The Rival Republican Office Seekers - w hat they say of Each Other-Poor Material for a New Party, &c.

WASHINGTON, May 18. The rival Republicans for office in the South are piling up charges against each other. It needs no Democratic remonstrance to exclude the present set. If what they say of each other is to be believed, not one of the present applicants is a fit person to hold an office of honor, trust or profit. The President is beginning to see but two means of disposing of Southern offices; one is to give them to Democrats, and the other is to send down new men from the North. The present Republicans of the South, native and imported, cannot endure each other, and promise to be a feeble foundation upon which to construct the proposed old-line Whig, Native Republican and Colored Man's party.

It is raining heavily on the Danube. The Times' Berlin dispatch says the Russian movement of concentration upon Kars from Poti Akhaltzik, Alexandrapel and Iravan has come to a stand-still a few marches from the frontier. The delay is partly occasioned by the necessity of es-tablishing stores for victualing the troops on Turkish soil, and partly by the Russian Generals recognizing the change effected in the conditions of warfare by the universal adoption of the needle gun. An attack in massed columns, such as the Russians undertook the other day near Batoum, was in former times as a rule successful, but now any such feats are out of the question, the needle gun, even in Turkish hands, not admitting of storming columns being formed at a distance; yet it is expected that the Russians will find it difficult to change the old system of tactics, and, if this is correct, they will have chiefly to rely

It is intended to establish a sort of mutual insurance company against Turkish shells in the Russian seaport towns.

A special to the Telegraph, from Erzeroum, May 17, says the Russians have just attempted to bombard Kars with four heavy seige guns. They miscalculated the range, and the shots flew over the town without any damage. NEW YORK, May 17. Commodore Garrison is seriously ill. The Times publishes an extract from a letter from Hayes to Garfield, before the Senatorial election, asking Garfield to withdraw from the Senatorial contest. The President then expressed his belief that Gen. Garfield's election as Speaker was probable, and assured him of his willingness to do all in his power to accomplish that result. Gen. Garfield, upon receipt of the letter, sent a telegram to a member of struction. I am firmly resolved to respect Sales of 372,000 bales American.

The Ministerial Crists in France-The Fulfilment of President Mac-Mahon's Threat-Gambetta's Speech -The New Ministry Gazetted-How the Matter is Regarded at Berlin-War Notes-A Sharp Encounter, in which the Turks are Worsted-A Message fram President MacMahon. Paris, May 18.

The Duke de Cazes received all the Ambassadors yesterday. He found among them a most unfavorable impression. Not one approved what had passed. Although some, perhaps, professed little sympathy for the Republican system, on all hands it was felt certain that the public opinion of Europe would be painfully struck.

The Broglie Ministry was appointed in fulfilment of a threat uttered by President MacMahon, that if the Left passed their order of the day, which they did adopt yesterday, declaring that the Chamber will only place confidence in a Cabinet free to, and resolved to, govern in accordance with Republican principles, which alone can secure order and prosperity, he would immediately form a Ministry from the Right.

Relative to Gambetta's speech in the Chamber of Deputies, yesterday, a cor-respondent says: "Never did the chief of the Radical party display greater or more overpowering eloquence; never did he obtain such applause, the Right maintaining a silent and dismayed attitude. Only from having heard this speech, and being present at the scene, could any one understand how much the earnestness of the situation added to the orator's habitual elo-LONDON, May 18.

The Daily News' Berlin correspondent telegraphs as follows: "The development of the ministerial crisis in France is watched here with very keen interest. It is universally supposed M. Simon's fall is the result of an ultramontane intrigue. If this should prove the case, the effect upon the relations between France and Germany may be very grave. It is an exceedingly hazardous experiment for the Right at Versailles to begin such a movement pending the adoption of important military measures by the German Government. This opinion is publicly expressed here with very little reserve.'

Paris, May 18. The new Ministry is gazetted as follows: The Duke de Broglie, President of the Council and Minister of Justice; M. de Fourton, Minister of the Interior; M. Eugene Callioux, Minister of Finance; M. Auguste Paris, Minister of Public Works; Viscount de Meaux, Minister of Agricul-ture; M. Brunet, Minister of Public Instruction; M. LONDON, May 18. The second edition of the Times has a Paris dispatch stating that the Duc de Cazes will accept the Foreign office. Vice Admiral Garnaut will be appointed Minister of Marine. It is presumed the Chamber of Deputies to-day will reply by a vote of defiance, which may lead to a prorogation and dissolution, if the consent of the Senate can be obtained. The Russsians are falling back from Kars. The Kurds and Circassians are advancing on the Russian Left from Van and Erivar. The enthusiasm for Russia is subsiding in Roumania. The Russian official dispatch from Tiflis of the 17th, says: While Gen. VERSAILLES, May 18. A message from President MacMahon has just been read in both Chambers. The President explains that he scrupulously conformed to the constitutional Dufause and Simon cabinets, chosen in accord with a majority of the Chamber; but they were unable to unite sufficient support to guarantee good government. The Presi-dent continues, "I could not make a further step in the same path without making an appeal to the radical factions, which desire modification of our institutions. My conscience of patriotism does not permit me to associate myself with the triumph of these ideas, which can only result in disorder and in the humiliation of France. As long as I retain the depository power I shall use it, within legal limits, to present such results, which would be the ruin of the country. The triumph of such theories was not contemplated when, at the last election, all the candidates availed themselves of my name. If the country were now interrogated, it would reject such a conto allow emotions to calm, I invite you to suspend sittings one month. You can then discuss the subject. Meantime we shall maintain public peace, suffer nothing at home to compromise it, and, notwithstanding the agitation in a portion of Europe, I am confident we shall maintain it abroad, am confident we shall maintain it abroad, thanks to our good relations with all the powers, and our policy of neutrality and abstention. On this point all parties are agreed. The new Cabinet thinks like the old. If any imprudence and utterance on the part of the Press threaten to compromise the concord we all desire, I shall repress it by legal means. To prevent this, however, I appeal to that patriotism which is lacking in no class in France. and Court streets.

Rosin.... Crude turpentine....

New York Naval : Stores Market, May 16, 1877. Receipts to-day, 4,097 barrels rosin, 1,213 do spirits turpentine, 75 do crude turpentine, 391 do tar. The market still somewhat unsettled, but the advantage on the whole rather favors buyers. Spirits turpentine was without much animation, and though buyers seemed to be feeling their way to a moderate extent, there was an indication of timidity, and bids did not come out prompt and free. In yard, the asking rate was 35c, but 20 bbls on wharf sold at 344c. Rosins in limited demand, and nominally unchanged on value. About former rates asked, but might be shaded for full sales. We learn of 100 bbls at $1 95 for good strained. Tar and pitch remained quiet at about former figures. The advices from the South contained nothing positive-

The telegraphic advices were as follows: Liverpool—Spirits turpentine, 28s; rosin common, 5s 9d; fine, 10s. London—rosin, 6s for common; pale, 12@15s; spirits turpen tine, 28s 6d.
