WILMINGTON MONEY MARKET

[Baltimore Sun.] The late Senator Morton, of Indiana, the greatest man of the Republican party, was apprenticed to a hatter at the age of fifteen, and followed the business for four years. Andrew Johnson was a tailor. Grant, though not a statesman, was a tanner. Abraham Lincoln was a rail-splitter. Millard Fillmore, when fifteen years of age, was apprenticed as a wool-carder and cloth-dresser. Webster and how many others were farmer boys? Numbers of the most noted of our public men have risen from like stations to eminence, many of them having been mechanics' and others descendants of mechanics. Roger Sherman, of revolutionary tame, was a shoemaker, and the Shermans of to-day and Mr. Evarts are his descendants. Mr. Hayes said in one of his speeches that his grandfather was a mechanic. It did not require any labor parties or labor organizations to bring these men to the front. Nothing obstructs the way of the mechanic or other laborer in this country to the highest positions if he has the capacity, the integrity and industry requisite to the per-formance of the duties involved.

[Fall River (Mass.) News. Last week a Mrs. Clinton, an Irishwoman, about fifty years of age, arrived in this city from England, intending to pass her remaining years with her daughter, a married woman, living at Globe village. She had another daughter living in a neighboring State, and the two had made up a purse to pay their mother's passage to this country. Mrs. Clinton arrived here the first of the week and went directly to her daughter's house. A few days after her arrival the second daughter came to visit her. bringing two grandchildren, whom the old lady had never seen. Going to the door to meet them, the grandmother lifted the children from the carriage, and when the daughter alighted embraced her with, "Oh dear, I have so longed to see you for the last time, and it is the last time," saying which she sank into a chair and expired before any aid could be given her. She was buried on Sun-

CHAPEL HILL, Sept. 25, 1877. TO THE TRUSTEES, ALUMNI and FRIENDS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CARO-LINA: LINA:
The increasing prosperity of the University has created a need for a medium through which its objects should be made known. To this end the two Literary Societies of the University have determined to reestablish the UNIVERSITY MAGAZINE, once an ornament to the University and State.

It is proposed, in publishing the facts connected with the University, to make the Magazine the organ through which the historical incidents of the state may be made known and perpetuated. At present there is in the State no periodical of this kind, and the need for one is patent to all.

The contributors of the Magazine will be some of the most prominent and talented gentlemen and ladies of the State.

The Societies have elected three editors each and The Societies have elected three editors each, and as soon as a sufficient number of subscribers are obtained, the Magazine will be issued. The price of subscription will be $2.50 per year.

Trustees, alumni and friends, the students of your University call upon you to contribute this small amount to the support of an enterprise, the ends of which are so beneficial.
