Mr. John Welsh, of Philadelphia Nominated-A Great Surprise. |Special to Baltimore Gazette.] WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.

The nomination of Mr. John Welsh, of Philadelphia, to the British mission, fol-lowing so closely on the heels of the Simon Cameron fiasco, has created great consternation among the stalwarts in the Senate His name had been mentioned in a quie and incredulous way as among the possibil-ities, but no one appeared to believe there was any reason for suspecting that he would really be agreed upon for the first diploma tic position in the government. His nomination was determined upon last night, and found secret, so much so that the fact when announced this morning took politicians by surprise. It is customary for Senators to make no remarks upon nomi nations before they come up in executive session on regular committee report, and hence it was hard to have any of them commit themselves on the merits of the selection. It was quite easy to see, however that no one seemed particularly struck with the choice. One gentleman was heard to say that he knew of no objection to Mr. Welsh especially, beyond the fact that he never had turned his attention to diplomacy. He is regarded on all sides as worthy of the position from his high character as a mer-chant of great public spirit and liberality. He would be no discredit to the country. The anti-Cameron men do not disguise their satisfaction at the way Hayes has been able to honor Pennsylvania without accepting terms at the hands of the Cam-

Mr. Welsh was chairman of the Board of Finance of the International Exhibition. He is one of the best men of Philadelphia, in which city he was born in 1805. He is in vigorous health for a man of his age, and has the confidence of the business men of the city of which he is, a representative citizen. He has never been in political office, is a pronounced Republican, but moderate in his actions His life has been devoted to business. in which he has been eminently successful. He is a gentleman of quiet. unobtrusive manners, as we learn, and is sprung from a race of success ful commercial men.

OF THE PAST GENERATIONS A correspondent writing from Lumber-ton, Robeson county, gives us the follow-

Frederick Harden, of Robeson county was born July 4th, 1776, served as a private soldier in Capt. McPhatter's company North Carolina volunteers, at Fort Johnson, 1812 and 1814, is in good health, and performs well on the violin yet. He gets his pension of eight dollars per month from the Pension Office of the United States.

A gentleman informs us that Mrs. Campbell, near Antioch Church, Robeson county is in her 105th year. Her son, Archie Campbell, died some time ago 80 years of age. She has a record of her birth in the family Bible. The same gentleman informs us that in Richmond county lives Mrs. Isabel Lowery, great grand aunt of the famous Henry Berry Lowery, who is 112 years old. Here, too, is family record. We do not avouch the truth of these extreme ages, but tell it as we are told.

John E. Shaw and W. Finch, charged with acting very disorderly at a ball given at Lippitt's Hail on Wednesday night, were next called up. It appears that a row commenced there between 2 and 3 o'clock yesterday morning, and the police were called upon to preserve the peace. The supposed ringleaders, Shaw, Finch and Jas. Betts, were arrested and carried to the guard house. Finch resisted police officer Robert Green, and boasted that it would require all the policemen in the city to take him to the guard house. To show him what his assertion amounted to, Officer Green took him there himself, notwithstanding his struggles, and without any assistance. Shaw was discharged, there being no evidence against him, and Finch was ordered to pay a fine of $25, or be confined in a cell on bread and water for twenty-five days, the Mayor giving him a "raking down" for good measure.
