MORNING EDITION. OUTLINES.

Two American officers will be sent abroad to observe the operations of the army. Grant beats Fitzhugh by writing a letter to G. W. Childs. President and three of his Cabinet are attending the exercises of the Naval Academy at Annapolis.

Hyman, the negro, does not succeed Mr. Winstead as mentioned on the third page. Hyman is in the Second district. He is unfit for the place, and his appointment under the circumstances is not creditable to the administration.

Grant is overwhelmed with courtesies. NEW YORK, June 19. A cable from London says General Grant yesterday morning breakfasted with George W. Smalley, the well known journalist, and in the evening attended a dinner given in his honor by the Reform Club, Earl Granville presiding.

Grant dined to-day with the Prince of Wales, at Marlborough House, and at midnight he visited the office of the London Times. The Tettering Republic. PARIS, June 19. It is expected that the Senate will vote on the question of dissolution on Thursday.

Governor Wade Hampton arrived here yesterday afternoon from Columbia, and, without going to his hotel, proceeded immediately to Ocean Grove, near Long Branch, to join his friend, Professor Darby, of the New York University, who is at Ocean Grove, just recovering from a dangerous wound received in performing a surgical operation.

A Defeat for the British Ministry. LONDON, June 18. In the House of Lords to-night the government was again defeated on the burials bill. The Earl of Harrowby moved that where friends of a deceased person object to the Church of England service they may dispense with it, or substitute other service, even though the deceased is buried in a churchyard.

Hugo to Tennyson. M. Hugo has written the note translated below to Mr. Tennyson, in acknowledgment of the sonnet recently printed: To Alfred Tennyson—My Eminent and Dear Brother: I read with emotion your superb verses. It is a reflex of glory which you send me. Why should I not love England, which produces men such as you—the England of Wilberforce, the England and Milton and Newton, the England of Shakespeare? France and England are to me a single people, as truth and liberty are a single light. I believe in the unity of humanity as I believe in unity divine. I love all peoples and all men, and I admire your noble verses. VICTOR HUGO.

Raleigh has a shirt factory. Thanks to the Torchlight for its cordial praise. Wadesboro is anxious to get a first-class barber. And Raleigh, too, is glorying in its sweet rye peaches. Durham sent four pupils to Chapel Hill last session. The editors of the Charlotte Observer are reveling in luscious peaches. Ah, me. Rev. T. T. Eaton's address before Raleigh Baptist Seminary is well spoken of by the Raleigh papers.

The Goldsboro Messenger says it will not do to put black bass in our streams, as they make war upon the other fish. Sixty-six rats found in an old Newbern chimney and killed. What a large Chinaman would have had if present at the deaths.

Which is the oldest species of berries? The elder-berry, of course. Torchlight. Wrong. It is next to the oldest. The eldest berry goes into the tart. Miss Annie Patterson, sister of the well known elocutionist, Miss Jennie Patterson, that was, recently married Mr. Y. C. Harris, of Granville, the wood engraver.

Lincoln Progress: That portion of Gaston county lying between here and Dallas is infested with a great many mad dogs. A cow, bitten by one of them, made a violent charge upon a wagon and team a few days ago, but was soon dispatched by a rifle-gang.

Concord Register: It is a fact not now generally known to our citizens that in a little less than two miles from the corporate limits of Concord lies buried one of the signers of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence. We allude to Benjamin Patton.

The pretty young ladies of Oxford dress in a very summer style with a sheet thrown around them, and then their dear souls are called wax-works. It is a good thing that they are flesh and blood, and not sure enough wax, for it will be a melting time on the 24th if this weather continues.

Greensboro Patriot: Maj. Atkinson returned from Mt. Airy yesterday and reports a determined resolution by the part of the people up there to do their part in the construction of the road. They are making an acre canvass of the county, which will carry the $50,000 appropriation on the 2nd of August.

Hillsboro Recorder: The general opinion is that while wheat is thin, it is finely headed, and free from all disease, and will approach an average crop. Oats have improved and will make a fair crop. Hillsboro can exhibit what, perhaps, no other town in the State can: a tobacco patch within a hundred yards of the court house.

Charlotte Observer: We were shown yesterday four lumps of gold which aggregated the weight of eight ounces, which were found in the pure state on the plantation of Mr. Jesse Smithman, near Troy, Montgomery county. Mr. Smithman has a large amount of land on which quantities of gold may be found almost anywhere.

Reidsville Times: The largest fish fry of the season was at the old Palmer pond yesterday. We do not know who is president of this association since Dr. Redd was indicted and deposed for malfeasance in office. We are gratified to be able to state that the early completion of the Methodist Church at this place is now considered a fixed fact.

The Danbury Reporter tells of a little two-and-a-half years old child who strayed off and was only found after a night and day's search. When found it was asleep on the bank of a stream with its little feet in the water. Six showers had fallen upon the little wanderer, and its skin was wrinkled and crumpled from the drenching wetting. It had not been more than a mile and a half from home. When last heard from the child was well, no serious consequences attending its exposure.

Asheville Citizen: Some days since, at a log-rolling on Spring Creek, right at the line which separates Haywood county from Madison, an altercation took place between a Mr. Frisby and Mr. Woody, which resulted in the death of the former. We have not the particulars. Both are citizens of Madison, but happened to be a few feet in Haywood when the difficulty occurred. This entire section has been visited with good rains, and as a consequence all vegetable creation is improving. Much irreparable damage, however, had been done to some of the growing crops.

The humorous editor of the Tarboro Southern thus describes that modern dance known as the "German," which he witnessed at the late University Commencement: "It is a grotesque between a cross roads quilting, Pitt county tater peeling and the Boston slide, with the gooseing feature amended and enlarged. First they couple off and slide up, boys waltz off (not on their ear), girls run off, boys after them, catch up, waltz off, boys run, girls after them. Then they waltz. Gals all in a row, holding hands, boys winding between 'em, waltz vice versa, waltz, four chairs, wind through 'em. And then they waltz."

Raleigh News: There is now a splendid fish-way over Powell's dam, on Catawba river. The example of the Commissioners of Catawba county in this instance should be followed by other counties. "One good turn deserves another." After Hester has finished with Douglas, this shadow of a great name should tell all he knows about Hester, and give the latter a chance to finish his career where nature designed—in the penitentiary. Com. The Board of Directors for the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb and Blind held a meeting last Thursday evening. An election of officers was gone into. All of the old officers were elected with these exceptions: Miss Clara Hoy, of Beaufort county, was elected Matron; Miss Carrie Wilson, of Raleigh, assistant matron; John Standford, colored, carpenter.

Alamance Gleamer: We thought everybody was satisfied with Winstead. We have never heard the slightest complaint of the management of his office. We very much doubt if his displacement will give us a better man in his stead. We saw, the other day, in Esquire W. R. Albright's yard, in this village, an almond tree hanging with fruit, and also an English walnut tree that has borne fruit, but for some cause has none this year. Wheat is ripening rapidly and our people will be this week and next in the midst of harvest. The wheat crop is good, and the oat crop has much improved and will be better than was a few weeks ago expected.

Oxford Torchlight: Flour is said to be falling. But it will rise again dough. Heaven lies about us in our faces. Floating Paragraph. And the world lies about us when we grow old.

Capt. in a Family. A very pretty little story in the Banner of Liberty. A great many Benedicts are caught in family jars down this way, too. A subscriber writes: "I am not able to take your paper. Please stop it—unless you can afford to send it free." Just as soon as we can make arrangements to furnish a couple of chromos, a steel engraving, a sewing machine and a cook stove, we will send this paper free to our friend. A few miles from Oxford, on the plantation of Mr. Wm. E. Crews, is undoubtedly a deposit of coal. The mine has never been fully investigated, but from sources of a perfectly reliable character, it has been ascertained beyond doubt, that there is a deposit of coal on Mr. Crews' place.

Charlotte Observer: The chief feature of Sunday's services was the sermon of Rev. S. Taylor Martin to the young ladies of the Institute, at the First Presbyterian church, on Sunday night. The congregation was large; several of the other pastors gave their services to be present and hear the sermon. It is spoken of in the highest terms. On Sunday morning, June 17th, James Heitman, formerly a citizen of Charlotte, died at Winston and the same evening his body was brought to Charlotte for interment in the Jewish cemetery, near the outskirts of the city.

All of the fire companies held meetings to-night to complete arrangements for the annual firemen's picnic. Maj. W. W. Flemming, Vice-President of the North Carolina Land Company, yesterday received from the Commission of Awards at the Philadelphia Centennial a beautiful bronze medal and a certificate, given to the company for the finest collection and greatest variety of commercial woods on exhibition. These woods were collected by Maj. Flemming and his father-in-law, Rev. Dr. Raiston, of Norris, Pa., during a six weeks' trip through Western North Carolina in the early part of last summer.

The Janitors, Health Officers, &c., were then inducted into office and received the requisite instructions, the Health Officers being urged particularly to look carefully after matters pertaining to the cleanliness and good health of the city.

The officers of the police force, as now constituted, are Capt. Cowan, in charge of the day division; Capt. Fitzgerald, in charge of the night division; and Sergeants Forrest, Savage and Taylor.

The Great Chicken Dispute at Norfolk—North Carolina Holds Her Own—Alamance and Nash to the Front. We have just had an interview with a gentleman of this city who was present at the great "chicken dispute" at Norfolk during the past week. The various contestants appeared on the grounds on Tuesday, with thirty-one cocks to the side. The fight had been proposed by Virginia against North Carolina, and it had been the understanding with the latter that they were to fight Virginia cocks. The North Carolinians were somewhat surprised, therefore, when they found that there were no Virginia cocks on the ground, but that they had to contend with Washington cocks, composed of the celebrated Ealing breed, red, with black breasts, and the no less famous breed of "Red Quills." Nothing daunted, however, North Carolina insisted that the matching should proceed, and out of the thirty-one to the side the contestants matched twenty-two each. There was one fight on Tuesday, which was won by Washington. On Wednesday there were seven fights, on Thursday seven, and on Friday seven, making twenty-two in all. On Thursday morning Washington was three ahead of North Carolina, but during the day the latter won five out of the seven fights, leaving Washington but one ahead. On Friday North Carolina fully recovered her losses, the contest ending Friday evening with a draw man, North Carolina, as represented by the justly celebrated cocks of Holt, of Alamance, and Arrington, of Nash, coming out of the fight with flying colors, inasmuch as the North Carolina cocks, without an exception, stood their ground and were game to the last, while four of the Washingtons, composed of both "Ealings" and "Red Quills" ran away. Our informant states that the contest was a very interesting and exciting one, and that Arrington and Holt came out of it with new laurels for their famous North Carolina chickens.

Commissioners of Navigation and Pilots. When the new Board of Commissioners of Navigation and Pilots goes into office, it will stand as follows: J. H. Chadbourn, James Sprunt, D. MacRae, H. B. Eilers, D. G. Worth, W. J. Potter, M. C. Guthrie—the two latter for Smithville. The old Board goes out of office on the 1st of July, which is on Sunday, and the new Board will probably qualify on the following Monday and elect a Harbor Master, &c.

Lead, Bismuth and Zinc are immensely useful in the industrial arts; and as immensely injurious when applied to the skin to beautify it or to remove Pimples, Blisters, &c., from it. Dr. Bull's Blood Purifier is the great purifying agent of the blood, giving clearness of complexion and removing Pimples, &c.

The New Police Force, Health Officers, Janitors, &c., inducted into office. The newly elected members of the police force assembled at the City Court room yesterday morning at 10 o'clock. At the appointed hour Mayor Dawson requested Chief of Police Brock to call the roll of officers and privates of the force, when the necessary oath was administered to them, and they subsequently subscribed to the same in the Book of Record.

Mayor Dawson then delivered a brief address to them, touching upon their various duties and urging upon them a faithful performance of the same. They all looked as if they were able to discharge their duty, he said, and he should expect them to do it. He alluded to the habit of arresting men who had been indulging in a little too much "on-be-joyful," but were not boisterous or quarrelsome, and said that it was the duty of the police to contrive to get such to their homes by passing them from one beat to another. In the case of countrymen, who should happen on a little breeze while on one of their periodical visits to the city, they should see them to their boarding houses. Wherever a person should be caught raising a disturbance on the streets, however, or conducting himself in a boisterous and unseemly manner, calculated to disturb the peace, he should be immediately arrested and taken to the guard house. He cautioned the force to be careful how they used their clubs. If a prisoner should prove obstreperous or difficult to manage the proper assistance should be summoned. It would be rarely indeed, and then only in the most extreme emergencies, that a resort to the club would be necessary in the management of a prisoner. He called the particular attention of the force to the matters of house-breaking, stealing, &c., and urged the exercise of the utmost vigilance in order to prevent these crimes or to detect the perpetrators of them. He should hold them to a strict accountability in this particular, and in every instance where a robbery occurred the matter would be closely scrutinized and investigated, and if it should appear that it was due to any neglect or inattention on the part of any member of the force, the offender would be immediately suspended from duty. Telling those who had not been elected that they could go to their homes and conduct themselves as private citizens, he announced that twenty-five of the force would be set apart for night duty and ten for day duty.

The Janitors, Health Officers, &c., were then inducted into office and received the requisite instructions, the Health Officers being urged particularly to look carefully after matters pertaining to the cleanliness and good health of the city.

The officers of the police force, as now constituted, are Capt. Cowan, in charge of the day division; Capt. Fitzgerald, in charge of the night division; and Sergeants Forrest, Savage and Taylor.

More Indian Relics. Mr. J. S. Melvin, of Brunswick county, while engaged in ploughing on his plantation a few days ago, unearthed an Indian calumet or pipe, also used by the aborigines as a sign of peace. It is of large size, made of clay and with a double bowl, being in a remarkably good state of preservation. About the same time he also brought to the surface an Indian spear, about four inches in length, made of flint rock, with two conchs, which were buried by its side. The calumet, which is quite a curiosity in its way, being evidently a relic of a pre-historic age, can be seen at Mr. D. Pigott's store, on Market street.

Thermometer Notes. The following will show the state of the thermometer, at the stations mentioned, at 4.35 yesterday evening, Washington mean time, as ascertained from the daily bulletin issued from the Signal Office in this city: Augusta, 82; Montgomery, 89; Charleston, 90; New Orleans, 82; Corsicana, 93; Norfolk, 75; Galveston, 90; Punta Rasa, 87; Indianola, 87; Savannah, 93; Jacksonville, 87; St. Marks, 93; Key West, 89; Wilmington, 98; Mobile, 88.

The Shooting Club. We learn that there is a prospect of a match between the two teams of the Rifle Club, at their range on Eagle's Island, to take place at an early day, probably on the 4th of July. The members are getting in good practice and will probably be in admirable trim by that time. The distance will be five hundred yards.

Although years of experience in medicine had failed to accomplish a certain and sure remedy for this disease and its effects, such as Sour-Stomach, Heartburn, Water-brash, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Liver Complaint, yet since the introduction of GAZER'S ATTERBOROUGH'S we believe there is no case of Dyspepsia that cannot be immediately relieved. Two doses will relieve you. Regular size 75 cents. DR. SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SEA WEDD TONIC, and MANDRAKE PILLS.—These medicines have undoubtedly performed more cures of Consumption than any other remedy known to the American public. They are compounded of vegetable ingredients, and contain nothing which can be injurious to the human constitution. Other remedies advertised as cures for Consumption, probably contain opium, which is a somewhat dangerous drug in all cases, and if taken freely by consumptive patients it must do great injury; for its tendency is to confine the morbid matter in the system, which, of course, will make a cure impossible. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup is warranted to contain no particle of opium: it is composed of powerful but harmless herbs, which act on the lungs, liver, stomach and blood, and thus correct all morbid secretions, and expel all the diseased matter from the body. They are the only means by which Consumption can be cured, and Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, Sea Wedd Tonic, and Mandrake Pills are the only medicines which operate in this way. It is obvious they are the only genuine cure for Pulmonary Consumption. Each bottle of this invaluable medicine is accompanied by full directions. Dr. Schenck is professionally at his principal office, corner Sixth and Arch Streets, Philadelphia, every Monday where all letters for advice must be addressed.
