Haves's civil service theory of reform and his just and constitutional course towards the South, what do Republican gains in Connecticut and New York indicate now? That Republican corpse is a right lively agent in a political contest.

We do not exchange with the Washington Capital, but we see copied from it into some of our exchanges a very laudatory notice of Col. Waddell. Among other things it says this:

"Perhaps no announcement made by the Speaker, in connection with the committees of the House, has elicited such unasimity of favorable comment as that of Waddell, of North Carolina, as the head of the Postal Committee. The well known friendship existing between the Speaker and Col. Waddell, who has susained Mr. Randall when he needed friends more than he does now, made it probable that the gifted and cultured Carolinian would be located in a position agreeable to his tastes and adapted to his capacities. We doubt the ability of Mr. Randall to make a happier selection than in the case of Col. Waddell. He has thoroughly studied the postal branch of the public service, and the country will be benefited by his judicious and laborious efforts in committee and on the floor of the House."

Defence of her Honor. Special Dispatch to the News and Courier]

COLUMBIA, NOV. 6. Samuel G. Henry, a young man, living in the lower portion of this county, was shot and instantly killed, this morning, by a young lady, for attempting to violate her person. Both parties are well known in the county. The name of the young lady is suppressed for reasons of delicacy. The particulars of the tragedy cannot now be obtained. The young lady was brought to Columbia and detained at the jail until five o'clock this afternoon, when a hearing was obtained for her under habeas corpus, and, after a short argument, she was released, with the consent of the solicitor, on a bond of $1,000, to appear at a further hearing of the case on Saturday next. Her age is 16. Henry, whom she killed, was aged 25, was married, and had three children.
