WILMINGTON N. C .: SUNDAY MORNING, Sept. 23, 1877

AN ACCIDENT. Just as we were ready to go to press yesterday the inside form of the STAR was "pied" by careless handling, and almost the entire labor of a day was thus thrown away. At this writing it is impossible to say how much this aeeident may detract from the interest of our Sunday edition, but for any shortcomings that may appear we ask the indulgence of our readers. We hope, however, that the omission of nearly all our editorial matter will be the worst feature of the accident.

Those of our subscribers who received our evening edition yesterday printed on but one side will receive complete copies of this morning's

THE MORNING STAR begins its 21st semi-annual volume to-day. So, it is just ten years old. This may seem but a short period in newspaper history, yet the STAR at that age is the oldest daily paper in North Carolina. During that time it has constantly grown in circulation and influence. Our claim to the "largest circulation" is not seriously contested; in fact, but one daily paper in the State claims a larger circulation than the STAR, and that paper does it purely as a matter of habit. We shall endeavor in the future to be governed by the same motives and objects that have guided us in the past.

THE SOUTHERN UNDERWRI-TERS' ASSOCIATION.

The people and the press are in terested in the uncovering of the transactions of the Raleigh Southern Underwriters' Association. From the first it was believed in Raleigh and other places to be a regular "wild cat" concern that had no substantial basis, and that did not intend to transact business in accordance with the recognized principles of well regulated fire insurance companies. This common rumor prompted the then Secretary of State to inquire into the matter. The President, Armistead Jones, insisted that the company was all right, and invited a "thorough investigation." The Raleigh News says:

"Secretary Howerton professed to have made the examination, and certified that he found the Southern Underwriters Association 'doing business upon sound principles, within the provisions of its charter. and in compliance with the laws of the State of North Carolina,' and that it had the securities set forth in the statement set out below; and further that, in his opinion, they were 'entirely worthy the confidence of the insuring public.' The certificate of the Secretary of State had the effect of allaying suspicion with the public generally. though many were not satisfied, setting lit-tle store by William H. Howerton's certificate, and the Association went on with its operations until the collapse in the spring of the present year."

The company professed to have assets to the amount of $152,379.13, and yet it is said a loss of $15,000 caused it to burst, and those insured have had to whistle for their money. There is something very mysterious about the whole thing. How could it break if it had those assets? What has become of the one hundred and fifty-two thousand dollars they profess to have had? We trust the whole matter will be diligently and scrutinizingly inquired into, and if fraud has been attempted upon the public, that those guilty will be prosecuted and punished, if that be possible. This is the first time in the history of our State that a company has been organized that was suspected of foul play from the start. The News thus comments:

"The conduct of the Association subsequent to its suspension or withdrawal appears inexcusable. We have waited in vain for some good reason to be shown for the recent action of the corporation-in first, its suspension or withdrawal from business without notice or a statement to the public or to its own policy holders; second, its failure to verify the last annual statement of the condition of the company, required by our law to be made to the Secretary of State: third, its failure to pay up its losses; fourth, its stout resistance to the efforts being made to discover the whereabouts of its assets. For the course of this association in respect of these points, we see no justification or excuse."

The death rate of the colored people in the South is probably fifty per cent. greater than that of the whites. For instance, in Charlotte, we remember that the vital statistics showed twice the deaths among the colored that were among the whites according to population, and this case is not exceptional. The New York Times, the leading Republican paper of the country, is discussing the large death rate among that race-so much greater than it was in the days of slavery. It says:

"The causes which lead to the terrible death rate among the colored people need not long be sought for. They are only too apparent to those who are conversant with the modes of life of the negroes of the cotexcess, and when they have money spend their nights in the most disgusting and de-bilitating debauches; all these facts naturally lead to the questions, are the negroes going the way of the Indian? Are they being civilized from off the face of the

A correspondent of the New York Sun makes this mournful announce ment: "Hayes has done more toward destroying the Republican party than any man living or dead. All his reforms have been stabs in its vital parts. The truth is beginning to force itself upon the minds of the thinking portion of the party that the organization will not survive his administration. The party once had the power to rid itself of the incubus, but it is now too late. They have nestled the serpent too long in their bosom to eject him with safety.

An effort is being made by a London publisher to compete with the cheap, unwholesome literature of the day by the republication of good, healthy books at a cheap price. One of these, Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress," has already appeared, and may be obtained complete for one penny. The book is in pamphlet form, and consists of 64 pages, fairly printed, and with numerous woodcuts, which, if not highly finished, are quaintly suggestive.

It is supposed a good many Democratic members of Congress will favor free trade and Sayler's rights.

The Brave Army of Northern Virginia [Gen. H. Heth, C. S. A , in the Peiladelphia Weekly Times.]

Consider what the Army of Northern Virginia had in one year accomplished. In 1862, 80,000 strong, it attacked the Federal army, 100,000 strong, and after seven days' fighting drove that army to shelter under its gunboats. Following up this success, after a series of engagements, Pope was driven across the Potomac. Then followed the battle of Sharpsburg (Antietam), when possibly the fighting capacity of the Army of Northern Virginian never shone brighter. Its numbers reduced by fighting, fatigue and hard marching to less than forty thousand strong, it gained a drawn battle against its adversary, who numbered very near, if not quite, one hundred thousand men. Then came Fredericksburg, where, with its ranks recuperated to seventyeight thousand, it hurled across the Rappahannock river an adversary who had crossed with one hundred and ten thousand men. Then follows that most daring and wonderful battle, Chancellorsville, where it again triumphed, fifty thousand strong against its adversary numbering one hundred and thirty-two thousand, compelling him to seek shelter be-hind the Rappahannock. After such a series of successes, with such disparity of numbers, is it wonderful that the Army of Northern Virginia and its great leader should have believed it capable of accomplishing anything in the power of an army to accomplish?

The New Jersey Convention. TRENTON, Sept. 19.

The Democratic State Convention met to-day. Ex-Chancellor Williamson was elected Chairman. A series of resolutions were presented by Judge Ashbel Green, and were unanimously adopted. They are five in number. The first re-affirms . the principles of the St. Louis platform, and denounces the frauds by which the President and Vice President were installed in their positions. The second congratulates the supporters of free government that President Hayes has adopted the Democratic policy of local self-government in the Southern States. The third opposes special legislation, and expresses sompathy for the workingmen. The fourth demands a radical reduction of all salaries, fees and costs. The fifth calls for a reduction of the legal interest in the State to six per cent. While the first ballot was under way Gen. George B. McClellan was placed in nomination. His name aroused great enthusiasm, and when the ballot was declared it was found that he was nominated. The vote stood; McClellan, 804; Carter, 21; Abbott, 156: Stockton, 2. The vote immemediately was made unanimous.

Judge Strong.

[Wilson Advance.] The act of Judge Strong, in receiving pay as Judge, from the date of his election in March instead of May, the day he qualified as Judge, is being severely censured by some of the papers of the State. We have no idea that Judge Strong had any corrupt motive in receiving this money -in fact he may have been justifiable, strictly speaking in law, in doing so; still we think it was unfortunate, if not wrong, as the services for which he drew pay had not been actually rendered for that time. The very doubt existing on his mind, and which caused him to consult others as to his right to draw the money, should have restrained him from receiving it, notwithstanding the opinion of the Attorney General and others in favor of his claim. In matters of this kind, where there are doubts. either as to the propriety or legality of the act, it is always best to be on the safe side.

- Burke Blade: We have had plenty of rain during the past week.

Somebody bring us a load of wood at once, on subscription. 'Tis too cold to do without. — We know that in that fatal charge, Pettigrew's North Carolina brigade lost more men—killed and wounded, than Pickett's whole division, and we do not beThe Welcomeat Chattanooga. CHATTANOOGA, Sept. 20.

Hayes, Hampton, Evarts, and Ker spoke here to-day. The reception was enthusiastic, and Evarts etpressed the views of the administration on the restoration of constitutional government. Hampton made pronounced speech favoring the support of Hayes by the Democratic party as far as is consistent with Democratic principles. Hampton stated for Columbia, Hayes goes to Knot-

Bishop Thos. U. Dudley, (Protestant Episcopal) of Kentucky, who is an ex-Confederate, marched in the ranks of the ex-Confederates who welcomed President Hayes to Louisville. In a meeting to organize the ex-Confederates for the reception the Bishop said that the President "lad commended himself to the respect of all good citizens by his manly filmness in honestly adhering to the very letter of his promises."

POLITICAL POINTS.

- According to a Boston paper Hon. Robert C. Winthrop is not a Republican, and the Democrats do not claim him. But he approves the President's policy.

- The victory of Mr. Cornell over Mr. Hayes and his entire Cabinet is something more than a personal triumph, for the issue between them involved the essen tial principle of civil service reform as de-med by the President, and the defeat of the latter necessarily implies the defeat of his policy.—Baltimore Gazette, Dem.

- Every man who did anything for the Hayes and Packard ticket in Louisiana last fall is going to get a good, fat berth in the New Orleans custom house. This is the way real civil service reform thrusts itself to the front, in spite of the desperate efforts made in some quarters to defeat its operation.—Philadelphia Times,

- In commenting on the South Carolina revelations, the New York Tribune holds that every good Republican, from Maine to Texas, should rejoice that at last the disgraceful stories at which they have been compelled to hang their heads and blush are brought to the test of a judicial decision under circumstances which give reason to hope for a fair trial.

TWINKLINGS.

- A Baltimore horse eats meat Sweepstakes probably.—Hawkeye.

Spirits Turpentine.

-That yarn about Henry Berry Lowery being alive is said in Robeson to be a huge "snake story."

- Asheville Citizen: As far as we have learned, the tobacco crop of this section will be a good one. A large number of farmers have from one to ten acres in tobacco, while some few have planted much more largely.

- Statesville American: A couple of colored men came to Statesville last Saturday, with a view of addressing the people of that race upon emigrating to Africa, but not meeting with a sufficient crowd, deferred the matter to a future time.

- Milton Chronicle: Send along your money, friends, if you are due anything for this paper, and don't be atraid. The idea that it costs nothing to publish a newspaper is an awful mistake, although publishers may live on the wind. -Don't throw stones if you live in a glass house, and should you be "pot" you better be a little cautious how you charge "kettle" with being black. This will apply as well in politics as morals, and we commend it to pot-house politicians.

- Raleigh Register: We hear it on the streets that Mr. W. H. Hicks, sonin-law of Judge Strong, and Col. Walter Clark, one of the stockholders of the News Publishing Company, went out of this city yesterday for the purpose of settling difficulties which arose out of the publication in the News of the charges against Judge Strong relative to his salary. Both parties camelback unhurt. Whether they fought or settled matters without an encounter we have not been able to find out.

- Tarboro Southerner: 1st Lt. J. L. Bridgers, Jr., of the Edgecombe Guards, has been appointed Assistant Quartermaster of the 1st Battalion N. C. State Guard. - We are informed by L. Thomas, Esq. that he will commence the publication of a newspaper in the town of Greenville, Pitt county, N. C., on or about the 10th of October next, to be called The Grenville Express. - A negro man on Dr. Garrett's plantation can completely imitate with his mouth the sound, notes, &c., of any tune played on a banjo.

- Salisbury Watchman: Lieut. Theodore Parker is in the city on a furlough, visiting relatives and friends. He graduated at West Point last June. He is waiting orders to join his company in Ari-zona Territory. — The old darkeys are beginning to bring in 'possums. They say it is time to pull 'em now. —In old times, when a man was able, he had a negro to drive for him. Now-a-days, when you see a negro and a white, man in the same buggy, can't understand why-but it is so. - Newbern Nutshell: The Board of Directors of the A. & N. C. Railroad Company met in the railroad office, in this city, yesterday, and re-elected Major John Hughes President; W. H. Oliver, Secretary and Treasurer; William Dunn, Ticket and Freight Agent; John A. Richardson, Conductor, and James B. Hanks, Master Machinist. William P. Metts was elected Road Master, vice Hugh Murdock; Chadwick Davis, Agent at Morehead City, vice John A. Duncan; George W. Collier, Agent at Goldsboro, vice J. M. Hollowell; J. H. Kibler, Agent at La Grange, vice J. W

- Raleigh Observer: In our issue of yesterday we published some remarks concerning the Farmville Insurance and Banking Company relative to certain losses ton States; they neglect or starve their off-spring, abandon the sick to their own re-sources, indulge every animal passion to done, if Gen. Lee was living.

Pickett's whole division, and we do not be the passion of the remarks alluded to the publication of the remarks alluded to, been assured that the delay in payment of the losses referred to was not caused by any inability on the part of the company to meet the same, but is simply owing to the disagreement on the part of the company's adjuster and the insured as to the proper value of the property, a question which will of course be settled by the suit which the insured have brought in the matter.

- Rockingham Spirit: It is not yet known when trains will begin running regularly to Hamlet, the terminus of the Air Line Railroad. —Mr. John P. Co-vington has returned from Texas; and now he solemnly assures us that he is going to remain here, having gotten quite enough of Texas. Sensible young man. —A very great quantity of rain has fallen in this section during the past few days, and the weather has been quite cool for the season, the thermometer, on Thursday last, getting down to 57 degrees. — We regret to hear that diphtheria has again made its appearance in this section, there being quite a number of cases reported. As yet we have heard of but one death resulting from it, and so presume that it is of a mild

- Washington State: It is really encouraging to note that the Commissioners of the county and the citizens generally are making more than ordinary efforts to build up the educational interests of the county. - Dr. McDonald amputated the foot of a colored man by the name of Grady, on last Saturday. He was brought in town with his foot cut entirely through, with an axe, caused by the axe slipping when cut-ting wood near his home, a few miles in the country. — A very handsome me-morial tablet has recently been placed in the Presbyterian Church, to the memory of the late Samuel R. Fowle, who was one of the founders of the church, and for many years a ruling Elder. Placed there by a ongregation who loved him for his many christian virtues. - Charlotte Democrat: Some men who are elected as Democrats think it a great crime for a Democratic paper to criticise their conduct in any respect. - All we ask is fair treatment for our merchants and farmers in the way of freight charges. We have been a true and useful friend to railroads, and have never co operated in the foolish agrarian cry against "corporations," but we intend to demand justice and fair dealing from all railroads and corporations generally, no matter whom it displeases. - Within the past month one firm in Hickory has shipped North 160,000 pounds of dried fruit, and 250,000 pounds have been shipped from High Point within the same time; and shipments of dried fruit have yet scarcely begun from North Carolina. - The First National Bank of this city, within the past week, has paid out $10,000 to parties purchasing beef cattle in the western counties of this State for the Baltimore market. The cattle are purchased in Haywood, Mitchell, Watauga and other mountain counties, and then driven to Henry's and put on the Western N. C. road and skipped North via Richmond.
