or impaired by any compromise of their rights."

Packard has also issued a proclamation commencing as follows: "To the citizens of Louisiana-A so called proclamation of Francis T. Nicholis, claiming to be Governor of the State of Louisiana, just made public, contains gross mis-statements which I deem it my duty thus authoritatively to refute. Mr. Nicholls, who asserts that his government is a fixed fact, complete in all its branches, is destitute of one shred of legal title to the office he attempts to usurp.

Bursting of a Dam-Fearful Damage to the Town of Stafford-Railroad Depets, Churches, Banks, &c. Washed Away.

The dam of the Staffordshire reservoi gave way this morning, and the damage therefrom in this village is fearful.

The railroad freight house and all of the cars were washed away. The Passenger depot is all right. The Stafford National Bank, the Congregational Church, and about fifteen other buildings were washed about fifteen other buildings were washed away. The damage to the railroad track is Telegraphic warnings have been sent to Norwich and vicinity, in which direction the flood is going.

HARTFORD, March 28. The probable loss at Stafford alone is two millions. State Senator Julius Converse telegraphs that all the dams on the stream from Staffordville to a point below the springs, with all the bridges, are gone. Probably not less than thirty houses were destroyed and the loss will be very large. The dam was considered safe, but the heavy rains of Monday afternoon and evening filled the reservoir to overflowing. The breaking away was wholly unexpected, but the reservoir being set some distance above the village the alarm reached the people in time for them to effect their safety.

ELECTRIC SPARKS.

The Rockaway is the first vessel of her kind that ever left Norfolk while cautionary signals were displayed.

Gov. Hampton, United States Senator elect Butler and Attorney General Conner, with others, were to leave Columbia last night for Washington.

The St. Charles Hotel, opposite the Erie depot, at Patterson, N. J., was burned Monday night. The boarders barely escaped with their lives. Some jumped from the third story, breaking limbs.

J. L. Keck & Bro., pork packers of Cincinnati, have called a meeting of their creditors. Losses in the pork business and speculations in Chicago are the immediate causes of their embarrassment. DRIEN COTTON MARKETS. Mobile, quiet at 10¢ cents—net receipts 294 bales; Savannah, dull at 11¢ cts—net receipts 409 bales; New Orleans, quiet and easier at 9¢, 10¢ and 11¢ cents—net receipts 3212 bales; Charleston, easier at 11¢@11¢ cents—net receipts 256 bales; Memphis, dull at 10¢ cents—net receipts 271 bales; Boston, dull at 11¢ cents—net receipts 131 bales; Baltimers, dull and lower at 11¢ cts—gross receipts 285 bales; Augusta, dull and nominal at 10¢ cents—net receipts 03 bales; Philadelphia, quiet at 11¢ cts—net receipts 67 bales.

Our Night Reports. WASHINGTON.

Speculations as to Chamberlaints intentions-What Hampton's Friends Say-Louisiana Matters-The Commission not yet Made up, &c. WASHINGTON, March 27.

The Star says there are not a few who believe that Gov. Chamberlain will not return to South Carolina. His wife, it is said, reached this city several days ago with the children and several Saratoga trunks. The Governor, however, brings only the tradi-ditional carpet-bag, although the gossips suggest that Mrs. C. may have brought the personal effects of the family in the trunks. Hampton's friends say that if any compromise is suggested by which Chamber-lain, through the consolidation of the Legis-lature, offers, like "J. N." to martyr himself for the Senatorship, that he will refuse to entertain any proposition looking to that end. If the conference between the rival Executive claimants does not result in the unconditional abdication of Chamberlain. Hampton proposes to have him ejected under the existing State laws, and all he will ask is that the civil process of the courts be served on him.

The Cabinet considered the Louisians Commission. Result unknown. Gibson, Levy and Ellis visited the White House and War Department with satisfactory results. It is supposed yesterday's or-ders to Augur were modified in some way No Southern appointments reported today.

Blaine had an interview with the President after the Cabinet adjourned. Harlan, of Kentucky, is now mentioned as Commissioner, and Wheeler's name i revived. It is claimed that four of five are selected, but the names are carefully with-

It appears that Packard claimed his re cruiting officers, now imprisoned by the Nicholls government, under Augur's orders of yesterday. The orders were amplified by an explanation that no such meaning should attach to them.

FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.

The London Times on the Attitude of England and Russia Relative to Pending Peace Negotiations-The Bastern Question in Parliament-Latest Advices from Rome, &c.

London, March 27. The Times, in a leader reviewing the situation, says: "When we see how our government does nothing, promises nothing, and exhibits only distrust and condem-nation of Russia by restricting itself to the faintest phraseology in which an argument can be couched, we cannot wonder that negotiations are interrupted. The fact is that, though according to the formalities of diplomacy England and Russia have been all along combined for a common purpose, the two countries have gradually assumed such a position of antagonism that they are regarded on the continent as two rivals in a great controversy which may possibly develop into a great conflict. In Russia the notion prevails that the Turks are incited against Russia by English animosity, and in England the people believe that Russia threatens certain of our interests from instinctive impulses or a settled policy. It may be too late to change these feelings We know the situation of Russia, and on our side the resolutions and demeanor of the government are fixed for a period before the end of which all will be decided It is no less regrettable that the two governments seem incapable of arriving at an un-derstanding, and have now, as far as we can see, no point of view in common. The result must be to make the preservation of peace by means of a European agreement almost impossible. If Russia has independent reasons of her own for refraining there may be no war, but ministers and ambassadors are now at the end of their suggestions. At least this is the case with the representatives of Russia and England. The consequence of this is that those who do not despair turn to the continental Powers The Rockaway, after bearing a northeast as capable, possibly, of some mediation.

The eyes of Europe now turn once more to the members of the triple alliance. Austria, from her geographical situation, has the preponderating influence in the Eastern question, and the nearer the prospect of war the more important does her part become. During the first days of the insurrection Austria might have produced pacification by a week's energetic action.

That time is now past. Austrian occupation of Bosnia and Herzegovinia would certainly not produce peace, but would sanction the invasion of Turkey by a Russian army. If there is war there must be great war, and any power that interferes must be prepared to wage a great war also. Though Austria might, by unity of purpose and a resolution to act energetically, take the decision into her hands, it is almost certain she will leave the Russian government to take its course, reserving to lierself future liberty of action according to circumstances. The controlling forces, in a possible war, will proceed largely from neighboring empires, and in this sense the belief at St. Petersburg that, through the failure of an European understanding, the imperial alliance comes to the foreground, has a certain justification." The House of Lords adjourned for Easter recess until April 13th. In the House of Commons Sir Stafford Northcote, in reply to a question by the Marquis of Hartington, said negotiations about the protocol were still pending. The conditions were unsettled. He hoped to make a more satisfactory statement after the recess of Parliament. A dispatch from Rome to the Times an-nounces that it is stated that several of the congregations have counciled the Pope to fulminate greater excommunication against King Victor Emmanuel should he sign the clerical abuses bill. LIVERPOOL, March 27. The Post states that the covered liabilities of Isaac Low & Co., the suspended cotton house, is estimated at $250,000, chiefly on arrival contracts. WEATHER REPORT.
