STATE MEDICAL CONVENTION. This body met at Salem on Tuesday, Dr. G. A. Foote in the Chair Col. R. L. Patterson made the address of welcome. We condense from the Raleigh News:

Reading of papers being declared in order, Dr. Carr reported an operation of tracheotomy.

A communication was read from Dr. H. E. T. Manning, offering the columns of the Maryland Medical Journal for the uses of this Society and its members. Dr. J. K. Hall reported an interesting case of incysted tumor of

Dr. Satchwell asked that 9:45 tomorrow be named for the formation of the State Board of Health, in accordance with legislative enactment.

A committee of five was appointed to select the time and place for the next meeting, and the committee on Credentials reported that the "Pee Dec Medical Association" be recognized and admitted as auxiliary, and that Dr. Joseph Hollingworth and Dr. R. W. Glenn be admitted to membership, and that they find Dr. H. E. T. Mauning a duly accredited delegate from the Maryland Medical and Chirurgical Society.

Dr. Satchwell moved that a committee be appointed to memorialize Congress to have the duty on quinine removed.

Dr. Kelly reported some interesting cases in his practice. A communication was read by the Secretary from the Arkansas Medical Association. Dr. Eugene Grissom read an interesting paper on epilepsy.

The thanks of the Society were tendered to Dr. Jas. McRae for bound copy of Transactions from 1845 to 1876.

Dr. Hyatt reported two cases of eccentric epilepsy.

The use of bromides was discussed by Drs. Hyatt, Duffy and O'Hagan. Dr. Lane read a paper on amputation of the leg treated by antiuptic dressing, which was discussed by Drs. O'Hagan, Sharp, Duffy and Wood.

Dr. Lane read a paper on extrophy of the bladder.

Dr. McKee tendered his resignation as secretary of the Society which, on motion, was accepted, and the thanks of the Society tendered him for past services.

North Carolina Ministers in New Or leans. [Raleigh News.]

We gather from the New Orleans Democrat that last Sunday night Rev. J. R. Wilson, D. D., of Wilmington, N. C., preached in the First Presbyterian Church of New Orleans; Sunday morning Rev. L. C. Vass, of Newbern, N. C., preached in the Franklin Street Church; in the morning Rev. W. S. Lacy, of Moore county, N. C., preached in the Napoleon Avenue Church, and at night Rev. D. E. Jordan, of Oxford, N. C., gentlemen are in New Orleans attending the session of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the Southern States.

Home Again.

[Oxford Orphan's Friend.]

This kindness of the people has enabled us to pass over a journey of more than three hundred and fifty rugged miles. Well, at last we close the pleasant trip. We have been out four weeks, and have given twen-dy-four entertainments. In spite of

THE MORNING STAR.

VOL. XX.--NO. 55.

WILMINGTON, N. C., FRIDAY, MAY 25, 1877.

That man ought to travel up and down to Snow Creek. The children are from North Carolina, viz.: Messrs. Gray Carroll, C. W. Tillett and E. Alexander. are jaded out, and so are the mules. All must rest and recruit. As soon as we are able to fill them, other appointments will be made.

A Wise Investment. [Oxford Orphan's Friend.]

The city of Raleigh has voted to levy a tax to support free public schools for the young. The State is paying ten thousand dollars a month to support ignorant and vicious men and women in the penitentiary. These people are too ignorant to he penitent. They feel guilty of being caught. It would have been cheaper to have taught them to read the Ten Commandments when they were

- Joe Wetherington, colored, of Newbern, had four fingers badly cut by a saw, had one amputated, and will probably lose the use of his hand.

- Thomasville Female College commencement begins on June 5th. Rev. Reuben Jones, of Portsmouth, Va., delivers the annual address. - Superintendent Mills thus advertises a landlord in the Oxford Orphan's Friend: "In Mocksville we find a big, biting Frost. His name is Ebenezer."

- The Orphan's Friend says the Courthouse at Lexington is the best in the State, save the new building at Asheville. Does it beat Greensboro and Yanceyville? - Mr. W. C. Troy, of Fayetteville, will deliver a literary address before Cape Fear Male and Female Academy, at Maysville, in Bladen county, on the 8th of June. - Concord Sun: Three little boys, two white and one black, narrowly escaped being killed one day last week by the fall-ing of the "well house" at the Morris House.

- There is to be a large Sunday school mass meeting at Bethesda Methodist Church, in Robeson county, on Sunday next. A sermon and address will be de-

- Raleigh Register says: Marshal Douglas, of the Western District, applied to the Attorney General for $6,000 to run his office until the first of July, and was allowed $5,000.

- Weldon News: We are very much gratified to learn that the excursion from this place to Raleigh, for the benefit of the Episcopal Church, was in all respects a success, about $300 clear profit being realized, we learn. - Goldsboro Messenger: A colored boy named Pat Atkinson, about sixteen years old, was killed by lightning on the farm of Mr. Jas. H. Hastings, known as the old Ed Sasser place, in Fork township, last Monday evening.

- The editor of the Robesonian, writing from Wilmington on the 17th, says: "The STAR is rapidly increasing in public favor. Its disposition to give the 'devil' or any other man his dues seems, after all, to take with a good many people.' - Concord Sun: Jeff. Blair, negro.

was committed to jail yesterday for an attempt to commit a rape upon a little girl seven years old, a daughter of Benton Barnhardt. His wicked design was detected before he accomplished his hellish purpose. - A train of eight passenger coaches left the Raleigh & Gaston depot yesterday morning at 8 o'clock, having on board the Edenton Street M. E. Sunday school and a number of friends, number-ing in all about four hundred, bound for an excursion to Kittrell.

- Judge Fowle delivers the literary address at Wake Forest College; Rev. J. D. Hufham, editor of the Biblical Recorder, delivers the Alumni address; and Rev. Dr. Tupper, of Richmond, Va., preaches the Baccalaureate sermon. A very inviting bill of fare truly.

- Charlotte Observer: Fifteen persons were baptized at the Baptist church preached in the St. Charles Avenue last night by the pastor. The interesting methodist Ghurch. These reverend ceremony was witnessed by a large congregation. These persons professed religion under the preaching of Rev. F. M. Jordan, in this city, a few weeks ago.

- Raleigh Observer: The sale of the celebrated Ore Hill, of Chatham county, at the court house door to-day, is the largest sale of real estate known in North Carolina for many years. It is sold under a decree of the Circuit Court of the United

- Concord Sun: Leroy Gray, the negro tried in Gaston county for rape, owes his life, perhaps, to a very little circumstance. During court week the prisoners in jail made their escape by breaking through the walls. All left but Leroy, who declared that he was innocent of the charge and would stay and stand his trial.

- Richmond Christian Advocate: A Florida Methodist promised a prize to the first one of the children of the M. E. Church, South, who would furnish the name of a preacher of any rank who is in the faithful discharge of pastoral duty to the children of his charge, as that duty is defined in the discipline. The Rev. A. D. Betts, of the North Carolina Conference, is the preacher.

- Oxford Orphan's Friend: Two years ago a man took a cow belonging to the Orphan Asylum, penned her alone in a solitary thicket and kept her concealed until he was betrayed. He had several times denied that he knew anything about the cow; but when she was found, in his pen, he claimed great credit for having "kept her to her milk." His impudence was equal to his villainy.

- Charlotte Observer: A corres pondent at Greensboro writes us that the seventeen-year locust have appeared in that section of the State in considerable numbers. The locusts first makes its appearance in a large grub, coming out of the ground backward; its wings soon unfold, when it at once attacks the nearest tree. The ravages of the seventeen-year locusts are confined entirely to the trees.

- A correspondent of the Magnolia Record, writing from Mount Olive, says; "Our villagers and the surrounding vicinity had quite a picuic at Winn's Chapel, near this place, on Friday, the 18th inst., and two very fine addresses were delivered, respectively by Rev. J. L. Britt, of Warsaw, and Rev. B. F. Marable, of Goldsboro. The occasion was the combination of the Sunday schools of the village and surrounding country. - Orphan's Friend: A writer in the News proposes to propagate frogs near Newbern and drive them to Philadelphia. He forgets (perhaps he did not know) that Pasquotank River raises every year frogs enough to feed an army. They could be caught, salted and sent by water to Northern cities without the trouble of "concerts and dime parties" by the way. But if concerts must be given, the Camden frogs outsing all others. They throw so much life and melody into their music.

- Raleigh Observer: Last Sunday night the residence of Henry Calwell, near Warsaw, Duplin county, was broken open and robbed. Mr. Calwell was old and very infirm, could barely walk, having been for a number of years afflicted with rheumatism. The family had all gone visiting and the old gentleman was alone, when about midnight three men entered the house and took therefrom $98 in gold and silver—the majority of it was gold—all that he had. He could not tell who they were; one was white, the other two black. A negro living on his land was arrested. out no clue to the robbery.

- Magnolia had a lively blow, accompanied with sharp lightning, on Mon-day last. The Record says: "We learn that a tree was struck by the lightning in the yard of Mrs. R. P. Merriman, and that Mr. George E. Brooks received quite a severe shock, though without any serious injury. A yearling calf was also knocked down by the same flash. In the southeastern portion of the town the wind raged with great violence, uprooting trees, blowing down fences and the like. It also blew down the frame of a new house belonging to W. T. Hannaford, Esq., and another small house, nearly completed, belonging to Mr. Chas.

issued from the Signal Office in this city:

An Unfounded Report. There was a somewhat exciting report in circulation throughout the city, yesterday morning, to the effect that a colored man had been caught in the yard of a prominent citizen, in the act of stealing, and that said colored individual had been shot and killed. literally riddled with balls, by the aforesaid prominent citizen. We were, it must be confessed, a little surprised that the "old Adam" had become so fearfully aroused in the breast of our friend, the barrister. which said p. c. happens to be, but we were willing to believe that, under the circumstances, such a thing was possible, as the invasion of one's premises in the "silent watches of the night" on plunder intent is enough to arouse the ire of the most staid and good-natured citizen, and we had already made the rumor in question the foundation in our mind for a column item at the least calculation. But we had barely settled this important preliminary to our satisfaction when the report took a different turn, and another prominent party, residing in a different section of the city, was given the credit of doing the desperate deed, and he also a "limb of the law." At this point we began to doubt that there had been any shooting at all, which impression received added force when another report connected the name of a prominent dentist with the rumored homicide, and upon further and diligent inquiry we found that there was no foundation for the rumor in the least, except it might be the circumstance alluded to in another paragraph in

The examination of scholars who have been under instruction at the Williston School House during the scholastic year just ended, took place yesterday, at the school house alluded to, under the auspices of the School Committeemen, consisting of Aug. The attendance of scholars was very large, their appearance neat and tidy, and the discipline excellent, altogether reflecting much credit upon the Principal and assistants.

The recitations in spelling, reading and writing were very good, especially in the Primary Department, and the same was the case in the exercises in Geography and Arithmetic. The music was very fine. In the intermediate department the examination was confined to Grammar, map drawing, and all other courses of study connected with this department of learning. The total number of scholars is two hundred. The rooms of the building are in a very cleanly condition, and are well ventilated, and we learn that the pupils, as a whole, exhibited marked evidences of improvement.

Horse Thief. A postal card was received at the City Marshal's office yesterday, from a party in Charlotte, addressed to the "Cheaf of Polease," requestirg that a lookout should be kept for a black man by the name of Jack Johnston, who stole a horse from the writer. He says he came up with the thief in Sumter, S. C., and got thehorse, but that the thief is still at large. Ie was at Florence on Saturday and Sunday last, and was expected to come from there to Wilmington, where, the writer says, he is well acquainted. Jack is represented as being stout built, weighs about 190 pounds, with "unusually large rosey lips. Policemen and detectives, attention! Kep your eyes skinned for a large black man with rosey

When the Farme was merged in the Weekly Star it was the intention of the proprietor to resume the publication in magazine form; and, with this object in view, the name has been retained in the Weekly Star continuously from the day of consolidation. The new series of the Carolina Farmer will be fully up to the old standard, both in matter and appearance; and it is hoped the old friends of the magazine will go to work in its behalf. Mr. Hamilton McMilan will be associate editor.

- The old Cape Fear had quite a business-like appearance at one time vester day afternoon, not less than seventeen corn and naval stores schooners being on their way up the river at one time, and all this side of the "dram tree." They appeared to be racing to see which should get to the wharves first. The schooner Ray, Captain Dennis, was the first to tie up, but the captain modestly disclaimed any triumph on account of this fact, asserting that his vessel had some advantage over the most of the others in not being so heavily laden.

Discovered at His Tricks-An Exciting Chase. Wednesday night, about 11 o'clock, a colored man living in the neighborhood of Wooster, between Front and Second streets, in the southern portion of the city, discovered another "colored man and brother" in the act of trying to break into his house, the house-breaker at the same time becoming aware that his intended victim had detected him in the perpetration of his villainous scheme. He started to run and the proprietor of the house followed in hot pursuit, discharging his weapon at him several times as he fairly flew through the deserted streets, arousing the drowsy echoes and causing many residents in the vicinity, who had retired to their beds, to rush to their windows in alarm. The badly frightened thief, however, finally made good his escape, no doubt
