Gov. Vance will attend the South Carolina Fair, and was to have arrived at Columbia last night.

The moneyed men of New York are moving against Bland's Silver Bill A deputation of bankers will have a hearing before the Senate's Finance committee. The press of the North appear almost unanimous in their denunciations of the bill. Its passage in the House appears to have been a very great surprise.

L. Cass Cupert, alias Carpenter, is on trial at Columbia, and it is thought his fate will be that of Cardoza and Smalls. He is an ex-editor, an ex-Congressman and an ex-Collector. One by one the varlets come to grief. "Ye who have tears, prepare to shed them" after awhile when there are no more rascals to convict.

Plevna is said to be victualled for six weeks, and the Turkish loss daily from the Russian artillery fire is said to be from 2,000 to 3,000. Osman' Pasha is constructing new fortifications. He is evidently relying upon being relieved by other commanders, as it is said he will not attempt a sortie. But where the relief is to come from does not yet appear. The Russian anaconda is tightening his folds steadily and inevitably. Servia is again talking of war with Turkey. Erzeroum is undergoing another bombardment. Russian troops at Schipka Pass have been reinforced. Lesman Pasha, commandant of artillery, was killed in an attack upon the Russians as they were marching to the Pass. The Russian force investing Kars is thought to be of no great magnitude. The general outlook is favorable to the Russians.

THE RIO GRANDE TROUBLES.

Efforts on the Frontier to Precipitate War Between the United States and Mexico-An Immediate Conflict Feared, &c.

St. Louis, November 11. Late advices from El Paso say it is now believed that there were a number of emissaries of Lerdo in the band of Mexicans which crossed the Rio Grande about two weeks ago, and had a fight with the Indians on Texas soil, while ostensibly following Indians. There seems to be no doubt that the real object of these Lerdoists is to stir up a new revolution, and, if possible, overthrow Diaz. This band of Mexicans have not left yet, and are intriguing and doing everything in their power to precipitate war between the United States and the Diaz government, in the hope of overthrowing the latter and gaining power for themselves. It is said Lerdo's agents are very active alalong the Rio Grande, and are all so plotting within the army of Diaz. Gen. Hubbard, of Texas, returned to Austin yesterday to consult Gen. Ord and Gen. Steel, the latter of the State forces, regarding the present state of affairs on the frontier. Maj. Jones, of the Texas battalion at El Paso, telegraphed the Governor that immediate trouble is apprehended, and the Governor has been solicited by a number of persons, especially militia officers, to precipitate a conflict if the Federal government will not. United States troops on the Rio Grande are distributed as follows: Fort Brown, 700; Ringgold, five companies; Fort McIntosh, one company; Fort Duncan, four companies; Fort Clark, near Eagle Pass, five

School Statistics-Population, &c. The following is the result of the school census, taken in accordance with the recent act of the General Assembly, for School Districts Nos. 1 and 2. Wilmington Town-

School District No. 1, comprising that portion of the city lying north of Market street, contains the following number of children between the ages of 6 and 21 years: While children 446 males, 434 females. Total 880. Colored children, 527 males, 607 females. Total, 1,134.

School District No. 2, comprising that portion of the city lying south of Market street, contains: White children, 364 males, 326 females. Total, 690. Colored children, 898 males, 401 females, Total, 799.

Total number of white male and female children in the two Districts, 1,570. Total number of colored male and female children in the two Districts, 1,933.

By the kindness of the census takers, Messrs. Samuel N. Cannon and Wm. M. Hayes, they extended their labors to taking the entire numerical population of the city, from which we find that the total population of Wilmington is 15,865, of which 5,930 are whites and 9,935 are colored, distributed as follows:

North of Market street- 3,735 whites and 7,862 colored.. Total, 11,597. South of Market street-2,195 whites and 2,073 colored. Total, 4,268.

The slight disproportion between the number of whites and colored south of Market street and the large disproportion north of Market street, may be accounted for by the fact that for the last seven or eight years, at least, the colored population has been steadily concentrating north of the Wilmington and Weldon railroad, large numbers of them having purchased lot and built houses in the outskirts of the city in that direction.

Mayor's Court. The only case before the Mayor's Cour yesterday morning was that of Thomas Smith, a seaman. He was arrested on North Water street Monday night, about 12 o'clock, by police officer Waukken, for acting in a very disorderly manner on the streets. He resisted the officer, drawing a dangerous looking knife, which he flourish ed about considerably, and it finally became necessary to summon five or six men to assist in taking him to the guard house, which was no easy matter even then, as the prisoner was a powerful man and excited to frenzy by the flery stimulants in which he had been indulging to a somewhat unlimited extent. He fought, kicked and struggled all the way to the lock-up, and one rather diminutive member of the force, who attempted to seize him by the foot, was, by a simple back-action movement of the said pedal extremity, which came in violent contact with the disphragm of the said member, sent reeling into a corner of

A Pender Prisoner.

A colored prisoner, by the name of Thomas Grant, was brought here Monday night, by a Deputy Sheriff of Pender county, and committed to the county jail, to await his trial at the next term of the Superior Court for that county, on the charge of larceny. It is said that Grant was detected in stealing potatoes from the patch of one of the Pender farmers.

Deer Driving-A Sportsman's "Yarn." The party of deer drivers who went out to the neighborhood of "Northeast" on Thursday morning last, but found the weather too moist for their purpose, passed the day in a farm house by a hot fire, where they swapped off "yarns" connected with their past experiences in hunting, one of which, told by the inimitable T. B., who has been known to kill a duck or two on several occasions, to say nothing of deer, coons, 'possums, &c., during his somewhat chequered career, we give for the benefit of those who were so unfortunate as not to be present at the recital. It was in Brunswick county some time ago, that a couple of neighbors went out to hunt hogs, bearing but one gun between them, only one barrel of which was loaded, and taking no ammunition. Suddenly, during their perambulations through the woods, they came upon a large buck, when the man with the gun, not being able to withstand the temptation, fired upon the animal and brought him to the ground. He then rushed forward to give the finishing touch with his knife, when the buck suddenly jumped to his feet and made for his late assailant, who took to his heels and finally found refuge behind a tree. The buck was close at the fugitive's heels and came up to the tree just as he had got behind it, when the man suddenly turned and caught the deer by the horns. He then called to his companion for help, but he had nothing to dispatch the deer with but the unloaded gun, and was not inclined to use that for fear the buck might get loose before he could deal him a fatal blow and do him some damage. It was finally decided that the man behind the tree should hold on to the buck's horns until his companion could run home and get an axe. The latter left for that purpose, but on the way he had to pass a certain shop, where he he had to pass a certain shop, where he found a party engaged in having a good time and joined them, the result being that he was soon so drunk that he forgot all about his late companion and the serious predicament he had left him in.
