Triple Murder by a Negro.

COLUMBUS, Miss., Aug. 8. Three white men, named Story, Kilpatrick and Bush, were killed Saturday night, near Pikesville, Ala., by a negro.

Something Rotten in Denmark.

New York, Aug. 8. Surveyor Sharp has received instructions from Washington to seize the steamship Denmark on her arrival from Liverpool on account of the smuggling of over $200,000 worth of goods, principally silk, by her officers and crew.

The Louisville Election.

The telegraph has announced the election in Louisville, Ky., on Monday, of the "workingmen's" legislative ticket over the Democratic ticket, with a single exception. The Democrats presented what the Courier-Journal claimed was an unexceptionable ticket, and the executive committee of the party issued an appeal to the voters to give the candidates nominated an enthusiastic support; but on the Friday evening before the election a new organization developed itself, evolved from the excitement, ornations and reorganizations over the labor question, during the past few weeks, and, under the caption of the "workingmen's party," put a ticket in the field and succeeded in electing it.

Wilkensboro Witness.

Some nine months ago, Millard F. Dancy of this county, aged 16, committed an outrage upon the youthful daughter of John L. Whittington, only about 9 years of age.

Greensboro Patriot.

Mr. Gullett waited with a shot gun, and one night last week lodged a handful of shot in the corpse of a garden thief, who left his sack in the garden and hobbled off.

Hamburg, Ark., was the scene of a lynching party on the night of the 27th ultimo.

Confined in the jail at that place was George Jackson, a negro, who had outraged and murdered a little girl. At midnight, on the evening of the day named, a posse of between sixty and seventy-five men quietly entered the town, went to the blacksmith shop, broke it open, procured tools, proceeded to the jail and broke open the door.

The Bodies of Three Men Found with Bullet Holes Through Them.

A story of singular horror comes to us from Wilkes county, a story which would be hardly credible if it had come through a less reliable man than Mr. Thos. P. Denny, a former citizen of Wilkes, but now a resident of the southern part of this county.

A Corn Tree.

On the banks of the Neuse, in New Light township, this county, there is growing a stalk of corn not yet matured, the truthful and exact proportions of which we are afraid to mention for fear that our reputation for truth might be questioned, and that you know would hurt our feelings.

Spirits Turpentine.

Lieut. Gov. Jarvis is at the Catawba Springs. Dr. H. C. Walkup, who was so badly shot, is improving. Beulah Baptist Association meets at Greensboro on the 10th.

Weldon News.

The postoffice at Palmira, in this county, has been re-established, with R. R. Owen as postmaster. Mr. W. T. McMark, living about ten miles from this place, has discovered gold on his land, a specimen of which he exhibited in our office on Monday.
