Gov. Hampton at Auburn, N. Y. AUBURN, June 20.

This has been a gala day for Au burn. The streets are filled with people, and the buildings with flags. Governor Robinson arrived last evening, and Governor Wade Hampton this morning. They were conducted to the residence of E. P. Ross.

At the reunion of the Shield Guard this afternoon, Governor Robinson in his speech welcomed Gov. Hampton to the Empire State, and referred to the recent eyents in South Carolina, connected with the election, the withdrawal of the troops and inauguration of Governor Hampton, and assured the latter that his heroic and magnanimous conduct during that period of time, when but a word from him would have involved the State in armed conflict, entitled him to the respect and admiration of the whole country. On behalf of the Empire State, he bade Governor Hampton a cordial welcome, both on account of the personal esteem in which he was held, and the position he occupied as Governor of a sister State. He concluded by saying that in the contest for constitutional government New York would have no more sincere, earnest ally than South Carolina.

ton to the audience. Governor Hampton was received with wild applause. He stated that he came not in his official capacity nor to take a prominent part in this anniversary, but at the request of General Shields to bring the old Palmetto flag and to pay his tribute to the hero, in honor of whom the Shield's Guards were named.

He then introduced Gov. Hamp-

After paying a high tribute to General Shields, Governor Hampton spoke of the reference that had been made to the recent contest in South Carolina, and said that was not a political contest, but a struggle for honest government and the life of the State. It was a contest against the "carpet-bagger," and when he said "carpet-bagger" he said he meant thief. For, said he, we call no man a "carpet-bagger" who did not bear that character. He then referred to the pledges made by the Democrats of South Carolina that they would make no discrimination of party, race or color, and cited as proof that they were carrying out that pledge, the election of a Northern Republican and ex-Federal soldier as Chief Justice of the State. As for himself, Gov. Hampton said that when nominated he pledged himself to know no party, no race, no color, and he intended to carry out that purpose. [Applause.] He stated that he was the first man in South Carolina after the war to advise that colored men be given the ballot. The speaker paid another warm tribute to General Shields, and made an eloquent plea that the Stars and Stripes might wave long over a united country in which every man shall enjoy his constitutional rights.

In the evening the mansion of Hon. Charles N. Ross was thrown open from 8 to 10 o'clock, during which hours the citizens of Auburn paid their respects to the distinguished guests. At the conclusion of the reception the visitors repaired to the armory of the Shields' Guards, where just started at Washington, N. C. Its first the festivities were wound up with a number contains a good deal of matter, and promises unusually well. C. M. Brown grand military ball.

Important Case to be Argued.

Raleigh Observer. The case of the State vs. Jessie F. Hopkins, frem Guilford, and that of the State vs. Deaver and Green, from Rutherford, in which is involved the constitutionality of the power to remove cases from the State to the Federal Courts, will be argued before the Supreme Court this week. It will be remembered that in the first case named, Judge Cox, at Guilford Court, delivered an elaborate opinion, in which he directed the case to be trans-ferred upon petition of defendant and progressive is this age! which he directed the case to be transferred upon petition of defendant and certificate of counsel to the Federal Court. From his decision an appeal was taken. The State is represented in these cases by the Attorney General, J. T. Morehead, Judge Fowle, W. H. Bailey and John Gatling, and denly Ill. A colored woman by the name of Harriet Foy, from Harnett Township, was taken seriously ill at the Court House, yesterday afternoon, and it was at first thought that she was dying, but she finally revived somewhat and at last accounts it was believed she might recover. Her husband, Humphrey Foy, was convicted of larceny at the recent term of the Criminal Court, and sentenced to the penitentiary for two years, having left for Raleigh on the evening's train. It appears that defendant's counsel had appealed to the Supreme Court in his case, and his wife came to the city yesterday in order to effect a mortgage on their crop, they having some twenty-five or thirty acres under cultivation, by which the necessary bond could be given, but the arrangements were not perfected. She was in the office of the Register of Deeds, conversing with the Register about the matter, when, on rising to depart, she commenced falling, and was caught in the arms of the Register (J. E. Sampson), having been seized with convulsions. The city physician was immediately sent for, who soon after arrived and prescribed the necessary remedies. It is supposed that grief for her husband's fate was the cause of her illness.

The Board of County, Commissioners. Gov. Vance has appointed David S. Sanders, Esq., of Cape Fear Township, a member of the Board of County Commissioners, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Delaware Nixon.

In this connection the last Raleigh Observer states that this county "has at last a member of the Board of County Commissioners who represents the property, virtue and intelligence of the people." Our contemporary is no doubt laboring under a misapprehension. There were already two Democratic members on the Board (Mr. B. G. Worth and Capt. I. B. Grainger), and the appointment of Mr. Sanders makes the third, which gives them a majority of one member.

The Penitentlary "Birds." Owing to some misunderstanding in regard to the schedule of the W. & W. New Hanover is doing her whole duty in the cause of internal improvements. Hamp Gray, colored, was arraigned be fore Justice Gardner, yesterday morning, on the charge of cheating by false token. The specific allegation against the defendant, as brought out in the evidence, was to the effect that a man named Aaron Godwrite an order in favor of Gray on Mr. Thos. Beck for 30 cents in trade. The order was written as desired, and Godbolt gave it to Gray. It was further shown that when the order was presented at Mr. Beck's store it called for $1.50 instead of 30 cents, and the order itself, which was presented in court, bore evidence of having been tampered with. The evidence, in short, was to the effect that Godbolt intended that the order should be for 30 cts; that Mr. Quillen, so understanding it, wrote it for that amount; that it was handed to Gray in that shape, and that it had been altered prior to its presentation at Mr. Beck's store. Defendant was ordered to give bond in the sum of $200 for his appearance at the next term of the Criminal Court, in default of which he was committed to jail.

State Guard. If the arrangements can be effected, as desired, and it is - Some gentlemen were exercising to be hoped that such will be the case, a pleasant time will doubtless be had by our military friends, as it would be difficult to conceive of a more pleasant locality in midsummer than Smithville and its surroundings, where the delicious ocean breezes have such an agreeable and in vigorating effect.

> Doing Well. We learn that Houston Monroe, the colored man whose legs were crushed on the railroad at its intersection with Sixth street, a week or two ago, and subsequently underwent the painful operation of having both limbs amputated just below the knees, at the hospital in this city, is doing remarkably well and is expected to recover. He has continued in good spirits throughout the trying ordeal through which he has been called to pass.
