our Helations with Mexico.

WASHINGTON, July 6. The Secretary of State observed to-day that for the first time in the history of our diplomatic relations with Mexico there was an earnest determination on the part of that government to put a stop to the marauding expeditions which have so often threatened the peace of the two countries. He said that the Mexican government had perfected measures for the establishment of an effective force on its northern borders to arrest all parties attempting to cross the Rio Grande for the purpose of committing depredations. The Secretary said that he now felt every assurance that there will be peace on the borders. At the same time there will be no respite in the vigilance of our own officers.

The Speakership.

NEW YORK, July 6. A Washington dispatch says: A Democratic member of Congress from the Southwest says that there is a good deal of correspondence going on with a view of selecting a competent man from the South for the Speakership. The candidates talked of are John H. Reagan, Texas: burn, Kentucky.

From Washington. [Special dispatch to Alexandria Gazette.] WASHINGTON, July 5.

The President, in pursuance of his policy of conciliation, and believing that the confidence reposed in the people of the Southern States will not be abused, has determined to withdraw all the troops from those States. They will be withdrawn as fast as arrangements can be made for their transfer to the West.

Cov. Hampton's Mission. New York, July 6.

Gov. Wade Hampton, of South Carolina, is still in the city; consulting with bankers and merchants in relation to the loan authorized by the South Carolina Legislature. It is not known whether he has been successful, as he declines to see reporters. He will finish his mission, and return to South Carolina in a short time.

Military Visitors Expected. Lieut. R. B. Alexander, of the Charlotte

Grays, was in the city yesterday, and we learn that he has made arrangements for a visit of his company to the seashore, where they will be quartered for three days, at Piney Point, on Wrightsville Sound, and will spend about the same length of time at Smithville, provided suitable arrangements can be made for the accommodation of his command at the latter place, of which there can hardly be any question. The Grays are expected to leave Charlotte for this place a week from to-morrow or Tuesday. and we can safely predict that they wil never have cause to regret their trip. We learn that Lieut. John D. Club House Broken Into.

We learn that the club house of the Carolina Yacht Club, attuated upon the banks at Wrightsville Sound, was broken into on or about the 20d wit, and badly damaged. The house had recently undergone extensive repairs and been placed in thorough order, preparatory to the yachting season, and a party is said to have visited the sound about the time alluded to, went over to the beach and spent the night in the house. Not being connected with the club they had no key, and, the doors and windows being locked at the time, they, by means of some heavy instrument, burst open one of the windows, and, after entering, forced the door, built a fire upon the floor and otherwise misused and abused the building.

The yacht club have long endeavored to keep their club house in constant repair. but it seems almost impossible to do so unless something is done to protect it from such depredations. Several times it has been broken open, and being left open, the contents of the house are afterwards removed by persons unknown to the club, and before the building can be closed. The time the house was broken open last month considerable expense was entailed upon the club, and an effort is being made to ferret out the offenders that the law may be visited upon them as a protection to the

In the case of O. A. Wiggins vs. the Carolina Central Railway Company, the Superior Court, on yesterday, rendered its decision, stating that the verdict was excessive and that if the receivers would consent to an order for the payment of a reduced sum and the plaintiff refuse to accede to the proposition the verdict would be se aside. Counsel for defendant said the receivers had no such authority, and the verdict was allowed to stand.

Defendant appealed to the Supreme Court on the questions of law involved.

The Court adjourned vesterday afternoon for the term, after a laborious session. A Habeas Corpus Case.

Mr. Richard Eagles, of Pender county, sued out a writ of habeas corpus for the recovery of his child, Rosanna Eagles, from the possession of Mr. S. W. Leehu, of Brunswick, which was heard before His Honor Judge Seymour, mesterday, in Chambers. Mr. F. H. Darby appeared for Mr. Eagles. Mr. Leehu, who had no counsel, offered no opposition to the operations of the writ, and Judge Seymour decided that the child should be placed into the possession of Mr. Eagles.
