The President's Visit.
The following preamble and resolution were adopted by the Common Council of the city of Petersburg, Va., with reference to the President: WHEREAS, There being a reasonable expectation that His Excellency Rutherford B. Hayes, President of the United States, in his contemplated journey to Virginia, may be induced to visit the city of Petersburg; and being desirous of testifying our high regard for the exalted position he holds, and for the manner in which he has thus far discharged his duties; therefore, be it Resolved, That the Mayor and the Common Council, in behalf of the citizens of the city of Petersburg, hereby invite His Excellency R. B. Hayes, President of the United States, to visit the city during his progress through the State, assuring him of a cordial reception by our people. The following is the committee of arrangements: Mayor W. E. Cameron, Chairman; S. W. Venable, T. J. Carratt, Samuel Lecture, W. E. Deaton, Wm. Loran, P. H. Booth. On motion, the President of the Council, Mr. Wm. F. Spotswood, was added to the committee.

Julius L. Clemmons.
The Greensboro North State says of this gentleman, who claims to have first conceived the idea of telegraphing: "Mr. Clemmons was a native of Davidson county. He ran for Congress, as a Democrat, upwards of thirty years ago in the district of which Guilford formed a part, in opposition to Augustin H. Sheppard. He was one of the most purely intellectual men that ever held forth from the stump. He was a man of convictions, without any of the feelings of the demagogue, or arts of the stump speaker. He argued theories and principles with great power, and in a statesy sort of way, that would have fitted well a college professor. His rhetoric was wasted away above the heads of his auditors. Everybody respected him, but a minority voted for him."

Honors of the Supreme Court.
[Raleigh Observer.] Judge F. we think, will not object to the publication of the Turkish-Hungarian dialogue in the Supreme Court a few days ago. He was arranging his numerous volumes of legal lore, preparing for the Harrison (guardian) case, and turning to Mr. S., remarked that he was ready now to cross the Danube. "Well, Dan—ube got 'em!" was the reply. "Er—room for you to fight all day," said Mr. B. But when this was told Mr. M., he at once said, "why didn't he give the Buck-a-rest?"

Raleigh Observer: The sexton of the Catholic cemetery of this city discovered yesterday morning a small box buried in his grounds, which he supposed contained the body of an infant. On being reported the fact to the police, Officer Hampson was notified, who, upon investigation, found that it was the body of a young lady living in this place, who is really beautiful and well educated, aged 18, wants to meet a young man who is matrimonially inclined. For further information apply at this office. John D. Wynn, at Beacham's auction stand last evening, and made a very dangerous cut on his arm. Mr. A. W. Green, of Wilson, fish expert of the Agricultural Department, arrived in the city last evening with six more cases of fish from Massachusetts. These fish will be sent out to one of the rivers at once, but which one we are not advised.

— Charlotte has a new map said to be good.
— Raleigh handled 140 bales cotton last week.
— The Bingham school opens with seventy pupils.
— Revenue collections in 4th district last week, $17,308.33.
— Three miles of the Milton and Sutherland railroad is graded.
— Measles are prevailing at Dudley and are fatal among the children.
— Hickory has now telegraphic communication with outside barbarians.
— Prof. Fetter's classical and mathematical school at Oxford has opened auspiciously.
— Mr. Millar Kicks's dwelling in Nash county was destroyed by fire. Incendiary work.
— Complaints are made that depredations are made upon the Catholic cemetery at Raleigh.
— And now the cry is from many sections, great damage has been done to the crops by excessive rains.
— Alford Perry was horribly, if not mortally, wounded in Burke by the explosion of the cylinder of a threshing machine.
— One of the Raleigh excursionists fell under the cars at Newbern and would have been killed but for the prompt action of Capt. C. K. Hancock and one or two other citizens.
— Mr. T. W. Stedman, a promising young lawyer of Marshall, Texas, died a few days since. He was the oldest son of Major William Stedman, who emigrated to Texas from Chatham county about 26 years ago.
— Major Frank H. Cameron, President of the N. C. Insurance Company, has been unanimously re-elected President of the Annual Convention of Southern Life Insurance Companies, now in session at Alleghany Springs, Va.
— The Wilson Advance pays a high compliment to Capt. S. W. Vick, of this city, but at one time a citizen of Wilson. The Advance says he is "strictly a self-made man, combining much cleverness with the highest integrity."
— Colonel W. S. G. Andrews, historiographer of the Odd Fellows, has prepared a sketch of Past Grand Master John Campbell, the purest, truest, best men we have ever known. The sketch is accurate and not overdrawn.
— Milton Chronicle: We are pleased to learn that the reported death of Mr. Pulliam, of Leesburg, is untrue, and that he is not dangerously ill. — Mrs. Kenneth Rayner and daughter are sojourning at Woodburn, in Person county, N. C., and are the guests of Montford, McGehee, Esq.
— Mrs. Daniel W. Stacey was in a wagon when it backed over a bridge in Burke, and fell thirty feet, taking the horses along with it, striking the railroad below. The Burke Blade says, and what is strange, neither Mrs. Stacey nor the horses were killed, though the wagon was torn to pieces. Mrs. Stacey is badly bruised, but is not considered dangerously ill.
— Wilson Advance: The green cabbage worms are making their annual depredations about this time. They come from the white butterflies that are constantly skipping about the garden. — There is no town in North Carolina, from the Tennessee border to the ocean, that presents a better neurological record than Wilson. — Peaches plentiful at ten cents a peck.
— Magnolia Record: Bilious fever and measles are prevalent. — Peaches are fine and plentiful; apples are rather scarce. — The cholera is ravaging some of our plantations, leaving scarcely a pig behind. — The crops of Pender are improving wonderfully, and under the persistent use of the plow and hoe, and the thermometer well up in the nineties for the last two or three weeks.
— Asheville Citizen: Mr. W. K. Davis is recommended to the "powers that be" for reappointment as Deputy Marshal. We do not hesitate to express the hope that Mr. D. will be appointed. — Rev. Mr. Clemmons has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Presbyterian Church, at this place. — Saturday night there were 238 guests at the Warm Springs, and each of several daily stage lines adding to the number.
— Raleigh News: We had a call yesterday evening from J. C. Hess, Esq., General Agent of the National Immigration Bureau, Philadelphia, who is now visiting the South in the interest of that organization, to make arrangements to have displayed in Machinery Hall, Fairmount Park, Philadelphia, specimens of fruits, minerals, woods, &c., for the information of emigrants desiring to settle in any part of the country.
— Greensboro North State: The deposits of the Bank of Greensboro at the close of business on the 22d of June, were $43,209.41. Prof. McIver has been re-elected principal of the Normal School, and S. G. Smith, Miss Sallie Brent and Miss Lizzie Lindsay, assistants. — Quarterly meeting of Friends was held at New Garden last Saturday and Sunday. The weather being fair, there was quite a good attendance. Many ministers were present, among whom was Daniel M. Thurston, of Minnesota, who delivered discourses on both days.
— According to latest accounts there are but 116 teachers attending the Normal School at Chapel Hill. These are divided as follows, according to a correspondence of the Raleigh Observer: Number of graduates of colleges, 24; number of partial college training, 25; number of academic training, 47; number of common school training, 20. Of the graduates 9 are male and fifteen are females. Average age of male teachers, 29 1/2 years; average age of female teachers, 22; number of married male teachers, (about) 13; number of married female teachers, (about) 8.
— Greensboro Central Protestant: Judge Dick delivered a capital lecture before the Greensboro Normal School Tuesday, on the subject of "Associated and Harmonious Effort." — Mr. Len Henderson, of Granville county, has been in the city for some days on a visit to his venerable mother, who has been quite ill at the residence of her son-in-law, Hon. A. M. Scales. The reported retention of Col. Winstead as collector of this district gives, so far as we learn, immense satisfaction to a large majority of the people. — Dr. John L. Brower has been employed by the American Bible Society to canvass the northeast counties of North Carolina. He will begin shortly in Currituck county.
— The news from Mt. Airy is favorable to the success of the railroad from that place to Greensboro. — The regular meeting of the Directors of the N. C. R. R. is at Greensboro, August 8th, 1877.

Delegates to the Postal Convention.

Below we give a full list of delegates from this city to the Postal Convention, which meets at Fort Monroe to-morrow, the 25th inst., as appointed by His Honor, Mayor Dawson, all of whom, we understand, expect to attend, with possibly one exception:
From the Chamber of Commerce—A. H. VanBokkelen.
Produce Exchange—W. L. DeRosset, Donald MacRae.
Board of Trade—N. Jacobi, H. Brunhild.
To represent the Railroad Interest—A. Pope.
Banking Interest—L. B. Grainger.
To represent the City Government—C. D. Myers, H. G. Flanner, H. Voller.
The three first named will also represent the "Permanent Postal Committee," of Wilmington, appointed under a resolution of the meeting held at the time of the visit of the "Special Commission on Railway Mail Transportation."
The delegates will leave for Fort Monroe this morning.

Fender Items.

A barbecue and ratification meeting was held at Burgaw Saturday. The rival factions were addressed by Geo. W. Price, Jr., and James Heaton. Heaton is said to have charged the Burgaw faction with offering him money to canvass the county in favor of that point as the county site. Among other features of this meeting a South Washington banner was unfurled.
A correspondent at Point Caswell writes: "In accordance with the call for a county convention made at Point Caswell, by a county meeting at that place held July 5th, a large number of citizens turned out and a very enthusiastic convention was held. Dr. J. F. Simpson explained why the location of the county site was placed on the railroad. After the discussion, it was unanimously agreed that we, the free and independent voters of Pender county, would vote for Long Creek as a permanent county seat."

Obtaining Goods Under False Pretenses Contempt, &c.

A colored man by the name of Jesse Brown, a stranger in the city, had a hearing before J. C. Hill, J. P., yesterday afternoon, on the charge of obtaining goods under false pretenses. He was ordered to give a justified bond in the sum of $250 for his appearance at the next term of the Criminal Court. He was also sentenced to pay a fine of $50 and be imprisoned for thirty days for contempt of court, in assuming a witness on the stand, &c. Defendant was committed to jail. There is some suspicion, we understand, that Brown is an escaped convict from the penitentiary.

Thermometer Record.

The following will show the state of the thermometer, at the stations mentioned, at 4.35 yesterday evening, Washington mean time, as ascertained from the daily bulletin issued from the Signal Office in this city:

Complimentary Again.

Alluding to Wilmington, the extent of her population, &c., the Asheville Citizen says: "We cannot despair of our grand old Mother State. If her sons will but stand by her, and be true to her, a great destiny awaits her in the early future. But we sincerely congratulate our 'city by the sea' over her evident course onward and upward."

Address of Temperance.

Capt. W. T. R. Bell, President of the State Council, Friends of Temperance, will lecture at the Seaman's Bethel, in this city, this evening. Capt. Bell is not entirely a stranger to our people, and his address will no doubt be an interesting one, as well as productive of good to the cause.

Excursion.

The grand family excursion on the steamer Gov. Worth, under the auspices of the Young Catholic Friends Society, to Smithville and Fort Caswell, takes place to-day. The boat will leave the wharf foot of Market street, at 8 A. M. A fine time is expected.

Race for Championship.

The proposed race between the yachts Frolic and Carolina will take place to-morrow (Wednesday) afternoon, over the regular course at Wrightsville Sound. The boats will start at 2 P. M. A lively time is expected.

RIVER AND MARINE ITEMS.

— The Steamship D. J. Foley, Price, cleared from Baltimore for this port on the 21st inst.
— The Schooner Albert Mason, Rose, cleared from Baltimore for this port on the 21st inst.
— The Schooner John H. Griffin, Foster, cleared from Philadelphia for this port on the 21st inst.
— The Steamship Funita, Doane, sailed from New York for this port and Morehead City on the 21st inst.
— The schooner Susan, which has been on Messrs. Cassidy & Ross' steam-railway, undergoing some slight repairs, was launched yesterday and is now ready to take in cargo.
— The steamer North State reports a rise of three feet on the shoals between this city and Fayetteville up to Saturday night and Sunday morning. By yesterday, at noon, it was expected that the freshest had gained considerable more strength.
