WILMINGTON, N. C.: SUNDAY MORNING, Nov. 11, 1877

THE DENUNCIATIONS OF NORTH-ERN NEWSPAPERS.

The Northern papers of both parties seem to be equally indignant over the remonetization of "Dad's Dollar." They appear to regard it as something personal-an attempt to rob them of their immense wealth, for Northern newspapers often get very rich, whilst Southern newspapers very rarely, if ever get rich. We see from our exchanges that the New York World calls it "the great swindle," and as the Democrats in the main are responsible for the great crime, they are in the estimation of the New York Democratic daily, (a paper we have long thought possessed of but little principle) nothing but a set of "swindlers."

Without entering into a discussion of the merits of the bill, we may say that when a very large majority of a party in Congress vote for a measure, doubtless after proper reflection and in full view of all its probable bearings, it is not becoming in the professed organ of that party in one great section of the country to denounce that majority as a set of "swindlers." But this is the way of your partisans. You must think as I do or you are a fraud. The leading newspapers of the North really appear to belong to the "bloated bondholders." The silver bill will inflict great injury, say the papers, upon that class of men who have grown rich out of the misfortunes of their country, and every leading organ of thought makes it almost a personal grievance. The Richmond Disputch happily says:

"There is a vulgar air about the demean-or of leading Northern editors in what they have to say in denunciation of silver that would suggest that they are the carriage-drivers and footmen of the gold-worshippers. They are superserviceable in their allegiance to those whose livery they wear, and they put on a great show of disdain towards simple honesty when it comes too near the shining retinue of the devout."

We have seen no very valid or imposing objection to the bill. It is possibly an experiment in so far as you cannot confidently affirm what will be its influence upon the currency of the country. It may perchance have some of the effects that the organs of the bondholders aver it will and was once highly prized. It is steady value just as gold has. The advocates of a gold basis endeavor ests of the bondholders whose "flunkies," according to the Dispatch, the Northern editors are. In the Northwest some of the great Republican papers have been the steady advocates of restoring silver to its old value. In that section at least there stood forth as the champions of the remonetization scheme.

After all, the arguments urged against the Silver bill come from men, or their mouth-pieces, who wish to secure entire control of the gold market of this country. They are, for the most part, men who gamble in the wealth of the "nation," and if they can control all the gold then of course they can give it a temporary fictitious value, and hence, as they must be paid in gold when their United States bonds are taken up they are thereby the richer, and that probably accounts for "the milk in the cocoanut."

As to the intrinsic value of silver, which was a legal tender in our country prior to the war, and would be so now if there were no plethoric bondholders with servile sheets to deceive and boodwink the people, the Savannah News says:

"The truth is that all the talk which we have heard and shall yet hear from these advocates of a single gold standard is spe-cious sophistry. In the first place silver is really intrinsically not a debased metal. It has fallen in value because of its demonetization in Germany, and the unlawful and unconstitutional course of a past Congress of this country in the same direction. Let it be remonetized here and the United States alone would offer an immediate market for whatever surplus of silver there has been created by the demonetization of that meta by Germany. The product of the Ameri can mines is placed at about $40,000,000 per annum, an amount which would not equal the capacity of the mints to coin, and besides this, the supply of silver now shipped to Eastern countries would be absorbed at home, and it is estimated that this alone would at once advance the price of that metal at least to the proportion of sixteen of silver to one of gold, which would place the dollars of the two metals at par, the one with the other."

When silver is remonetized then gold ceases to be the only worldwide standard. We believe it will have as fixed a valuation as gold, and will be of great service to the country and to the world at large.

BOUTWELL TO THE PRONT. Senator Boutwell has spoken. The oracle is no longer dumb. "Hole in the sky" is once more heard from. This time it was at Lowell, Mass., and on Monday night last. The cccasion a political gathering. And what did Boutwell have to say? Nothing, you may be sure, of his own great failures when in Grant's cabinet. But he is dissatisfied with the South. The people of that section cannot be trusted, for they have not done enough yet to prove their honesty and loyalty in the estimation of this Massachusetts traducer. There is one pledge they have not made. Hear the oracle:

"Many pledges have been given recently by leading Southern Democrats of their good purposes in the affairs of government but the pledge to allow every duly authorized citizen to vote, to value his vote honestly, and recognize and maintain the government which the majority shall so set up, has not been given. All other pledges, his wanting, are of no value. This pledge made and honestly kept would bring order, peace and prosperity to the South, recon ciliation and contentment to the whole country. It is one pledge that we ask, not many. The many we have; the one i

If he means that the vote of a car pet-bagger or a negro does not count as one, then he is mistaken. If he means that the negro is not allowed to vote then he misrepresents. If he means that the Southern States do not mean to allow the colored people to vote in the future then he states what is not true. If he means to say that it is not the full purpose of the South to uphold and defend and per petuate civil liberty and local self government, then he does not know either the Southern people or what he is talking about. The truth is Boutwell is a great political fraud and he is only preparing for a chance in the future "to fire" the Massachusetts "heart" over some fancied outrages or imagined wrongs on the part of the Southern people. We venture the ballot is as free in the South as it is in the North, and that the genuine underlying principles of a free Republican government have stronger, sincerer, more devoted friends in Southland than in Yankee-doodle-dom by tenfold.

THE CAUSES OF DEFEAT. General Longstreet attributes the defeat of General Lee at Gettysburg mainly to four causes: 1. The absence of his cavalry. 2. General Lee's overconfidence in his troops. 3. The failure of Ewell and A. P. Hill to sustain Longstreet's charge on the second have. Silver is an excellent metal, day. 4. General Lee's loss of his usual mental balance. It may be so. Gen. well adapted to the uses of trade, and | Heth says it was owing to the absence we cannot see why it may not have a of Stuart with the cavalry. Colonel Walter Taylor says it was owing to Stuart, Ewell and Longstreet. Gen. sedulously to depreciate its value—to Lee understood it to be because, debase it as a legal tender. It is an | mainly, he was deprived of the use attempt merely to uphold the inter- of his cavalry. Gen. Lee had a very high opinion of North Carolina's greatest military hero, Gen. W. D. Pender. He said, after Pender was dead, that he ought to have been one of his corps commanders. Gen. Heth reports this conversation: value. In that section at least there appears to be some independent thinking. The bondholders clearly do not own those papers that have tion," we would have carried the enemy's posiOUR ROTTEN AND COSTLY NAVY.

We sincerely believe that during the last ten years the United States have been the worst governed of any country or nation on the globe, now or at any former period. The corruption of Grant's administration passes all belief, and when all is brought to light, if such shall ever be the case, the world will look aghast at the waste, extravagance, peculation, frauds and villainies, ramifying every department and almost involving every man of prominence ever connected with it. And yet it has admirers and defenders, even in the South and in North Carolina.

Secretary Thompson, acknowledged on all hands to be an honest man seeking to discharge his duties with fidelity, has made a report that contains many startling facts and figures. We will copy some of them. During the last thirteen years the sum of $130,000,000 has been spent merely in repairing our naval vessels. The seven sloops of war built during Mr. Robeson's administration, he reports, or worse than the old ones. Three of these are undergoing expensive repairs, and the other four are kept afloat at the risk of the lives of those on board. Of the older ships, the original cost of the Pensacola was $500,000, and her repairs cost $1,000, 000. The original cost of the Kearsage was $300,000; she was repaired at a cost of $600,000. The Lackawanna coat $450,000; she was re paired at a cost of $766,000; and se on through the list.

Now these statements show in part what sort of government we have had since Grant went into power March 4th, 1869. Surely, surely, Congress should take hold of this old rotten navy, and stop all extravagance and misapplication of moneys. Mr. Thompson will no doubt do what he can, but it is the duty of Congress to give the country an efficient, but a small and economical navy. Only think of one hundred and thirty mil lion dollars of the people's hard earn ings being squandered in simply patching up the old hulks of a rotten navy, and that now the country is almost defenseless. Reform, retrenchment must come.

The Richmond Enquirer says: "Mr. Tilden hit the nail squarely on the head when he said 'the increase of power in the Federal government during the last twenty years, the creation of a vast office holding class, with its numerous dependents, and the growth of the means of corrupt influence have well nigh destroyed the balance of our complex system."

The great orying evil is that al over the land the power is vested in the hands of a few. As the Memphis Avalanche remarks, the Tammany system has "spread out over the country at large," by which all the real power gets into the hands of a small fraction of the people. The Tammany system has been a great curse to New York where it originated, and whence it spread out until it ramified the South as well as the North. The old convention system is much like the Tammany system. It puts the power in the hands of a very few. The primary election plan will cure that evil.

We referred yesterday to the Rev. Mr. Talmage's political harangues. The reader must have been struck with his exceeding coarseness and vulgarity. We give a brief specimen of his irreverent way of speaking even when in the pulpit and he is supposed to be solemnized for the occa-

"Great is the bottle. Oh, rum jug, we bow down before thee to worship. We pray that thou will destroy all those who do not bow before thee and put them out of office. And this we ask in the name of Schiedam schnapps and lager beer and old rye whisky. Amen and amen. [Laugh-

That will do. The Republicans have only fourteen States left, including such "small potatoes" as Nebraska, Colorado, and "Little Rhody," not to mention the other New England parishes. The Democrats have twenty-four States, including the great States of New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Missouri, Texas, Georgia, and so on. What a mighty revolution we have all wit-

The Maffett register continues to do excellent work for Virginia. Thus far, at Fredericksburg, the tax is $640 -that is, for thirty-three days. This would bring in some $7,000 a year. At Winchester the result thus far authorizes the estimate of $5,700 for the first twelve mounts. It is indeed a marvellous way to pay old debts and raise revenue. It reads like a story in the Arabian Nights.

When Ohio went Democratic the Bourbon papers North discovered that it was a rebuke of Mr. Hayes's Southern policy. When the Republicans gained heavily in New York the said Bourbons make the brilliant discovery that it is a rebuke to Mr. Haves. And this is the sort of consistency upon which the readers of such papers are fed. According to the New York Sun: "The amazing folly shown by the Demo-crats, under the lead of Senator Kernan and their State Committee, in identifying their cause with that of the Fraudulent President, and appealing to Hayes Repubicans to vote for the Democratic candidates as the only way to support and encourage Hayes, has borne its proper fruit in the small majority for their State ticket, &c."

Hon. D. W. Voorhees expressed in few words the estimate that will finally be placed upon the late Senator Morton, whose unexpired term he will fill. Said Mr. Voorhees:

"He was a man of commanding ability, of immense executive force, and ranks as one of the greatest party leaders in Ameri-

There were forty-three failures in Boston in October, representing, how ever, less than one million dollars. The average liabilities were $18,666 27, whilst the average assets were but $2,828 76. A bad showing that? Why do they not go into bankruptcy and get rich?

CURRENT COMMENT

- How like the monster is the wicked politician who seeks his own elevation at the expense of the peace and prosperity of his country. The men of the Blaine and Conkling stamp cannot rest quiet during the progress of the pacific policy that is restoring harmony to the land, while they only hope to triumph through discord and sectional jealousies. They grow sullen as others smile, and they seek to thwart by dark plots and rancorous poisons the generous measures and policies that promise peace and prosperity to a happy land.

-Richmond Dispatch, Dem.

The people cannot support the President unless they know what he is about, and the thing he is about must be plain and distinct and simple. They will support him, for instance, in any definite and consistent policy, but they cannot support civil service reform in which there is a considerable mixture of the old civil service abuses. They will support him, too, in an open fight with Congress on this point, but the fight must be open and persistent. They cannot support him in hostilities which are chequered with private dickering and compromise, and of which they never know the real bearing. He must, in short, himself lead the way, and make known his aims and motives as he goes along. "The people" cannot go to Washington and "interview" him and the members of the Cabinet to know what is the meaning of this and that strange occurrence. They must have the issue on which they are to make a stand presented to them in their homes in black and white .--The Nation, Ind.

Editor Journal of Commerce: To settle a dispute, will you be aind enough to decide whether there s any difference in the weight or value between one silver dollar (not a trade dollar) and four 25 cent pieces? and oblige A Subscriber. Reply-We have answered this many times. The silver dollar coined up to 1873 weighed 4121 grains. The fractions of the dollar were reduced in 1853 to their proportion of 384 grains to the dollar. The fractional silver currency, or "subsidiary coins," are therefore worth about seven per cent. less than the old silver dollar. The trade dollar authorized in 1873 weighs still more, being 420 grains Troy.
