BERLIN, May 22. Prince Bismarck has arrived here irresponse to a summons from the Imperor William. A Ministerial foundil is being held to-day, Emperor William presiding. It is exected that important resolutions regarding the future policy of Germeny towards France will be adopted.

U. S. Bonds in Europe.

WASHINGTON, May 21. Advices constantly received from London indicate that the threatened general upheaval in Europe, instead of depressing, serves to stimulate the demand for United States bonds. Europe looks upon this country as the only one on the face of the globe whose position is one of assured and permanent peace and prosperity, relying upon the intelligence and prudence of the mass of the American people to prevent disasters at home and complications abroad.

The Tribune on South Carolina.

NEW YORK, May 22. The Tribune keeps up its daily "well done" to the Southern policy of President Hayes, and says: "While Governor Nicholls has lifted Louisiana bonds to ninety-three, the Bourbonism in the South Carolina Legislature still hangs back. Nevertheless the new control has been much better thus far than was expected by the protesting or even the doubting Republicans. It has preserved order.

Recruiting for Lerdo.

NEW YORK, May 22. The Herald's special from New Orleans says there is considerable excitement there over Mexican affairs. A Mexican steamer left Monday evening, carrying dispatches from the Mexican minister to Diaz. It is said an effort has been made to recruit men among the foreign population in New Orleans for Mexico, in the name of President Lerdo. The men go to San Antonio, Texas.

- The colored Odd Fellows of soremest in arms and learning. The ewbern will have an excursion to Ra- British and the Americans make more Newbern will have an excursion to Raleigh on June 5th. - Bro. Boylin, of the Monroe Express, has been handling a strawberry six nches in circumference. - We suppose thieving at Raleigh is on the decrease, as the police force has been greatly diminished.

- Whilst the thermometer ranged at 88 as high up as Hillsboro, it stood not more than 84 in Wilmington. - Truth for the People asks,

'What makes a man ?" A little boy-in he course of time. - 2 orchlight. - Quite a number of persons have united with the Charlotte Baptist church, the fruit of a recent revival of religion.

- Some of Rev. D. E. Jordan's church members in Granville have pre-sented him with an entire suit of fine clothes. - News: We learn of considerable drought in the sections of the State beween Raleigh and the Piedmont country. - Christian Advocate : The Durham Plant speaks of the "Bush Court" in Durham being full of business. We suppose "limbs of the law" appear in it.

- Hillsboro Recorder: A triweekly freight train will soon be run from Durham to Goldsboro. The regular freight between Goldsboro and Charlotte will only be run three times a week.

- Christian Advocate says: They muzzle the dogs in Wilson, fearing bydrophobia, and on the 7th of June they will try to "muzzle that dog" which the wander-ing Warren lectured about. - Torchlight : "Sass it Back" is a pretty little poem in this paper. And right here we will state, before we forget it, that sass is good in everything but children. They need some other kind of dressing. - Alamance Gleaner : Sheriff Hunter went to Virginia last week, armed with the permission of the Governor of that State, and brought back Jesse Pyles, who stands charged with the crime of bur-

The Danville Times says: Mr. J. H. C. ———, of Roxboro, N. C., pulled out a ten dollar note to pay for the Times, and he had not sold his tobacco, either. We remarked to him, we would bet five to one that he made his own meat and bread. He said he did.

- Rockingham Bee : Allen Carter, convicted at last term of the murder of Bushrod Lilly, after a feeling speech by Mr. Walker, his counsel, and also the most tender and touching admonitions we have yet heard from a Judge on the bench, was sentenced to be hung on Friday, 31st day of August, 1877.

- According to the Raleigh Ob-server, Prof. N. Horseford, for many years Professor of Chemistry in Harvard University, Mass., has been visiting the mines in estern North Carolina. He speaks very highly of our minerals, especially the iron ore of the Cranbury mines, which he believes to be the best in the world. - Biblical Recorder: Wadesboro' has four schools, six churches, nineteen stores, two coach and wagon factories, and three blacksmith shops, two jewelers, seven eminent lawyers, four splendid divines, three skilled physicians, two most excel-lent hotels and a boarding house, eight drinking saloons, and about 900 inhabitants. - Monroe Express: The citizens of Wadesboro' are taking active steps looking to the completion to that place of the Cheraw & Salisbury Railroad. The business men of Charleston have been appealed to for aid, and it appears that they have been favorably impressed with the project, and may be induced to extend the desired -- Raleigh News: Yesterday Geo. T. Stronach, Esq., of the firm of G. T. Stronach & Co., in this city, informed us that his house had received an order from the house of Henry Welsh, 109 Washington and 104 Franklin streets, New York, for one hundred hogsheads of pickled chickens, and that the order was being rapidly filled, He also informed us that the order was originally from the Russian Commissary

- Southern Home: Mr. David Cowan, of Sharon, has brought us some of the finest strawberries we have ever seen. Some measure 31 inches round. Surely, we have the finest section of the world, producing almost everything except tropical and arctic products. Almost everything can be raised better than cotton, and that is what we are trying to produce. Mr. Cowan's largest strawberries are Wilson's

- Mount Airy Watchman: We last week heard of a very unusual incident in real life in this county. It was the meeting of a brother and sister, he being thirtyfive years old and she being thirty-one, for the first time in their lives. What makes it stranger still is that he was born and raised in the adjoining county of Stokes, while his sister was born and raised in this county. There was no obstacle to their meeting, and the only reason why they did not was the course of events. - Asheville Pioneer: A citizen of this place who made the acquaintance of an Arkansas soldier during the war, has received a letter from him, dated Monticello, May 5th. In speaking of the death of his wife, he says: "She was born at Meridian, Miss., and a better woman was never called on to pass in her checks. In the game of life she always held a flush of hearts, and when death trumped her best card with his spade, she threw her hand to the deck without a murmur." - Asheville Pioneer: On the 10th inst the cars on the Spartanburg & Asheville Railroad ran up as far as South Paco-let, 19 miles from Spartanburg, and 25 miles from Hendersonville. The company confidently expect to have the iron laid to the Block House, six miles further, by the 1st of June, and by the 4th of July to reach Cold Spring Gap, Polk county, in this State, when it is proposed to celebrate the occasion with feasting and oratory.

-Southern Home: The German Society, "Harmonia," held an enjoyable meeting at the Fair Grounds on last Tuesday. On such occasions the old and the young meet together, mothers come with their daughters and fathers with their sons. Hence it is but an extended home circle. and the enjoyment is innocent and decorous. No people take so much recreation money, but they enjoy life less.

- Monroe Express: The cotton and corn crops are further behind in this section than ever known before. Cotton in some sections is at least three weeks behind, and if we do not have a remarkably favorable season the crop will be a failure. Many farmers are not near done planting corn. We learn that in some neighborhoods the farmers are checking off their cotton patches and planting corn where the cotton falied to come up. More corn has been planted in the county than in several years past. — A correspondent of the Raleigh News says: The Wilmington & Weldon Railread Company are busy at work changing the track near Halifax, and putting a new bridge over Quankey. The new bridge is to be a solid stone arch of great span. This road has put its track in fine condition, two-thirds of the rail having been laid down new in the last three or four years. The company has recently bought 30,000 tons of steel rails, about enough to lay 25 miles of track. No railroad in the State has yet adopted these rails.

-Writing of the late Rev. Dr. W. T. Walters as a farmer, Rev. E. Dodson says in the Biblical Recorder: In 1875 he made, I think, with one horse, 115 barrels of corn, 104 bales of cotton. He learned from a great man what was the food of corn. He spent $27 50 on one acre of land to make it produce fifty more bushels of corn. It would then be so rich as to need no fertilizers for four or five years. He planted one and a half acres in corn fodder at home, and it lasted his horses, cows and hogs one and a half years. He understood the great principle that cattle love green food more than dry food. A few days before frost he cut all the green corn and placed it perpendicularly, not horizontally n the barn. He said if it was not so placed t would rot.

Too Much Married.

During the trial of a case before Justice Gardner yesterday morning, in which one Abraham Talley, colored, was the defendant, it transpired that there were two separate claimants to the honor of being his wife; or, in other words, that the fond husband had not proven himself a good hand at keeping tally in his matrimonial alliances. One of the women, one Lizzie Brown, had witnesses to prove that she was married to the defendant some time in the year 1876, and the evidence was corroborated by the record in the office of the Register of Deeds; while another female brought forward witnesses to prove that she was married to Talley about three or four years ago at Smithville. Under these circumstances it was determined to hold the defendant to answer to the charge of bigamy, and he was remanded to jail to await further developments, when the Register of Deeds of Brunswick county can be heard Hot After a Fugitive. Sheriff Manning received a dispatch on Monday, from parties in Fayetteville, requesting the arrest of one Elex Mazinga, white, who was expected to arrive here on the steamer A. P. Hurt that night, and to hold him until a capias could reach here on the D. Murchison Tuesday night. An officer was on hand when the boat arrived, when it was ascertained that the man got off at Kelley's Cove, some distance up the river. The fact was telegraphed to Kelley's Cove at once, and it has since been ascertained that Mazinga was arrested at that place and taken back to Fayetteville. It was his bondsmen who were so hot after him, but we have not learned the extent of his offence.

A Stray Youth. A circular has been received at the City Marshal's office from Superintendent Walling, of New York, announcing the disappearance of a young man by the name of Oscar Wolff, for whom a reward of $50 is offered. He is described as being 20 years old, 5 feet 7 inches high, dark complexion, hair cut short, small moustache, dressed in either dark gray or gray and spotted white suit, sometimes wears a dark blue neck-tie and gold scarf-pin. Is fond of billiards and pool. Has been missing since May 5th. Speaks German and English. H has been guilty of no offence, the idea merely being to get information as to his whereabouts. He is thought to have come

Sanitary Matters. We are reliably informed that the city scavengers are in the habit of depositing filth in less than one hundred yards from many residences in the southeastern portion of the city, notwithstanding the protests of the parties living in the neighborhood. We call the attention of the proper authorities to the fact, as the practice should be stopped at once. While on this subject, we would also call attention to the pond of stagnant water on Wright, between Eighth and Ninth streets, which should be drained at once, as there are houses in the vicinity, the occupants of which are entitled to be protected from disease as much so as those in more favored

U. S. Commissioner's Court.

J. W. Bryant, colored, was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner VanAmringe, yesterday, charged with obtaining money and fees from the U. S. Government wilfully, falsely and corruptly, in making an affidavit in a certain case, charging a party with retailing spirituous liquors without first obtaining the proper license. It appearing in evidence that the plaintiff had been indicted at the January term of the Superior Court for retailing without the proper license, which was previous to the making of the affidavit in question, the case was dismissed.

TO ALL, PARTICULARLY INVALIDS, spring s a trying season. Indications of sickness should at once be attended to. Fatal diseases muy be caused by allowing the bowels to become constipated and the system to remain in a disordered condition, until the disorder has time to develop itself. An ounce of prevention is werth a pound of cure, is an old and truthful saying. Therefore, we advise all who are troubled with the complaints now very prevalent-headache, indigestion, disordered liver, want of appetite, nausea, or feverish skin, to take, without delay, Schenck's Mandrake Pills. We know of no remedy so harmless and decisive in its action It at once strikes at the root of the disease and produces a healthy tone to the system. People never need suffer from any disease arising from a disordered condition of the liver if they would take this excellent medicine when they feel the first indications of the malady. Families leaving home for the summer months should take three or four boxes of these pills with them. They have an almost instantaneous effect. They will relieve the patient of headache in one or two hours, and will rapidly cleanse the liver of surrounding bile, and will effec tually prevent a billious attack. They are sold by

DIED.

BAUM.—In Magnolia, N. C., May 14th, Mrs. FANNIE E. BAUM, wife of T. W. Baum, and daughter of W. J. Cornwall, Esq., aged 23 years and FANNIE E. BAUM, wife of T. W. Baum, and daughter of W. J. Cornwall, Esq., aged 23 years and 10 months.

The deceased leaves a devoted husband, two bright and beautiful shildren, a fond father, sisters, brother, and a large-circle of relatives and friends to mourn her early death, while society is left to deplore the loss of one of its brightest ornaments. The writer of this has been intimately associated with Mrs. Baum from childhood, and can truhtfully assert that in every relation of life, as wife, daughter, mother and friend, she was a model of excellence. Though so young in years, her gentle dignity and sterling worth rendered her an ornament to her sex and constituted a model of true womanhood worthy of emulation. Gentle, affectionate, frank and self sacrificing in the extreme, she was a jewel in the home circle, and that her gentle influence extended abroad, that her nebility of soul was recognized universally manifested at her loss.

She was the victim of that fell disease consumption, and bore a long and painful illness with un equalled fortitude and patience. For her pure soul death held no terrors, but with the assurance to her weeping friends that Jesus was with her, she walked fearlessly, trustingly forth from the shades of earth's cold shores, out into the bright and beautiful Beyond, there to mingle with that bright and glorious throng who sing praises forever to God and the Lamb.

Grief for the loss of one so loved must be deep

Lamb.
Grief for the loss of one so loved must be deep and heartfelt; each heart that loved her is shrouded in gloom, but ah! not despair, for breaking through that gleom, like stars through the curtain of night, are memories of the beautiful faith and trust she displayed in her Saviour, and these memories, so bright, mingling like sun-rays with our tears, weaving in the sky of our souls a bright rainbow of hope, of promise, that "what was our loss was her eternal gain;" that she but put away this frail earthly garment for a spotless robe and a golden crown in the bright "Hereafter."

Tossed, for a little while, on Time's dark tide, lts ebbing and its heaving she hath known: Its contrasts—living joys side by side With blackened wrecks and altars overthrown, Too pure was she to drift on this wild main Of Life, its waves to breast and overcome, And angels, pitying, came, a shining train, To guide the wanderer to her heavenly home

Hushed now the wild unrest of life's dark ses— Lost now, in peans of joy, its waves wild moan, While she, forever from its tossing free, Is anchored safely in a glorious home. Safe! On the breast of Jesus she'll await
That hour to which the future will give birth;
That hour when angels through the "pearly gate,"
Shall lead to her the loved ones left on earth.
