PROM WASHINGTON.

The Federal Ald to the States. Special Dispatch to the Baltimore Sun.

WASHINGTON, July 29. Up to this time six Governors of States have called on the President for Federal assistance to put down domestic insurrection. Three other Governors, who have not called on the President as yet, have issued proclamations commanding the rioters to disperse, and ordered out the militia of their own States to enforce the order. In another State, where there has been a great deal of trouble, Indiana, the Governor and the local authorities have taken no steps to protect the peace, and the criminal indifference which they have exhibited is subjecting them to the severest censure. So that the insurrection begun at the comparatively insignificant town of Martinsburg, has spread antil it embraces the territory of ten States. Included in these States are the four most populous States of the Union: New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Illinois.

McMahon Speaks to France. [By Cable to the News and Courier.] Paris, July 28.

President McMahon arrived at Bourges yesterday, where the Mayor presented an address. The President. in replying, said his sole aim had been the maintenance order of peace abroad and constitutional at home. His intentions and acts had been misrepresented. There had been no violation of the constitution, or interference with the liberty of conscience or jeopardizing of foreign relations. The public good sense at home and abroad had estimated these calumnies at their true value. He added: "They will not discourage nor prevent me from fulfilling my task, with the help of the men who have hitherto been supporters of my policy. I am confident that the nation will respond to my appeal, and will choose representatives who will terminate the conflict, which if prolonged could only be hurtful to the country's interests, and check the pacific development of its greatness." Alluding to foreign affairs, the President said: "France had done all in her power to localize the war in the "Peace," he said, "is the first policy, the French policy."

A Distressing Accident.

A very distressing accident occurred in the river opposite this city, on Sunday, about 12 o'clock. Capt. Ebon Horton, of the schr. Siam, who resides on Fifth, between Church and Castle streets, was returning from a trip to Fort Fisher, having his family on board, and was passing point between the Messrs. Kidders' Mill and the Cotton Factory, when Robert Horten, a son of the captain, aged about 18 years, went out on the bowsprit of the schooner, there being but little wind at the time, and the act in consequence attracting but little attention. Still he was warned to be careful, by one of the hands on the boat, but the words of caution had scarcely been spoken when Capt. Horton was shocked by the startling cry that his son was overboard. The vessel was immediately stopped, a boat lowered and a search made for the unfortunate youth, but nothing was seen of him from the time he fell, the impression being that he was stunned by coming in contact, while falling, with the anchor which was suspended over the bows, or that the vesse passed directly over him. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in searching for the body, but it was not recovered.

None but those who have suffered a similar bereavement can fully appreciate the feelings of the parents at the result of this heart-rending accident. The mother, we understand, was, at last accounts, almost frantic with grief, and the father, though more capable of restraining his emotions, no doubt feels as deeply the sad calamity which has so suddenly befallen them.

Since writing the above we have seen Capt. Horton, who says that his wife was not with him, but that his eldest daughter and another young lady were on the vessel. He was at the wheel at the time the accident occurred, and says that his son, who was sitting on a rope attached to the bowsprit, and close against the bow of the vesagainst the bows as he fell. He could swim, vessel. Capt. H. was so shocked at the misfortune that he was scarcely able to get the schooner to the wharf, and the effect that he knew the intelligence would have upon his wife rendered the duty of informing her of the fact almost as disagreeable to him as the loss of his child.

The body had not been recovered at last

Still Another Mad Dog Killed.

On Sunday afternoon, while the congregation were assembling for service in the Front Street Methodist Church, a dog, which manifested every indication of suffering from that terrible malady, hydrophobia, entered the building, and, of course, created very general consternation. Finally, after considerable difficulty, the animal was ejected, upon which he started for the opposite side of the street, entering the piazza of a gentleman, who quickly put an end to his troubles by a well-directed shot from his revolver. Those who saw the dog say there is no doubt as to the fact of his being mad, as he was frothing at the mouth and his eyes were as green as a cucumber.

Since the above was written we learn that the dog, which was running about the church, jumping up at the windows and cutting up other queer capers, was taken up by the sexton and removed from the building, he not having the slightest idea that the animal was mad; neither were the congregation aware of the fact at first. The incident happened just after the Sunday school had been dismissed, and not many of the worshippers had arrived.

An Excursion Barge. The lighter Modoc, belonging to Messrs Harriss & Howell, is being put in thorough repair and fitted up as an excursion barge. With this view a hurricane deck is to be built to the boat, with a high railing surrounding it, above which an awning will be placed. There will be a space of seven and a half feet between the two decks and between the hurricane deck and the awning. There will be ample space allowed on the lower deck for the convenience of dancing, and it is expected that a large number of excursionists can be accommodated. The barge will be furnished with a double-acting force pump, with hose, for use in case of fire, and with all other modern conveniences. These improvements to the end alluded to will not, however, interfere with "Harem Scarems," to-morrow evening, her lightering capacities, as during the busy season the bulkheads can be removed and she will be in as good a trim for that purpose as ever. The steam tug Alpha will do

The Western Excursionists.

The Burke Blade says: "A large excursion from Wilmington, under the control of Messrs. Trott, Bruner & Co., of Monroe, passed up the road on Tuesday last. They left Wilmington on Tuesday with about sixty on board, and added to their number along the route until they numbered about four hundred. We noticed the following newspaper men along: Patrick, of the Wadesboro Herald; Wolfe, of the Monroe Enquirer; Tomlinson of the Hickory Press; Blakey, of the Lenoir Topic. The entire party seemed to be enjoying themselves muchly."

OPERA HOUSE.

Burr's Oceanicon. The first exhibition of Barr's Oceanicon, r War on the Wave, at the Opera House last evening, was witnessed by a large and appreciative audience. From the appearance of Mr. W. L. Harlow, the lecturer, before the curtain, with his well composed and well delivered introduction, to the end, the interest of the audience was unabated, the applause frequent. As some after scene rolled before the audience, and were described by the lecturer, many and favorable were the comments of the lookers on. The vividness with which some of the scenes were depicted on the canvas carried one very forcibly back to the time when they were being enacted.

Mr. Burr's success is unquestionable. None were disappointed last night, but by far the greater part were taken entirely by surprise, having expected something tolerably good, but not having an idea of the true character of the panorama.

Those who were not present last night certainly missed seeing what would have undoubtedly pleased, we may say, de lighted them. We write hastily, but hope to lay before our readers a more complete and minute description to-morrow.

Singular Phenomenon.

A rather singular phenomenon occurred at Oakdale Cemetery on Sunday afternoon, about 1 o'clock. We all know how almost perfectly calm it was during the entire day, with scarcely a leaf to be seen stirring on the trees or a breath of air to be felt. The colored sexton at Oakdale says it was the same case out there until about the time specified, when suddenly a roaring sound was heard and a young hurricane came rushing down the ravine and creek bordering on the west side of the cemetery, taking its course due southward, passing through the lodge near the gate, scattering papers, &c., in every direction, and threatening destruction to everything in its way. sel, must have been stunned by striking The tornado or cyclone was compressed into a very narrow compass, probably about twenty yards, and beyond the range and was also remarkably familiar, for one of its course from north to south everything children. THE AMERICAN PEOPLE.—No people in the world suffer as much with Dyspepsia as Americans. Although years of experience in medicine had failed to accomplish a certain and sure remedy for this disease and its effects, such as Sour-Stomach, Heartburn, Water-brash, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Liver Complaint, yet since the introduction of Green's August Flower we believe there is no case of Dyspepsia that cannot be immediately relieved. Two doses will relieve you. Regular size 75 cents.

SCHENCK'S SEA WEED TONIC .- In the atmosphere experienced here during the summer months, the lethargy produced by the heat takes perspirations reduce bodily energy, particularly those suffering from the effects of debilitating diseases. In order to keep a natural healthful activity of the system we must resort to artificial means. For this purpose Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic is very effectual. A few doses will create an appetite and give fresh vigor to the enervated body. For dyspepsia it is invaluable. Many eminent physicians have doubted whether dyspepsia can be permanent ly cured by the drugs which are generally employed for that purpose. The Sea Weed Tonic in its nature is totally different from such drugs. It contains no corrosive minerals or solds; in fact it assists the time, as ascertained from the daily bulletin regular operations of nature, and supplies her defiissued from the Signal Office in this city: ciencies. The tonic in its nature so much resemble the gastric juice that it is almost identical with that field. The gastric juice is the natural solvent which, in a healthy condition of the body causes the food to be digested, and when this juice is not excreted in sufficient quantities, indigestion, with all its distressing symptoms follow. The Sea Weed Tonic performs the duty of the gastric juice when the latter is deficient. Schenge's Sea Weed Tonic sold by all Druguists. WHOLE NO. 3,114
