PENNSYLVANIA.
Threatening attitude of the miners at Scranton—Bary Industry stopped and 30,000 men idle.
[Special Telegram to the Dispatch.]
PHILADELPHIA, PA., July 27.
The most feature of the present situation in Pennsylvania is the threatening attitude of the miners at Scranton. There is a panic and dread in that city and vicinity. There are 30,000 idle men, with blast furnaces closed, rolling-mills idle, railroads stopped, and mines flooding fast, so that should the present idleness prevail a week it would take six months to place the mines and rolling-mills in working order once more.
In no part of the United States has the strike worked such disaster, and nowhere are the consequences so threatening. It has been noticed that the men are very orderly. They have had everything their own way so far. They have stopped every industry, and the railroad strikers have stopped everything but the mail-car. This morning even the mail failed to make its regular trip, the company refusing to run it unless a passenger train was also permitted.

Five men engaged in a fight in Franklin county, Ronnie Edwards, of Granville, was severely cut. Frank Best of Warren cut him and got a broken head. The others were not much damaged.
Raleigh News: On Saturday night, at Asheville, Mrs. Secretary Engelhardt cut her hand very severely with a pane of broken window glass. There are said to be a large number of cases of bilious fever in the penitentiary.
Hickory Press: S. T. Wilfong, of this county, made 826 bushels of wheat this season—twenty-two bushels to every one sowed. Three gentlemen caught nearly three hundred trout last Tuesday, in Mill Creek, near Old Fort, in a few hours.

Total expenses, $81 35. Profits on 42 boxes, $4 90. A good showing for the railroad.
Elizabeth City North Carolina: W. A. T. Stockton, of North River, in Currituck, died on the 21st. The government work at Hertford, clearing the obstructions in Perquimans river, is under charge of John W. Arvella. Good progress is being made. The corn and cotton in Onwasa are both improving. Hardly an average crop expected.

DIAB TRIUMPHANT.

End of the Lerdo Movement in Texas.—Pedro Valdez surrenders.
GALVESTON, July 26.
A special dispatch from San Antonio to the Times says: "Gen. Narantio, commander of the Mexican troops at Piedras Negras, on being informed of the arrest of Gen. Escobedo and his suite at Ringgold barracks, thanked Gen. Ord for the same, and notified him that General Pedro Valdez, who was in Texas, and who, it was stated, was about to cross the river to try conclusions with Narantio in favor of Lerdo, has come into Piedras Negras, with his officers, and surrendered to the Diaz government, and that he (Narantio) has pardoned them. This is the end of the Lerdo party in Texas. Gen. Escobedo and suite are under bonds, and Pedro Valdez has surrendered."
The "Hoodlums." [New York Times.]
With characteristic cowardice a San Francisco mob has threatened the Chinese residents, and has wrecked several Chinese shops and houses. This is mainly business. The Chinese are unpopular because they do not vote and because they work for low wages. Infamed by the reports of riot in Eastern cities, the rough element of the city, unemployed and noisy, looks about for a means of expressing sympathy. The defenseless Chinaman is the most convenient object, and his head is straightway cracked. No more conclusive evidence of the ruffianism and cowardly brutality of the average loafer could be found. The people who seek Chinese houses and stone Chinamen are not working men. The San Francisco people call them "hoodlums"—a term which includes everything that is base and mean. The hoodlum is a non-producer, a loafer, and a bully. The hoodlum class think this a good time to signify their hatred of law and order. The old Californians threaten to revive the Vigilance Committee of 1856, which hanged rioters and outlaws without the usual formalities of law.

brought this side of the river Monday to work on the Railroad, escaped from the barn in which they were sleeping Monday night, by digging a hole under the sill with a tobacco stick.

Louisburg Courier: Mr. Harris, clerk to the Superior Court Clerk of this county, has a pen in his office that he has been using regular ever since 1838, and it is a good pen yet. Nathan Lister jailed for breaking in a drugstore at Franklin. The new Baptist Church, which we spoke of some time since as being in contemplation at this place, has been commenced.

Wilson Advance: Mr. Almon Hart, a prominent citizen of Edgecombe, died at his home on Tuesday last, loved and respected by all who knew him. We heard a gentleman say a short time ago that he had had extensive experience in traveling over various portions of the United States, and that he had never found a cleverer set of conductors than those on the W. & W. Railroad.

Rocky Mount Mail: Mr. B. H. Edwards, who lives in the neighborhood of what is known as the "Man gold mine" in this county, was in town on Tuesday with specimen rocks in which the precious metal can be seen to sparkle. Our market is daily supplied with fine peaches at 10 cents per peck. We hear that wheat from the new crop is being sold at $1 25 per bushel.

Asheville Citizen: A special Agent, Mr. Sharpe, has been here a few days investigating the charges against Col. Fagg. The trial is conducted on a magnificent scale, so far as proportions are concerned, but goes down to small things. The Colonel's "moral character" is on trial and not the charge upon which he was removed. Hon. Thomas L. Clingman has arrived at home to spend the summer. He is in excellent health.

Lenoir Topic: Two little negro boys, aged seven and ten years, sons of Julius Tye, who lives near Tuttle's X Roads, in Caldwell county, last Saturday, got into a dispute over a piece of bread, when the oldest one told the youngest if he took the bread he would kill him. Not heeding the warning, the little negro took the bread, whereupon the other took a pistol from the pocket of the father's coat and deliberately shot the younger one in the abdomen. At last accounts the wounded child was not expected to live.

Raleigh Observer: There is a farmer in Wake county who utilizes a flock of sixteen geese for grassing out his cotton field, and he says they are equal to five hoe hands. Fact. A stalk of "Means" grass, from Mecklenburg county, was one six inches high, and the "bestenist" beet of the season, from Guilford county, were the only entries at the Agricultural Museum yesterday. — J. H. Mills, and Miss Robey, one of the teachers in the Oxford Orphan Asylum, were at Henderson yesterday, with eight or ten orphans with sore eyes, to meet Dr. W. G. Graham, of this city, who goes out on the train on the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad to meet them and to prescribe for them. By this arrangement much expense is saved. — Mrs. J. H. Fleming, of Rolesville, this county, who was stricken down a few days ago with apoplexy, is slowly recovering from the shock. She was taken with the fit while en route to the funeral of Mr. Thompson, and is still at his late residence, but will be removed to her home to-day.

Local Dots.

To-day is known in the religious calendar as the 9th Sunday after Trinity.
The Criminal Court meets one week from to-morrow.
We regret to learn that Mr. F. M. James, one of the health inspectors, is quite sick.
Mr. Nathan Meyer, of this city, is reported very ill at Cleveland Springs, in this State.
The days are now exactly fourteen hours in length, having lost thirty-six minutes up to date.
No police arrests Friday or Friday night, and no session of the Mayor's Court yesterday morning.
Heat and mosquitoes have troubled some of the people at the Sounds during the last two or three nights.
The Register of Deeds issued only one marriage license during the past week, and that was to a white couple.
People have to get shaved on Saturday now, as the barber shops are not allowed to keep open on Sunday for that purpose.
Vice Consul Heide, who has been on a visit North, returned Friday evening. He had nothing to do with the "strike."
Mr. George Jones, of Durham, formerly of Goldsboro, has been here during the past week on a visit to his brother, Mr. R. J. Jones.
Frederick William Veithure was the name of the German sailor, belonging to the German barquentine Anna, who died suddenly on Thursday night from heart disease.

The intensity of the heat yesterday can be judged of by the fact that there are two cases of sunstroke recorded in our paper this morning, a very unusual occurrence for this latitude.
Falling barometer, stationary temperature, southerly winds, partly cloudy weather and numerous light local rains, possibly followed by cooler westerly winds, are the indications for this section to-day.
It would look more reasonable for a person residing as far out as Seventeenth street, who should find a dead chicken in front of his door, to have the same quarters than to send all the way to police headquarters to complain of the matter.

Yesterday was unanimously voted the hottest day of the season. The thermometer at the City Hall, at 12 o'clock, indicated 96 degrees, that at Messrs. T. W. Brown & Sons attained to 97 degrees, and the one in the STAR office to 94 degrees.
We are glad to learn that the rumor, which gained such wide spread circulation on the streets yesterday afternoon, to the effect that ex-Mayor Canada had "shuffled off this mortal coil," is not true. He has been very ill with diphtheria, but is now improving.

There were four interments in Oakdale Cemetery during the week closing yesterday. The parties were aged, respectively, 19 months, 2 years, 20 years, and 22 years, and the diseases were cholera infantum, heart disease, apoplexy of the heart and cancer.
We didn't keep count, but think we must have heard the interesting remarks repeated several hundred times, yesterday, that it was "very warm," "terribly hot," "dreadfully warm," &c., and one poor fellow, who looked as if there would soon be nothing left of him but a "grease spot," ventured the suggestion that it was "ridiculously hot."

Another sudden death on shipboard. Mr. B. C. I. Mikkelsen, second mate of the Norwegian brig Heria, died quite suddenly on Friday evening. He felt unwell during the day, and about 5 o'clock in the afternoon, accompanied by Capt. Omundsen, went to see one of our city physicians. He then returned to his vessel and tried to work, but continued to grow worse, and finally had to retire to his berth. About 5 o'clock the Doctor was sent for, but found his patient in a dying condition, and between 6 and 7 o'clock he breathed his last. The physician pronounced the disease apoplexy of the heart. Deceased was a young man, only about 21 years of age, and a native of Arundal, Norway.

The flags of the Vice Consulate and of the Norwegian and Swedish shipping in port were at half-mast during yesterday, as a token of respect for the deceased.
Rev. J. L. Keen, chaplain of the Seaman's Home, performed the funeral services.

The Wilmington District Conference of the Methodist E. Church, South, assemblies at Rocky Point, Pender county, on Thursday, August 23d, and will continue in session several days. The following delegates have been elected to represent the churches in this city:
Front Street—Wm. M. Parker, J. H. Mallard, Wm. M. Poisson, and H. M. Bowden.
Alternates—S. D. Wallace, W. E. Freeman, J. F. Garrett, and R. W. Chadwick.
Fifth Street—W. G. Fowler, Jr., B. A. McClammy, W. K. Bell, and G. Register.
Alternates—W. H. Goodman, Robert W. Smith, N. Gillilan, and T. T. Seiders.

Seized With a Fainting Fit. A colored woman, whose name we did not ascertain, fainted at the office of the Superintendent of Health, yesterday afternoon, and had to be taken to her home in one of the city cars. She went there after some medical advice.

Burr's Occasion, or War on the Wave.

We were present last night at a preparatory exhibition of Mr. Burr's really excellent panorama, and conscientiously assure the public that, aside from the interest natural to the portrayal of events which have transpired in our vicinity, and from the fact of the artist being a native, either of which, we presume, would be sufficient reason for the gathering of a large audience. The artistic excellence of these paintings will, we are satisfied, please the most critical. Don't fail to go, if you wish to be agreeably and delightfully entertained.

The prospects for a good house Monday night are very flattering. Assuredly none will regret going. We predict for Mr. Burr a grand success wherever he may exhibit, and certainly hope that the citizens of Wilmington, on the occasion of his first exhibition, Monday night, will but accord him what his paintings so richly merit in the way of a liberal turnout.

Orders for Pilotage. The river pilotage on vessels going out or coming in at New Inlet is a little less than by the main bar, and where this is the case some endorsement specifying the fact should be made by the captain, especially upon pilot orders or due bills, which the vessel's agent at Wilmington frequently gives. We mention this fact because we know that these orders are taken in trade as cash by nearly all of our merchants, and there has been delay in the collection of several of them, because, when presented, the parties who issued them (notwithstanding the fact that there was no endorsement from the captain of the vessel to show it) declined to pay the face value, for the reason, they asserted, that the vessel went out at New Inlet, and the pilot, therefore, was not entitled to the full amount specified in the order.

Another Mad Dog Killed. A dog, evidently suffering from an attack of hydrophobia, was killed yesterday afternoon, about 5 o'clock, in one of the alleys leading from Front to Water streets, between Market and Dock, by Officer B. R. King. The animal was frothing at the mouth, and, as he ran backwards and forth, would snap at every large rock or other article of any size that he encountered. His eyes also appeared to be perfectly green. The officer fired his pistol at him once, but missed his mark, and he then knocked him lifeless with his club. The dog is said to have belonged on one of the vessels in port. He created considerable excitement among the denizens of that neighborhood for a few minutes.

A Case of Sunstroke. Mr. Samuel R. Bell, who was engaged at work on a new building being erected on Fourth, in the neighborhood of Nixon street, was overcome by heat yesterday, about 12 o'clock, and fell to the ground, upon which he was standing at the time. He was taken to his home, near by, and a physician sent for, who, after some difficulty, succeeded in restoring him to consciousness, and at last accounts he was reported to be improving. We understand that it was a very severe case, and that Mr. Bell made a narrow escape.

Sanitary Matters. We notice that the various drains, alleys, &c., were yesterday being sprinkled thoroughly with lime. The drains on N. Water street were needing something of the sort very badly, especially in the vicinity of Mulberry street. We are glad to see that the authorities, including the Superintendent of Health and the health inspectors, are taking apparently every necessary precaution to preserve the health of the city and improve its sanitary condition.

Opening a Public Road. The Board of Trustees of Harnett Township held a meeting at the office of Justice Harris, yesterday morning, for the purpose of taking the necessary steps for the opening of a public road from Macomber's store, near the seven mile post, to Red Hill Landing, on Middle Sound, in that township.

A Washed Hand. A colored boy called at the office of the city physician, yesterday afternoon, with a badly washed hand, stating that he received the wound through his mule's running away and "spilling" him from his cart. He received the proper attention.
